"His Brother's Wife" Week-End Bill at Catlow

"Mary of Scotland" to Show for Three Days; "Green Pastures" Screening

With "The Green Pastures" now playing, "His Brother's Wife" is scheduled for Sunday and Monday, and "Mary of Scotland" will be shown for next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, local moviegoers have three of the season's outstanding productions offered.

The backdrop of "The Green Pastures" is formed by imaginative spectacles of biblical lore. The Creation, the Flood, Moses leading the Israelites to Freedom, Hazael's warriors before the Walls of Jericho and the Crucifixion.

"We Went to College" is next in the program of current listings and will be screened Saturday night.

Among the stars in this feature is Edith Atwater, daughter of Mrs. Harold Dillon, Mrs. Dillon's daughter.

Co-starred with her are Charles Butterworth, Una Merkel, Herb Herbert and Walter Abel.

Major Bowes with a new group of stars will be shown in the interest of the Saturday bill. This, with Pathé News, "Travelogue and the regular 9 p. m. gift event will combine to round out an evening of entertainment.

The Sunday-morning picture, "His Brother's Wife," is far from being a triangle drama set in a modernistic drawing room. Its story tells of a long-lost quest for a man to control the dastardly spotted feline and its characters into the jungle, with its mysteries and terrors.

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck make this tale of adventure and suspense really a thrill. With the aid of Joan Heywood, the knotty problems are resolved, and the characters sail into the waters of life.

Short subjects preceding the feature are a color cartoon, later news and band act.

"Star for a Night," the bargain offering for Tuesday, revolves around a chorus girl and her blind mother. The story leads the mother to believe they are stars on Broadway, but what happens when the mother comes to New York for a visit makes a telling feature of the film.

Claire Trevor and Evelyn Venable play the parts of the chorus girls, and Jane Darwell is seen as the blind mother. A group of interesting subjects form a part of this program.

Katherine Hepburn and Fredric March, two of the leading stars of Hollywood, are teamed in "Mary of Scotland," which is scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The theme concerns the fiery Mary Stuart who dared to follow the call of her heart. It led to storm and strife and mighty conflict.

"Mary of Scotland" is being sponsored by members of Circle "B" and Circle "D" of the Methodist church; tickets may be secured from the church.

Because of the length of this production, the feature will begin promptly at 7:15 and 9:15 p. m. each evening.

The Birthday Child of the Week

Two birthday children, both of them boys, appear in this column this week.

ALLEN GEORGE SCHUMACHER will celebrate his first birthday Saturday afternoon.

The little Grossenbach, a bright youngster, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alben Schumacher of Cuba township, a bright youngster, who is not a bit afraid of standing up, and having a camera shoot at him.

PERRY RICHARD KOEHL, now 10 months old, was born October 6. Perry likes to go places, but his favorite vehicle for transportation is this little coaster wagon which he has named after his mother, Mrs. Rosemary of Chicago, visited Mrs. Charlotte Graham Tuesday and Wednesday.

Parents of children who were born in October are invited to have their pictures taken in time to get them ready for publication on the occasion of the next birthday date.

Parents of children born the last half of October should notify THE REVIEW NOT LATER THAN CHRISTMAS GREENS.

A few parents have been hesitant about notifying the newspaper of birthdays, thinking it would be a bother to the parents. The Review does not use a commercial photographic and has nothing to sell the parents. The negatives of the pictures will be given to those parents who want them.

Mrs. Sperling Elected President of Mother's Club at Fox River Grove

Mrs. R. Work and Mrs. R. H. H. Clegg were the only ones to attend the course of book reviews today at 2:30 p. m. Unlike last year, the reviews will be held at the "Wayfarers" on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

Supply of Homes Fails to Keep Up with Demand

Several new houses have been built in Barrington every year for the last ten years. Large homes and apartments, while very few old houses have been scrapped. All of this combines to increase substantially the supply of living quarters in Barrington. For the present, however, there is a demand for houses here as an accent as ever.

The situation was reflected by the results of a ward election in the Review last Thursday. Mrs. E. K. Miller, 401 E. Main Street, advertised a light housekeeping apartment for rent, and by Friday evening had received 15 responses in person and four by telephone.

Five vacant houses remain in the village.

Speakers Discuss Tuberculosis Tax

Various civic clubs, parent-teacher associations, and women's clubs throughout Lake county are meeting advanced during the next week by speakers sent out from the Lake county Tuberculosis association to familiarize members with the provisions of the sanatorium law which will be voted on at the general election in November.

The sanatorium or Glackson law, as it is known, is a law of the state which provides for the care of tuberculosis patients in a sanatorium elsewhere in the state by a tax of one-half mill on each $100 of the value of the property.

Dr. A. Ross of Waukegan, Drs. McGraw, McCullough, Risner, and Proxmire of Lake Forest, Dr. Callahan of Waukegan, Dr. Rubin of S. Hotz, Mrs. Paul Leder of Lake Forest, Dr. Dorothy Aitken Black of Winthrop Harbor, Harry A. Hall of Waukegan, Mrs. George W. Childs of Highwood, Dr. Paul Allen C. Bell of Forest Park, all those appearing before the club, spoke on the social security law which is in effect now and will be reviewed by the supreme court within the next few weeks.

He declared the law is a good piece of legislation which is little known and is supported by the majority of citizens whom it affects.

Addresses Art Club at Dixon Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. R. A. Bennett of Barrington addressed members of the Dixon Art club at Dixon Tuesday afternoon. Her lecture concerned Indians of South America, stressing their arts and crafts. Mrs. Bennett had taken blankets, woven by Indians of South America to illustrate her talk.

Both were luncheon guests at the home of the Misses Margaret and Clara Anderson, one of whom was a Sigma Kappa senior at the University of Illinois.

The poster contest winners are as follows: Evelyn Kalkabener, Schiller Park, first; Mrs. Davis Adams, White, second; Mrs. Kesseler, Schultz, third; Elaine Shiner, Schultz, fourth; James Evert, Aptkisic, fifth.

Arnett Lanes spoke before 600 men and women at the second meeting last Friday. He spoke on the history of the United States constitution, comparing it with the present constitution and ending with the present supreme court's activity in nullifying legislation enacted during the last two years.

J. P. Haffner, chairman of the club, spoke on the social security law which is in effect now and will be reviewed by the supreme court within the next few weeks.

He declared the law is a good piece of legislation which is little known and is supported by the majority of citizens whom it affects.

COTTON PICKERS

The other day, a ponderous new machine, 10 feet high, lumbered through a southern cotton field. Although still imperfect, it picked in eight hours as much cotton as 75 or 80 men could have picked by hand. At once there arose the cry: "Here is another machine that will rob men of jobs!"

The New York Times remarks that the immediate effect of the widespread use of this machine might be to take away jobs from some. But it adds:

"To concentrate our attention solely on these possibilities would be to regard the perfection of the mechanical picker as a calamity. But this would be to overlook the immense benefit that mechanical improvement brings."

"No one would wish to cancel Eli Whitney's invention of the cotton gin nearly a century and a half ago. No one regrets the invention of the wheat harvesting and threshing combine, which reduced labor on the operations involved, it has been estimated, about 84 per cent. We do not want to wipe out the whole Industrial Revolution, which has created a hundred jobs for one it has taken away."

The mechanical picker would begin, it is true, by displacing labor, but it would also greatly reduce cost of production. As the machine will make possible cheaper cotton so cheaper cotton, in turn, will either encourage the increased consumption of cotton goods, thus benefiting the cotton textile industry, or it will leave consumers with more purchasing power for other goods.

"We must not forget that the lowest standard of living, the greatest wretchedness, the greatest single source of child labor in the United States, is among the tenant farmers and sharecroppers, mainly negroes, of the south. Perhaps the greatest single reason for their low standard of living is that hand-picked cotton is uneconomic. Mechanized cotton fields would have fewer workers, but they would be wage laborers, much better off."

Lexicographic note with a British twist to it: In the Shorter Oxford dictionary, "to make whoopee" is defined as "to go on the razzle-dazzle." —The Raff.

In the Eskimo language, "I love you" is "Univigga-aun-tuinalnajuan-jurisiguejak." This explains why the arctic nights have been so long.—Pathfinder.

According to a recent news story, half as large as coconuts fell in Africa. Nothing like this ever happened in Africa until American newspapers stationed correspondents over there.—Grand Rapids Press.

Preparing the Small Child to Welcome the New Baby

By DONA DARE

Mr. Trenton's business took him to all parts of the world, and usually his young wife and their little daughter, Cecile, came along. Cecile found herself among other little ones, but in a well ordered home where everyone was kind, so that the adjustments were in most instances a pleasure to her. Another mother asked her if she had given no more privileges than the other children. At the end of a week of work and play, give and take, with her little comings and goings, however, in admiring the care and concern for the young baby, Cecile was loathe to leave.

On the way back to New York, Mrs. Trenton said to her small daughter, "Cecile, how would you like to go to a school for little girls like little Cecile?" Cecile's eyes glistened with excitement for a moment, only to fill with tears.

"Well," enquired Daddy, "would you feel about it, little Cecile?" "I would like it very much," answered the child in her old-fashioned manner. "But, a little girl like Cecile needs very great care, so we couldn't have her because it would not be comfortable for the boys and girls and the rest of the world."

Says he: "This action takes down one of the principal walls that have restricted trade and progress, the general lowering of commercial barriers of every kind."

Meanwhile, the treasury announced that it would like to cooperate with Great Britain in France in making the stabilization funds of the three countries act as one in keeping the values of their chief currencies on an even keel. And of other countries is asked.

Stabilization funds are the devices used to perform one function of a standard, namely, to keep the value of a country's currency beyond a very small limit. That of the United States amounts to about 1800 million dollars, ob-

WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

Swooping down on the underworld of federal drug and revenue law violators, 2500 agents of the treasury department strike at the same time in all parts of the nation.

In a three-day simultaneous campaign, 2229 persons are arrested on charges of selling narcotics, smuggling,密谋, counterfeiting, and similar offenses. Purposes of the drive are two:

First, through concerted action in every locality, violators of laws in one section are driven from the field of crime in other localities, as ordinarily happens when one or a few places only are cleared of suspects at one time.

Second, a lesson is intended for the lawless element that the days of relative impunity are over such as existed during the prohibition era, when effective enforcement admittedly failed.

President of the Treasury, the Morgenthau.

Gangs that steal from the government are pretty closely linked. They are going to be met by enforcement activities still more closely linked.

Enforcement agencies acting in concert number five, namely, the alcohol tax unit, the secret service, the bureau of customs, the coast guard and the bureau of narcotics.

Putting a concrete meaning into the recently enacted law against price discrimination, the federal trade commission issues its first court and dentist orders based on this measure.

One order is issued against one of the largest cheese manufacturing companies in the country to restrain it from discriminating among buyers by granting special discounts to some customers who it does not allow to others.

The net result is declared to lessen and inhibit competition among sellers.

The other order is declared to be failure by some customers to maintain the resale price set by the company.

In another order, one of the two largest meat packing houses in America is prohibited from discriminating in the sale of hams to certain types of food stores from the manufacturer at prices substantially lower than they are available to other purchasers. The manufacturer named is in the order.

Commission action is to be taken in which to comply. Failing compliance the commission asks the courts to enforce the orders.

On the way back to New York, Mrs. Trenton said to her small daughter, "Cecile, how would you like to go to a school for little girls like little Cecile?"

Cecile's eyes glistened with excitement for a moment, only to fill with tears.

"Well," enquired Daddy, "would you feel about it, little Cecile?"

Bronchos lost their first game of the season to the Blue Devils of Gurnee last night by a 5-0 score this afternoon.

Bronchos Threaten

Warren won the toss and kicked off to Barrington. The game went back and forth in the first quarter. A great deal of holding and pushing by the boys added to their anxiety to win the game. In the latter part of the quarter Cadwallader passed to Grabenhorst for a gain of about 20 yards. Grabenhorst was tackled by two locals.

Another gain of two yards was made. Cadwallader attempted to pass, but the pass was incomplete ending the first quarter.

Warren Scores

The first of the second quarter was mostly line play. Fumbles were made on each side. Near the half, W. Phillips passed to C. Phillips, who carried the ball up to the two yard line. Phillips then ran the ball around the end and next play for a touchdown with two minutes of playing time left.

Warren failed to make the end after the touchdown. Barrington recovered the kick-off and scored a safety.

Following the ball for a first Cadwallader passed to a short for a gain of 15 yards. Half ended with the ball at the 15 yard line.

Second Half Quiet

Again kick-off to the Blue. Shepard bringing in a short gain. Most of the second game was played in the same fashion with a number of fumbles.

Neither team was dangerous enough to score in the half. Two injuries were incurred.

Both teams were in competition before the half ended.
