

"Walking on Air" Is Catlow Feature on Week-End Bill

"The Great Ziegfeld" Closes
Friday; Special Show
on Halloween

"The Great Ziegfeld" will close its 4-day run with two screenings Friday—a matinee beginning at 2:45 p. m., and the evening show beginning at 8:15 p. m.

This musical extravaganza, three hours in length, perpetuates the life of the world's greatest showman, the late Florenz Ziegfeld.

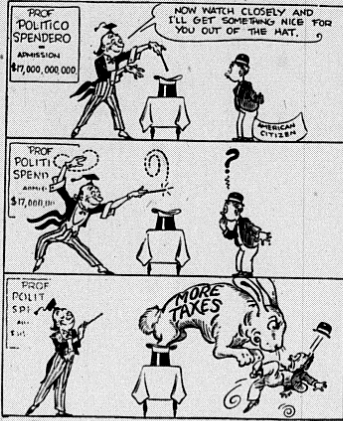

In a succession of backgrounds of breathtaking beauty and splendor the drama and romance of Ziegfeld's life unfolds.

In the principal roles William Powell will be seen as Ziegfeld; Myrna Loy as Billie Burke; Luise Rainer as Anna Held; and Fannie Brice, Frank Morgan and Nat Pendleton in lesser parts.

The appearance of Charlie Huggins and Mary Boland Saturday night in "Wives Never Know" promises a laughwave that will ripple throughout the entire evening.

Adolphe Menjou and Vivienne Osborne add to the quota of good fun in this yarn of the diffident husband who is advised to inject a little spice into his quiet, and happily married state. His tiny excursion into philandering brings about complications of seismic proportions out of which arise a series of hilarious situations that must be seen to be appreciated.

The 9 p. m. gift event, comedy, news and screen acts are added items of interest for this bill.

Saturday being Halloween, the Catlow is offering its annual mid-night thriller following the regularly scheduled shows of the early evening.

This year, Boris Karloff in "The Walking Dead" will give Halloween revelers the spine-tingling thrill of horror looked for on this occasion.

Short subjects have been especially selected to add to the spirit of the night.

The late show will begin at 11:15 p. m.

The runner-up for the nation's most popular blonde, Gene Raymond, and the petite Ann Southern have an intriguing musical romance in "Walking on Air" the Sunday-Monday offering.

The story draws sophisticated humor and good-natured horse-play out of an adventurous young college boy's solution of the unemployment problem.

He hires himself out to Miss Southern, a willful Beverly Hills heiress, to help her overcome her father's objections to a fortune hunter with whom she fancies herself in love. Gene begins by loving his employment and ends by falling in love with his employer.

A color cartoon, hand act, news and comedy are addition subjects for this bill.

A double feature program is scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday. Both films are unusually worthwhile offerings and because of the contrast in stories and settings, will form entertainment of wide variety.

The first feature shows will be Gene Grey's new western, "King of the Royal Mounted," starring Robert Kent and Rosalind Keith.

It is filled with rapid-paced action so dear to followers of adventure yarns.

The second feature is the widely heralded screen offering, "Giri's Dornitory."

It has for its theme events happening to young girls in an exclusive boarding school.

Ruth Chatterton, Herbert Marshall and Simone Simon are starred.

Hold Rites for Farm Hand Gored by Bull

Funeral services for Golett Hugi, 61-year-old farmhand who was gored to death by a bull on the E. W. Wolff estate, Ridgebrook farm, late Thursday morning, were held at the chapel, 203 S. Cook street, Friday afternoon with Rev. E. A. Eagle officiating. The body was shipped to Gleason, Wis. Friday evening for burial Saturday afternoon.

At an inquest conducted by Dr. John L. Taylor, Lake county coroner, at the farm Thursday morning, witnesses testified that Hugi entered a feeding pen where the bull was loose and was knocked to the ground by the animal. His wife, Anna, heard his cries and rushed to the pen and saw the animal pawing him about. Mr. Wolff drove the animal away from Hugi by discharging a pistol in the air. Hugi was dead when taken from the pen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugi came to Barrington from Wisconsin and had planned to return there by the end of the month.

He is survived by his widow, Anna, and three sons, Walter and Roy of Barrington, and Lawrence of Gleason, Wis.

Deductions from Pay To Start January 1st

And Cost of Living Must Go Up Shortly Afterwards!

Beginning January 1, 1937, your employer will be compelled to deduct a certain amount from your wages every pay day. This is in compliance with the terms of the Social Security Act signed by President Roosevelt, August 14, 1935. The deductions begin with 1 per cent and increase until they reach 3 per cent. This comes out of your pay check and that of every other salaried man and wage earner. It is not a voluntary plan. Your employer must make the deduction. The regulations are published by the Social Security Board at Washington, D. C.

To the amount taken from your wages, your employer is required to pay, in addition, either an equal or double amount. The combined taxes may total 9 per cent of the whole payroll. The company you work for cannot operate at a loss; consequently this extra amount will be deducted also from the payrolls or will be added to the cost of the product your company makes or sells.

With all employers forced to do the same thing, the inevitable result will be lower salaries and increased cost of living.

Deductions from payrolls and cost of living will go up starting January 1, 1937.

This money collected from you and your fellow workers will go into a fund administered by politicians and from which the government may borrow by merely issuing bonds. As an old age pension fund it has no protection from political government administrations, now or in the future.

You and your fellow workers have one hope—defeat of this act by election of Governor Landon who is pledged against it.

The safest plan is to vote for Landon, Brooks, Glenn, and their party workers all the way down the line.
