Are Surprised

On Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. William Nightingale, 121 W. Russell street, were pleasantly surprised by 30 relatives and friends Thursday evening. The occasion was in honor of the 15th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Nightingale. Various games were enjoyed until a delicious pot-luck supper served by the guests completed the program. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hagen and family of Elgin and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kurnik and sons of Waukegan were out-of-town guests.

Entertain for Daughter

Bernita Plagge was happy Friday afternoon when her mother, Mrs. Edwin Plagge, 200 W. Russell street, entertained ten small guests in honor of Bernita's seventh birthday. Games and contests kept the lively group busy. A large birthday cake with candles served as an attractive centerpiece when refreshments were served in a pretty pink and white color scheme.

Entertain at Birthday Supper

Mr. and Mrs. O. Erickson of Cuba township entertained a birthday supper Wednesday evening in honor of their son C. B. Erickson of the Leona farms near Cary.

Barrington Woman's Club

More than 72 women gathered in the library room to hear a review of the novel, "Gone With the Wind," by Margaret Mitchell, a book of over 1000 pages and many characters, very capably handled by Mrs. Earl Schwemm, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Campbell opened her review with a short biography of the author.

Margaret Mitchell was born and raised in Atlanta, Ga., which is also the scene of much of the novel. Her parents were authorities on southern history and she grew up listening to stories of the Civil war days and the period of reconstruction that followed. She spent seven years on the book, a first novel. Critics acclaim it a "great novel," "a book to own and read."

The speaker went expertly through the plot of this splendid book, giving good pictures of the characters and keeping a continuity in spite of the need to cut so sharply.

Mrs. Campbell so interested her listeners that many wish to read the book, and others feel she has given them so good a review as to satisfy them without reading the book personally.

An invitation has come from the Portage Park Women's club inviting officers and members of the local club to attend its Reception Day meeting Friday afternoon, Nov. 13.

On Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 17, the Des Plaines Woman's club will hold its guest list of members of the Barrington Woman's club are invited. The program is "Zeller," character.

Tuesday, Nov. 17, is the date of the next baby clinic to be held in the library room.

Tuesday, Nov. 17, eight p. m. in the Junior Woman's club will hold a regular meeting in the assembly room of St. Ann's school for which they have extended an invitation to all members of the senior club. The principal speaker will be Miss Hager of Hager's Pottery in Dundee. She will bring with her a miniature kiln and will demonstrate and explain the whole process of making, coloring and glazing pottery.

The regular meeting of the Barrington Woman's club for November will be held Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 18 at the Methodist church. The program is to be "Zeller," character.

The meeting will open at 8 o'clock. Mr. Zeller brings with him gorgeous drapes and effective lighting assists in his effects. He portrays characters from history and literature and the rapidity of change is remarkable, the average being 30 seconds and some as quick as six or eight seconds. Some of the characters he portrays are Robert E. Lee, Lincoln, Judas Iscariot, King Lear, and Theodore Roosevelt.

On last Thursday, Nov. 5, Mrs. L. Higgins and Mrs. F. Zanker drove to Chicago to attend the Fourth Party for the Little Wanderers taking with them our club's donations. They report a very enjoyable and informative expedition and express satisfaction and appreciation for the "pioneer" sent in by our membership. This project was in the hands of the Philanthropy committee.

Library News

The book circulation for the month of October again took a decided jump with an increase of 311 books over September.

Twenty-six new patrons were added to the group of borrowers.

But here are books, praise God above!

No books to read in cozy nooks! No books to feed the hungry mind and teach the art of being kind.

No books to while one hour away. To think today with yesterday; No books to charm us for a while. To bring a tear or lure a smile.

Total circulation for October was 1920.

A number of new books for Book Week have made their appearance this week in the library and will be on display during the next week.

Book Week
In celebration of Book Week, November 15 to 21, the Barrington public library will have a special showing of books in the new library window of the Park Avenue Barber shop. The window will be divided into three parts: one for children, one for young people, and one for adults.

Visit this window and see some of the new books your library has for your enjoyment. About 15 new titles have been added to the library shelves. A special table of books will be on display also in the library.

Of special notice to parents of children in the grades who have fines of less than one dollar is the decision of the library board to erase all such fines from cards of boys and girls who will see the librarian during the week of Book Week.

The cooperation of parents in this move during children's week is urged and an invitation is extended to all residents to visit the library and gain new friends among the many fine books to be found there.

New and attractive book-marks will also make their appearance during Book Week, and will be placed in books withdrawn during that period.

Final Local Percentage Shows G.O.P. Gain Over Last Year

As a final resume of the local vote cast at election November 3 it can be pointed out correctly that the republicans registered a percentage gain throughout the four town territory of Elgin, Cuba, Barrington and Palatine although the democratic gained throughout nearly all of the balance of Illinois. Selecting one office listed by election two years ago and this year, that of congressman, the G.O.P. showed a gain in nearly all of the eight precincts. Republican Congressman Church led democratic Candidate Maloney 1639 to 576. Democratic Congressman Peasall led republican Candidate Peasall 955 to 1410 in Barrington and Palatine two years ago. This year he led democratic Candidate Peasall 1156 to 2216, two to one. The same ratio can be followed throughout other offices up for election both years.

However, the democratic candidates this year ran slightly better in percentage than they did four years ago.

Start Canvass for Annual Red Cross Membership Drive

Barrington Woman's Club and Junior Unit Handling Program

The annual drive for members of the American Red Cross will start today, Thursday, with a committee from the Junior Woman's club of Barrington under the supervision of a committee headed by Mrs. A. C. Lines, the Barrington Woman's club representative, making a home-to-house canvass.

In addition to the committee drive in the village, a group of high schoolers will make contacts in the country area.

As in other years, the membership drive started Armistice Day school, will continue until Thanksgiving Day. Lines reported the committee is striving for an increase in membership this year and hopes that the number will exceed by 25 per cent the registrations of other years.

Final plans for the drive were completed at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Lines Monday evening. At that time workers from the Junior Woman's club divided the town into sections by streets and assigned different individuals to make personal calls.

Those acting on the Junior committee are as follows: Misses Friedella DeBolt, Isabel Haas, Dorothy Heaton, Marion Lane, Lila Hicke, Emma Walburn, Florence Cook, Frances Mac-Swick, Myrtle Olson, Marie Coughlin and Mrs. Harry Hershman.

Miss Agnes Welch has been appointed to take charge of the drive for enrollment at the public school. The grade school children make contributions each year and the individual grades are given membership. Each child who contributes to the organization will receive a pin bearing the title "I Serve."

Workers will be stationed at the First National bank Saturday evenings during banking hours to receive membership. Those not having been contacted may enroll at that place, she reported. Mrs. Harold Grebe and Mrs. Heaton have been members of the committee assisting Mrs. Lines.

A trailer featuring Shirley Temple and outlining the work of the American Red Cross has been shown at the Catlow theatre during the past week.

Peoples Store in Elgin Announces Change of Location

The Peoples Store has announced a change to larger and more modern quarters at 167 E. Chicago street, Elgin. The Peoples Store was formerly located at 61 S. Grove street, but a rapidly growing retail business has necessitated the change, it was reported.

The new place of business has been completely designed by J. Fugate, manager, with interior lighting, moderate fixtures and harmonizing decorations. With the outgrowth of the old quarters and the subsequent move, Mr. Fugate declared a larger and more complete line of merchandise will be carried.

An invitation has been extended to residents of Barrington and the community to attend the opening Thursday, Nov. 18. A detailed announcement appears on page 4 of this issue of The Review.
