Woman's Club Is Hostess to Seventh District Wednesday

Zellner, Characterist, Gives
Program for 150
Guests

One of the most important events of the Barrington Women's club year was held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon when members of the seventh district were hosted by the seventh district, but 150 were present.

About the out-of-town persons attended this guest day meeting were from Lakewood, Colorado, Ohio, seven from Lake Shore, two from Palatine, two from Park Ridge, five from Edison and two from Albany Park.

Those who addressed the audience were Mrs. R. M. Hutchison, state chairman of Indian affairs; Mrs. George A. Harrison, president of the seventh district; Mrs. H. A. Amedee, program chairman.

W. H. Zellner, president of Astoria

Womans, an honorary member of the club for many years, told the time when the Barrington club decided to become a unit of the federation.

The first group was entertaining, "Mark Twain," a veteran of the World War, a peasant and a short, business man. Mrs. W. J. Pretzel, program chairman, graciously introduced the characterist, Zellner, who pleased his audience with a series of difficult, but perfectly convincing, speeches.

The second group was entertain-

Local Schools to Close for Holiday Starting Thursday

Students of the Barrington public and St. Anne parochial schools will enjoy a two-day holiday Thanksgiving Day and the following Friday of next week according to announcement made by S. H. Smith, superintendent of public schools, and Father P. J. Hayes, pastor of St. Anne.

In addition to the Thanksgiving Day announcement, Superintendent Smith stated that Christmas holidays for the public schools will be from December 24 until January 4.

Mr. Smith and T. C. Hosford, assistant principal of the high school, and the 12 intermediate teachers at Northwestern University at Evanston Friday and a large group of instructors will attend the sessions Saturday.

A meeting of principals of schools in the Northwest conference is being held Wednesday afternoon and Miss Annette Sheet, instructor in Junior high school, is arranging a program for a Christmas party to be given by pupils of that section for their parents December 11.

An all-high school party is being planned for December 12.

Suggests Precincts for Local Elections

Village Clerk A. C. Burandt introduced a question of dividing the village into two precincts for municipal elections at the regular meeting of the board Monday night.

Mr. Burandt suggested this change to help alleviate the heavy duty on the shoulders of judges and clerks at the elections. At the last one 1600 votes were polled.

He stated that at the village election next April there will be no regular slate of trustees, six vacancies with a possibility of several candidates for each office. The office of village president and village clerk is also open for election. This is the office of police magistrate.

Members are to be elected to the library board at the same time as there will be two vacancies for that organization.

On the other hand, the slate of offices on the ballot for the April election, Mr. Burandt reported, the job of tallying will be heavy. It was suggested by members of the board to make the division of the village by counties, county and state, for the precincts.

The board took the matter under advisement.

Karstrom Home on Honey Lake Looted

Six valuable rugs, a piano draped and a dozen bed sheets valued at $500 were stolen from the residence of Mrs. C. E. Karstrom at Honey Lake some time between 3 p. m. Thursday and 10 a. m. Friday, the police said Friday.

The house, located on Honey Lake road at Honey Lake, had been occupied by tenants up to Armistice Day. The tenants moved out of the place and Mrs. Karstrom had the house inspected prior to the robbery.

Burglars had forced a window on the southeast side of the house and had entered there. The place had been in order when it was locked up Thursday evening.

The burglars apparently rolled up the rugs and passed them through the window to an automobile, according to Deputy Sheriff Stanley M. Christian, who investigated the burglary.

Mrs. Karstrom has been making her home during the past months at the North hotel, Evanston.

Eighth Graders Recall Early Reading for "Book Week" Celebrations

To celebrate book week, pupils in the eighth grade English classes in Barrington public schools were asked to recall the first story book they ever read and make a report on it, according to Miss Fern Nichols, English instructor who prepared the following report:

Many of the pupils brought a copy of the book to show to their classmates.

The pupils say they are enjoying these brief reports immensely for not only are they recalling their early experiences in school but are also learning about the interesting events now with their interests seven or eight years ago. They all admitted, however, that they still enjoy "Little Mousie Mousie," "Peter Rabbit," "Ennie-Miney," "Little Black Sambo," and "Dilly and Sally," occupancy.

Adolph Trier, Carol Gardner, and Hugo Kastner gave unusual good reports. Hugo said he remembered reading his first book through nine times. He was glad to report on his first story book, he said, because it made him realize how far he had progressed in the past eight years.

"Little Mousie Mousie," told by Adolph Trier, was voted the most popular little story in one class while "Wee Wee Woman," related by Melvin Schroeder, was enjoyed most by the other division.

It is of interest to note that out of the present 65 pupils in eighth grade, 40 are attending some other school when they read their first story book.

Card of Thanks

We wish in this manner to express our sincere appreciation to all our friends and neighbors who were so thoughtful and kind to us on our recent birthday.

Also wish to thank those who so kindly donated the use of their cars and for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Mary Kelsey and family.

The Birthday Child of the Week

Four birthday children for this week were caught by The Review cameraman as they were enjoying moments in their energetic young lives.

SUZANNE SHEPARD (at left), who will celebrate her fifth birthday Monday, November 23, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Shepard, 206 E. Russell street. When Suzanne's picture was snapped she was on her way to enjoy a Halloween party and looked very picturesquely and demure in her Hollander costume with Dutch boy hat.

ROBERT ALLEN DOHI (at right), is soon toddling about his home on Northwest highway in Palatine township in his new blue coat and blue snow cap. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Dohi, are planning to help him celebrate his first birthday Monday, November 23.

DAVID HENRY ROSS (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ross, 557 N. Hough street, was quietly contemplating the approach of his first birthday anniversary Tuesday, November 24, as his picture was taken. David enjoys being dressed in his white coat and cap and sitting in the family swing.

DANIEL ROY GILLY JR. (right), won't be five years old until Tuesday, November 24, but is kept busy supervising matters on the farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gilly, Barrington township. Daniel, 5, was appropriately dressed in warm clothing as he hurried about superintending the fall harvest.

Parents of children whose birthdays are in December are invited to call, write or stop at The Review office this week-end and a cameraman will arrange to take pictures at their convenience. This column is dedicated to the interests of young folks in Barrington and community and no charges are connected with it.

Judge Braude Speaks Before P.T.A. Group

toys, such as guns, "hold-up" games, radio, comic or movie plots extolling the gangster, impropre reading, and the broken homes.

He told of his trip to Chicago, asking business men to create jobs for idle boys who had come under the jurisdiction of his court.

"Of 188 jobs, all but two made good," he stated and then read a few of the thousands of letters that came in following announcement of his plan to secure employment for idle youths. The tragic missives came from parents of boys desperate from hunger and wage earner for a chance to earn decent livelihoods.

It is possible to help all of these Judge Braude explained, but "it's a problem that concerns not only the court but every community." If there's anybody here who can help some such deserving boy, it would be doing something to save the boy, his family and the community."

Gail Drove and George Bauman of Standard Motor Co. were guests of the Chrysler corporation at the annual auto show in Chicago last week. A display of Chrysler cars, with a model in the lower price field, was shown in Illinois for the first time last week. Cars are now displayed at Standard Motor.

History of School and Village Incorporation Told by Settler

By GARRETT H. LANDWER

In 1854 the vote was taken on the question of holding the next town meeting and Barrington received 106 votes to 41 for the center of the town. In 1870 and '71 the station also received the highest number of votes and in '72 the station received all the votes.

In 1850 the town was divided into sixteen road districts;

in 1851 into seventeen;

in 1857, eighteen; in 1858, nineteen;

in 1861, twenty-one;

in 1864, twenty-four;

in 1869, twenty-six; and in 1882 the number was reduced to twelve.

The Schools

On November 23, 1840, a meeting was given of a school meeting to be held at the house of H. Ottis on the 14th day of December. At this meeting an election was held on the question of dividing the town into school districts. The judges of the election were William Van Orsdel and Jesse F. Miller. Homer Wilmeth was clerk. Seventeen votes were cast for the organization of the school districts.

The judges of the election were Philip Hawley, Homer Wilmeth, Thomas Perkins.

On January 1, 1841, the town was divided into four districts. No. 1, the east half of the town; No. 2, the northwest corner; No. 3, the west center of the town; No. 4, the southwest corner. District No. 5 was formed January 30, 1841. Park district No. 1 formed in 1844 became Union district No. 13, 1866.

The treasurers of the school and have been Alvin Miller to January 1, 1845; John C. Allen to April 1, 1848; William Vaillette to April 22, 1848; William Devol to April 23, 1848; Jerome Kingsley after that.

Good School Balance

The exact figures and facts respecting the origin and early growth of the school fund do not appear on the records, as turned over by William Devol to his successor, February 22, 1854. It was $293.50 with an interest of 6 per cent for years. The first apportionment of interest on the school fund was made July 1, 1842 and was as follows: To district No. 1, $13.65; to No. 2, $10.47; to No. 3, $12.55; to No. 4, $10.40; and to No. 5, $8.65, a total sum of $73.72, the rate of interest on the fund being 12 per cent per annum. The fund itself must have been at that time about $1,000.

In 1842 the number of districts was increased to six; in 1846 to seven; in 1847 to eight; in 1858 to nine and in 1867 to eleven. As a general thing the schools of this town continued in a flourishing condition.

First School Built Here in 1854

The village is located in the Wisconsin Division of the Chicago and North Western railroad, 21.6 miles from Chicago.

The south part of the village appears to have at an early day belonged to Benjamin Felter, who had a bond for a deed. Mr. Felter sold out to A. S. Downs who had an interest in the railroad.

Mr. Downs sold out to Robert Campbell who in 1854 laid out the village. During this year the railroad was built through the village.

The town of Palatine, was moved to Barrington in the fall. There was but one house in the place, a log cabin built by Ebin Conant about the year 1850.

Shortly after the depot was moved to Barrington, Mr. Felter moved to a log house standing north of the railroad, where August Hartman had a house built. This house stood until 1857.

At the time of the removal of the depot there was at this place, besides the log house built by Ebin Conant, a few shanties used by grain buyers and immediately after a house in the same year,

Francis Heatey built two houses to rent. J. S. Davis built on the Cuba side of the village.

John C. Allen and others gave nick names to the boarding houses, at which they boarded, the nick names being derived from some omnious dish served up to them. One of these names adhered to a building located near the old Bennett house on the Cuba side, called the "Magician House."

On this side Nathan Squires built a store in 1855, as did George Elie. In 1857 Ed. Foster built a shanty store on the Cuba side, and John J. Boddy bought Howard's house on the Barrington side and opened a store in it. Both the Barrington and Cuba side of the village kept growing but with unequal pace.

At this time there were about 300 inhabitants on both sides and about 12 houses on the Cuba side.

On the Barrington side there was a pot office, a drug store, a tavern, a blacksmith shop and one or two stores.

Home Bureau Holds
Tour of Industries

As a follow-up of the lessons on buying food, the Lake County Home Bureau conducted a tour Wednesday, Nov. 18, of three of the largest food industries of Lake County.

The tour started at 9:30 from the Home Bureau office at Grayslake and went to the Graylake Gelatin plant, from there to the Foulds Macaroni plant at Libertyville. The afternoon had been spent at the Joliet meat company at Barrington with Mrs. Leone Rutledge Carroll (Mary Dunbar) as hostess.

Cossack Chorus on Sanitarium Benefit

A product of the Russian revolution with its tremendous social upheaval, the Don Cossack Russian male chorus makes its Chicago appearance Sunday afternoon for the benefit of the Daily News Fresh-Air Fund Sanitarium.

These singing horsemen of the plains, all former army officers of the old White Guard, have been doomed to wander in foreign lands since their release from a Turkish prison camp after the war. The Cossacks come from the region where the river Don flows into the Black Sea at Azov. They served under General Gen. Wrangel, fighting during the war and then against the Bolsheviks in the revolution until driven out of Russia into Turkey.

After a stay in prison camp where horses and servants thinned their ranks, they moved eventually to the island of Lebou. Under more agreeable surroundings, Serge Jaroff, a group of former lawyers, doctors, teachers, millionaires and landed royalty into a well-trained choir.

Much of the excitement of a Don Cossack performance lies in the costumes and the gongs for their native land they have brought with them. Russian folk songs and religious music. For these 36 giant

Don Cossacks, led by the diminutive but dynamic Serge Jaroff, express their feelings with electrifying realism, for their shouts and whistles in the folk songs to the fervor of the Russian liturgy. Both types will be presented in their concert including the immortal song of the Volga Boatmen.

Bronchos Lose Last Conference Game to Leyden

Leyden Scores Against Locals in Third Period; Drive for Tie Fails

Foothills fans witnessed one of the hardest played games of the conference season Saturday as Leyden Eagles took their victory of the season at Dodge Field, defeating the Bronchos 10-0.

The Bronchos played an excellent game and made the Eagles work hard for their victory. Several of the Eagles declared that the Bronchos were the toughest opposition they had run onto this year.

The first quarter was mostly a game of running and attempting to gain ground. Both Bronchos had the wind with them and succeeded in getting the ball up to Leyden's 20 yard line. Grabowski took a field goal, but was unsuccessful.

In the second period Leyden took a series of fast line plays and a steady march into the Bronchos territory. The Eagles worked the pigskin up to the Bronchos 15 yard mark. Here Marzullo took a lateral from Szwoski and went around right end and took the ball into the end zone. The ball was recovered by the Eagles and claimed it invalid as Marzullo was brought to his knees before the run was completed.

In the third quarter Leyden kicked off to Barrington's goal but was unsuccessful. The ball was passed around in great deal of gain ground. The Eagles had the ball on their own 30 yard marker and attempted to pass. Klineback rushed in taking the pass for a gain of 15 yards. For a moment it looked as if he were going to score, but he was downed on the 15 yard line.

Leyden Scores

With no score and none in view the Eagles tore down the field with vague hopes of a touchdown. The ball was on the Bronchos 15 yard mark when Wiedemeyer, a fast halfback, got the ball and took the leather to the 10 yard line. With three minutes to play Szwoski took the ball around right end to score. No point after touchdown was scored.

The Bronchos made a vain effort to tie the score. Grabowski returned the kick off for 15 yards. The ball was passed around in gain of 11 yards. Grabowski took the pigskin for 13 yards. The game ended with Barrington on Leyden's 30 yard line.

Joan Crawford Is Star of Week-End Feature at Catlow

"The Gorgeous Hussy" Coming Sunday; Holiday Bill Thanksgiving Day

With "Anthony Adverse" now playing, "The Gorgeous Hussy" comes Sunday and Monday, and "The General Died at Dawn" announced for the Thanksgiving Day. Thanksgiving moviegoers are offered the choice of "The General Died at Dawn," the rise of a temper-keeper's daughter from the lowly position of the First Lady of the Land.

"They Met in a Taxi" and "36 Hours to Kill," two features chosen for the Thanksgiving Day bill, will form the program for bar-gain night, next Tuesday.

Chester Morris and Fay Wray together with comedy, Pathé news and cartoon are additional items for Saturday's bill.

When the program is topped with the names of Joan Crawford, Robert Taylor, Lionel Barrymore and Franchot Tone, screen fans rightly anticipate great things.

The Sunday-Monday feature, "The Gorgeous Hussy" has for its star cast these four celebrities, and in addition brings Melvyn Douglas, James Stewart and Allison Skipworth in important roles.
