

"The Last of the Mohicans" Billed Sunday, Monday

"Give Me Your Heart" Comes Wednesday to Catlow Theatre

"Ladies in Love," playing the local theatre Friday and Saturday, pictures the most fascinating man-hunt four smart girls ever planned. Starring Janet Gaynor, Lorella Young, Constance Bennett and Simone Simon, the film is a brilliant story of four wise little innocents with but a single thought which is summed up in their slogan—"One for all—and all for a man—for each one."

Don Amechi, Paul Lukas, Tyrone Power, Jr. and Alan Mowbray furnish the man power in this intriguing excursion into the realm of romantic adventures. Cartoon, oddity and news will precede the showing the feature. James Fenimore Cooper's cross section of young America, "The Last of the Mohicans," is scheduled to play the Catlow Sunday and Monday.

The glorious Leatherstocking tale, with its deeds of valor and scenes of love and sacrifice, is brought to life by the great cast chosen to depict its leading characters. Hawkeye (Colonel Scott) is played by Randolph Scott; the Munro sisters, by Binnie Barnes and Heather Angel; Bruce Cabot is cast as Magua, the treacherous spy; the Mohican chief, Chingachgook, and his son, Uncas, are played by Robert Barrat and Phillip Reed; and the British officers, by Henry Wilson and Hugh Buckler.

A new Popeye cartoon, hand act and laid news are short subjects to be shown with the Sunday-Monday feature. Bargain night, next Tuesday, will offer moviegoers a double feature bill. The first number, "Three Married Men," with Roscoe Karns and Mary Brian, is a comedy of young married life, with in-laws playing the roles of blitizers.

The second feature, "End of the Trail," is a new western yarn from the pen of Zane Grey. The story opens in the west, moves to Cuba for the Spanish American war, then returns for its finish to its original setting. Two complete showings of each feature will be given, with feature changes at approximately on the hour.

In the picture, "Give Me Your Heart," playing Wednesday and Thursday, Ray Francis is presented with the problem of turning over her son to his grandparents.

whose position promises much more for his future. The story calls for a number of momentous decisions for Kay, who, in this role of the young sophisticate, sows a harvest which she must reap in secret. "Give Me Your Heart" will be found to be an eminently worthwhile picture, with a definite appeal for those seeking mature drama. It is a picturization of the famous stage play, "Sweet Aloha," by Jay Malloy.

For Lowest Cost Firing, You Can Not Go Wrong on a FREE-MAN Automatic Coal Stoker

Coal is conceded to be the least expensive of any fuel burning, even using the inefficient method of hand firing. Now, the automatic underfeed stoker has revolutionized coal burning, making automatic firing even cheaper than hand firing.

THE FREE-MAN STOKER gives you the same automatically controlled heat as gas or oil. In addition, the FREE-MAN STOKER saves enough over present methods of firing to pay for itself in a short time, often within a year. Let us estimate your home heating cost.
