

"Stage Struck" Comes to Catlow Sunday, Monday

"Ramona" in Technicolor, to Start Three-Day Run Wednesday

"Give Me Your Heart," with Kay Francis and George Brent starring, will be screened the last times tonight.

On Friday and Saturday matinees will have the chance to see translated to the screen P. G. Wodehouse's famous Saturday Evening Post story, "Piccadilly Jim."

The story revolves about an irresistibly funny predicament of that of a young cartoonist who achieves success with a comic strip depicting a family he has observed to begin later to his intense embarrassment that his girl is a member of this clan.

The leading characters, taken by Robert Montgomery, Madge Evans, Frank Morgan, Eric Blore and Robert Benchley, carry the story to heights of comedy that even its author did not vision at the time of the writing.

"Stage Struck," the Sunday-Monday feature number, has for its stars those sure-fire and popular actors, Dick Powell, Joan Blondell and Frank McHugh.

Patrons may talk up in advance another clean sweep of fun, romance and song, with the Yacht Club Boys and Warren William assisting in the merry-making.

A color cartoon, comic scenic and late descriptive news are added subjects for this bill.

Another of the popular double feature programs is scheduled for bargain night, Tuesday, "Bengal Tiger" and "Women Are Trouble," are the films listed, and offer a complete contrast in entertainment.

"Bengal Tiger" is a thrilling stunt picture with the circus forming the background.

"Women Are Trouble," with Stuart Erwin starred, is fast, light and funny, with comedy complications arising throughout the misdirected efforts of his laws.

"Ramona"—without color, is one of the greatest stories of all times. But with the new and perfected Technicolor, "Ramona" becomes one of the greatest pictures ever made.

Filmed almost entirely out-of-doors, there is a sense of limit-less space. The swooping action photography is undeniably thrilling.

"Ramona" has a cast of thousands, with lovely Loretta Young, Don Ameche and Kent Taylor in the leads.

The days on which "Ramona" is scheduled will be memorable ones to lovers of the screen, and those red-letter days will be Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

"During the first ten months of this year it was the direct cause of approximately 60 deaths in Illinois alone."

"The greatest danger from monoxide gas results from the careless practice of starting the car on cold mornings with the door and windows of the garage closed."

Secretary Hughes in the bulletin, urged motorists to open the windows of the garage and car before warming up the motor. While driving, he said, always keep one window open; make sure that exhaust and manifold gaskets are not defective; check manifold heaters carefully to prevent leakage of the gas from this source and be sure that all floor boards are tight.
