

Gala New Year's Eve Midnight Show at Catlow Theatre

The Devil Is a Sissy" With Young Stars Coming on Sunday, Monday

The stage is set to sing out the old and ring in the New Year at the Catlow theatre Thursday night.

At the two early evening shows at 7 and 9 p. m., Joel McCrea and Joan Arthur will be seen in "Adventure in Manhattan," a mystery number centering about the disappearance of a ruby, with a sparkling element of comedy and romance introduced.

At 11:15 p. m., the New Year's Eve Midnight show will begin. A group of the merriest short-subjects will set pace for this annual gala event, and hold the screen till 11:55. At that time the community sing will proceed the fleeting minutes of the old year, and welcome the brand new 1937, with a out-raising celebration at the stroke of twelve.

Following the sing comes the coup of the evening with the bowing of "The Big Broadcast of 1937." Jack Benny, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Martha Raye and Bob Burns, Benny Goodman and his orchestra are the stars which will carry the annual Paramount "Broadcast" show to new heights of fun and hot-chat.

For Friday, New Year's Day, the management of the Catlow has been prevailed upon to hold over "The Big Broadcast of 1937" for the many patrons who find it inconvenient to attend the Midnight matinee showing.

In keeping with the splendid pictures chosen for the holidays, and on a par with the very best features is "Valiant is the Word for Carrie," which will play Saturday night.

The celebrated actress, Gladys George, has the leading role in this story of a woman with shady spots. To satisfy her longing for a family of her own, she adopts two waifs.

In addition to short subjects the Saturday 9 p. m. gift event will be held.

Sunday and Monday brings another great picture, "The Devil Is a Sissy." Freddie Bartholomew, Jackie Cooper and Mickey Rooney are starred, with Ian Hunter and Katherine Alexander playing the mature roles.

This is the story of three youngsters, caught in the web of gangdom, whose exploits keep them in difficulties until they see the error in their ways. The feature takes its name from the pronouncement of the judge who reviews their case.

Color cartoon, hand set and late news will complete the Sunday, Monday program.

"And Sudden Death" and "And Do They Were Married" will make up the double feature bill for bargain night, next Tuesday.

Randolph Scott and Francis Drake appear in the first film—a recital of reckless driving and the inevitable results; Melvin Douglas and Mary Astor are starred in the second number, which is a bright comedy set in a snow-bound lodge.

"Old Hutch," scheduled to play next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, is not such another advertisement as everyone loves. And Wallace Beery creates a character of the town loafer that has its witful as well as its mirth-provoking side.
