WE LEARN FROM DICTATORS

The world is learning from the dictators. It is discovering that by their very nature dictatorship must be a disturbing force. Quite apart from the good or evil they work in their own countries, the international system in too sensitive, too closely integrated, to stand the shattering shocks of dictatorial methods. Dictators are too powerful, their tread is too heavy, their voices are too thunderous, their manners are too masterful, for this tremulous and aging planet to inhabit. The earth has no room for giants any more.

We are learning that even the virtues of dictators are too much for us. The internal order they enforce, for instance, only magnifies their capacity to provoke external disorder. Their decisiveness turns their every act into an ultimatum. Whatever they do, they do with an effect of violence. Whenever they move, they move suddenly and swiftly, in the manner of a supreme command springing surprises in war. The diplomacy they practice is not high-toned, not shirt-sleeved, not even the iron hand in the velvet glove. It is the diplomacy of the mallet fist, of naked force.

The dictators in short, teach us to chink up one more advantage for democratic government. In the horse-and-buggy age they might have functioned without upsetting the universe. In the radio era they crowd up on one another. They fill the air with noise and threat and turmoil. The world has become too small for rules with limitless and unquestioned powers. If only to curb and slow down the drive of nations to the speed limit where international traffic is impossible, we need the creaking brakes of democracy.—The New York Times.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON
 (Courtesy The United States News)

All doubt is removed from the clarity of the president's power to place an embargo on export of arms to belligerents when he is authorized by congress to do so at his own discretion.

The supreme court removes the doubt, handing down a 7-1 opinion which draws a line of demarcation between the executive's power in foreign relations and his power in domestic affairs.

Several corporations and individuals had been charged conspiring to ship 15 machine guns to Bolivia after the president, on May 28, 1934, had placed an embargo on such shipment in accordance with a congressional resolution permitting him to do so if he found that it would tend to promote peace.

Defense of those indicted had called in question the propriety of the delegation of power to the president, alleging that it amounted to a grant of legislative power.

The court rules that, in foreign affairs, the power of the federal government is supreme and that the president may, in this field, be given much wider authority than in other matters.

Japan had given notice of abandoning limitations two years ago—a move which wrecked all hopes of reviving the treaty.

Now with all checks off, the French government declares that it will scrap no ships but will keep all its shipbuilding facilities occupied in producing the most modern fleet possible by 1942.

America's program: To begin shortly the construction of two new battle cruisers of the largest size, leaving still unsettled the question whether to expand the navy to a point that would make possible defense of the Philippines, now ostensibly on the way to independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holtes called on Mrs. Fisher's nephew, who is 44 in the hospital. The youth had been accidentally wounded early in November when a truck driver for a brewery fired at a robber who held up one of the brewery trucks. The Fishers' nephew was on his way home at the time and was hit by the bullet intended for the robber. The boy has been in the hospital ever since.

Miss Sylvia Pohlman spent Christmas with Miss Gladys Dyer of Diamond Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baude of Barrington were among the guests who attended a party Wednesday evening at the August Haide home.
