Virgil suffered serious injuries in the accident. He is seeking $150 damages in the same court for the demolished machine.

"A Child's Story of the Animal World," E. G. Husey.

Here, at last, is a zoology book written especially for children at the inquisitive age. Better than a trip to the zoo or the aquarium, it tells the story of the animal kingdom so that the child reads on and on, as any adventure tale, making friends with spiders and porpoises, lions and tigers and whales, until, when the last page is reached, he has a new understanding of the field of zoology.

"The Sea for Sam," W. M. Read and W. S. Bronson.

A book on that fascinating subject, the sea and all the forms of sea life are here described in a most interesting and authoritative manner. Written on a subject about which so little is known, this book should find an especially welcome spot in the acquaintance of devotions.

Returned to Hospital

Mrs. William Grunau, 406 S. Cook street, returned to the Frances Willard hospital in Chicago Sunday. Mrs. Grunau had been home for five weeks recuperating from an operation but was forced to return to the hospital.
