

"College Holiday"
Is Comedy Feature
Sunday, Monday

"Polo Joe," "Arizona Mahoney" and "Garden of Allah" Are Headliners

Joe E. Brown's polo-playing friends will have a grand time watching the seal-roaring comedians wield a mallet from the quarter-deck of a pony in the comedy, "Polo Joe," which comes to the Catlow theatre Friday and Saturday.

Joe really has to do his stuff. One of the big scenes calls for him to swing the mallet after the fashion of a baseball bat, hit a ball flying through the air, and knock it for the winning goal.

"Sheets" Gallagher is Brown's valet and dead-pan comic in "Polo Joe," and the romantic interest is supplied by Carol Hughes.

They're here again—the four comedians who made such great entertainment in "The Big George Burns and Gracie Allen Broadcast of 1937"—Jack Benny, and Martha Raye—in another melange of beauty, charm, comedy and harmony. It's titled "College Holiday," and begins January 24 at the Catlow theatre.

"College Holiday" is an original comedy script written by P. McEvoy. In it Benny is the press agent of a bankrupt hotel who flees in a bedsheet after the sheriff strips him of his clothing. Thus attired he is met by Miss Boland and Glardot, slightly half-clothed, who are on their way to take over the hotel to try out their theories. They are dressed in ancient Roman garb.

Thinking Benny a member of the cult, they send him east to bring back a swarm of college boys and girls. Gracie Allen is also a member of the cult, is to pair the youngsters off.

The new film, which comes to the Catlow theatre Tuesday, Jan. 26, tells of a stranded carnival operator, played by Cook, who works out a love triangle made up of Robert Cummings, June Marlowe and Larry Crabbie. It is worked out mainly by an elephant and a 22-inch cannon of the type used in circuses to shoot "human bullets" into the air.

"Arizona Mahoney" is double-billed with "The Man Who Lived Twice" starring Ralph Bellamy.

Glamorous blonde Marlene Dietrich and dark, romantic Charles Boyer bring one of the most exciting love teams in film history to the screen of the Catlow theatre for three days beginning January 27, as stars of "The Garden of Allah."

The Birthday Child of the Week

SUZANNE SHIRLEY WEBER will celebrate her first birthday Saturday, Jan. 23, and she is content to sit in her favorite chair for the picture. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Weber, 563 Division street. She enjoys an outdoor location for her chair so that she can wave to neighbors as they pass.

Pictures of several other birthday children were taken this week, but due to an unexpected delay at the engravers these can not be reproduced in this issue of The Review. They will appear next week.

Mrs. J. W. White,
88, Dies Saturday

Mrs. J. W. White, 88-year-old former resident, died at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Lehman, in Dixon Saturday.

Funeral services were held in Dixon Wednesday and the body was brought to Barrington for burial beside her husband in Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. J. W. White was born and grew up in this vicinity. Mr. White's father took the land that is now the H. A. Howland home in Cuba township as a homestead. The White school and White cemetery were both named for this family and J. W. White taught in the White school 64 years ago.

Mrs. White is survived by a son Ernest White and daughter, Mrs. John W. Hurst, both of Texas besides the daughter with whom she lived at the time of her death.

Earl DeLong States Political Theories at P.T.A. Meeting

Predicts Growth of Federal Power As Almost Inevitable

Earl DeLong, a Barrington high school graduate, now a member of the faculty at Northwestern university, sketched the political future of the United States with the deftness of a philosopher plus the wisdom of a student when he addressed members and guests of the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening.

"The Constitution of the United States served so adequately because the men that it were of violently conflicting beliefs," he said. "As a result, they established an elaborate system of checks and balances."

"It is highly desirable to have a method of decentralization guaranteed by the Constitution, but where shall we draw the line between the state government and its powers and the national government and its powers?"

"I feel the state is in definite danger of disappearing in the course of time. Some problems call for federal solution; they gradually impose a demand for federal action. Yet I don't think a highly centralized form of government can function as effectively for us."

A short talk by Robert Muir and songs by Ilo Shepard, accompanied at the piano by Donald Titterton, concluded the program and the meeting was adjourned for a social hour and refreshments.

Dinner and Theatre Party A ladies' night dinner and theatre party will be given by the Barrington Lions next Monday evening. The dinner will be served at the regular meeting place of the Lions at Greenfield's, and the theatre party following dinner will be at the Catlow, with the ladies guests of the management.

caution to prevent the spread of the disease to their pets. The incubation period in dogs is from two weeks to four months.

Several dogs were attacked by the maddened dog. It is also believed that those dogs belonged to persons living in Cuba township, or north of Main street. For this reason Harold Kelsey, supervisor of the town of Cuba, has joined Chief Baade in asking full cooperation to prevent the spread of contagion.

Although the state department has not placed a general quarantine here, officials have requested owners to follow the quarantine rules for safety measures. All dogs must be confined on leashes or wires. It is also advisable to muzzle animals to prevent injury to the owners and members of their families.

The local police department will remove and kill dogs upon the request of their owners.

Those persons bitten by the dog are now receiving treatment with anti-rabies toxin. For dogs that might have been bitten, a vaccination treatment can be given to prevent illness.

Earl DeLong States Political Theories at P.T.A. Meeting

Predicts Growth of Federal Power As Almost Inevitable

Earl DeLong, a Barrington high school boy, who is now a member of the family at Hough, Illinois, recently, sketched the political future of the United States in the opinion of a philosopher plus the wisdom of a student when he addressed the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening.

"It is highly desirable to have a strong central government as indicated by the Constitution, but when shall we draw the line between the central government and the states and the national government?"

"I feel that there is definite danger of disintegration in the country unless we have some call for federal solution; they gradually impose a demand for federal power. Yet, we shall have a higher centralized form of government can function as effectively for us."

A short talk by Robert Blair and songs by the Barrington High Chorus, directed at the piano by Donald Tiltner, concluded the program and the audience was entertained by the theatre party following dinner with the usual grace of the management.

Raid 2 Huge Stills,
One in Elgin, Other
Near Spring Grove

Two large illicit liquor stills were seized within the last week in the operation of a large still, the largest ever seized in the state, which, officials, was brought to light when federal agents raided the Elgin area, January 16, and the Douglas Avenue, Elgin, early Friday morning.

A gigantic still and rectifying plant, 1000 gallons of alcohol and all the apparatus necessary for the equipment used in the illegal manufacture of liquor, was seized.

Two men, Max Gossman, proprietor of the garage which is located on the ground floor of the building, and Mike Donahue, Chi-ago, who walked in after the raid was made and told officials that he was not in Elgin, were also taken into custody. Both were sent to Chicago where they underwent questioning.

McHenry county authorities and the state police, Chicago, struck another severe blow at the liquor traffic when they raided an old creamery building on the south side of Elgin, early Saturday morning, and seized a still and other machinery valued at approximately $50,000.

The officers arrested a man identified as John H. H. H. of the Henry County Home, and a man from the Illinois Basin, alias Leo Grimes, 23 years old, who claims he has been near Lake Michigan since he left Chicago, 12 years ago.
