

Memorial Day and Sunday Features Billed at Catlow

"When Love Is Young," Listed With "When You're in Love" on Week-end

Practically the entire cast of "Ah Wilderness" are reunited in "A Family Affair," which comes to the Catlow theatre Saturday.

Lionel Barrymore, seen as the father in the earlier hit, again plays a typical head-of-the-house in the new picture, and Eric Linden and Cecelia Parker once again represent romance in its adolescent phases. Other features in the fast are Mickey Rooney, Charley Grapewin, Spring Byington, Julie Hayden, Sara Haden, Allen Vincent, Margaret Marquis, Selmer Jackson and Harry Briggs.

"When Love Is Young," scintillating romantic comedy which comes to the Catlow Sunday for one day only, brings a new Virginia Bruce to the screen. For the first time on the screen, she dances as well as sings.

Her movie romance with Kent Taylor is attended by hilarious situations, as well as moments of deep tenderness. Grace Moore goes to town in "When You're in Love," showing Monday, Decoration Day, again a knockout yarn with songs classical and original . . . with more fun and frivolity than you've seen rolled into one picture.

Can you imagine glorious Grace Moore buying herself a husband in a Mexican jail . . . wooing him under a blanket of stars . . . thrilling him with songs at a tropical fiesta . . . singing strains of "Minnie the Moocher" . . . it's the gayest of all the Grace Moore hits . . . so different you'll be rubbing your eyes . . . and ears . . . in amazement.

What happens when a newspaperman with a flair for gags sets out to give his former sweetheart the world's most sensational wedding present on the eve of her nuptials to another man, forms the basis of the comedy-romance, "Wedding Present," coming Tuesday with Joan Bennett and Cary Grant in stellar roles.

Double featured with "Wedding Present," is "Westbound Mail," starring Charles Starrett and Rosalind Keith. In addition to the singing of young Bobby Breen and the support of a notable cast including May Robson and Charles Butterworth, the famous Hall Johnson choir is featured in Bobby's latest melodrama, "Rainbow on the River," playing Wednesday.

Double featured with "Rainbow on the River," is "Her Husband's Secretary," with Joan Muir, Beverly Roberts and Warren Hull.
