Seven Deaths Mar Holidays; Three Car Crash Victims

our Persons Are Drow Nearby Rivers and Streams

Deaths by auto accidents and drowning marked the usual holi-day toll in the vicinity of Barring-ton over Saturday, Sunday and Monday. * Four persons drowned

Frank Bemmerly, 18 years old 9745 Lockwood avenue, Chicago, nephew of Mr. McGue of Root Springs near Carry, was drowned Monday afternoon while swimming in the Fox River with three other companions. Two years ago on July 4, a nine-year-old cousin of the victim and also a nephew of Mr. McGue, was drowned at Root to route three thieving gypales for the following springs.

Mr. McGue, was drowned at Root Springs.

The accident Monday afternoon interrupted a holiday jaunt to the river for Benmerly and his sompanions. They went in swimming about 4 o'clock and struck out for a sand bar approximately 200 yards from shore.

Bemmerly had gone about two-thirds of the distance when, it is believed, he suffered a cramp or became exhausted.

His cries for help attracted his three-companions and they started swimming toward him. One of the bors, Leon Winterhalter, 434 N. Pine avenue, Chicago, reached Bemmerly but was unable to hold him and the youth sank from sight.

The body was recovered short-sight. The body was recovered short-ly afterwards but resuscitation at-tempts proved unsuccessful.

James Edward Chamberlain, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ar-thur Chamberlain of Hampshire, was drowned in a small pond about a mile from Hampshire Sunday afternoon.

The senior class of the Barring Friday Evening ton public high school will pre-sent Arthur Jearue's now famous romantic drama of the old and new south entitled "Mignonette" at the chool auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights this week starting at 8 o'clock.

This beautiful story has been presented in more than five hundred schools throughout the coun-dred schools throughout the country and recently scored at the Figure 19 miles of the Mignonette" is an unusual play in that it has all the clements of romance, comedy, mystery and even the quaint costumes of another day and age. All the lovely, almosphere of the old south is embodied in this whimsical drawn which has proved to be a logical successor to the famous "Smilling Thru." The settings are lovely while a touch of the crinoline atmosphere gives an opportunity to the local cast to shine in a different type of acting.
