Rural Mail Carriers Help Federal Bureau in Livestock Census

Charles L. Hutchinson and F. Lovell Bennett, rural carriers out of the Barrington post office, this week completed the annual survey of livestock on farms served by their routes, which is conducted by the post office department in cooperation with the United States department of agriculture.

The purpose of the survey is to furnish the department with agricultural data with reliable information on which to base estimates of production on the farms of the nation. Rural carriers do not take a complete census of the farms of their territories, but sample a given number of representative farms by means of a questionnaire provided by the department of agriculture. These surveys have been made semi-annually over a period of 15 years and are said to have been of inestimable value to intelligent farmers in planning future production and in marketing current supplies.

Forty-five per cent of the farmers included in the survey just concluded completed and returned their questionnaires. Sixty-two per cent of the reporting farmers said that pigs were raised on their farms, the average number of hogs and pigs of all kinds being 33 head per farm, and the average number of pigs under six months old being 25.

All of the reporting farms had milk cows, although 33 per cent were not in the dairy business and had cows for family use only. The average dairy herd numbered 22 head, with an average milk production of 426 pounds daily. Only 13 per cent of the reporting farms raised sheep.

Over Last Three Years

An appropriation ordinance authorizing expenditures totalling $44,170 for the period from May 1, 1937 through April 30, 1938, was passed by the board of trustees at a village meeting held Monday night in the council rooms. The ordinance was approved following a motion made by Trustee John A. Carroll, chairman of the finance committee, who presented E. W. Baade, secretary and staff captain; C. M. Miller, treasurer; Sam Schaefer, Arnold Kohner, Henry West, J. Goldman and E. H. Nicolai, trustees; C. F. Shiley, lodge deputy.

Following is a chart of the years and appropriations since 1932:

Spider Kills Snake in Dramatic Battle Fought in Basement

A tensely dramatic battle, without hue and cry or respite, was concluded Sunday morning in the basement of the residence on the Schaefer farm on Dundee road, occupied by the C. F. Shiley family.

When Harold Shiley went to the fruit cellar in the basement Saturday morning on an errand for his mother, he was startled to discover a small snake trapped in a spider's web. The snake was of the garden variety and approximately 10 inches long.

The web had been woven around its neck behind the head and the spider was slowly lifting the snake's body from the floor. At intervals the prisoner pulled and jerked in frantic efforts to free itself but the spider came down from the top of its web, which was suspended from the bottom of a fruit stand, and spun several more strands each time the attempt for freedom was made.

When Mr. Shiley went to the basement Sunday morning, he discovered the snake was dead in the web, and later in the day it was found lying on the floor, released from its trap by the spider, who had vanished from the scene.

Approval Granted for Extension of Widening Street

To Add 200 Feet on Main West of Hager Avenue; Job
Nearly Completed

A 200 foot extension to the Main street pavement widening project was approved by the county highway department this week. Village President Earl Hjalte reported to the board Monday night. The widening will extend west from Hager avenue.

This extra to the project. The sidewalk work now completed was included in the original setup and then dropped, later going in as a change order.

The widening of the street has been completed with the exception of this new work and reworking the E. J. & E. crossing on west Main.

Completion of the crossing is expected Friday. A large crew of railroad men started work Monday morning, and officials estimated they will finish in four days. The concrete slabs, 66 feet long, between the tracks, were poured last week by the contractor, and the railroad is now reworking ties and rails and raising box up to grade. Pre-cast, manufactured slabs will be placed in between the rails.

Driveway slopes are being installed by the contractor from the property line away from the walks. This is being done at no expense to property owners as result of an agreement made earlier with the county highway department. This work, however, only applies to where the sidewalks were changed along west Main street.

If a sufficient amount of the grant is left, the intersection of Main and Hough streets may be improved by removing light poles, ornamental lights and water hydrants to give more traffic space on the southwest corner.

Parade, Free Paving Dance, Concert Feature Celebration Here Saturday

Blaze Causes $75
Damage on Sewer
Job Tuesday Night

Plank cribbing holding back the earthen walls of a sewer ditch under excavation on north Hough street near E. J. & E. crossing and a drain pipe in the ditch were badly damaged by fire Tuesday night when a bomb torch flare rolled into the hole against the pump, igniting it.

The pump was gasoline driven, and it is believed that when the bomb either rolled or was knocked into the ditch, it contacted the pump, causing it to ignite and later explode, spraying gasoline against the planking on the sides of the hole.

The Santschi Construction company is doing some sewer work there, driving a sewer tunnel under the tracks, and the flares around the place, warning motorists at night of danger.

The fire was extinguished when F. Landwehr, chief of the fire department, John H. Blanke, chairman of the village sewer committee, and a passerby formed a bucket gang from a pond nearby. Damage is estimated at $75.

The rural fire department was called Wednesday morning when smoke from a gas incinerator filled the H. P. Heuer residence in Cuba township.

Start Repair Work on Route 63 Viaduct

Milburn Construction Company from Mount Prospect started tearing out the paving approaches to the viaduct on route 63 at the intersection of Algonquin road, 63 and route 10 Monday preparatory to laying new slabs.

The concrete on both sides of the viaduct, which goes over the E. J. & E. railroad tracks, had sunk in the last several years to such a degree that hazardous dips were left. The state highway department had attempted many times to raise the concrete by mud jacks and finally resorted to filling up with asphalt.

When neither plan corrected the condition, it was decided to tear out the present concrete and re-lay it to conform with the viaduct slabs. The new concrete will extend approximately two hundred feet on both sides of the viaduct.

Authorize Final Payments on Sewer System Contracts

Remaining 15 Per Cent to Be Paid; to Post Checks
on Repair Work

The village separated storm and sanitary sewer systems and the treatment plant were officially accepted by the board of trustees Monday night. Final payments on the contracts of A. L. Jackson Co., builders of the treatment plant, and Allied Bridge and Construction company, builders of the sewer systems, were authorized following a motion made by Trustee John J. Carroll and seconded by Trustee E. F. Kocher Sr.

The action of the board is pending final approval of public works administration officials in Chicago. The project was in part financed by federal government funds.

For remaining work items, fixing parkways and repaving streets and curbs in several sections, certified checks are to be posted with the village of Barrington to cover estimated cost to each contractor for doing the work.

When checks for the final 15 per cent of the contracts are signed by village authorities, checks covering the agreements in both cases will be placed in the village treasurer's hands.

For both contractors the cost of cleaning up the project was estimated below $500. Both the plant and sewer systems have been in operation since late last January.

ALL STEEL and TWO YARDS WIDE

THERE'S a lot more in this picture than meets the eye, though the eye has plenty to sparkle about in the stunning style of this spirited Buick car.

What you don't see here is the lift that's yours when you touch off the flashing power of Buick's valve-in-head straight-eight engine and go streaming off across the map.

What you don't see is the solid, steady feel of Buick—the firm stability that holds you on the line without weave or sway or wander on straightaways or on the curves.

What you don't see is the assurance you'll know once you step on Buick's tip-top brakes and see how surely and safely they make you master of its power.

We can't picture here the security that's yours in a body of steel-fused-to-steel—with floor, roof, side panels, cowl all welded into one stout unit of protective metal.

And only time can tell you how big is your money's worth in Buick—all steel and two yards wide, a big package that's your own best bet of the field when you add the superb action that gives its metals life.

All we can do is show you how a Buick looks—and handsome as this gallant traveler is, remind you that its good looks are literally the least of what it has to offer. Go try a Buick now!

BARRINGTON HILLS.—Miss Kora Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hughes, will become the bride of Frederick Williams of Detroit, Mich., at a service to be conducted in the garden of her parents' estate Saturday.

Bishop Woodcock of Louisville, Ky., the bride's grandfather, will officiate. The natural setting of the floral garden will form the background of the important occasion which will be witnessed by a number of friends and relatives from here and away.

Mrs. Whitehead, sister of Mr. Hughes, will be present and is to be the guest of Mrs. Samuel Rowe during her stay.

Has Bon Voyage Party

William Reichmann entertained a large party of his friends at tea Sunday evening at the Barrington Hills Country club. The occasion was to say "goodbye" before sailing on the 17th of this month with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Reichmann, for Europe. The party expects to spend the summer in Germany and Austria, devoting considerable time to Berlin, Vienna and Prague. They will be in England at the end of their trip.

Addresses Garden Clubs

Norman McClintock of New Brunswick, N. J., addressed a joint session of the Garden Club of Barrington and the Evanston Garden club at Barrington Hills Country club Monday afternoon. He spoke on "Unfamiliar Views of Familiar Forms of Life" and showed beautiful colored pictures of insects and birds. His talk and pictures were so well received that he was prevailed upon to remain for the evening in order that husbands of the garden club members might be entertained.

The Sunday school picnic at the Reichmann home Tuesday was a most enjoyable affair for the youngsters of the Dundee and Barrington Episcopal church. The inclement weather in the morning was a bit disconcerting, but did not interfere in any way with the spirits of the youthful picnicers or the success of the party later in the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickrel, father and mother of Mrs. Lester Higgins, left Monday for a western trip.

On Friday, the Forest and Garden class of the Chicago Woman's club is to have luncheon at Barrington Hills Country club and afterward visit some of the country places. Mrs. Robert Work is chairman of the committee and in charge of arrangements.

Old Mill Landmark at Palatine Burns

Fire fanned by a high wind Sunday night destroyed the old mill landmark at Wilson and Smith streets in Palatine and caused damage estimated at $50,000. The place was occupied by the Feed and Paint company of Crete, Ill., E. Koelling, proprietor, and had been filled with 100 tons of baled hay and 50 tons of baled straw in addition to a large amount of small feed.

The alarm was turned in to Wesley Comfort, chief of the Palatine fire department, about 11:30 and in an hour the structure was practically razed. Cause of the fire could not be determined but it is believed spontaneous combustion was responsible.

The Palatine volunteer fire department used its three trucks in a strenuous effort to prevent the spread of flames into the Comfort Lumber yard nearby. One of the buildings in the lumber yard caught fire several times but was extinguished before gaining headway.

Burning embers from the structure were carried for several blocks in the air and kept one truck busy puffing the streets watching for roof flames.

The hay, straw, and feed had been stored in the building in large quantities in preparation for the opening of the Arlington Park race track.

A mill was first erected at the site about 75 years ago by the late Charles Ott, who operated a grist and saw mill. The first structure was burned and replaced by the second building which was destroyed Sunday night.

The Birthday Surprise

By HILDA RICHMOND

Mrs. Hart ran into her neighbor's house to get the length of her new kitchen curtains, but was amazed to be politely asked by Josephine Darcy if she would go to the living-room door, as something very important was in the kitchen. That was surprising for Mrs. Darcy was known as a good housewife, and with supper preparations evidently going on, it was most unusual to be informed that "Mama is sewing in the living room."

Sure enough the mistress of the little house was placidly darning stockings in spite of the clutter in the kitchen. She explained the situation in a low tone. "It's my birthday, and I think the children are making a picnic supper in honor of the event. At any rate I'm strictly forbidden to enter the kitchen or dining room."

Bang! Crash! Then a series of wild exclamations from the kitchen but the door was not opened. "Maybe they have broken something valuable," said Mrs. Hart, nervously. She knew her own Billy and Lucy were in there with the Darcy children. "My two are never allowed to touch things in the kitchen, so of course they are awkward. It must be something pretty bad as they are all so quiet now."

Mrs. Hart rapped on the door to remind the children that they were staying too long, but at once a wall of protests came from behind the closed door. "Please, Mrs. Hart, just a few minutes more!" "Oh Mama, they need us so much, just now." "We don't want to go home. We are having lots of fun." Bill Darcy "inched" the door open and whispered through the crack, "Slip through. Mrs. Hart, and see how much we have to do, but don't you tell Mother a single thing. It is a big surprise."

Mrs. Hart accepted the invitation as she wanted to see what damage had been done and who had done it. Her Billy was on his knees mopping up some water, and the only damage was a tracked floor, for two saucepans had in some way "jumped off the range" as Billy explained it. "Mom, we're having a lot of fun," he said, squeezing some water into the scrub pail. "We want to see how the table looks when it's all done."

At this moment Mr. Darcy entered with his arms full of bundles—his contribution to the picnic—and seeing Mrs. Hart at once invited her and her family to join in the big surprise. "John walked home with me, and the children are here, so we can assemble in a few minutes. But be very careful not to tell Mrs. Darcy," he said, solemnly, "for it is a profound secret."

Mrs. Hart enjoyed the bologna, the lollipops, the bananas, the store cookies and the peanuts that were the children's idea of a party for their mother, but she could not help seeing that her children regarded the Darcy three as the most favored children in the world. "Mamma, they planned it all, and saved the money for it, and got it ready without their mother knowing a thing about it," whispered Lucy Hart to her mother. "Isn't it grand?"

"Have a pickle, Mrs. Hart," urged Richard Darcy, presenting a pie pan with an assortment of corn-pickled cucumbers. "You see we bought some grown-up food as well as other things. It was my idea about the pickles."

As Mr. and Mrs. Hart walked homeward leaving the happy Darcy family to clear up a most discouraging looking kitchen, Mrs. Hart said in a low tone, "I've prided myself on being a good mother. John, but I think there may be many advantages in Mrs. Darcy's way. The Darcy children have resourcefulness and courage and ability to carry out projects; ours would have, too, if they ever had a chance."

"I'm sure of that," said Mr. Hart. "I think I'll let Billy use the tool shop; he has been begging to work there for a long time."

They exchanged meaning smiles, and then talked of other matters.

Library Will Extend Vacation Courtesies

The Barrington public library will continue a custom of former years by issuing books for an extended period of time to patrons who are going on vacations, and who would like to take books with them. Miss Olive Dobson, librarian, announced Monday.

The plan has been followed in the past and has proved popular with many patrons who enjoyed reading as well as recreational activities on their holidays, she reported.

The report for the month of May compiled by Miss Dobson showed that 42 adult and 13 juvenile books were added to the shelves, and eight adult and five children registrations raised the total to 1464.

Circulation during May was as follows: adult, 1004; children, 563; total 1569.

Two Chicago Youths Drown at Long Lake

Matthew Jack, 20 years old, and Henry Godrimas, 21 years old, both of Chicago, were the third and fourth drowning victims in Lake county this year when the boat they were fishing from on Long lake Sunday overturned in the high water. Two other Chicago youths lost their lives by drowning at Fox Lake on Memorial Day. A companion, Walter Sarna, also of Chicago, was in the party but was saved when rescuers reached his side in time. The others sank before aid could reach them. According to information given at the inquest conducted Sunday, the accident occurred when they attempted to change places in the boat.

Locked in Waukegan Jail; Prisoner Uses Belt to End His Life

William Ryan, 42 years old, 143 S. Genesee street, Waukegan, became the second prisoner to take his life by suicide while locked in the Waukegan jail. Ryan, who was booked 30 minutes prior to his body being discovered, had given no indication that he was going to take his life. He had evidently stood on a lower berth in the southeast individual compartment of the main cell block, removed his belt from his trousers, slipped it around his neck with the buckle to the rear, tied the other end over a bar in the grill work over the cell top and quietly slipped off. The hanging body was discovered by Isaac Simpson, also of Waukegan, when he stepped past the individual cell to the water faucet to get a drink.

Mrs. W. E. Noyes Elected President of Woman's Union

The Woman's Union of the Methodist church held its last meeting of the year in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. Noyes, president; Mrs. Ward Olmsted, first vice president; Mrs. Edward Mitchell, second vice president; Mrs. Paul Clark, secretary; Mrs. Frank Kirchman, financial secretary of the Missionary department; and Mrs. S. Riecke, treasurer. A social hour followed the business session.

Finds Trout in Head Light of Fast Train

About once a month one or another of the Chicago and North Western-Union Pacific streamliners pulls into Chicago with a busted headlight. Last month the City of Denver came in twice with its beacon bashed in. And when they back the train out into the California avenue yard of the North Western for overhauling and cleaning, they find a dead bird in the busted headlight. A wren will do it. One morning the City of Denver rolled in with a trout in its beam—or beacon. There was a hurried consultation on "how did that get there." Eventually, the pilot emerged from the cab and explained. Somewhere this side of the Mississippi an eagle zoomed down the track into the path of the City of Denver. Era it had time to duck the train struck. The eagle dropped lifeless. And out of its beak fell the dead trout into the headlight. And somewhere along the bluffs of the Mississippi a couple of young eaglets are pretty hungry and wondering where mamma is staying so long.

"Top of the Town" Week-End Feature at Catlow Theatre

"Romeo and Juliet" Ends Run
Friday; "Wake Up and Live" Coming

"Romeo and Juliet," starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard, will finish its run at the Catlow on Thursday and Friday.

Hal Roach introduces a new and decided stellar comedy team, Patsy Kelly and Lydia Robert, in their faithful full length feature comedy, "Nobody's Baby," showing Saturday.

The picture is described as a laugh-out from the time Killy Kelly (Patsy Kelly) and Lena Marchetti (Lydia Robert) meet, appealing for an amateur radio show audition, until the smash finale.

Double featured with "Nobody's Baby" is "Breathing Home," with William Gargan, Binnie Barnes and Wendy Harris.

The newest thing in screen musicals, "Top of the Town," has been booked for a two-day engagement at the Catlow starting Sunday.

The offering hits a high note, types of comedy developed by ten streaming swing music, varied different comedians and a dancing, singing chorus that captures the eyes and ear.

Doris Nolan, new screen find who scored on the stage in "Night of January 16th," plays the feminine lead.

Dick Foran, popular, big, red-headed singing cowboy, returns to the Catlow Tuesday to please his fans with the melodrama, "Land Beyond the Law."

This is said to be a lively tale dealing with the pioneer days of the territory of New Mexico, when it was described as a land beyond all law by General Lew Wallace, who was its first governor.

Double featured with "Land Beyond the Law" is "Her Husband Lies," with Gail Patrick, Ricardo Cortez, Akim Tamiroff, June Marlet and Tom Brown.

In "Wake Up and Live," which opens Wednesday for a three-day run with Walter Winchell, Gen. Bernie and Alice Faye in the featured roles, 20th Century-Fox pictures believes that it has the sweetest, hottest, most glamorous and glorious musical ever turned out by that studio.

"Wake Up and Live" offers not only the the intriguing spectacle of Winchell and Bernie feuding face-to-face, but also the singing, dancing and emoting of Alice Faye, Jeweller and more affecting than ever; the laugh-provoking antics of Patsy Kelly, Ned Sparks and Jack Healy; and also smash song hits by those kings of song writing, Gordon and Revel.

THE GHOST

Almost exactly two years ago, the NRA was invalidated. No great cry of horror arose generally for the simple reason that the NRA had discredited itself with the public. A few predicted disaster, but they turned out to be bad prophets.

Now Senator Black and Representative Connelly are asking congress to consider another bill reviving all the principles of the NRA. Before breathing life into ghosts, let's look at the record. The New York Times sums it up this way:

"It is now clear that there was no foundation in fact for the early fear that the supreme court verdict in the case of the NRA had dealt a death blow to the whole recovery movement. Precisely the opposite happened. The government's own index of industrial production, compiled by the federal reserve board, stood at 85 when NRA was declared unconstitutional. It now stands at 118. The government's index of factory payrolls stood at 68.5. It now stands at 104.8. But the point of most significance is that the percentage of increase in payrolls has been even larger than the increase in production. Freed from the controls and restraints imposed by NRA, business has not achieved its subsequent recovery at the expense of labor. For the reward of labor, measured in terms of payrolls, has more than kept pace with the increased output of factories and mills."

What the effects of renewed attempts upon the part of the federal government to regulate wages and hours of every locality and plant will be none can foresee accurately at this time. It is a known factor, however, that arbitrary wage and hour restrictions seeking to blanket the entire country under one enactment must inevitably lead to confusion during a time of steady recovery. It is also known that sudden increases in wages and decreases in hours must be added to the cost of production, which in turn must be paid by the consumer and particularly the farmers, who form the major purchaser of the products of industry.

This is the month when high school and college graduates will offer their services to a non too receptive world.

Bears Will Play in District Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament at Elgin

Meet Glen Ellyn Nine as Visitors Sunday, June 13

Divide Two Tri-county League Games; Have 500 Per Cent Standing

The Barrington Bears spent an active season in baseball and were defeated twice while winning one contest this week. The Bears won from Algonquin Owsa a week ago Tuesday in the Tri-County league and lost to the Elgin West Stars Thursday night for a final standing of two wins and two losses in league percentage.

The Bears were again on the short end when they were dumped by the powerful Sycamore Anacon-das at the local ball diamond Sunday afternoon. The score was 10 to 3.

Inexperience was the chief factor in the loss Sunday. Absence of some of the regulars plus errors allowed the hard-hitting Anacon-das to pile up a large lead. The Bears scored once during the first seven innings and twice in the eighth.

E. Altengraber and Helms carried home the last two markers on a single by H. Garbisch. Reuse scored the other run.

Lang, a newcomer, was on the mound hurling for Barrington and was credited with seven strikeouts while walking four. Pershell did the losing for the Anacon-das, striking out 10 batters and walking four.

Charles Altengraber pinch batted for Lang in the seventh and pitched the last two frames, allowing one hit. Bende went to left field when Condit took Flock's place at third in the seventh.

The district tournament will be started at tournament park in Elgin this week with 16 teams vying for the right to play in the state finals. The Bears have entered the meet. Schedule is to be made by drawings and will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Review, with the dates the Bears are to play.

Ela Captures N.W. Conference Baseball Championship

Undefeated in 8 Scheduled Games; Beat Antioch 1-0 Friday

Ela won the undisputed championship of the Northwest conference baseball loop when it defeated Antioch 1-0, last Friday. The game was a pitcher's duel to the finish, with Schroeder pitching his second no-hit game of the season and Madson of Antioch allowing only two hits. Schroeder struck out ten opponents and hit one, Madson struck out eleven but walked six batters.

One of Ela's two hits was a timely one in the last inning. Leuthesser walked, Wildhagen singled, and later Leuthesser scored after a passed ball. Schroeder got the other hit of the game in the second inning. Madson's speed ball was very effective in this game, although in an earlier game Ela had no trouble piling up an 8-0 lead against him.

Ela won all of its eight conference games from Antioch, Arlington Heights, Lake Forest, Warren, and Wauconda. Last year Ela shared the championship with Lake Forest.

NOSE PORES

A Real Test of Your Cleansing Methods

Your nose pores are the largest on your body and the first to show signs of clogging. If your nose pores are enlarged or clogged, your complexion is ruined.

What you want is a penetrating face cream—not one that just lies on the surface of your skin. Lady Elnor's Face Cream is a notably penetrating face cream. Gently and thoroughly it penetrates the little openings, it takes hold of the imbedded dirt matter—loosens it—dissolves it—and makes it easily removable. Thus, your closed pore function is kept again and again reduced to normal by their natural tendency.

Receiving Bids for J. Scwill Residence

Bids are being received for a modern residence, estimated to cost between $60,000 and $70,000, by A. N. Rehori, architect, for Julius Scwill. The new place is to be located on property purchased from the Hills and Dale development on Brinker road.

There are about 25 acres in the section, which is adjoining the Mori estate.

The proposed structure will be two stories high and approximately 32 feet wide and 130 feet long. A feature of the building will include the use of glass brick in the walls where the stairs are to be located. Construction is expected to start shortly.

The Lewis home in the Lake of the Woods development, costing close to $30,000, is nearing completion and the Charles Luckman home, $25,000 residence, has been finished and is occupied by the family. The Lewis home is located on 13 acres in the woods section and the Luckman property comprises seven acres.
