Henry Sweitzer, 20, Is Drowning Victim in Pistakee Bay

Former Palatine Youth Dives
From Sailboat;
Drowns

Henry Sweitzer of Chicago, former resident of Palatine, was drowned at Pistakee Bay Tuesday at the beginning of what was to have been a gay outing. With several companions, the young man took off in a sail boat. A brief sail, the leads anchored their craft and dove into the water for a bit of swimming. Sweitzer never came up.

His friends brought his body to the surface but all efforts to resuscitate him failed.

Funeral services will be held at the Danielson Funeral Home in Palatine at 2 p. m. Saturday with Rev. Voeks officiating. Burial will take place at Hillside cemetery, Palatine.

Sweitzer was the son of Mrs. Ite Barnum of Palatine. He was 20 years and 3 days old. He is survived by his mother and one brother, William Sweitzer of Chicago.

Traffic Lights Are Assured for Hough and Main Crossing

A resolution asking the state highway department to install four stop and go lights at the intersection of Hough and Main streets, Barrington, will be sent to the district office next week. As these are to be paid for from Barrington's accumulation of gas tax funds, the improvement will be approved by the department. A. C. Burandt, village clerk, was assured.

Mr. Burandt has prepared the resolution which will be presented at the next meeting of the trustees July 19. As the trustees ordered the resolution prepared, they undoubtedly will pass it.

The traffic actuated lights will not be recommended, Mr. Burandt said. The state does not place this type of light at intersections near which parking is permitted, as parked cars interfere with the free operation of this kind of signal.

According to the plan there will be three two-way lights and one four-way light, the latter to be placed at the A.P. store corner.

To Improve Library and Clerk's Office

A minor remodeling job at the village hall designed to improve heating, insulation and ventilation was started Wednesday.

A false ceiling, about five feet below the present ceiling, will be installed in the library room. This will cut down the amount of space to be heated in the winter and will add extra insulation to the room, warmth in the winter and keep out sun heat in the summer. A ventilating system between the two ceilings will also help keep the library cool in summer.

A shaft extending from the offices of the clerk and treasurer through the roof will ventilate those rooms.

Funeral Home Formally Opened

Baskets of flowers added a festive touch to the Danielson and Wilmering funeral home at 140 W. Main street at its formal opening Wednesday.

In the main service room was a $6,500 silver-plated seamless copper casket of modern design. A color scheme of rust and green is used in this room, green drapes at the windows and arched doorways complementing the copper-rust carpeting. Small lamps and upholstered furniture contribute a home-like touch.

In the display room downstairs were caskets of modern design. One of 75 years old was of the old pine box variety. A mahogany casket with plate glass at the upper part of the cover illustrated the type used 60 years ago while a small ivory casket had one with glass window-effect illustrated those used fifty years ago.

Visitors were asked to register in a guest book, and each lady was presented a rose.

to Even Score With Stores

Fifteen hundred employees of Jewel Tea Co. and Jewel Food stores and their friends roamed over the grounds and through the plant and office building in Barrington enjoying the many features of Jewel Farm Frolic, 55th annual all company picnic, Sunday.

The drawing for prizes, conducted by Clay Watkins, sometimes known as Clayton, a general country store located in a small corner of the fifth floor of the office building, an old time dance, and the athletic competition between plant and store teams, were among the many interesting attractions at the plant.

Nearly 600 of the guests were spread out in front of the building during the early hours of the afternoon when Mr. Watkins, using a loud speaker system, called the prize awards.

The country store had about every type of article and display sign crowded into it that used to adorn the cross roads store of two generations ago. George

Ralph Bennitt Tells Highlights of Scout Trip to Washington

Ralph Bennitt Jr. of Barrington, winner of Col. John Roberts' award—a trip to the scout jamboree held at Washington, D. C. June 29 to July 9 inclusive, reported highlights of the convention to a Review reporter as follows:

"After seeing Niagara Falls and Buffalo, Schenectady, etc., our group, including 27 scouts from Northwest Suburban council and eleven scouts from U. S. Grant council, Freeport, had an all-day ride to New York City. We had dinner at a hotel there and after a good sleep, left for Philadelphia where we saw Independence Hall and lots of historical buildings.

"The afternoon we arrived in Washington, it was raining pitchforks but we put up our tents, got cots from the quartermaster and filled bedsacks with straw for mattresses. Next day, we kept busy cleaning camp and setting up a signal tower.

"Burton Wendt of Barrington and I visited public buildings in Washington together; saw the Lincoln Memorial at night, glimpsed the White House and inspected the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"While in camp, I shook hands and talked with the following foreign scouts: Irish, Scotch, French, Siamese and Australian.

"The biggest event at camp was the arena show; our fellows put on an Indian dance, the only Indian dance in the show. Our scout showed signifying, erected buildings, etc.

"The whole bunch, 35,000 scouts, assembled for the Fourth of July Sunday service in the arena. Lanny Ross sang and James E. West spoke. On July 8, we had a review and the president inspected the scouts. Fireworks were displayed four nights. The whole trip was a grand experience."

Bennitt was chosen for the award when his group, troop 21, won the attendance contest at a scout court of honor and each troop member voted as to which boy he would want for his companion if he were chosen for the trip. Ralph won the most votes.

October 5-9 Inc.

The car will not be purchased and placed on exhibition until the middle of August, but arrangements for the deal will be completed Friday morning of this week at a breakfast meeting of the sub-committee. Full details of the award will be made after that day.

Bank Deposits in First National at Record High Point

With deposits of $1,400,836 as of June 30, the First National Bank of Barrington reached an all time high point in deposits as revealed in the quarterly call statement published on page 6 of this issue of The Review.

The total deposits as of last December 31 amounted to $1,344,461. The net increase of $56,375 in six months is outstanding during a period when many metropolitan banks experienced a slight dropping off in their deposits.

Park Appropriation Reduced 25 Per Cent

An appropriation of $1075 for the Barrington park district has been set by the park for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1928. This represents a reduction of $975, or a slash of nearly 25 per cent.

Every item of expense except sewage treatment was slashed from $25 to $100. These items included buildings, lights, police, grounds and equipment, streets, water, salaries, maintenance of grounds and miscellaneous expenses.

Village Will File Suits to Collect Sewer Rental Fees

Four Defendants, Two in Lake and Two in Cook to Be Named

Four suits for collection of delinquent sewer rental will be filed by the village as a start in the campaign to force payment of rentals and keep them up to date. Two of these are against owners of Lake county property and will be filed in circuit court of Lake county. The other two are against owners of real estate in Cook county and will be filed in Cook county court.

Mrs. Charles Abigirg, owner of a house on North avenue, in addition to Paul Schroeder, receiver for the business property occupied by Brandt Dairy, will be named in the Lake county suits. The dairy, as renter, may be a joint defendant in the second suit. The dairy has paid the water bill but not the sewer service charge, which in nearly all cases is paid by the owners of property.

Elden Gieske, owner of property on East Russell street, and H. W. Grimm, owner of an oil station and home on Northwest highway, will be named as defendants in suits filed in Cook county.

The outcome of these suits probably will remove any doubt about the liability of property owners or renters on the sewer rental fee. The improvement just completed last winter, was financed by grants and loans from the federal government. The indebtedness is being retired by receipts from sewer rentals instead of by receipts from assessments on property.

The village board is also prepared to enforce its ordinance requiring roof drains to be disconnected from the sanitary sewerage system. The village board is also prepared to enforce its ordinance requiring roof drains to be disconnected from the sanitary sewerage system. ## Miss Fern Pederson Is Bride

A very charming wedding took place at the Big Oaks farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pederson, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock when their eldest daughter, Fern, became the bride of Blanchard Condit, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Condit, of Paton, Ia.

While Mrs. Harold Pippenger of Alameda, Calif., played Lohengrin's Wedding March on the piano the bride party entered the living room and stood at an improvised altar banked with ferns and flowers. ## Saint Joan of Arc Was a Gentle Peasant Girl

San Joan of Arc, a gentle peasant girl who led the soldiers of France to victory at the siege of Orleans, was born in the village of Domremy, in 1412. While her brothers and sisters were sent out into the fields with their father, her mother kept her at home for the spinning and weaving. Thus she grew to strong and evenly girlhood, known throughout the village for her gentleness, charity and piety, notes a writer in the Philadelphia Record.

Driven by visions (revelations from Heaven she believed them to be) to leave her home and make her way to the court of the uncrowned king of France, she prevailed upon him to accept her as the rescuer of his country. Clad in full armor, with sword and banner, Joan of Arc was mounted on a charger at the head of the French troops. Fired by her courage, they marched on Orleans, defeated the English and then marched on to Rheims.

There, with Joan at his side, Charles VII was crowned king of France in the cathedral which was dedicated almost 500 years later by the Germans in the World War. Joan's success was short lived, for in May, 1430, she was captured by the English, imprisoned for a year and on May 30, 1431, she was burned at the stake in the market place at Rouen. Twenty-five years later she was found innocent of the charges against her, and in 1919 she was declared a saint.

H. Jorgenson Tells Legion Auxiliary About Boys' State

Describes Government Work With 1,250 Youth at Springfield

Harold T. Jorgenson, Barrington representative to "Boys' State," sent to Springfield for the session June 20 to 26 by the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, presented his report of the activities at Boys' State to members of the Auxiliary and their guests at its regular meetings in Legion hall Tuesday evening.

Highlights of his talk were as follows: "Meals were served to 1,250 people at one time. The main feature of the week was election of governor. The first evening a talk was given on Americanism, and talks during the week were given by the different states.

"A regular program had been planned; every morning at six o'clock they had reveille with everybody up, then light calisthenics, after that flag raising, then the following in order: policing quarters, breakfast, assembly at state house, all government work at work, all legislative committee meeting and grand jury holding sessions, meeting of general assembly, receiving guests in office, luncheon, roll call, picnic, taking and visiting with guests, athletics, roll call, flag lowering, clean up period, reports received, dinner, roll call, free period, counselors going over next day's work, assembly in state house, roll call, entertainment, taps, lights out, bed check, and roll call.

"Candidates were chosen and speeches given, there being two sides for voting, Federalists and Nationalists. Tuesday they had regular election. Wednesday the supreme court was sworn in. I was the representative of the state, the 50th district of Boys' State and my section was called Carter City.

"Many bills were brought in, mostly teachers' bills and one food bill, quality of food, not quantity. Quality won 117 votes to 2 votes.

"The boys printed their own newspaper charging one cent; this money was used to buy a large wreath for Lincoln's Tomb. They also had their own police force and fire department. Two state police officers from Chicago gave instructions. The hospital was sponsored by the winning first aid teams of Boy Scouts; there were 292 cases for the week, all sun burn; but one, and that a severely broken arm.

"Every offender among the boys was given a fair trial for offenses such as making too much noise, pushing boys into gold fish ponds, etc. They also had a murder trial which was very exciting.

"They had their own post office and delivery car. Saturday morning boys deserving diploma and pins received them. All meetings were held at the Coliseum. At noon, all state property had to be turned in and baggage packed."

Bell Invented Telephone While Teacher of Speech

The telephone was invented by Bell, a young Scotsman who went to Canada in 1870 to seek health and fortune. He moved to Boston in 1872 and while engaged as a teacher of speech hit upon the idea of improving the carrying qualities of the voice by the use of a trumpet as a transmitter and a harp as a receiver. For several years Bell experimented, gradually bringing into being the first telephone actually capable of transmitting understandable words. On March 10, 1876, Bell's assistant, Thomas A. Watson, heard in a telephone receiver these words uttered by Bell:

"Mr. Watson, please come here; I want you."

With that immortal sentence the telephone was born. Bell exhibited his telephone at the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia that year. The world was amazed. From then on the new invention saw rapid development. Even the electrical wizard, Thomas A. Edison, had a hand in perfecting it by inventing an improved transmitter.

The first home to have a telephone was that of Charles Williams, Jr., of Boston. The instrument was installed in 1876. In 1877, the first switchboard and exchange was set up in Boston a month later. The first multiple switchboard was set up in Chicago in January, 1879. The first automatic exchange, doing away with the operator, was set up in La Porte, Ind., in 1892.

On January 25, 1915, Bell talked by telephone from New York to San Francisco, the first transcontinental transmission.

The names for the twelve signs of the zodiac, based on fancied resemblances between the arrangements of the stars and certain pictorial outlines which form the substratum of the Apsara-Babylonian cuneiform alphabets, are mostly animal in character, probably having been chosen for animistic reasons. observes a writer in the Chicago Tribune.

Starting with the month of March, which the ancients counted as the beginning of the year, the twelve months are represented by the following twelve signs: Aries, the ram; Taurus, the bull; Gemini, the twins; Cancer, the crab; Leo, the lion; Virgo, the virgin; Libra, the balance; Scorpio, the scorpion; Sagittarius, the archer; Capricornus, the goat; Aquarius, the water carrier, and Pisces, the fishes.

Zodiac Is Ancient Name for Band Around the Sky

Zodiac is the ancient name for an imaginary band extending around the sky, having for its middle line the ecliptic or apparent path of the sun. It was early fixed at a width of sixteen degrees so as to include the orbits of the five known planets—Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn—as well as the sun and the moon. The stars that appeared to be permanently fixed in this zodiacal band were grouped into twelve constellations, each being confined to 30 degrees, or one-twelfth of the circle, though it did not necessarily fill up that space. This system made it easy to define the positions of sun or planets at any time.

Chief Sanooko to Wrestle Bob Bruns at Round Lake Ring

Matchmaker Lee White conjured Chief Olesy Sanooko, Cherokee Indian, the most powerful grapple in the ring to come to Peg's Open Air Arena at Round Lake, Friday night, July 16 to wrestle the blond Adonis, Bobby Bruns, in a bout that promises to be one of the greatest seen in this vicinity.

Sanooko is a full blooded Cherokee Indian who towers 6 ft. 4 in. and tips the beam at 320 pounds. When the name of the giant is named as a possible opponent most matmen suddenly remember an urgent engagement elsewhere.

In the past few seasons, the redskin has hung up a remarkable record by his crushing tactics and there are many who believe that if the promoters had not signed Bruns in advance for Friday he would not appear against the Cherokee.

The blond youngster is in the midst of a winning streak against some very imposing names of the mat and is in a position where his demands for a title match could not possibly be delayed.

In meeting the big fellow, Bruns is spotting his one hundred pounds and this great weight advantage may be the undoing of the young Chicagoan, who at the present date can point to an unmarred record this season.

In weighing the pros and cons of the principals in this contest, it has been pointed out that Bruns has taken a larger bite than he can chew and the fans are asking, can a good small man, relatively speaking, defeat a big man.

For the supporting card, Promoter Fred Kohler and Matchmaker Lee White are continuing their presentation of the leading talent to be found in the middle west.

Scouts Report Fine Camp at Oh-Da-Ko-Ta

The boy scouts of Northwest suburban council who have been attending Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta this season are reporting an excellent time and are making fine progress in scouting.

With the unusually large amount of rain early this season Dyer Lake is filled and overflowing and this assures the very best of water activities. The 5th period of camp opens next Sunday, July 18 and the 6th period on Sunday, July 25.

There are still places open for those two periods and any scouts who have not already registered are urged to do so at once in order to be sure to have a place reserved in the unit which they desire.

Senior League Outing at Long Grove Friday

Members and friends of the St. Paul Senior League, Barrington, and the young people's league of Arlington Heights have been invited by the league at Long Grove to meet with them Friday evening, July 23, for an evening of fellowship games.

All members of the league who have no transportation are requested to be at the church not later than 6:30 p. m. and all who have cars are requested to stop at the church to take friends along with them.

Aesop's Fables

Aesop is little more than a shadow of a name. He was a slave from Samos who probably lived in the Sixth century before Christ. His fables were of a political nature in the time of the Greek tyrants, when unvelled speech was dangerous.

Two hundred and fifty years later Demetrius of Phaleron collected a large number of fables and named them by Aesop's name. These were turned into Latin by Phaedrus, but it cannot be said definitely that any of them originated with Aesop.

Cole Bros. Circus at Elgin Friday, July 16

The world's largest circus, traveling on three trains of double-length steel railroad cars, with 3000 people, 30 elephants, 512 menagerie animals and 500 horses will exhibit in Elgin Friday, July 16.

Everybody wishes to see the Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty Circus this year, which returned early in 1935 from a triumphal five year tour of Europe, and it is a foregone conclusion that the earth's largest tent, seating 10,000 persons, will be filled to the last chair afternoon and evening. Six rings and stages and the hippodrome track, to say nothing of the vast aerial mate for the earth's most foremost arena talent—400 acknowledged kings and queens of daring, grace, skill and incredible agility. Sixty clowns will project ten times that number of mirth waves. Countless new foreign features and innovations new to America are introduced on the gigantic program of the world's greatest amusement institution. Clyde Beatty's gigantic trained animal exhibition will be presented in the main performance.

Ken Maynard, the screen's greatest Western star, will personally be seen at every performance. Maynard has starred in 87 pictures produced at the major studios in Hollywood. He is by far the highest priced star ever to be seen with a circus. Appearing in his wild west show this season will be scores of champion cowboys and cowgirls, Indians and Cosacs.

Doors to the big show and the menagerie will open at 1 and 7 p. m. The big shows will start at 2 and 8 p. m.

Ribbons Are Given Girls for Summer Home Project Work

Gardens and Other Undertakings Judged for Merit Thursday

Blue, red and white ribbons were awarded to Barrington school girls last Thursday and Friday who had home economics projects entered for achievement day.

Blue ribbons were given for the best project work. Red ribbons were given for work that was highly commendable but not deserving of blue ribbons. The white ribbons were awarded for good projects that showed care on the part of the girls but needed more development.

The girls brought their summer project reports to the school gymnasium Thursday to be exhibited and graded. Projects that were not movable were graded in the morning when the home project board consisting of Mrs. R. D.
Wells, Mrs. Reuben Plagge and Mrs. E. T. Schutt, visited the homes. All the other projects were graded by the same committee in the gymnasium.

A playlet illustrating project work was written and presented by the following girls: Eva Mc-Dowell, Sylvia Ott, Grace Dietrich,
Margaret Ann Sheeley, Shirley
Bergeron, Eleanor Nightengale,
Elizabeth Wolhausen, Christine McLaren, Joan Westolowski, Betty
Leo Schreiber, Charlotte Wells, and Constance Filloon.

Refreshments were served to the girls, mothers and visitors by a special committee composed of Evelyn Boyd, Ruth Dwyer, Ruby Anderson, Alice Anderson, and Constance Filloon.

Report Good Start in Barrington Town on Tax Collections

Property Owners Will Have Another Week to Pay Locally

In spite of the tax rate increase in Barrington township, which tends to discourage payment of taxes, receipts have been fairly encouraging, according to Ben A.
Schroeder, deputy collector.

At the present rate of collection,
Mr. Schroeder expects to have between $15,000 and $20,000 collected by Saturday. His office is established in the show room of the Brewer Motor Sales, 302 S.
Cook street.

The books will have to be turned back to the county treasurer
Horace G. Lindheimer July 24.
During the next ten days, owners of personal property and real estate in the township will have the opportunity of paying their taxes here—a great convenience. They will be able to pay the 1936 taxes before any penalty accrues, another advantage.

Mr. Schroeder reported that collections have compared favorably with those in Palatine and Wheeling townships.

Establishes Home Here

One of the new families in the mile and a half northeast of Barrington last year and has completely rebuilt the house into a country home. The family recently moved to Barrington.

Mrs. Nuhn are writers of note. Mrs.
Nuhn is better known as Ruth Suckow, author of "The Polka."

Attend Convention

S. L. Landwer and George Landwer are attending the rural letter carriers convention at Peoria. A banquet will be held this evening.

ied them to the convention.

Where Ideas for Tunnels Started Ancient Egyptians, observing streams enter one side of a hill and come out the other, got the idea for tunnels. They built them into tombs.
Builders after them bored tunnels to carry or drain water. One people, the Babylonians, more daring than the rest, tunneled beneath the Euphrates river. Thus began the story, according to a correspondent in the Washington Post, of the most fascinating and dangerous of all tunneling operations, subaqueousunderwater.

Ancient Dwellings Identified
That the inhabitants of mud and brick houses found in Chagar Bazar, northern Syria, were members of the kingdom of Mitanni that flourished 3,500 years ago, has been determined by archaeologists.
