Revives Drowned Youth; Keeps Incident Quiet for Three Weeks

The heroic action of Virgil Williams, member of scout troop 10, was revealed this week by M. F. Lowell, scoutmaster, nearly four weeks after he had been instrumental in saving the life of a drowned youth. Virgil kept the incident secret, and it was only through a chance remark made by a companion that the deed was learned.

Virgil and a group of boys were swimming in the small lake on the John Edmond estate, west of the village, on June 28. Several were on a raft about 50 yards from shore, among them Clarence Hill, 16 years old, from Elk Grove, Ill., who was unable to swim.

In playing around in the water, Clarence went out over his depth and sank from sight. His younger brother saw him sink and called to the boys on the raft who could swim.

Virgil, accompanied by Robert McLaughlin, swam to his rescue and dove to the bottom where he was found unconscious. He had been down two minutes.

When they brought him to shore it was found that Virgil was the only boy present able to render artificial respiration. After working on him for 15 or 20 minutes, Clarence was revived.

Due to his training in scout work, Virgil was able to render a service worthy of highest award. He learned the necessary procedure by taking his first aid tests in scouting. Also, his reluctance can in a large part be explained by the scout teaching the "good turn" without expecting or requesting reward.

Seized With Cramp,

John Schuermann, 11 years old, 2421 N. Tripp avenue, Chicago, was drowned Sunday afternoon when it is believed he suffered a cramp while swimming at Bay View beach, south of Burton's Bridge on the Fox river.

The body was recovered an hour later by Bremen from Crystal Lake but efforts to revive the boy were futile. An inquest was conducted in Crystal Lake Sunday evening with a verdict of accidental death being returned.

Jackie had accompanied his grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Bernice, and a party of friends to the river for a swim. He was not until he and a girl companion whose name was not learned had rowed out into the river in a boat and Jackie was diving off the end of the boat.

The boy was a good swimmer, according to his grandmother. It is believed that he was seized with a cramp. He failed to return to the surface after one of his dives, and was found by the girl companion for aid by the girl brought help from other persons at the beach and volunteer rescuers started diving for the body.

The searchers were unsuccessful, however, and it was not until Bremen from Crystal Lake arrived with drag hooks that the body was located.

Jackie had made his home with his grandmother for several years. The body was taken to Chicago following the inquest.

Hold Services for Mrs. Keele; Auto Accident Fatality

Rites Here Today, Take Body
to Monticello; Death
Occurs Tuesday

Simple services for Mrs. Barbara McFarlane Keele, 38 years old, wife of Harold M. Keele, 131 W. Main street, were held at the residence this morning, Thursday. The body was taken to Monticello, Ill., former residence of the family, where additional services will be held. Burial will also be at Monticello.

Mrs. Keele, who operated the Warfarer in Barrington for the past two years, died Tuesday evening, a few moments after she was thrown clear of her wrecked automobile on Buckley road in Chicago township.

Testimony given at the inquest conducted by Dr. John L. Taylor, Lake county coroner, Tuesday night by Robert Buckley, who was first on the scene and rushed her into Barrington in a futile effort to save her life, revealed that a few minutes before she had left the home of his father, R. W. Buckley, enroute for the Chicago and North Western station in Barrington to meet her husband, who was returning from Detroit. He arrived 10 minutes after the fatality.

There were no eyewitnesses. Although young Buckley was following in his own car at a distance of 100 yards, dust from the gravel road obscured his vision, preventing him from seeing the details.

Tire marks showed the car swerved to the west as it mounted the crest of a small incline in the road. After striking a shallow drainage ditch, further tire tracks indicated she attempted to steer the machine onto the road, but it rolled over, crashing into a ditch.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Froebel

Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 1 W. 40th St. New York

Putting Courage Into the Shy Child

By MARGARET CONN RHODES

We all realize that the child who is shy and constantly embarrassed by bashfulness has a handicap that needs very wise handling. Many times a parent can help a child to rise above this timidity and become happily sociable, delighting in personal contacts.

"June started out to be one of those little children who hide behind their mother's skirts at the approach of a stranger; her lips quivered if she were singled out for attention and she evaded the milkman and the milkman when they came on their daily rounds," related a mother before a group of parent students. "I determined that she should never hear any of the family comment on her shyness. I also made up my mind to think of ways to overcome this handicap. I knew I should have to go very carefully along the way or I might make matters worse, but today June is such an unusual responsive child and meets people so easily that I feel my carefully laid plans were well worth while.

"I began with the milkman as he came each day. I allowed June to stick the stamp on my letter. This seemed such a big thing to her! Then, with the letter in her hand to give the milkman, she forgot her fear and ran out to meet him. He helped me by not getting too friendly with her all at once. And in much the same simple way I acquainted June with the milkman and the grocery boy. I let her put the tickets in the milk bottles and let her set the bottles out. That gave her an interest in the man who delivered the milk. I would empty the grocery boy's basket and hand her the empty container to give to him. When guests came to the house I would ask her to open the door. She soon learned to ask them to be seated especially if their manner when they greeted her was not too familiar. Most little boys and girls like to get acquainted with a strange person gradually, but many older people are apt to rush over children, the moment they meet them. When June started for nursery school she was somewhat afraid of the experience. But each morning I let her take some small gift to the teacher and her joy in carrying the flower or the red apple or the nut she had made lessened her consciousness of self and she problem was solved happily. "Shyness or backwardness is often regarded by parents as a fault in the child's nature and so they feel it need not be given special concern. I like to think that in our home we are always helping the children to develop the traits that will benefit them. They should be able to meet people happily, be sufficiently self-possessed to enter into child activities and reap the joy of personal contacts. They should have the assurance within themselves that they are capable of joining in a conversation with a group of their age or of playing games with as much fun as the other children. Shyness induces an inferiority complex in the child that later makes the grownup cheat himself of much advancement and many pleasures that are rightly his. Today June at five can meet the guests in our home pleasantly, totally unconscious of herself. What picture would she have presented had she ignored her baby timidity as so many parents have? Instantly commented on it? She would have been timid still, and little by little would have become more certain that she would always be a shy person."

public utility pole while upside down.

The car was then thrown back on the road, where it rested on its side facing west. Mrs. Keele was hurled through the top of the sedan onto the gravel road a number of feet away.

The young man quickly went to her assistance, and, with aid of passers-by, placed her in his machine and drove to town. Examination by a local physician revealed she was dead. Coroner Taylor, after his examination, stated he thought death was almost instantaneous.

R. W. Buckley testified at the inquest and told what he learned after inspecting the scene, which was a quarter of a mile from his residence. Mr. Keele also testified.

The deceased was born in London, England on January 10, 1889, and had previously devoted part of her life to a stage career. She and her husband formerly lived at Monticello, the home of his parents.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ian McFarlane of London, England and several sisters. There were no children.

MILK INCOME DEPENDABLE

THE FARMER'S INCOME

Milk proved a more dependable source of farm income during recent years than most major farm products, according to the Federal Trade Commission's recent agricultural income study.

During 1932 when gross farm income sagged to its lowest point, dairy farmers received 54 per cent as much for milk as in 1929. Farms received only 40 per cent of the 1929 total for livestock, 38 per cent for tobacco, 34 per cent for cotton and 29 per cent for wheat.

Milk Industry Foundation Chart

By 1934 when gross farm income recovered substantially, milk was well ahead of other major farm products with a gross of 64 per cent. Livestock was 51 per cent and wheat 45 per cent. Only one other crop was higher—tobacco, at 79 per cent of the 1929 figure. Cotton was 48 per cent of the pre-depression income.

From 1929 to 1934 the average income to the producer from milk held up better than any other product reported.

Evangelical Church
to Hold Celebration

Sunday, July 25, is to be "red letter" day for the Evangelical churches of Illinois. One hundred years ago, July 25, 1837, an Evangelical pioneer, Rev. Jacob Boas, preached the first sermon at what is now Northfield, Ill. This was the inaugural beginning of the Illinois conference of the Evangelical church.

Throughout the Illinois conference, Evangelical churches will observe this centenary in special ways this coming Sunday. During the afternoon ministers and people will gather at Northfield for the centennial celebration. The Barrington Salem Evangelical church under Rev. W. A. Stauffer has prepared a program in honor of the event.

The centenary program will be held at the Northfield cemetery and school house which is two miles straight east of Wheeling. Beginning at 2 o'clock a sacred concert will be given by the Prairie View cornet band. At 2:30 o'clock the worship service will begin under the leadership of Rev. L. C. Schmidt, superintendent of the Chicago district. Bishop George Edward Epp will preach the centennial sermon, on the subject, "What Mean These Stones?" The beautiful centennial memorial marked will be dedicated by Bishop Emeritus S. P. Spreng. He will give an address on the subject, "The Centennial's Challenge to Youth."

There will be special music by the brotherhood chorus, the ladies chorus, the conference quartette, the Prairie View band and by the large group that shall assemble. The Evangelical church in the state of Illinois is not large in comparison to some other Christian communions, but a report made shows there are 108 ministers; 120 organized congregations with 17,755 members; 121 Sunday schools with a membership of 21,347; 115 leagues of Christian Endeavor, and 91 Women's Missionary societies. The denomination's largest college and largest theological seminary are located in Illinois.

Several thousand members and friends of the church, from over the state, are expected to attend this gathering Sunday.

SCIENCE AND DEMOCRACY

Recently Dr. Robert A. Millikan, the noted scientist, returning from Europe, said that democracy's hope lies in the application of the scientific approach to government. Commenting editorially that "there is undoubtedly a connection between democracy and science," the New York Times says: "The freedom of thinking and inquiring which is the very essence of the scientific approach is a direct offspring of the liberty, equality and fraternity for which believers in democracy laid down their lives. Hence, the fight for democracy is the fight for science—the fight for the objective method that has given us so many discoveries."

"It is no accident that neither fascism nor communism fosters science with this detachment. Mussolini insists that a laboratory worker must be a good fascist first and a good scientist second. At the Heidelberg celebration of last year it was officially proclaimed that science for science's sake is nonsense. The stake of the scientist in democracy is heavy. If the philosophy that gave us political freedom is destroyed, science must become the serf of the state. It will be impossible for a Newton, a Darwin, a Mendel, or an Einstein to lift his voice and live. Yet there are Fascists and Communists enough among scientists—men who fail to realize that if democracy goes their old freedom of investigation and of theorizing goes too and that they become technologists and mechanics."

Learning Life's Lessons
In the midst of bewildering misfortune, it is well to remember that every mountain must have its valley, and every oasis its lonely sea, and every rainbow its storm cloud, and every day its night. But never has an oak tree grown without weathering the storm, and every Calvary has its resurrection. Life's lessons are never learned without heroic self-discipline. This is the acid test of character. Nothing is gained by brooding. Pain and happiness are lost if we debate life rather than live it heroically.—The Uplift.

England's Rivers
The English Rivers may be said to include the coast towns of Exmouth, Dawlish, Teignmouth, Paignton, Brixham, Dartmouth, Totnes and Torquay. It is the land which gave birth to the Elizabethan seagoing ships, Sir Walter Raleigh, Henry, Gilbert, Davis, Hawkins, and it was from this coast that the explorers of the East India company set forth in 1602 to lay the foundations of the British empire in the East.

Admiral Dewey, who caused considerable excitement in the Spanish-American war, proved that he could still cause a good bit of turmoil—this time merely by losing his moustache.

The admiral, as portrayed by Robert McWade in "This Is My Affair," now at the Catlow theatre, with Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwick, and Victor McLaglen in the leading roles, thought he had taken off his moustache before going to the studio cafe for lunch. When he returned to his dressing room, he was unable to find his lip appendage. The makeup department searched the entire sound stage, but they were saved from further worry by a waitress. She discovered the character accidentally beside an empty soup bowl, where the admiral had cautiously placed the soup strainer before tackling his noonday repast.

Selected for the part because of his resemblance to Warne, Oland, Layne Tom, Jr., nine-year-old Chinese boy, is cast as the "number two" son of the famous Chinese detective in "Charlie Chan at the Olympics" coming Saturday.

Playing a double feature bill Saturday is that gay and giddy fun-feat of crazy goings-on, "Hotel Haywire," with Leo Carrillo, Lynne Overman, Mary Carlisle, George Barbier, Spring Byington and Benny Baker.

Five new song hits are introduced in "Pick A Star," coming to the Catlow Sunday and Monday with an all-star comedy cast headed by Patsy Kelly, Jack Haller, Rosina Lawrence, Misha Auer, Lyda Roberti and Laurel and Hardy.

A thrilling drama of men's courage in facing death to rescue ill-fated comrades is depicted in "Draggerman Courage," which comes to the Catlow theatre Tuesday.

Double featured with "Draggerman Courage," is "Angel's Holiday," with Jane Withers, Robert Kent, Joan Davis and Sally Blane.

As alike as two newly-coined pennies are Billy and Bobby March, the 12 year old twins who are fast adding stars to their crown in the entertainment world. Already radio and stage stars when they were signed up a little more than a year ago in order to get them for "Anthony Adverse," they are now making their debut as a team on the screen in Mark Twain's well-remembered classic, "The Prince and the Pauper." The picture will open at the Catlow next Wednesday for a three day run.

No Profit in Lost Money
The government does not actually realize any profit from paper money which is lost, even though theoretically it does. The money is still held in the treasury vaults against outstanding paper currency and unless congress passed such a bill that this money might be taken out of the reserve fund, no actual profit would be derived.

State Baseball Tournament Starts at Elgin; Bears Play in Opener

Parkside Victims of Locals in Tri-County Mix Sunday

9 to 1 Win by Bears Keeps Team in Contest for League Title

The Barrington Bears remained contenders for the Tri-County league baseball title by defeating the Elgin Parkside 9 to 1 at Trout Park in Elgin Sunday. The local team is now in fourth place with a record of 3 wins and 3 losses. Plato Center leads the league with a count of 4 wins and 1 loss with the Dundee Merchants in second place and the Elgin Parkside third.

Bob Stickle was on the mound for Barrington and was opposed by Vanderford for the Parkside. During the afternoon Stickle gave up four walks, allowed four hits and struck out three men. He was knocked for the only Parkside run in the sixth frame when Vanderford came home.

"Bridgemoor" Condit led the way for the Bears by getting three hits, one a double, and scoring one run. He was followed by "Shorty" Reuse who connected for two safeties as did Biermann, who poled the longest hit of the afternoon, a triple.

The Barrington Bears have completed the first round of play in the league and will not meet member teams of the circuit until after the state tournament which opened Wednesday night at Tournament park in Elgin. Under the leadership of C. Lipofsky, manager, they will play for the state title.

The Bears were slated to play the second game on opening night against Aurora. A brief summary of the game will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Review. The state tournament, which draws 16 teams who were winners or finished in second place of district contests held throughout the state during the past month, is under the direction and supervision of Urban Charles, Jr., Peoria, member of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff until 1933.

A number of colorful teams who competed in the first state tournament at Elgin last year are back again for a shot at the title and $1000 cash money. Included in this list are the powerful Bloomington team, the snappy Mount City Blues (colored team), and the struggling Chicago Cragins nine. All tournament contests will be played at tournament park in Elgin in the evening and on Sunday afternoon. Two games are played each night. Thursday, tonight, the Stank Brothers of Waukegan oppose the Elgin West Ends and Rockford will meet the Chicago Cragins.

Bloomington tangles with the famous Chicagoans and Johnson Motors of Waukegan face Spencer Coals of Chicago Friday night. Peoria will mix with Alton and the Chicago Giants will face Rock Island Saturday night.

Brown Slated to Meet Rudy Kay at Round Lake Arena

The roughest and wildest wrestling match since Lou Plummer whipped Dick Raines at Round Lake three years ago is expected to take place Friday night in the Round Lake Haunted House open-air sports arena when Rudy Kay, Chicago wildman and reformed baker boy, takes hold with Bad Boy Brown, famous wrestling tough guy. In one match of a double main event featuring an all-star card of five matches.

Kay, a consistent winner in the Round Lake bowl, has become the most hated matman of the season to appear here, and Bad Boy Brown, who's tested tough from the South, has been imported to these parts from the south, to give Rudy a good whipping to the satisfaction of local sport lovers. Whether he will be able to do it will be determined Friday night. In the other feature attraction billed as a double main event Frankie Talaber, sensational young professional contender for honors in the light heavyweight division, wrestles Peter Sherman, mighty Texas ace. This bout has special importance attached since it is being counted in the sectional play-off of the national professional tournament now under way to determine an official light heavyweight world's champion.

One of the preliminary matches on the program should have a great deal of local interest attached and home towners for each of the wrestlers will be at the ringside rooting for their champion. Charley Petersen, veteran matman of note and Pistakee Bay yachtsman, will seek to tame his Fox Lake rival for local wrestling honors. Al Williams, in a thirty-minute time limit bout. Both Peterson and Williams are popular and should draw many fans from the lake district.

Another match that should arouse considerable interest, brings the colorful Oklahoma star, Al Perry to grips with Jack Claybourn, English mat star, successfully campaigning in this country. The opening contest on the card features a North Chicago lad in his professional debut, George Zorsey, a 190 pounder. He will take on a tough one as his first assignment is Buck O'Rourke, rough and ready Irishman.

Greatest Circus Is Coming to Chicago

The world's mightiest amusement enterprise on tour—the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey combined circus—with its 1937 seven-ring-and-stage program, star studded and liberally interspersed with new thrillers from Europe and Asia, featuring among its array of new wonders the most gorgeous introductory spectacle in its brilliant history, India, is definitely scheduled to exhibit in Chicago for nine days beginning Saturday, July 31.

India is not just another circus spectacle. It is not merely a glittering parade to open the Big Show performance. It is the result of a year's planning, a really staggering expenditure and much research on the part of Sam W. Gumpert, general manager of the greatest show on earth. Costly fabrics were purchased in carload lots. Color schemes blended in lovely perspectives. Every one of the two thousand people and animals taking part wears a small fortune on his or its back. All have towering headpieces of exquisite beauty. One group of 170 horses, with girl riders, are carrying gorgeous canopies over the girls' heads. India is a torrent of color and flashing jewels, flowing over the hippodrome track and the seven rings and stages. It is the last word in pageantry.

In aerial and equestrian displays the greatest show on earth has outdone itself this year, while the ground acrobatic numbers are the largest and finest ever presented in any land or age.

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey combined circus will arrive on four long trains of 100 double-length steel railroad cars, carrying 1600 people, 1000 menagerie animals, 7 herds of elephants and 7000 horses.

Women Win Prizes in Pontiac Car Contest

Five new Pontiac cars awarded as major prizes in a national demonstration and essay contest just concluded by the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors were all won by women, reports C. P. Simpson, Pontiac general sales manager.

The contest was conducted by Pontiac in co-operation with its dealer organization. Rules specified that each contestant take a demonstration ride in a 1937 Pontiac and then write an essay of 100 words or less on the subject, "Why I Think Pontiac is America's Finest Low-Priced Car."

Contestants were registered from every state in the union. Major prize winners and the cars they were awarded included:

Mrs. Virgil L. Stone, Portland, Ore., deluxe eight four door touring sedan; Eva Turner, Detroit, deluxe eight two door sedan; Mrs. Dean Martin, Cowpen, S. C., deluxe six four door touring sedan; Marion Osborne, Springfield, O., deluxe six two door sedan, and Miss Al Purvis, New York City, deluxe six coupe.

Sassafras in Medicine
The root of sassafras very early in American history became an important article of medicine. It is sometimes called the "ague tree" as a decoction of its bark was supposed to cure that disease. Sassafras tea, an infusion of the young shoots and roots, has long been a favorite remedy for colds and a tonic, being also regarded as a stimulant.

Origin of Term Hebrew
Because he came from beyond the Euphrates river, Abraham was called the Hebrew, from a word meaning to cross over, and this name was given to his descendants.
