Crank, McHenry
Jury Finds

John Narowetz, Jr. of Fox River Grove was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon by a jury in McHenry county court Monday afternoon after an hour's deliberation.

The case resulted from a fight at Heidelberg tavern in Fox River Grove on June 15 when Edward Dubsky was allegedly struck over the head by an automobile crank in the hands of Narowetz. Bud Parker, night chef at the Heidelberg and eye witness to the slugging, testified on the witness stand Monday that Dubsky had entered the tavern with two companions and had ordered coffee on the morning of the alleged attack. Narowetz entered a short time later with his wife but left and returned with the automobile crank. He immediately went to the table at which Dubsky was seated, he added, and said, "You will threaten my father." He struck Dubsky on the back of the head and then again on the forehead. Parker asserted he interfered at that time and took Dubsky to a doctor. Dubsky was first held by Henry Nulle, McHenry county sheriff, but was released and Narowetz taken into custody. He was granted his freedom under $2500 bond.

Narowetz testified on the stand that a friend had told him that Dubsky threatened his father over an imaginary grudge. His father was employed at the Elgin State hospital while Dubsky was confined there as a voluntary patient.

State's Attorney William M. Carroll represented the state in the matter and Attorney J. J. McCauley was appointed by the court to represent Narowetz.

Sale of Marriage Licenses in County Takes Big Decrease

Sale of marriage licenses in Lake county during July dropped to the lowest figure on record of many years when 33 couples appeared at the county clerk's office in Waukegan.

The hygienic marriage law and the three-day notice provision were blamed for the smallest number of licenses issued in several generations. During the same month last year 419 licenses were sold and 562 in July, 1935.

While the losses were reported county centers, heavy increases were noticed in Indiana. In that state, Crown Point and Valparaiso in Waukegan, Chicago and other have been receiving the majority of couples formerly coming to Waukegan.

Following are the marriage licenses issued in Waukegan the first seven months during each of the past three years.

Oh, for the Life of a Stewardess

The question is often asked, "What does a train stewardess do?" Ask any one of the three on the Chicago & North Western's famous "400" and she'll answer, "Just about everything from warming a bottle of milk for a baby to finding a three-letter word for a crossword puzzle traveling man."

She's up on all the time tables; she can give first aid to the baby who turns on his nose; she comes to the assistance of a lady in distress with a run in her stocking, or to the rescue of a gentleman who has torn a button off his coat; she revives ladies who faint and administers bicarbonate of soda to fat men with sudden attacks of indigestion.

"It's a gay life," these "400" stewardesses say. "It really is a lot of fun, meeting different sorts of people every day. Men, women and children, old and young, the strong and the weak, the handsome and the plain, the poor and the rich. What men don't learn about humanity isn't worth knowing. You learn fast. You have to. You don't know what moment you'll be called on to be a diplomat, a physician or an encyclopedia."

Here are excerpts from daily reports by the girls: Gave a little boy cold liver oil. Acted as detective for two ladies trying to avoid two others. Furnished needle and thread for lady with torn hose. Gave a man aspirin. Read stories to a child. Washed hands of children and helped dress them.

Gave young lady splint and glue to stop run in stocking. Bandaged and medicated man's infected finger. Stopped nosebleed of a traveling man. Taught amateur knitter how to pickup and drop stitches. Fixed a salt water gargle for man with sore throat. Sewed button on girl's blouse. Sewed button on man's coat.

Gave young man needle to remove silver from finger. The stewardess meets each new job like a soldier. Banded and ends a trip as neat and trim and as when she started—not a wrinkle in her smart French blue uniform, not a hair out of place in her well coiffured head and her jaunty overseas cap at an angle that says, in effect, "The Marines have landed and have the situation well in hand."

Camper Is Fatally Stricken Tuesday at Lake Zurich

Albert Vander Wall of Grand Rapids, Mich., Dies of Heart Alliment

Stricken by a heart ailment while camping at Fred Heft's grove at Lake Zurich, Albert Vander Wall, 59, of 1804 Leonard street, Grand Rapids, Mich., died suddenly Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock. At an inquest conducted by Dr. J. L. Taylor, Lake county coroner, at Fred's in Lake Zurich Tuesday afternoon, a verdict of death by natural causes was returned by the jury. Death was attributed to coronary thrombosis. Mr. and Mrs. Vander Wall had arrived at the grove four days previous to the fatality. They were awaiting the close of the CMTS camp at Fort Sheridan, where their two sons were enrolled. The camp season ended Wednesday, one day after his death. The parents had planned to make an extended motor trip with the boys.

Awakened by gasping sounds from the stricken man, Mr. Vander Wall testified at the inquest that death occurred before aid could be given.

The dead man was a milk dealer, and is survived by his wife and seven children. The body was shipped to Michigan for burial.

Approve New Edison Shares to Exchange for P. S. Co. Stock

"The Illinois commerce commission has authorized Commonwealth Edison company to issue additional shares of its capital stock for the purpose of making an offer to holders of common and preferred stocks of Public Service company of Northern Illinois to exchange their Public Service company holdings for Commonwealth Edison company stock," according to a new release received here Tuesday.

"The Commonwealth Edison company has announced that it cannot take any action until it has received further authority in the matter from the securities and exchange commission at Washington, D. C. Legally, this authority from the securities and exchange commission cannot be granted until after the Illinois commerce commission had acted.

"Public Service company of Northern Illinois stockholders are therefore not immediately affected. They will not be required to make any decision unless and until Commonwealth Edison company makes each of them directly an offer. If and when such offer is made, it will be made in writing direct to each Public Service company of Northern Illinois stockholder."

"As previously announced, it is not contemplated in the present plan that Commonwealth Edison company should acquire direct ownership of the physical properties of Public Service company of Northern Illinois. Neither is the merging of the operating organizations and personnel of the companies contemplated," the bulletin concluded.

What Is the Farmer's Share?

A recent investigation of farm income by the Federal Trade Commission shows that the dairy farmer receives a substantial portion of the consumer's dollar.

For milk, 50 per cent of the consumer's dollar went to the farmer, minus transportation from the farm. The figures indicate that the transportation item averaged around 5 per cent, leaving an average return of 45 per cent to the farmer. This is a larger share for the producer than generally credited by the layman.

For butter, the farmer got about 60 per cent of the price the consumer paid, for beef about 40 per cent, for wheat about 13 per cent of the bread dollar and for tobacco 12 per cent.

System in the Kitchen

By STELLA DICK

The Warings were just getting up from the dinner table when Mrs. Elder arrived to talk over club matters.

"I'm afraid I have come at a busy hour," she apologized.

"Not at all," Mrs. Waring replied. "The girls do the dishes."

"That's nice," her visitor said. "If you'll let me have the phone book, I'll look up some addresses we need, while you get them started."

"O, they're self-starting," answered Mrs. Waring, with a smile, handing her visitor the book.

It needed only a glance through the open dining room door, to corroborate her words. Mrs. Elder could see a girl in a neat apron, clearing the table in a very efficient manner.

"That is a refreshing sight," Mrs. Elder said, half sadly. "I left our table just as it was after we had finished dinner, and I shall find it as I left it."

"Are your girls away?" Mrs. Waring asked.

"No, they're at home," answered Mrs. Elder, hesitatingly. Then she continued in a discouraged tone, "They run so much about who is to do this and who is to do that, and then waste so much time before starting, that it is very annoying. If I don't keep at them, they don't do the work at all. It's much simpler to do it myself."

"It requires quite a bit of patience when girls first undertake responsibilities," agreed Mrs. Waring. "Before the work can become a habit with them, they must get things systematized, and when they've done that you'll find they are a real help."

"If I'm not worn out before that happy day arrives!" exclaimed Mrs. Elder. "My girls have been doing dishes now for two years."

Mrs. Waring looked surprised.

"Two years?"

"Two years," her visitor reiterated, mournfully. "And I still have to set them at it, and keep them at it. Then, about the time they get really started, it's so late they have to go to a meeting or entertain friends, and I have to finish the dishes."

"We had that problem at first," Mrs. Waring said. "I was quite

Old Royal Palace
St. James' palace was built by Henry VIII on the site of an old septs' hospital. Kensington palace was bought by William III from his Lord Chancellor and rebuilt by Wren, of St. Paul's fame. Marlborough house was also built by Wren for the great Duke of Marlborough, and first became a royal residence when Prince Leopold married Princess Charlotte. Balmoral castle was acquired by Queen Victoria and paid for, says London Answers Magazine, by the economies which the Prince Consort effected in the running of Buckingham palace.

A LOOK AHEAD

Congress has done well to let us heave a sigh of relief at the thought that we are escaping new federal taxes this year. Because soon we're going to need all our breath for the gasping when we start paying up.

Congress has limited its tax work this year to the enactment of "nuisance" taxes, which we pay indirectly, and to an attack on those who allegedly are using "loopholes" in the tax laws. Those attacks always seemed rather far fetched to us. Congress certainly would want us to assume that it knew what it was doing when it passed the tax laws. Therefore, who is to blame for the "loopholes?" Congressmen who deliberately left those loopholes in the law, or tax-paying citizens who did exactly what the law required of them?

But more serious problems confront us. The national industrial conference board made us emit a preliminary gasp with a recent study of taxes and government debts. It found that the debts of local, state and national governments at the end of the last fiscal year amounted to $415.96 for each person in the country, including women, aged, and children. The debt was $59.28 per person in 1913.

Worse than that, the board finds that out of the total national income of $54,000,000 in 1935, exactly $9,717,000,000 went to taxes. Translated into every-day figures, that means that taxes actually got 17.7 cents of each dollar we earned and spent for rent, food, clothing, doctors, or anything. Despite that fact, the debt increased.

Heave your sighs of relief, for the day of reckoning is coming.

LAWS AND DEMOCRACY

When we look at Russia and Germany and Italy and other nations now living under dictatorships so severe that people are even afraid to think, we find they had one thing in common before dictators ascended the thrones. That was a highly centralized government vested with powers to control almost every activity of citizens in the most remote sections of the country.

The United States has been different. It has had a division of powers between the states and the national government. When depression comes along, however, there is always a tendency by states to yield some powers to the national government. The depression from which we are struggling to emerge was no exception. With millions idle, the federal government took over most of the relief and other burdens and, realizing that labor disputes cause unemployment, passed the Wagner act designed to stop the disputes.

There are valid objections to that law, one being that it imposes no duties whatsoever upon labor unions. But pass those up, and see just how much basic good the federal government's entrance into that field has done.

First, there are many more strikes than before the law was enacted. Today the problem is not solely one of caring for those who stand outside factory gates seeking jobs. There are millions of others who are kept away from their work by strikes and violence and threats of harm to themselves and their families. Under state laws, such conditions rarely existed.

The Wagner act is law, and must be lived up to. But it should be an object lesson to those who now propose to let the federal government go even further into a field which will eventually call for federal fixing of the wages and hours of every store clerk, every farm hand, every factory worker.

THE DRIVE FOR SOCIALISM

The political drive to extend socialism in the United States is never-ending.

One of the latest attempts is in California where a law has been passed by the legislature which does away with the requirement of a two-thirds vote to carry bond issues for public improvements and municipal ownership experiments. The new law would require only a majority vote, but once a town was launched on the experiment it could not get rid of it except by a two-thirds vote.

In other words, the new law makes it easier to get into debt, but just as hard to get out as at present. Public debt in California has increased greatly even with the protection of the two-thirds vote.

ARE YOU INDIFFERENT TO SLAUGHTER?

Automobile accidents can be reduced. Death on the highways can be stopped.

Last year, traffic fatalities reached an all-time high of 36,500. Yet 19 states and the District of Columbia showed an average reduction of 7 per cent in deaths—even though gasoline consumption, best barometer of traffic conditions, increased 10 per cent.

COST TOO MUCH

Not much has been heard of late concerning Matanuska, the government colonization scheme in Alaska. Perhaps that is due to the fact that the total cost of the settlement to date is estimated to be about $5,000,000—more than $25,000 per family—without the cost of the land.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

Congress last week began speeding up its work toward early adjournment after the biggest obstacle to its progress—the president's proposal to enlarge the Supreme Court—had been removed. Apparently convinced that their cause was hopeless, administration forces finally abandoned the fight after nearly six months of effort and agreed to senate recommitment of the pending substitute bill with instructions to the judiciary committee to report within ten days a non-controversial measure providing only for reform of procedure in the lower federal courts.

The sudden death in the preceding week of Senator Robinson, the majority leader, who had led the fight for the president's plan, was a factor in this dramatic development. It emphasized the strain placed on the Senate by the subjecting senators and brought Vice President Garner back to Washington from his vacation to mediate the dispute and endeavor to bring it to a speedy conclusion.

Opponents of the president's proposal, led by Senator Wheeler, declined to agree to any compromise that would affect the Supreme Court, and in the end, they had their way.

Before the senate voted to recommit, senate democrats went into caucus to choose a new majority leader. The result was that Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the latter a firm supporter of the president's plan, and Senator Harwood of Mississippi. The former was chosen by the close vote of 37 to 37, but this vote was not representative of the senate's attitude on the court bill, which was re-committed by a vote of 70 to 20.

The president made no direct statement in comment of the defeat of his proposal. He was represented, however, as believing that the net result of the six months' struggle was distinct progress toward the social objectives sought by the administration in the broader interpretation of the constitutionality laws in recent years. The president made no direct statement in comment of the defeat of his proposal. He was represented, however, as believing that the net result of the six months' struggle was distinct progress toward the social objectives sought by the administration in the broader interpretation of the constitutionality laws in recent years.

Among the older branches that have had new burdens placed upon them are the treasury, which expanded its personnel by 14,000 since early in 1934.

The War and Navy departments together expanded their personnel by nearly 40,000. Therein is reflected partly the work of the Army in directing the combat camp, in addition both the Army and Navy have been increased through defense budgets that run to approximately a billion dollars a year.

The Department of Agriculture likewise has been given new tasks of great magnitude, overseeing the degree to which farmers carry out soil conservation practices and reporting on the bounties to be paid them for so doing.

Marx Brothers' Comedy Feature Coming to Catlow

"A Day at the Races" Starts Sunday for Three Day Showing

With three of the strongest personalities of the modern screen—Bette Davis, Edward G. Robinson, Humphrey Bogart—heading the cast, "Kid Galahad," drama of the fight ring, opened Wednesday at the Catlow theatre, to a delighted audience.

As a very special feature, the Catlow is running a Saturday matinee, at 2:30 of "Elephant Boy," film version of Rudyard Kipling's "Tomal of the Elephants."

Filed in the course of a two-year expedition into the heart of the Indian jungles, headed by Robert Flaherty, famous expedition director, "Elephant Boy" is described as one of the most thrilling natural background pictures ever to reach the screen.

"Elephant Boy" is double featured for the evening show with the Jones Family in "Big Business."

Audiences in five cities virtually wrote the final screen play of the new Marx Brothers comedy, "A Day at the Races," which comes to the Catlow screen Sunday for three days.

Repeating the successful experiment which they first tried out with their earlier hit, "A Night at the Opera," the Marx Brothers incorporated the features of "A Day at the Races," into a stage production and tried out the laughs on the audiences of Duluth, Minneapolis, Chicago, Cleveland and San Francisco. The laughter and comment of the patrons served as a barometer by which the Marx maniacs were able to decide which gags to discard and which to retain for the film production of "A Day at the Races."

The comedians took along thousands of preview cards. Audiences were asked to jot down their impressions and opinions of the scenes they saw before them. From these the comedy for "A Day at the Races" was moulded.

After fighting continually for a character role and for the usual screen roles granted to screen actresses of her beauty, Rochelle Hudson finds her plea answered in "Woman-Wise" at the end of the picture, coming Wednesday to the Catlow in which the lovely star, featured opposite Michael Whalen, finds ample scope for real dramatic ability.

As a special treat to Will Rogers' fans, "David Harum," will return, to play a double feature bill on Tuesday with "Woman-Wise."

Among the never-forgotten characters of present-day magazine fiction is that picturesque old chap called Cappy Ricks, who owns steamships and operates them out of San Francisco in all parts of the world.

In more intimate fashion old Cappy now comes before the public again—almost in real life. He's in a movie entitled "The Go-Getter," which comes to the Catlow Thursday and Friday.

McMillen Will Meet Rudy Kay at Round Lake Arena Friday

A capacity crowd of more than 2,000 Lake County sport lovers are expected to fill every available space in Peg's Round Lake arena Friday night, August 6th, to see the "wrestling natural" when rough and ready Rudy Kay, the most hated matman ever to appear in the local arena gets the acid test of his professional career, facing Jim McMillen, Lake County's favorite son and the outstanding contender for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, in the main event of the fifth all-star card of the current season.

Kay, who became a sensation in his first appearance at Round Lake several weeks ago, is undefeated.

here with four consecutive wins to his credit. If he can get past McMillen, he will automatically become number one challenger for a match with world's champion Everett Marshall, and because of his rough and tumble style experts figure him for a fifty-fifty chance for a win.

A powerful supporting card, set for the biggest arena in the country, may take some of the play from the main event, and should insure local mat fans a big evening of excitement. In the semi-main event, Fred Grubiner, world famous exponent of the rib crushing body slanders who is better known as the "Towa Ed" takes hold with "Bad Boy" Brown, highly touted Southern wrestling badman. Brown, who is in a class with Rudy Kay as a roughster, will have a tough assignment in the great lowman who ranks among the first fifteen in the business.

One of the preliminaries attracting more than its share of interest features the bearded wonder, Mike London, who made his local debut last Friday and became a popular sensation when he beat the "Black Panther" Jack Claybourn, in the most spectacular contest of the year when the colored star missed a tackle and landed in the third row ringside. London will face the mighty Frankie Taler, flashy contender for the world's light-heavyweight championship, and this match is expected to steal the show. The final match brings the colored star, Jack Claybourn, to face "Bully Boy" Kogut.

Swimming Meet and Carnival Scheduled at Northside Park

Triangular Meet Sunday at 3; Exhibition Planned for August 13

Members of the Barrington Park district swimming team will attempt to indicate two previous losses to Elgin and Wheaton swimming teams in a triangular meet to be held in the pool at Northside park Sunday afternoon starting at 3 o'clock. The locals traveled to Elgin last Friday night and were defeated by a score of 22 to 18. Wheaton swimmers previously defeated the Barrington team in a match held at that town by a margin of 45 to 13.

In addition to the meet Sunday afternoon, a water carnival, including races, novelty numbers and swimming demonstrations, will be held at Northside park Friday evening, August 13, at 8 o'clock.

Sunday's meet will feature races for boys and girls and women and men divisions. Diving exhibitions are also carded.

D. Melville Carr, director of life-saving and accident prevention of the American Red Cross, will address the gathering August 13, and also give a demonstration of water safety. Two teams will play water polo and there will be watermelon scrambles for boys and girls. Miscellaneous relay races will include a night gown scramble for boys and a candle relay for girls. Those under 12 will participate in balloon races.

Junior life saving awards will be awarded to the following girls by Mr. Carr: Eleanor Nightengale, Lorelei Langendorf, Ellen Jensen, Mary Jean McClure, Mary Jean Hargrave, Polly Ann Brooks, Beverly Lorraine Grom, Carol Gardner and Phyllis Stout.

Organize Suburban Polo League; Local Teams Win 1st Game

The Barrington Polo club joined with other neighboring units in forming a Suburban Polo league and a schedule of play for the remainder of the summer has been completed. The locals played the first game last Sunday and defeated the Park Ridge Reds by a score of 3 to 3 at Park Ridge.

Included in the league are the following other units: Sheridan 122nd Field Artillery, Oakshire, Park Ridge Reds, Park Ridge Whites, River Trails. Playing for Barrington are: Jerry Corbett, C. Buckley, Harold Smith, Donald Bateman, Leonard Bernard of Wheeling and de Koven Bowen.

The first home game for the local mallet swingers will be played with the River Trails Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the field on Hart road. It was reported a cup will be offered for the winning team at the end of the scheduled play. Games will be played every Sunday, weather permitting.

Plymouth Awards Merit Diploma to 5 Men at Brewers

Lloyd Elfrink, of Brewer Motor Sales, local DuSoto and Plymouth dealer, announced today that five members of the service department have been awarded the Plymouth certificate of merit. Those receiving the award are: O. Brewer, G. Elfrink, L. Yeager, B. Sutfin and E. Nelson.

The certificate, which is signed by D. S. Eddins, president, and J. D. McCrimmon, director of service of the Plymouth Motor corporation, division of Chrysler corporation, is presented to service mechanics and service managers of DuSoto-Plymouth dealerships who have demonstrated proficiency and knowledge in the servicing of Plymouth cars. A written examination is the final qualifying test for this certificate of merit.

Within the last year, 11,717 Plymouth service men have earned the award. The one honorary certificate made to date, was presented to Major Edward Bovey by T. W. Moss, general service manager, Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler.

"The men in our service department who have earned the certificate of merit deserve great credit," Mr. Elfrink said.

"By earning it they have proved themselves to be the greatest asset any automobile dealer can have—willing, reliable service men ready to do a good job on any car that comes into their department."

Both of these varieties produce bloom on the current season's wood and should never be pruned in the summer or fall. Any pruning should be done in the spring, and then the plants should be cut back severely.

Of course, the efficiency with which the early spring pruning was done has an important effect on the blooming quality, but the size and effectiveness of the flowers are determined largely by the amount of food available at this time. Feed hydrangeas now with a complete balanced plant food and water in thoroughly.

And while on the subject of hydrangeas, I want to tell you about two of this family of plants which are not listed in many catalogues but which are well worth having. One is the Climbing Hydrangea.

(Hydrangea petiolaris), an attractive rampant-growing vine. It will cling to brick or stone buildings by its rootlets, and the flowers are quite fragrant. They appear about June.

The other is a very fine shrub, Oakleaf Hydrangea (Hydrangea quercifolia). The oak-shaped leaf makes it interesting, and its autumn coloring is superb. It succeeds in shade and is very desirable.

Reward in Hereafter The more a man denies himself the more he shall receive from heaven.—Horace.

Suit to collect delinquent sewer rental charges filed against Mrs. Elden Gieske by the village of Barrington, was dropped Saturday when W. U. Bardwell, attorney for Mrs. Gieske, paid the amount in full to A. C. Burandt, village clerk. This was the second case started by the village in an effort to force collection of delinquent sewer rental charges. The other was against H. W. Grimm, who also paid his account before the date set for hearing.

The village sought to obtain judgments against property when trustees felt the property owners were refusing to make sewer rental payments. Other suits were contemplated, but have not been developed.

Escape Injury When Cars Crash Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schroeder of Barrington narrowly escaped injury Sunday evening when their automobile was struck by one driven by Jacob Johnson of Chicago on Milwaukee avenue at Niles Center. The local couple was coming from Chicago.

Johnson was traveling toward Chicago and swung out into the opposite lane of traffic on the 40-foot slab. Mr. Schroeder reported. The latter swerved his car but it was struck at the rear fender. Johnson was held on a wheelie driving charge by the Niles Center police.

Sea Lion Is No Relation to the "King of Beasts"

Despite his royal name, the sea lion is not even a distant connection of the king of beasts. Doubtless the first white men to come in contact with him were reminded of the lion by his impressive, hoarse-voiced roar and at a distance the long hair and folds of fat on his big neck may have looked somewhat like a mane. But in his veins there runs none of the blood of animaldom's royal family. On the contrary, observes a writer in the Montreal Herald, the sea lion is related to that jester of the woodlands, the comical and peevish beaver. His forefathers were bear-like land dwellers who, probably driven off by stronger rivals, took to the sea.

Of course nature had to get busy then and make certain adjustments that enable the ex-beaver to live an increasingly water existence. Legs, by the gradual processes of evolution, became flippers. But these are still better adapted for use on land than those of the true seals, common in Atlantic waters. The latter are more helpless and clumsy out of the water, and also lack the small visible ears of the sea lions. Waterproof hair, harsh and rough, was provided for the sea lions and under their skin a warm blanket of tough, oily tissue defies the chilling effects of sub-arctic waters.

Explanation for Fairy Rings Nature Magazine says that the circular formation of fairy rings is assumed by a number of different varieties of fungus. A single spore may start the ring. The spore spreads outward in all directions under the soil. The center eventually dies from lack of nutriment and the circle continues to widen on the outer side, as fresh soil nourishes the plants.

Child's First Teeth The six-year molars are the first of the permanent teeth to appear in a child's mouth. There are eight molars which are temporary, and back of these are the four molars which are cut when a child is about six years old, forming the keystone of the dental arch for the permanent teeth.
