

"The Life of the Party" at Catlow Sunday, Monday

"Confession," Starring Kay Francis, Opens Two Day Run Wednesday

Those who like their movie-men rugged and strong—plenty good if they're good and plenty bad if they are so inclined—are due for a treat when "San Quentin" comes to the Catlow Saturday.

On the good side the fans will see Pat O'Brien, which ought to be satisfactory enough. He's the captain of the yard in San Quentin. On the bad side you'll have Humphrey Bogart and Joseph Sawyer as a couple of tough prisoners, plus big Barton MacLane as a crooked jail official.

Double featured with "San Quentin" Saturday is "One Mile From Heaven," with Claire Trevor, Sally Blane, Douglas Woodley and Bill Robinson.

To the rhythm of a new song, "Yankoo Doodle Bunk," Ann Miller does a whistled tap dance in "The Life of the Party," which establishes her in a class with queens of rhythm. The film will show at the Catlow Sunday and Monday.

Accompanying Miss Miller in her terpsichorean triumph is a chorus of sixteen dancing beauties and male partners. Pretty Harriet Hilliard, who plays the romantic lead in the production opposite Gene Raymond, sings the number with a choral and orchestral accompaniment.

Raymond and Miss Hilliard share starring honors with Joe Penner, Parkyakarkus, Helen Broderick and Victor Moore in "The Life of the Party," a story of a modern Cinderella who rebels when her mother wants her to marry a wealthy goof; and a millionaire seaman who falls in love with her despite his mother's will which threatens him with loss of an inheritance.

"Black Gold" is struck in a big way and causes no end of exciting drama in the feature, "Outlaws of the Orient" coming to the Catlow Tuesday. With a locale that ranges from New York's skyscrapers to the sands of the Gobi desert, the film features a large cast headed by Jack Holt, the star, and Mae Clarke, James Busch, Harold Huber, Beatrice Roberts, and others.

Double featured Tuesday with "Outlaws of the Orient" is "It Can't Last Forever," with Ralph Bellamy, Betty Furness, Robert Armstrong.

Reports Construction Started on Estate Jobs

Three new construction projects were reported this week by George Eitner, contractor, in the estate area. Ernest Winn is erecting a new feeding barn for his growing herd of Shorthorn dairy cattle and A. L. Eustice is building a pavilion for fancy show birds.

The pavilion will be 40 by 50 feet with a domed roof at one end for flying birds and an other section will be heated for certain species of tropic birds. Plate glass and wire will be used for partitions.

Harold Wandas has also started erection of a new riding horse stable on his estate. The building will be completely insulated, with steel sash on rollaway screens.

Countryside Garden Class

The regular October luncheon meeting of the Countryside Garden Class was held at the home of Miss Elizabeth Howland.

Mr. Robert G. Work gave an entertaining and instructive talk on the origin of many of our shrubs and flowers which were brought here from European countries many years ago.

The next meeting of the Garden Class will be for the election of officers for the coming year.

Its beauty and usefulness will be a constant delight. See our wide range of distinctive patterns—especially those in Gorham Sterling, with its authentic designs which represent the highest art of the period.
