The high spot of his sensational playing was in the Michigan-Illinois game in 1924. He returned the opening kick-off 95 yards through the entire Michigan team for a touchdown and carried the ball three more times during the next 10 or 15 minutes of play each time scoring a touchdown. Before the first quarter was ended he was replaced by a substitute with Illinois leading, 28 to 0.

County treasurer, Horace G. Lindheimer, this week warned taxpayers that the second installment of their 1936 real estate tax falls due Dec. 1, 1937. The usual penalty of one per cent a month will begin to accrue Dec. 1, 1937, and no extension of time can be granted.

Within fifty days after the due date application must be made to the county court for judgment on the delinquent taxes and the court will then order the property put on sale for the unpaid taxes.

At the same time Mr. Lindheimer disclosed that there has been a greater increase in tax buying activities this year over recent years. Since property delinquent in the 1936 taxes was put on sale, Aug. 24, 1937, he said, no extension of time can be granted.

Humphrey, village clerk, and followed closely upon a survey of possible dangerous conditions in the business section ordered by the village board last week and completed by John H. Blanke, village trustee Wednesday.

A. G. Humphrey, Chicago attorney, notified Mr. Blanke by letter Monday that he had been retained by Mrs. Lydia Baumgarten for the purpose of filing suit for injuries and damages received when she fell into a coal hole in front of the National Tea Co. store on Park avenue October 26.

The building is owned by Mrs. Cella Lipofsky. An insurance company, holding a public liability policy on the building, has offered reimbursement for damages according to a report received by A. C. Blanke, village attorney. It has been reported the damages were not over $4,000.

Mr. Humphrey stated in his letter that suit would not be filed until a later date, awaiting a check-up of Mrs. Baumgarten's injuries.

Mrs. Blanke finished his report Wednesday which was turned over to Mrs. Blanke, village president, for action by the village board. This survey was ordered after Mr. Blanke had informed the board that Mrs. Baumgarten had fallen into the coal hole. A loose cover was reported responsible for the fall. Grants Extension to File Petition in Damages Suit

Attorneys for Gieske-Thorne Litigation Get 13 Days to Amend Bill

Attorneys for the complainants were granted 13 days in which to file an amended petition in the $55,000 Gieske-Thorne sewer damage suit against the village of Barrington by Judge Ralph Dady in circuit court of Lake county Tuesday. The extension was granted by Judge Dady after Dr. B. Maloney, village attorney, had presented a motion that the complaint be struck.

The suit was first filed last April 14 by Attorney Charles W. Miller of Waukegan, representing Mrs. Adolph Gieske, 124 N. Harrison street, and Mrs. Dorothy Thorne, of Chicago.

On June 23, Judge Dady ordered the original complaint withdrawn and allowed an extension of time to file an amended petition. The first motion to strike was also made by Mr. Maloney on the ground that the charges set forth did not specifically declare the damages. Since that time nothing had happened until Mr. Maloney presented his motion that the suit be dropped last week. Due to illness in his family, Judge Dady did not hold court and was unable to hear the matter until Tuesday.

The original bill filed in the suit asked $55,000 damages on the allegation that several parcels of property and five residences on Russell and Summit streets suffered a loss of value with the construction of the new sewerage and sanitary sewers last year.

A group of engineers are to make a check of the village sewer system for the cost of repairs. The information to be used in the setting of the suit, attorneys for Mrs. Gieske and Mrs. Thorne stated in court Tuesday.

Truckers Object to Proposed Fox River Grove Fee

Appeal at Hearing Called by Mayor Dvorak Tuesday Night

Fox River Grove's proposed ordinance to license outside night trucks delivering merchandise to that village encountered lots of opposition from representatives of manufacturing associations, trucking concerns, laundry owners associations and others who attended a special hearing on the proposal at the Grove Tuesday night.

The representatives promised to co-operate in an attempt to obtain legislation which would divert more gasoline tax receipts and part of the sales tax receipts to villages for street maintenance use, if the village would drop its ordinance proposal.

Fox River Grove's plan was similar to one adopted a year ago at Troy where an ordinance required outside truck owners to pay license fees to cover inspection charges. The United States district court subsequently upheld this plan in a case coming before it.

Present at the meeting Tuesday night and speaking in opposition to the plan were: Allen T. Gordon, attorney for Illinois Manufacturers' association; Carl G. Pretzel, attorney for Chicago Laundry Owners' association; John T. Toomey, secretary Chicago Laundry Owners' association; T. E. Davis, attorney for Jewel Tea Co.; a representative from Jefferson Ice Co. and H. L. Kettell, representing Fuhrman and Forster Co. of Chicago.

Mr. Gordon was the chief speaker for the minority group and argued that any license fees adopted against trucking concerns would result in an increase of merchandise cost to consumers.

Earl Hattie, president of the Barrington village board, was also present and proposed that the various associations co-operate with municipalities in asking the state assembly for legislation allowing a portion of the state gas tax funds credited to each community to be used on streets other than those designated at present by the gas tax act, mainly state-aided.

Mr. Hattie also suggested that a portion of the sales tax might be diverted to the villages for street maintenance.

Mr. Hattie's suggestions were approved by Mr. Dvorak and the meeting concluded with the assurance by persons interested in the proposed ordinance at Fox River Grove that assistance would be forthcoming to get the desired legislation.

School WPA Project Will End This Week

After several years of construction the WPA work at the Barrington public school will be ended this week, E. J. Smith, superintendent of schools, reported. The projects are being completed by virtue of expenditure of funds allocated for the work.

At the same time Mr. Smith stated that WPA officials will be working on the new concrete slab project should be created in order to finish the remainder of the rooms on the second, third and fourth floors that were not done under the expiring project.

There are 19 men employed on the school project on the government payroll. Unless the new project is established, they will probably be allocated to different work.

The proposal for an additional project was made by the WPA inspectors and not at the suggestion of any school official, it was learned.

Will Open Railroad Crossing Next Week

Work on the Main street crossing of the Chicago and North Western railroad was practically completed Wednesday with the pouring of the new concrete slab approaches on the north and east sides. It is reported the crossing will be opened to traffic next week.

The new approaches were on steel trestles. It was discovered the pavement was not level with the new pre-cast concrete slabs placed in the tracks. The old pavement was broken out and new trestles at a higher level to make a smooth approach.

Sidewalk on the north side of Main street will also be raised to a new level.

"Wife, Doctor and Nurse" at Catlow Sunday, Monday

"High, Wide and Handsome" to Start Two-Day Run Wednesday

Mount Rainier National Park, where spectacular skiing scenes were filmed for "Thin Ice," musical hit starring Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power, now playing at the Catlow theatre, provided an ideal setting for a practical joke.

After coaching Power for a week in the difficult art of standing on one's feet on skis, Miss Henie persuaded him to accompany her up a hill, presumably to get a panoramic view of the country.

On reaching the top, she waved farewell and descended in a pattern of graceful turns, leaving the helpless Tyrone to contemplate a steep hill and the most dignified, yet harmless way of getting down.

Mingling with torch singers and dancing maidens, Charlie Chan invades the night clubs of the Great White Way to find his strangest case in the center of New York's gayest life.

The latest in the series of adventures of the Chinese sleuth, "Charlie Chan on Broadway," is at the Catlow theatre Saturday night, with Warner Oland in the featured role.

Double featured Saturday with "Charlie Chan on Broadway" is the football story, "Saturday Heroes," with Van Heflin, Marian Marsh, and Alan Branch. The talents of three grand stars, Loretta Young, Warner Baxter, and Virginia Bruce are brilliantly blended in "Wife, Doctor and Nurse," a play and penetrating drama with a catch in the heart and a twinkle in its eye, which comes to the Catlow Sunday for two days.

Barton MacLane, leading man with Glenda Farrell in the comedy-drama, "Torchy Blane, the Adventurous Blonde," which comes to the Catlow Tuesday, has invented a new sort of race. He drives his speedy homing-pigeons several hundred miles into northern California, then releases them and tries to beat them home in his car.

On the double feature bill Tuesday is "Unknown Valley," starring Buck Jones.

Taking one of the most colorful stories from the pages of American history, the tale of the discovery of oil in Pennsylvania in 1859, woven into a scenario by Oscar Hammerstein II, and a strange and beautiful romance between a hard-fighting, iron-willed farmer and a gay, light-hearted carnival singer, played by Randolph Scott and Irene Dunne, augment the romance with the haunting melodies of a Jerome Kern score; put it all together under the talented guidance of a great director, Rouben Mamoulian, and you get the musical-historical romance, "High, Wide and Handsome," coming to the Catlow Wednesday and Thursday.

Cures for Ailing Plants Outlined

The Master Gardener

This is an excellent time to take stock of your house plants. And it is they do not measure up so well — if this one looks droopy and that one is tall and scraggly, and another has scant foliage and is at a standstill, then ask yourself these questions:

1—Do I see it that my plants secure fresh, pure air every day? This is accomplished by airing the room thoroughly daily, being careful to open a window or door, however, that will not allow a direct draft to blow on the plants.

2—Is the temperature too high? This is unhealthful for your family as well as your plants. A temperature above 70 degrees is not conducive to good plant growth.

3—Am I using some means of maintaining a moist, humid atmosphere? If you do not have steam heat, place open vessels of water about the house. Or use the new water table below your pots. Or another method is to place the pots on a bed of pebbles or sand so that water will be evaporating at all times about the pots, yet the pebbles or sand will raise the pots

4—Am I feeding my plants, and in doing so, giving them a complete balanced diet? It is most necessary that you give your plants a complete balanced plant food, since the small amount of plant food originally in the soil soon becomes exhausted. Buy a complete balanced plant food and feed in accordance with the directions on the package.

5—Do I keep my plants free of dust and grime? Keep the foliage clean. The leaf is the plant's breathing apparatus and the pores must not be stopped up. With the smooth, fleshy leaves plants this can be accomplished by wiping with a damp cloth. Other plants, such as ferns and geraniums, can be lightly sprayed with water frequently. Pick off all dead and damaged leaves and buds.

Lemons Source of Electricity
Experiments have demonstrated that a lemon is a source of electricity. "Spades" of copper and aluminum were inserted in a lemon and the fruit yielded a current of about one-half volt, and .0002 amperes. The strength of the current varied in other lemons. A curator of electricity and communications at the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, estimated, taking into consideration the internal resistance of the lemons and other factors, it would require 200 lemons to light a two and one-half volt flashlight bulb.—Popu-

Suggests Methods to Prevent Spread of Rabies Disease

Contagion Fatal to Four Dogs Here During November; Need Co-operation

With four dogs in the village of Barrington dying of rabies during the month of November, measures to insure protection of animals and humans were suggested by A. G. Gieske, veterinarian, this week. Three others died in the same period with what is believed the same disease, but no state report was made.

Keeping dogs confined to premises and not allowed to mingle with others was advanced as a proper safeguard. Vaccination with rabies toxoid was suggested as the surest method of combating the disease's spread. Authorities pointed out dogs, regardless of the value or worth, have a tendency to stray at times and consequently run the danger of associating with animals afflicted with the germ. One vaccination treatment will keep the dog immune for one year, it was learned, while six shots of toxoid are necessary if the animal has been exposed or infected.

Dr. Gieske stated there is no cure for dogs or humans after rabies has developed.

Care in disposing of garbage was also suggested as a good precautionary measure. Dogs, it was stated, will congregate in places where garbage is allowed to accumulate, and an animal may be infected through an open wound by coming in contact with refuse that has been touched by a diseased dog.

Dogs owned by the following families died during November of rabies or suspected rabies: SaaS, Tregal, Eagle, Cerny, Wolf and McKoon.

In some communities it is required by ordinance that all dogs be vaccinated against the disease. One of the places is Lake Forest, where a dog owner must present a certificate stating the dog has received the toxoid shot before a dog license will be granted.

A similar step was discussed by village trustees at their last meeting and the matter was held over for further study.

Faculty Members Away for Vacation

Among the members of Barrington public school faculty who will be away for the Thanksgiving recess is Miss Gladys Welch who is spending the holidays at Akron, Ohio, with her sister. Miss Welch planned to visit rubber and pottery plants in the vicinity of Akron before returning to Barrington.

Miss Annette Sheel is spending the holidays with friends at La Porte, Ind. Miss Fern Nichols is visiting relatives at St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Beatrice Dean will spend Thanksgiving at her brother's home at Crystal Lake, taking her nieces into the city to see Santa Claus the next day. Miss Adelaide Ewing is spending the vacation at her parental home in Forest Park. Miss Eunice Shols is also home for the holidays.

WILL COMPETE AT CHICAGO

This ton weight purebred stallion will compete with hundreds of other draft horses that will be exhibited at the 1937 International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show, which will be held in the Chicago Stock Yards, November 27 to December 4.

Five draft horse breeds, the Percheron, Belgian, Clydesdale, Shire, and Suffolk, will be represented in the competitions of this largest annual agricultural exposition. They will be exhibited by the leading breeders of the United States and Canada.

The show will also include thousands of animals in the beef cattle, sheep, and swine competitions. According to Secretary-Manager B. H. Heide, a total of over $100,000 will be awarded in cash prizes at this year's exposition, its 54th annual renewal.

Alexander Ritchie, manager of the Royal Farms at Windsor, England, will judge the fat cattle classes and select the grand champion steer of the show. He is making the trip to Chicago by special permission of King George, proprietor of the Royal Farms at Windsor.

Institute Launches 1937 Seal Campaign

With the delivery of 400,000 letters containing the 1937 tuberculosis Christmas seals to the postal authorities Wednesday, November 24, the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute has completed preparations for its thirty-first annual sale which began Thanksgiving Day and extends to the first of the year.

Under the double barred cross, emblem of the tuberculosis crusade, Christmas seals will be sold in Chicago and Cook county to finance the institute's year round anti-tuberculosis program. This year's seal depicts a colorful town crier. Garbed in his warm coat and three-cornered hat, he brings to mind one of the most popular and ancient characters of America. The bell ringer, or town crier, spread the news of the day in the pre-newspaper and radio era. "The selection of the town crier character for the 1937 Christmas seal is a splendid one," stated Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs, executive director of the institute. "He symbolizes protection for our homes—protection from tuberculosis. We hope that the general public will share in this campaign to bring good health and tuberculosis eradication by purchasing and using Christmas seals." The funds from the 1937 sale will finance the institute's program of public health education, Mrs. Sachs stated. Included in this service are: tuberculin skin-testing, X-rays, child health education, Negro and industrial health programs, distribution of literature, lectures, motion picture showings and an intensive general public health program. The seals also help to maintain the institute's 17 health centers, 22 public health nurses, medical director and clinician. With the assistance of other public and private health agencies, the institute's programs are brought within reach of every man, woman and child in Chicago and Cook county.

Reported Approved

Unofficial outside information this week indicated the state highway department had approved plans and specifications for the installation of traffic lights at the Main and Hough street intersection, but A. C. Burandt, village clerk, has not received formal notice of any approval.

High School Basketball Season Opens Coming Saturday Night Here

Crystal Lake to Meet Bronchos in Practice Contest

Rice Is Only Letterman Back From Last Year; Team Lacks Experience

The Barrington Bronchos will open their 1937-38 basketball season in a non-conference game with Crystal Lake on the home floor Saturday night. This is the first game of a heavy schedule for the Bronchos.

Although the locals have a fast team, it is inexperienced, due to the fact that only one letterman is back. After the Crystal Lake game the Bronchos will have to face three of their oldest rivals and these are also rated strongest, Arlington Heights, whose lights finished second in the conference last year; Palatine with a veteran team, and Wauconda, also with a veteran team.

The Wauconda game will be non-conference.

Rice is back. Ernie Rice, who had a regular berth last season is the only veteran available for the local squad. Most of last year's lightweight squad is back and all are candidates for regular positions on the heavyweights team. They include Clinge, Watson, Castle, Johnson, Collins, Shepard, Saul, E. Grabenkort, and Church. Three new men are on the squad—Thacker, Montgomery, and Herren.

Alumni Dec. 23. The Bronchos will test their speed and wits against a big and experienced team of alumni on Dec. 23. It should prove to be a good battle.

The lightweights have a fairly good prospective team. There are two players back from last year's lightweights. They are Sherman and G. Kendt. New candidates for regular positions are Miller, Greulinger, Y. Wilkins, Jones, Tichy, B. Wendt, Eiters, Willard, Plagge, Robertson, and Kohner, all of whom were on last year's team and the Bronchos are coached by T. C. Hosford.

Organize Zoo League. Coach T. C. Hosford announced Monday that the Zoo league at the local high school will be organized next week.

Junior High Cagers Open With Palatine

The Barrington junior high school will officially open its 1937-38 basketball season in a game with Palatine on the third of December. Coach Watson will send a comparatively green squad against the Palatine cagers. The game will be played on the home floor.

The probable starting lineup for the first team will be Tichy and Zimmerman at forwards, DeWitz at center, and Farwell and English at the guard positions. Waller, Hiko, Rutledge, Hager, and Hargrave will be ready to fill their respective positions. The team is said to be the smallest that ever turned out for B.H.H. basketball. The season's schedule is as follows:

Dec. 3, Palatine here.
Dec. 10, Crystal Lake, there.
Dec. 11, Palatine, there.
Dec. 17, Dundee, here.

Church League to Start December 6

The Barrington church league will begin games in the high school gym Monday, December 6. The St. Paul team will be defending champions with the Methodist squad the strongest contenders.

The Methodists will have on their squad four regular members of the 1934 Northwest conference champs. They are Conn, Eiters, Workman, and Latta. Herbert Bricker, of the high school faculty, Chuck Elmer, and Bill Davy are new players on the team. Salem has Norris Grabenkort and Bob Caldwell as two new prospects, both of whom played regular on last year's high school squad. Edward and Everett Gaare and Willis Miller will play for St. Paul. Eugene Kincaid and Bill Tichy will help out Baptist and St. Anne respectively.

The teams have been practicing the new rules and should be in good shape for the opening games.

Urges Immediate Payment of Cook County 1936 Tax

These figures are in sharp contrast to those of the two preceding years. The 1934 tax sale disposed of only 17 items the total delinquency of $458,346, while the sale of 1935 taxes disposed of only 13 items which taxes amounted to $557, and these figures are for both city and country town tax sales.

The sales in the country towns will continue for another two weeks and Mr. Lindheimer strongly stressed the point that property owners can avert the sale of their property only by paying the delinquency. The treasurer has no power to stop the sale or grant extensions of time after the order of sale has been entered by the county court.

In order to retain the property after the tax buyer has a tax lien against it, the owner must pay in full at the rate of 12%, every six months to the holder of the lien, which is twice the rate of interest received by the county.

At the end of two years if the lien holder has kept up the tax payments on the property he may receive title to it, and the owner must then pay the holder of the lien any price asked in order to retain the title to his property.

A New York syndicate, with strong financial backing, has been doing most of the buying throughout the sale, Mr. Lindheimer said.
