

County Property Valuations Raised for 1937 Taxes

Cuba and Elia Township's Also Increased in Board's
Report Monday

Lake county personal property and real estate valuations were increased in total this year to $78,608,495 for taxing purposes by the board of review, which turned over the book for equalized valuations to the county clerk for extensions Monday.

The 1937 county valuation is $1,422,575 more than the board set last year, when the assessment was $77,185,920.

The increase, the report showed, was due largely to the added returns on personal property assessments, particularly in Highland Park, Lake Forest, and Waukegan. An increase of $14,780 is listed for Cuba township and a raise of $19,610 in Elia township.

The board of review, composed of Homer T. Cook, John E. Hayes Sr., and Frank Roman, in its equalization of property values boosted the assessments of the 18 township assessors by $25,365.

This increase was chiefly due to the investigation of personal property holdings. The assessors' real and personal values for the year totaled $78,353,190.

The board of review in its equalization work lowered real estate values in some instances from the assessment returned by township assessors. It showed a

$4,000 Tendered Frautnick Heirs by DeLap Estate

Settlement Is Made After Week Spent in Negotiation

After appointing Miss Iona C. Frautnick administrator of the estate of her sister Veda who was fatally injured in an automobile crash Sept. 11 which cost the life of Ray Gleason of Barrington, Probate Judge Harry C. Daniels approved a settlement of $4,000 Tuesday, tendered by the estate of the late J. H. DeLap of Maywood, driver of the car claimed for the accident.

The action in the probate court has nothing to do with any claim heirs of the late Mr. Glease may have against the DeLap estate, it was reported.

The offer of settlement was made after several weeks of negotiations between Atty. G. D. Carbery, representing the Frautnick family, and Chicago attorneys, representing insurance companies and the heirs of DeLap.

Miss Frautnick, who taught at the Lincoln school, Elgin died Oct. 25. Her heirs are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Frautnick, one sister, Iona C. and two brothers, Charles and Elgin and Arvid of California.

Miss Helen Nelson of Park Ridge and William Grabenkrantz of Barrington were passengers in the Glease car also when DeLap allegedly failed to heed the stop sign at route 20 and Wolf road, crashing into their machine.

The dividend from the Wauconda Trust and Savings Bank amounted to $14,866.40 and was the second repayment made since the institution closed. The dividend to depositors at Highland Park was the fifth and amounted to $34,745.05.

S. T. Oliver, deputy receiver for closed state banks in the Lake county area began distribution of the checks early in the week.

Split-up of Voting Places Not Valid at Present, Is Opinion

The proposal to divide a number of Lake county voting precincts, having more than 500 voters into two or more units will have to be postponed until June or July of 1938, according to an opinion rendered by State Attorney Charles E. Mason from Attorney General Otto Kerner Saturday.

Kerner held in his opinion that the proposal by the Lake county board of supervisors to change 23 of the existing 78 voting precincts to expedite elections is not valid under the statutes.

He also held that the action should necessarily be done in the two months allowed by law, June or July, and also that he doubted if a circuit court mandamus, as had been suggested, would hold up.

Acting upon the insistence of several "interested" residents, the Lake county board of supervisors had considered 23 changes in voting precincts as suggested by an election committee. Based on the ruling by Kerner, this action must be delayed until June of 1938.

The real estate is divided into four tracts, one being given to his son, Herman and daughter Alma, together. The other three being given to the other children, all living in Palatine, as follows: William Witthaefer, Mrs. Ida Hinrichs and Mrs. Alvina Haberkamp.

The gay and happy season of carol singing and merry-making—the time when peace and good-will inhabit every heart—time when gifts gladden both donor and receptor—is here. Our thoughts are pleasantly diffused with memories of past holidays—and in realization of this joyous Yuletide—we extend to you the Greetings of the Season.

Village Trustees Discuss Proposed Ice Skating Rink

If the plan discussed Monday night by the village board of trustees is feasible and weather conditions permit, skaters of the community will be provided with a suitable rink for skating. A number of requests for a local rink had been made to trustees, it was learned.

The board instructed Paul Purcell, superintendent of streets, to flood some portion of land if and when the weather becomes favorable for the use of skaters. It was suggested that the Russell street playground might be suitable and Mr. Purcell was instructed to request permission from the park board.

Several years ago an attempt was made to flood a portion of the playground but the post soil and tilling allowed the water to seep away before freezing. Since that time some clay has been dumped in that part, and Mr. Purcell stated if there are three or four days of zero weather, sufficient to freeze the ground thoroughly, it might be possible to provide a skating rink.

Set Stand-By Fire Protection Charge for Jewel Building

A flat fee of $50 per year was adopted as a stand-by charge for fire protection to the Jewel Tea Co. building at a meeting of the board of trustees held in the village hall Monday night.

Fred Fleming and Thomas Owens, representatives of Jewel Tea, were present responding to a request made through office of A. C. Burdick, village clerk, to discuss the adoption of a rate. It is reported other manufacturing concerns receiving the same type fire protection service will also be called before the board for the purpose of discussing a rate.

A stand-by charge plan was adopted by the board of trustees for the Jewel Tea building upon the consideration that the village is maintaining the water system at that point for that purpose. A company-owned well supplies the building with water. The $50 figure was adopted following a motion made by Trustee Rudolph Berg and seconded by Trustee J. Blanke.

Proposed improvements to the Jewel Tea water system, which plan were also discussed at the meeting. These proposals are to meet requirements of the state sanitary water board.

Give Testimony in Volling Bond Suit

Testimony was presented by local persons in the amended Voling bond suit in which the village of Barrington is a party before Albert L. Hall, master in chancery, at Waukegan Monday. Those called to testify on the validity of purchase of special assessment bonds were A. L. Wiedenbeck, village treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Powers, William Meister and Charles Wewetter.

The litigation concerns certain alleged over-issued or forged village bonds, the legality of which the village and bondholders are attempting to have determined. The matter has been pending for sometime and it is expected will take an additional period before an opinion can be handed down.

Inspiring Programs Usher In Church Christmas Season

Special programs, musicals and service will be held in Barrington churches this week in observance of Christmas.

A quartet of bell-ringers, "The Dunbars" will present a program at Salem church vesper services at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 26.

The service will include a scripture reading of the birth of Christ by the pastor while "Holy Night" is softly played on the bells; also a cantillation of "That Sweet Story of Old" by Mr. Dunbar with the male quartet singing each refrain. Marvin Miers, tenor soloist, will sing a lullaby and there will be a special bell contribution—a tone picture entitled "A Sunday Morning in London," in which all of the famous bells of London are heard in various hymns, clocks and chime ringing, closing with the old hymn, "Come All Ye Faithful" in which the audience is invited to join.

St. Anne Church
The Christmas season at St. Anne church and parochial school was celebrated by a party held in the school hall under the auspices of the Catholic Women's club Tuesday afternoon. Gifts and carols were distributed to the pupils by Santa Claus and the following carols comprised the musical program: "The First Noel," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Deck the Halls," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Jingle Bells."

The religious devotion will be observed at three masses Christmas Day, a high mass at 8:30 a. m., sung by the choir, a low mass at 9 o'clock and another high mass at 10 a. m. sung by the boy's choir.

The early first mass, "Missa de Nocturne Domicil," by James Korman, is to be sung by the following persons: Mrs. J. Mountain, Mrs. F. Treistik, Mrs. Irwin Jacobson, Mrs. Wilfred Miller, Mrs. Anna Anderson, Mrs. Mary Roy, Mrs. Virginia Delmar, Miss Ellen Rakke, J. Mountain Sr., William Mountain and Leroy Rakke. Mrs. George Benson is organist.

The antiphons consist of the offertory, "Adeste Fideles," "Agnus Dei," by Korman; recessional, "Angels We Have Heard on High." The boy's choir, under the direction of Mr. J. Blanke.

New Flint Creek Bridge Opened to Traffic Saturday

The Flint creek bridge on Northwest highway at Jewel Park was opened to traffic Saturday by the Empire Construction company of Chicago, contractors, after the strip of pavement had been closed for the past two months undergoing a major improvement.

The village had dredged Flint creek to create a faster and deeper flow of water from Jewel Park in an effort to prevent infiltration into sewers had a box culvert been in the old bridge bed back the water and prevented completion of the village's enterprise. The new bridge is so constructed that it will not interfere with the flow of creek water.

Community Ready to Observe Happy Yuletide Season

Shopping, Mailing Rush Reported; Village Is Gaily Decorated

A white Christmas, something rare in this area, is anticipated here with several inches of snow covering the ground.

Although preparations for the approaching holiday were not so evident daily the season has been year, the inevitable Christmas spirit has filled the community just as surely during the last two weeks as ever before.

Home and store decorations and downtown lighting have been enhanced by the snowy ground and ice coated trees. The colored lights flooding Jewel Tea Co. building and the large horizontal star on the grounds are among the pleasing decorations of the village. A light trimmed square in the center of town, a lighted Christmas tree and a large horizontal star in the park are the center of downtown decorations.

Shopping lagged during the first half of the month, but has increased rapidly since then, merchants have reported.

Holiday mailing reached its maximum peak here this week with the local post office being crowded daily by persons mailing gift parcels and greeting cards to other points. The post office will not be opened Christmas Day, L. B. Faddock, postmaster, stated, and only gift parcels, special delivery mail and perishable articles will be delivered that day. Mail for nearby towns should be in the post office not later than Wednesday and local holiday mail by Thursday, he stated.

Early mailing of parcels and holiday greetings will better insure their delivery, according to reports of postal authorities. A heavy volume of mail is flooding postal branches throughout the country and, although extra help has been assigned locally and in other points, the task of prompt delivery will be difficult.

Rev. John Hubbard on Fathers' Night Program of P.T.A.

Suggests Need of Discipline,
Inner Peace and Nonchalance

The growing complexity of modern life, the need for nonchalance and inner peace, and the part parents must play in fitting children to fit worthwhile lives in adult life were stressed by Rev. John Hubbard of Park Ridge in his talk to the event-Teacher association in the public school auditorium Tuesday evening.

Rev. Hubbard suggested that parents strive to modify the stress and pace of modern life and eliminate a cause of nervous strain whenever possible. "Issues must be decided by parents since they have a background of experience," he added.

"More discipline is needed. All must face stern duty at times. Whining, sniveling adults are the result of a lack of discipline." Other remarks on the program included a message by the club president, Mrs. K. K. Lillen, and Christmas carols sung by the Junior High Glee club under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Ewing. Mrs. Ruth Johnson had prepared an exhibit of work by the kindergarten for inspection by the guests at the conclusion of the lecture.

Delivers Talk on Christian Science at Public School

Francis Lyster Jandron, C.S.B., of Detroit, Mich., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture, "Christian Science Reveals God's Ever-Present Love," at the public school auditorium Thursday evening under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:

Christian Science enables us to prove that God is ever present with man. God directs, shelters and sustains him throughout a never-ending life. Every one of us is free to understand the divine relationship which exists between God and man, and today is not too soon to become conscious of it. This spiritual understanding banishes fear and uncertainty, sickness and sin. The Old Testament tells us that Enosh "walked with God," and escaped the experience of death. The greatest freedom you can never know comes with the inspired assurance that God is present. Christian Science teaches the importance and the unfailing power of God's ever-presence, and it makes clear how it can be put into practice. Those who follow its teaching gratefully acknowledge the improved health, conscious harmony, and joyful holiness which a closer acquaintance with God has brought into their lives. In his study of Christian Science, the Christian Scientist accepts the Bible without reservation. Christian Scientists are convinced that daily study of the Bible helps them to draw nearer to God. They have found that the Bible is a book which is not merely to be revered, but one which can be used in very practical and beneficial ways. Christian Science unlocks the treasures of the Scriptures and reveals their spiritual significance. The divine inspiration which illumines the Bible pages can be shared by all who seek it humbly, regardless of differences of age, place, or race. It speaks a universal language, and proclaims a healing message which brightens the depths of human hearts with gleams of divine radiance and power.

The Bible records the progressive unfolding of humanity's understanding of God. It contains the history of the ebb and flow of the spiritual progress of mankind. It tells of the unselfish power which accompanies obedience to God, and of the unhappy experiences which follow disregard of spiritual guidance. The Bible is not a textbook of geology or biology, to be outwitted and outgrown as new theories and discoveries come to light. While physical science is based on human reason and the testimony of the material senses, spiritual science alone can testify of God's spiritual universe and of man's relationship to his heavenly Father. Physical science misleads the glorious gospel of real manhood when it seeks cause and effect in matter and shifts God out of His own universe. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy has written (p. 299): "Spiritual sense is a conscious, constant capacity to understand God."

the Science of Christianity. It reveals the infinite divine Principle by which good becomes available to man. It explains the method and practice of Christ Jesus' teachings. No impostor could have written Science and Health. No book not in accord with the revealed truth of the Bible could have withstood the tests of application, demonstration, criticism, and hostility to which Science and Health has been subjected since it was first published sixty years ago. Wind Changes Scene's Color
The fog is one of the best known winds in Switzerland. It is estimated to blow for 17 days in spring, 8 days in summer and 10 days in autumn. During its prevalence the mountains appear dark blue, with sharp outlines, and the forests black. The fog is a warm wind. It often brings fine weather for several days, but a sudden change must always be expected.

"It's Love I'm After" Week-End Bill at Catlow

"The Perfect Specimen" Will Show Here Friday and Christmas Day

Errol Flynn, the movie star, unfortunately is not familiar with the methods employed by American football players.

There was a scene in the comedy drama, "The Perfect Specimen," requiring Dick Foran to tackle the tall Irish star and bring him down on a hard floor. Flynn declined the services of a double, declaring the shot should be quite simple. He didn't know or didn't remember that Foran had once played football for Princeton.

The scene started and Foran executed a perfect flying tackle, American football style. Flynn spread-eagled on the hard floor. He came up grinning but with a badly-wrenched knee.

"Next time," he remarked, "I'll investigate before playing a game I know nothing about." "The Perfect Specimen" is coming to the Catlow Friday and Christmas day.

"It's Love I'm After," comedy-drama co-starring Leslie Howard and Bette Davis, and featuring Olivia de Havilland, Patricia Knowlton, Eric Blone and others, is due to open at the Catlow Sunday for two days.

Howard, according to advance notices, is shown as a matinee idol—a stage star about whom all the town's young girls are ga-ga—and Bette is his leading woman. They love each other, but each is a scene-stealer, and they battle continuously in whippers while audiences hear them reciting beautiful lines aloud.

Striking a novel and modern note in comedy romance, the new screen team of Gene Raymond and Ann Blythe go through hilarious adventures before reaching the whirlwind climax of their latest stellar offering, "Smartest Girl in Town."

The story, which deals with the high-speed romance between an ambitious photographic man and a young millionaire who poses as her penniless associate, is packed with surprise comedy situations before reaching its cliff-hanging conclusion. With Helen Broderick, Eric Blone, Eric Rhodes and Harry James, "Smartest Girl in Town," continues to the Catlow Tuesday.

Playing the double feature bill Tuesday with "Smartest Girl in Town," is the latest and best to date, of "Buck Jones" pictures, "Hollywood Roundup," with Buck Jones in the stellar role, with Helen Twiss, Grant Withers and Shemp Howard.

For those who like a rousing tale of pirates and smugglers, a real "Treasure Island" yarn, a blood-curdling, tingling narrative, with plenty of young romance to the bargain, we highly recommend "Dr. Syn," the new George Arliss starring vehicle, coming to the Catlow for one day only on Wednesday.

Mr. Arliss, in one of the most unusual roles of his long career, plays Captain Clegg, the pirate, who becomes Dr. Syn, the parson.

MILLER BROS. FUN & FACTS

NO. 51 Barrington, Ill., Thursday, December 23, 1937 VOL. 49

Christmas time again, think of it! Just when we are getting used to writing it "1937," another year comes sailing along.

Thinking back over the last twelve months, however, we realize that we have crowded a lot of activities into them.

These are busy times. And because they are so busy, we don't see our friends as often as we'd like.

Isn't it fine, therefore, that we have a holiday season that gives us an opportunity to forget all about business and think of our friends.

We find ourselves in a very thankful mood at this time for the friendships we have enjoyed during the past year.

And this is our rather awkward way of saying "thank you" for the part you have played in this connection.

We appreciate these friendships and courtesies more than we can tell you.

Again, may we say it... "A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR"

Clarifies Ruling on Hand Signals

Making a hand signal does not give you a right-of-way, but is simply a warning of intention to turn, stop, or leave the curb, it is pointed out by the Chicago Motor club.

The law requires that a turn shall not be made unless and until it can be made with safety and then only after giving an appropriate signal in the event that any other vehicle may be affected by the maneuver.

Signals must be given from the left side of the vehicle, continuously for the last fifty feet traveled before making the indicated movement.

AMERICA IS CHOOSING

The news from Washington is filled these days with reports of congressmen resisting new demands for business and seeking instead the means for changing the tax laws and otherwise encouraging private enterprise to go ahead with expansions of plans and employment.

If there is one fact that stands out above all else in the capitol it is that congressmen and senators have definitely put away the "rubber stamp" and decided to do more than vote "yes." They are not only reviewing carefully legislation laid before them but are showing signs of initiating their own bills such as the repeal of the surplus profits tax which penalizes expansions of industry out of which employment comes.

Often it is not what happens in Washington that is significant but what caused the action. And in this instance there is a general agreement that the cause is traceable back to the grass roots of America; to the small towns from where so many members of congress come back to the backbone of the nation.

While they were home the legislators obviously heard that the people were beginning to look about them and wonder "what's going on here." Since they returned for the special session, there has been a surprising flow of mail into the capitol urging a return to sound principles, a decrease in spending and aid rather than harassment of business.

The change in congressional sentiment is measurable by what the mailman brings. If this flow grows as it did in the supreme court fight, congress will respond.

Today more than in years senators and congressmen are looking to their constituents for an expression of their will. The people, in turn, are looking to congress for direct action to end the slump by aiding employment.

IS CAPITAL ON STRIKE?

As business drifts further downward and unemployment increases there is heard time and again the report that "capital is on strike." This, if true, would mean that those who have money to invest are not investing.

Common sense alone answers that. People who have money accumulated it by making each dollar they had earned another dollar. They seek profit and risk their principal on the chance of making the profit. And until human nature has been completely legislated out of existence, there will be no "strike of capital" so long as that capital is given the opportunity to flow into legitimate investment.

What is wrong with investment money then out of which come expansions and more employment?

Have you ever heard the story of Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model, and the Villain?

In the first chapter, the Villain tied Nellie to the railroad track. In the second chapter he beat her up. In the third he threw her in front of a buzz saw. And in the last chapter he asked, "Nellie, why don't you trust me?"

HIGHWAY ILLUMINATION

Lack of proper illumination and the absence of sidewalks were cited recently by George Barton, head of the safety and traffic engineering department of the Chicago Motor club, as the only two factors directly under public control, which explain why a preponderance of fatal traffic accidents occur on rural highways after dark.

"Accidents increase in severity as population decreases," Mr. Barton stated. "For example, one out of every 47 New York City accidents is fatal compared to one of every 27 upstate cities and one of every 11 in rural New York."

"The fatigue of long country trips is a factor in the high death rate observed in rural statistics. Another contributing factor is the outridding of headlights and the confusion of glare."

"Statistics show that in 1936 almost 23,000, or 60 per cent of the 37,600, traffic fatalities occurred after dark, and because only one out of every four or five cars is then on the road, night driving is indicated to be six or seven times as dangerous as daylight driving."

"Close to 70 per cent of the total fatal accidents took place in the rural area. Although the statistics for the year 1937 have not been compiled, it is already possible to ascertain a tremendous increase in almost every state of the Union."

Budgeting for Your Garden Next Season

By THE MASTER GARDENER

January for most folks is budget month. Don't forget the garden when planning your yearly budget.

And the garden catalogue pouring in are one of your best aids in making garden plans. The seedman spends much time and money in the preparation of his catalogue. He has made every effort to bring to you the very latest developments in the garden seed—the latest improved strains of flowers and vegetables, the newest implements to lighten the task of preparing our soil, applying plant food and esthetic ing the growing plants; complete balanced plant foods, garden economics and easy to apply, that assure healthy vigorous growth of plants; the newest all-purpose insecticides and fungicides; all of these the seedman has listed and described for you between the magic pages of his book.

Whether we like it or not, the world changes constantly, and if we are going to be successful in any occupation or hobby, we must constantly study new developments and trends, and take advantage of all of them. Of course the products you found earlier satisfactory you will want to repeat, but do a little experimenting too. You know the old proverb, "nothing ventured, nothing gained."—well, it applies to gardening, too.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

"Remember the Maine!"

A flaming slogan that kindled war with Spain burst upon the public mind with the mysterious explosion that destroyed an American battleship, with loss of 260 lives, in Havana harbor the night of Feb. 15, 1898.

No such warlike denotations resulted from Japanese shots that sank the U. S. S. "Panay" and three American-owned Standard Oil tankers in the Yantse River in broad daylight on Dec. 12, 1937.

Indeed, instead of capitol hill bursting out with war cries, an immediate congress reaction was house decision to take up a resolution by Representative Ludlow (Dem.), of Indiana to require national referendums before congress could declare war, except in case of actual invasion.

If in congress, in the press, on the public platform, and in the talk of the man in the street with his neighbor, the nation did not see a signal for war in the "Panay" sinking, the president and the state department seemed to strike a popular chord in their demand for official apologies, indemnification and for solemn assurance of protection against repetition of such attacks.

Before our note reached Tokyo, the Japanese foreign office hurriedly apologized for the "mistake" of sinking the American ship because "poor visibility" had allegedly made it impossible for the Japanese fleet to see the American flag.

Subsequent eyewitness statements that the flags were clearly visible and that Japanese troops ashore poured machine gun fire into the sinking ships created skepticism regarding the intentional character of the Japanese "mistake." Secretary Hull assembled confirmatory reports on the fact of close-range machine-gunning of the "Panay" and its survivors.

The state department insisted the original Japanese expression of regret did not clear the matter and a formal reply would be anticipated giving full satisfaction to American demands for apology, indemnification and future guarantees.

Congress, a natural public sounding board for varied reactions at such a time, received news of the "Panay" sinking without oratorical outbursts. Indeed, discussion of the incident occupied only a few minutes in both houses.

When Rep. Rogers (Rep.) of Massachusetts raised the question in the house with critical allusions to administration policy, Majority Leader Rayburn (Dem.) of Texas shut off further discussion with a rebuke for hasty utterances and a demand that the executive department be left to handle the affair. When in the house next day enough signatures were put on a petition to force out the Ludlow war referendum resolution for legislative consideration, Secretary of State Hull criticized the measure as unwarranted and imprudent.

In the senate first discussion turned mainly on whether American naval and military forces should be withdrawn from China, to forestall further provocative incidents.

If congress floor discussions were brief and restrained, cloak rooms buzzed with the subject of comments as were made by the Man in the Street and in editorial expressions by the press. Generally there was demand that the United States firmly back up its protests, though evident majority sentiment was against the nation getting into war.

Ever since the days of NRA, congress has shown an increased willingness to write laws that will temper the effects of competition in trade.

The Robinson-Patman act, designed to end the unfair use of discounts and rebates, quickly followed the demise of codes. Then last summer there came the Celler-Tydings act to permit prices fixing on trade-marked goods.

Now there is in committee to consider a resolution appropriating $50,000 for an investigation by the federal trade commission of relations between the automobile manufacturing companies and their dealers. This investigation would try to determine whether manufacturers are responsible for unfair competition and low profits among dealers, and what ought to be done about it in the way of laws.

The request for an investigation of manufacturer-dealer relationships comes just at a time when the major automobile companies have been undergoing grand jury investigation on charges that their relations with automobile finance companies involve a violation of anti-trust laws.

The manufacturing end of the automobile industry is of the opinion that the object of this new move in congress is to try to revive price-fixing in the used car market and to force the manufacturers to give dealers a larger spread than the present average of 33 1/3 per cent between the wholesale and retail prices of new cars.

But in the present instance the investigating committee of congress is receiving an unusual response from manufacturers.

Instead of opposing an investigation, the manufacturers are urging congress to go ahead. All they ask is that the resolution set down definitely that:

"The public interest requires that no artificial restriction such as price-fixing or other limitations upon production or upon sales of automobiles."

And they ask further, in setting out the purpose of the investigation, that the inquiry should seek to determine:

"1.—Whether distribution policies prevalent among other manufacturers or dealers result in unnecessarily high prices of automobiles, new or used, to the consuming public;

"2.—Whether any combinations between competitive manufacturers to control the prices of automobiles, new or used, exist within the industry."

In other words, strange as it may seem, representatives of an industry are coming to congress and asking that the order be made to make sure that the anti-trust laws are working within the automobile industry and to make sure that the public is getting the best value for its money that competition can afford.

However, that hardly was the purpose of the resolution as introduced into congress.

A group of automobile dealers are asking congress, in reality, to do something about the used car situation. The market for used cars of late has been glutted and price cutting has become widespread, with adverse effects on the profits of some dealers. In testimony offered to congress the National Automobile Dealers association sought to prove that the average dealer today is losing money.

Barrington High Cage Team Loses to Niles Center by 35 to 15 Score

Meet Alumni Team Here Tonight in Holiday Contest

Opponents Friday Night Use Fast Breaking Plays to Gain Big Lead

The Barrington Broncos traveled to Niles Center through a thick fog to fall at the hands of the Niles Center Toward high school cage by a score of 35 to 15 Friday evening. The Niles Center team used a fast break that was too much for the locals, Barrington, remained on the short end of the score all through the game.

After a slow first period the Niles quintet started on a scoring rampage and with Boyk setting the pace with three field goals and a charity shot, scored 13 points in the second quarter. From then on they continued to drop scores which were mostly due to the fast break. The Bronx's scoring was scattered because of the inaccuracy of their many shots. The locals scored only seven points during the second half while Niles Center accounted for 14 points.

Huels and Boyk shared the scoring honors for Niles with 13 points

Methodist Defeats Salem Quintet in Overtime Thriller

Baptists Rally to Win Over St. Anne in Church Tills Monday

By winning the most closely contested game of the season, Methodist kept undisputed lead of the league with two straight victories. Salem dropped to second place with two wins and a defeat.
