

Mrs. P. R. Drover, Rev. W. A. Stauffer on P-T.A. Program

Founders' Day Celebrated at Meeting Held Tuesday Evening

Founders' Day was observed by the Parent-Teacher association at its program in the school auditorium Tuesday evening. Mrs. P. R. Drover discussed "Forty Years of Service" and Rev. W. A. Stauffer "Family Relationship to Character Education."

Mrs. Drover told how the idea of a P-T.A. was conceived by Mrs. Alice McClellan Birney of Washington, D. C. in 1897, how a small group of women held conferences every afternoon, met with Mrs. Grover Cleveland, put on a great publicity campaign and held the first "Mothers' Council" November 17, 1897. It was attended by 2000 persons.

"To cure" was the voice of the past, "to prevent," the voice of today, the speaker said.

Illinois joined the organization in 1901 and in 1924, the name was changed to its present one, "National Congress of Parents and Teachers." Through four decades there has been practically no change in its objectives—just an expansion, she said.

Rev. Stauffer related how character education begins in the home and rests primarily with the parents. They must give a child the feeling that he is a part of the family group and must help him develop a sense of comradeship, kindness, cooperation and unity, he said.

"It is our task to cultivate the type of personality which will make our child fit into his place in life—a dependable, upright, livable, lovable, likeable being, he concluded.

Other numbers on the program included the presentation of colors by four boy scouts, a salute to the flag and three musical numbers by the boys' glee club under the direction of Miss Adelaide Ewing.

"100 Men and a Girl," Deanna Durbin Hit, Showing at Catlow

The girl who has the most unusual singing voice in motion picture, Deanna Durbin, is the star of "100 Men and a Girl," a comedy drama with music, which opened at the Catlow Wednesday, and which shows on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Deanna first charmed you when she sang over the radio. The spotlighted you with her memorable performance in "Three Smart Girls." Now she will capture you in her latest production. Featured with her in the offering is Leopold Stokowski, one of the world's foremost orchestra conductors. He has developed a new method of reproducing music for the screen which will thrill your senses. The film is being shown as a benefit for the Barrington Women's club.

Some screen comedies have one comedian. Some have two. A few have three. Power still have four. "100 Men and a Girl," which has been booked into the Catlow for Saturday has seven. For good measure there are also John King, Barbara Read and Joy Hodge, a new singing sensation and a chorus of 24 cuties. The big, big laugh is Universal's "Four Horsemen of Hilarity," Misha Auer, Jimmie Savo, Billy House and Bert Lahr, the latter three direct from Broadway's most famous musical comedies. In no less important roles will be seen Alice Brady, Louise Fazenda, Joy Hodge, and John King.

Alice Faye, more glamorous and beautiful than ever before, singing the hit songs of the year, and for the first time on the screen dancing, the art which brought her to the screen in the beginning.

George Murphy in the hilarious role of a waiter who becomes a millionaire for a week, wins the love of a Broadway star and figures in the headline romance of the century!

These two favorites of the screen, together with an all star cast of the world's most brilliant entertainers were swirled together in a lavish cocktail of melody, laughter and grandeur to produce "You're a Sweetheart," playing Sunday and Monday at the Catlow. With Bonnie Jones scheduled to be married in the Jones family's latest picture "Borrowing Trouble," coming on Tuesday at the Catlow, Shirley Deane, who is cast in the role, picked six of her classmates from 30th century Fox school to act as her bridesmaids for the screen ceremony.

"Empty Saddles," starring Buck Jones, and featuring Louise Brooks and Gertrude Astor, plays the double feature bill Tuesday with "Borrowing Trouble."

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Froebel

Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 8 W. 40th St. New York

"Inferiority"

"Oh, those Fleming children are all so painfully slow to learn! Why the two older boys remained in one grade in school for two years, and this little one, Bill, has just started!" Mrs. Todd was indulging in a talk across the fence with her neighbor, Mrs. Bart.

"Very likely he'll be just as stupid!" responded Mrs. Bart.

There was a sound on the path and Bill Fleming darted past.

"Hope he didn't hear!" whispered Mrs. Todd.

"Good thing he did! Make him work, perhaps."

But six-year old Bill trotted on to school with a vague ache in his little heart. The Flemings could not learn—he himself was like the rest. It was something sad that couldn't be helped.

He'd heard similar remarks before and the "hoodoo" hung over him, making him shy, self-conscious, afraid. How different was Cyril Small, the bright boy, who always jumped to open the door for teacher. He was always chosen to run errands, to go to the store-room for a supply of pencils, or up to the principal's room with a note.

But today there was a new teacher, a substitute, in place of Miss Strong, one Bill had never seen before. She was a pretty girl with kindly eyes. She looked straight at the lad and said, "Will you work these examples on the board, so that the rest may correct theirs by your answers?"

Bill looked around in bewilderment—not that he was afraid of the task—number work was his hobby, with a school exercise bothered to complete his homework in school. He hesitated.

Cyril Small jumped to his feet. "Please, Miss, Bill isn't very good at numbers. He always gets D's."

"I'd like Bill to try," she answered, looking kindly at the boy and smiling.

Bill walked up and quickly worked the whole set correctly. He hadn't done them in his book. What's the use—when you're the prize student in the school?"

Silent surprise spread through the room. Bill had been asked to do something and had done it well. A vague sense of self-esteem was at that moment awakened in Bill's breast. The attitude of his fellows toward him was changed.

"Give a dog a bad name—might as well hang him," are words as true today as when they were first uttered. To have someone believe in us is a tremendous help. And this surely is the loving privilege of those at home. If our families have no faith in us, who will have genuine praise, honestly given, is to a timid child as fresh costs to a dying fire. In fact the realization of one's own ability is the beginning of success in life.

Of course there is the other extreme to guard against. We all know the mother's darling who is called to show off on every occasion. This child gets an exaggerated opinion of his importance. But honest praise for anything well done or even bravely attempted, may be given unthinkingly.

One mother whose little girl was doing well with her music tried to show her daughter that this gift should be used to serve others. So Mona was called upon to play at her party while her guests carried on a game. Here was a new idea—no one listening or admiring the girl at the piano, but the game and the pleasure of others depending upon her playing well. So she patiently kept on, with pauses between her selections for a full half hour, though she would have liked to stop and join in the game herself.

Outstanding ability, even in small things, brings with it the joyous opportunity for service, and this thought should be planted very early in a child's mind. But the boy or girl who is made to feel inferior is hindered in self-expression. In this way he is retarded in development and so prevented from making his best possible contribution to society.

Miss Orpha White, executive secretary of the Lake County Tuberculosis association, reported 1,150 cases had been realized from the annual Christmas Seal sale in the county to January 31, 1938. This was $215.59 short of last year's total. The work of the Lake County Tuberculosis association is financed by the proceeds from the annual Christmas Seal sale.

Dr. Charles K. Petter, superintendent and medical director of the Lake county tuberculosis sanatorium gave a "General Discussion of the Tuberculosis Situation—Past, Present and Future." A summary report of the condition of the closed First State Bank of Palatine was released last week by Edward J. Barrett, state auditor, through the office of Charles H. Albers, general receiver. Mr. Albers has prepared a statement on the eventual liquidation although future payments are problematical.

Following is his report: Bank owes RFC about $14,000, being the balance due on loan made to aid in the last distribution; indicated assistance from the stock assessment receiver may make possible a small distribution early in 1938; indications are that the 27 per cent previously paid may eventually rise from 40 to 50 per cent.

Druggan to Appeal Foreclosure Order

All exhibits, testimony and the master's report in the foreclosure suit against Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan and her son, Terrence, are to be embodied in the record for appeal to the appellate court taken by the Druggans from the Lake county circuit court, it was learned this week.

The court ordered the sale of the 240-acre farm at Prairie View, operated by Druggan, on a foreclosure by Hugo Pick, a trustee, on a $24,000 mortgage. The farm property is scheduled to be sold on the auction block by Special Master in Chancery L. Eric Carey on March 10 to pay up the amount of mortgage and costs totalling $29,725.

INTO THE KETTLE

Men of Barrington are going to be given a chance to name their "culinary favorites" in this column one week of each month.

Many have cooking as an indoor hobby—finding it great fun to surprise guests with a tricky dish of their own concoction.

Others prefer suggesting ways of cooking certain dishes or the feminine part of the household do the actual preparing.

Today Vernon Gallagher pops suggestions for a New England boiled dinner "Into the Kettle." Won't the rest of you follow suit and show the ladies that men have definite culinary ideas—worthy of attention?

In addition to the nine children living, there was one son George, who died last year. There are 14 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Fine Specimens Will Encourage "Plant a Tree" Campaign for 1938

A community can be as beautiful as its trees, and planting and replacing at this time will make railroad, once the artery of life for three towns, was purchased recently by Clarence Sattelmeyer and taken on its last ride to Whitney Point, on the southwest side of the lake, where it is to be converted into a resort building.

Started in the late 1800's, the railroad led a stormy career in its effort to gain sufficient revenue to exist. It was placed in receivership eventually and the equipment either sold or allowed to rot away. Most of the rails are now gone from the right-of-way and the old depot at Lake Zurich, where it stood near the center of town, was the last relic. The late Charles Kohl of Lake Zurich had been one of the first agents. Emil Pickle, from whose parents some of the property for a right-of-way was obtained, also served in that capacity for years.

The advent of the automobile and subsequent trucking and bus service proved to be too much competition for the line which ran to Wauconda from a junction point with the C & N W at Palatine. A Schert of Barrington contracted for the hauling job.

ESSENTIALS OF U. S. DEMOCRACY

A short time ago, a number of senators, principally members of the majority party, conferred with a view to creating a definite program for promoting recovery. Their conclusions, embraced in ten proposals, were presented to the senate by Josiah Bailey of North Carolina. A digest of these ten vitally important points follows:

1. The capital gains tax and the undistributed profits tax should be thoroughly revised at once, so as to encourage the normal flow of savings into productive enterprise.
2. A start should be made toward balancing the federal budget, in order that public credit may be preserved and fears which deter investment, ended.
3. The constitutional guarantees of the right of the worker to work, and of the owner of property to its possession, must be preserved and enforced.
4. Government should stay out of fields which belong in the realm of private industry—and if the government does propose to compete in any field, due notice should be given so that private investment may avoid it.
5. The competitive system must be maintained—as against either private or government monopoly, and business' right to a reasonable profit must be guaranteed.
6. Private credit must be preserved—and that means that the nation's collateral on which all credit depends, must be preserved.
7. There must be an assurance that taxes will not be further increased, and that they will be reduced at the earliest possible time.
8. States' rights, home rule and local self-government must be vigorously maintained, unless proven definitely inadequate.
9. The needy must be aided under a system which is non-political and non-partisan.
10. Lastly, the nation should rely, in the future, as in the past, upon the principles that have made America great. If congress will adopt it, it will make a magnificent contribution not only to recovery, but to the maintenance of U. S. democracy.

WORD MEANINGS

Many of the words we use nowadays have ceased to have any meaning.

The word democracy, for instance, is now used by the communists. Democracy means the rule of the people. Communism means the rule of the proletariat—that is, rulership by only one class of people, the very lowest. And they purpose to exterminate the middle and upper classes. That is not democracy (which means all the people) but oligarchy.

The "radicals" call fundamentalist and constitutionalist Americans "reactionaries," whereas a reactionary means one who seeks to return to ancient and outworn forms of social and political organization—such for instance, as those that make the state all powerful and abolish the common rights of individuals.

Reactionaries are actually thus fascists, communists and socialists.

A liberal used to mean one who was opposed to centralization and regimentation in those matters that concern the individual alone. Today men call themselves "liberals" who support every crackpot scheme to make the individual a parasitic growth on the general public. They now call these schemes "social legislation."—By Benjamin DeCasseres in The Washington Herald.

A SOUND GOAL FOR AGRICULTURE

An authority on agriculture recently said: "The real goal of American farmers and their cooperative associations is not to practice 'scarcity economies' and maximize farm income through tight control.

"The real goal is to so organize and utilize the nation's capacity to produce food and clothing materials as to give all consumers the maximum capacity to consume the diet that makes for full health and vigor, and to be well clothed at moderate cost."

Here is a sound program. Any agricultural movement which thinks only of benefiting the farmer and disregards the rights and desires of the consumer, is rightly foredoomed to failure.

FREE PRESS?

Dean Carl Ackerman of Columbia university, has made an exceptionally interesting map, showing how censorship of the press has spread throughout the world.

In practically all of the Far East, freedom of the press is unknown—the U.S.S.R., China, Japan, Turkey, Arabia, Egypt and other countries rigidly control their periodicals, and in India, Belgian Congo and French West Africa, there is some measure of government control.

In Europe a truly free press is enjoyed only by the inhabitants of England, France, Sweden, Norway and Finland. On this continent, the press is completely free in the United States, Mexico, Canada (except for the province of Quebec) and part of South America.

Since 1930, the legal reserve life insurance companies have paid to American citizens $21,600,000,000—a sum 12 times greater than the total war debts of all Europe at present in default and owing to the United States.

This WEEK in WASHINGTON

By RALPH E. CHURCH
Representative, 10th Congressional District

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—On January 21st the house passed the navy department appropriation bill providing for an expenditure of $549,227,842 for the next fiscal year. This is the largest sum allotted for naval purposes since the fiscal year 1926-27.

One week later, on January 23, the president submitted a message to congress recommending the enactment of legislation which would authorize additional appropriations for both our military and naval forces. Almost immediately the chairman of the house committee on naval affairs introduced a bill authorizing a $500 million naval program in accordance with the president's recommendations.

For the last several days the house committee on naval affairs has been holding public hearings on this bill. Being a member of the committee I do not feel at liberty to pass judgment on the pending legislation until the admirals have explained to the committee the necessity for the program and until we have heard such testimony as may be offered by parties opposed to the bill. But I believe I can with propriety say that there are a great many people—members of congress and private citizens—who are inclined to believe that the president's billion dollar armament expansion program when finally disclosed, represents more than a purely defensive program.

It is true that in his message to congress the president emphasized the fact that he made the recommendations "specifically and solely because of the rising up of additional land and sea armaments in other countries, in such manner as to involve a threat to world peace and security." It is also true that in his testimony before the naval affairs committee, Admiral W. D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, repeated several times his original statement: "There is nothing in this program that would permit of aggressive action, of poisoning the world, or of projecting an attack against the territory of any other naval power."

In spite of these assurances of the purely defensive nature of the armament expansion program now before us, the president's recommendations have created public anxiety and fears lest it ultimately may mean our becoming involved in a war. Many are not sure the president has made known the precise policy that motivates his proposal. Insofar as any sentiment can be analyzed at all, there seem to be three underlying reasons for these misgivings and fears in connection with the proposed armament program.

First, some have their misgivings because of the personal characteristics and philosophy of the president as an individual. This feeling can be explained by a quotation from a recent magazine article by the eminent historian Charles A. Beard. He writes:

"Hovers over the scene is the prospect of war. That President Roosevelt would struggle to the last ditch to keep the country out of foreign wars may well be doubted. He has, to be sure, expressed hostility to the war. But realities in politics, while accepting the sincerity of his present intentions, take no stock in such declarations of rules anywhere. Besides, President Roosevelt is more or less obsessed by the universal philanthropy of Woodrow Wilson. Like Wilson, he feels that America is morally bound to do good everywhere and imagines himself able to know the good in each and every case."

Second, some have their fears and misgivings because of the president's speech at Chicago. In that speech he spoke of the necessity for a concerted effort in opposition to treaty violations. "The necessity of 'positive endeavors' might be improved by peace-loving nations against aggressive nations. Congress wishes to keep out of war. It will no doubt adopt the president's armament expansion program. But it will do so simply because it is convinced that it is necessary for an adequate defense. Yet there will be these misgivings and fears that more than a defense of our own shores motivates the president."

County Farmers Can Go Ahead With 1938 Plans, Says Adviser
Lake county farmers need not wait until passage of additional farm legislation to start planning their 1938 farming operations, according to C. A. Faulkner.

"Farmers in Lake county who follow good farm and soil management practices usually have a substantial percentage of their farms in legumes and grasses and also have a corn acreage that is 75 to 80 per cent as large as the average corn acreage for the community," Mr. Faulkner said.

"Such farmers should find themselves in line to comply rather fully with any provisions that may be embodied in any farm legislation for 1938," he continued.

"Past experience has indicated that those farmers who have followed good systems of farm and soil management have usually had greater average net returns and have been able to conserve both soil fertility and soil better than those who have followed a more exploitative system of farming."

"The business of farming is largely the conversion of soil fertility into crops, livestock and livestock products. Farm income is derived from the sale of this fertility from the land. Intelligent farming makes provision for replenishing this fertility when the supply gets low. Systems of farming which include such provisions justify themselves in both increased net returns and less impoverished soils," he concluded.

Jewel Tea's Period Sales Up 8 Per Cent

Jewel Tea Co., Inc. reports that its sales for the four weeks ending January 23, 1938, were $1,824,299.59 as compared with $1,658,081.63 for parallel weeks in 1937, an increase of 8.19 per cent.

Local Driver's Car Hits Stalled Auto in Fog Near Elgin

A stalled car hidden by the dense fog early Sunday morning was blamed for a three-car accident on route 25 two miles north of Elgin in which Reese Martens, 440 North avenue, received minor bruises.

Mr. Martens was traveling north of route 25 when his machine struck a car stalled at the edge of the pavement. The machine was owned by Robert Baser, rural route 3, Elgin. The third car, driven by Elmer Eggert, 8 Van Buren street, Dundee, also northbound, narrowly avoided hitting the other machines. Eggert swerved into the ditch and his car overturned. He escaped with minor injuries, as did occupants of the other cars.

Five of these women will be eliminated by vote. The remaining seven will be judged by some prominent artist.

Ela Cagers Clinch Conference Title by Beating Bronchos 34 to 18

Lake Zurich Team Stands Undisputed After Best Season

Locals to Meet Crystal Lake There Saturday; Season Ends Feb. 25

The Northwest conference leaders from the Lake township high school gave the Barrington Bronchos a 34 to 18 trouncing on the Lake Zurich floor last Friday evening. This was the next to last conference game for the Bronchos, the last being with Lake Forest on February 15 in the local gym.

The Ela squad used its main threats, the two Gleason brothers, to good advantage Friday and in so doing clinched the conference championship title. The two boys scored 27 out of the 34 points between them. Ela's captain, Art Leuthesser, gave the Bronchos some brilliant ballhandling all through the game.

Drop Behind

The Bronchos did not show the speed with which they beat Niles Center the week before and they only scored three field goals all during the first half while Lake Zurich accounted for 16 points, 14 by the Gleasons. The Bronchos substituted freely but this didn't seem to have any effect on the determined league leaders. Scoring for Barrington was scattered during the contest although they did make a fairly good final period when they dropped two field goals and four free throws and held Ela to only seven points. Schroeder, Ela forward who intercepted many of the Bronchos passes, went out on fouls early in the last quarter. Statistics show that Barrington dropped six out of 15 free throws and Ela sank four out of 12. Lyle Gleason led all scorers with eight field goals and a charity toss for a total of 17 points.

The victory over Barrington clinched the unofficial title of conference champion for the Lake Zurich team, this being the first year in the history of the school in which they won the title.

Ponies Drop Thriller

The Ponies dropped one of the fastest games played this season to the Ela lights after leading at the three-quarter mark, 16 to 15. Ela held the locals to one point and scored eight themselves the last period. The final score was 23 to 17. Gruesling of Barrington was high point man with eight points. Strayer of Ela scored seven points to be a close second.

Next Saturday the Bronchos travel to Crystal Lake for their second chance at the Crystal Lake Cagers who have a season's record of 12 wins against two defeats. Crystal Lake defeated the local quintet in an early season game, 34 to 25. The game will be non-conference.

Three Teams Tie for First Place as Schedule Ends

Playoff to Begin Between St. Paul, Methodist and Salem Fives

Three teams—Methodist, Salem and St. Paul, tied for first place in the local church cage league during the regular schedule which was concluded at the high school gym Monday night. It all came about as St. Paul handed the erstwhile leading Methodist quintet its second defeat of the season by a 23 to 16 score. This jumped St. Paul and Salem into the top spot along with Methodist each sporting a record of six victories and two defeats in the regular eight game schedule.

It was decided that to determine an undisputed league champ a play-off would start immediately among the three co-leaders. A drawing among team representatives revealed that St. Paul and Methodist would meet again next Monday night, the winner of that game clinching with Salem the following week for the title. There will be no league tournament this year so in a preliminary game Monday Baptist will tackle St. Anne.

A tough defense featured by the work of guards E. Altenburg and Mollenkamp, coupled with Methodist inability at the free throw line, was largely the reason for St. Paul's victory over Methodist Monday. Playing aggressive ball St. Paul led 11-9 at the half, 19-9 at the third quarter, and 23-16 at the final gun.

Methodist made only six out of 20 chances from the free throw line while St. Paul sank five out of 10 charity tosses. Salem ran up the highest score of the season in beating St. Anne 51 to 22 in the opening game Monday. In a free scoring melee Dave Capull, St. Anne, counted 18 points while N. Grabenkott and Overhue of Salem made 16 to 15 respectively.

Q. What prohibitory clause as to bank notes was passed by this assembly?

A. The circulation of bank notes of a denomination less than five dollars was prohibited.

Q. When did the last general assembly to sit at Vandalia adjourn?

A. March 4, 1839.

Q. Who were appointed agents to sell bonds for Internal Improvements in the United States and Europe?

A. Ex-Governor Reynolds and Senator Richard M. Young.

Q. What II-advised negotiations did Reynolds and Young make in New York?

A. In 1839 they sold and delivered in New York 300 bonds, agreeing to accept payment therefor in monthly installments—the last of which did not fall due on January 15, 1840—under which arrangement the interest on all deferred payments was lost.

Q. What negotiation was made in Philadelphia?

A. 1000 bonds, representing $1,000,000 were negotiated with Thomas Dunlap of that city, payments for which were also to be made in installments, and in U. S. bank notes which before the state received them had depreciated 10 per cent costing the state not only interest but $100,000 besides.

Q. What resulted from negotiations in bonds in England?

A. 1000 bonds ($1,000,000) were deposited with John Wright & Co. in London, which company was authorized to sell them. About half the bonds were sold at 91 pounds on the 100 pounds, and the firm failed before the proceeds of the sale had been paid over.

Q. What was the net result of these bond negotiations by the end of 1839?

A. Bonds sold to the State Bank and the Bank of Illinois totaled as capital therein, $2,485,000; Internal improvement bonds sold in the United States, $3,187,000; Internal improvement bonds disposed of in London, $1,500,000.

Q. What of the projected internal improvements under the large scheme sponsored during the 1830s was completed?

A. A railroad from Meredosia on the Illinois river to Springfield, a distance of 51 miles.

Q. What happened to this strip of railroad?

A. It was leased to individuals and operated, generally at a loss, until 1845 when it was abandoned. It finally was bought by Nicholas H. Ridgely of Springfield for $23,000.

Q. What amusing incident ran the price up to $21,000 at the public auction?

A. Ridgely, without competition, practically had the road for $10,000 when suddenly a speculator who was going around in a barber shop across the street leaped from his chair and running across to the auction entered the bid for $21,000.

Q. Was the auctioning of this railroad a good move from a financial standpoint for the state?

A. Had the state retained ownership a few more years it could have realized 20 times the amount gained from this sale.

Barn Near Wauconda Destroyed By Fire

A barn and its entire contents were destroyed by fire of unknown origin on the old Chris Hapke farm, located on route 176, between Mundelein and Wauconda, last Wednesday evening. The farm is now owned by Dr. R. W. Gobel of Forest Park.

The fire was discovered about six o'clock by Joseph Bonk, tenant on the farm, who was milking cows in another barn. He was reported to have seen flames coming from the structure and, after first ordering members of the household to summon the fire department at Wauconda, he made a vain effort to remove a tractor from the blazing building.

Both the Wauconda and Libertyville fire departments responded to the calls but the blaze had gained considerable headway and efforts were confined to preventing a spread of the flames to adjoining buildings and straw stacks.

The razed barn housed a complete set of farm implements, all of which were a total loss with an estimated damage of $4000.

First Conviction for Stealing Electricity

For the first time in Illinois a man was sent to the penitentiary for the theft of electricity when Judge Robert J. Dunne in criminal court sentenced Gust Menegas, a Chicago restaurant owner, to from 1 to 10 years on a charge of grand larceny. Evidence showed that Menegas had stolen $3500 worth of electricity by diverting current around the meter. Menegas was indicted a year ago but was freed when a motion to quash the indictment was sustained on the grounds that electricity was not tangible and could not be stolen. The question was then carried to the state supreme court where a reversal was won by Assistant States Attorney Robert Wright.
