Mrs. J. M. Boddie to Discuss Radio for Woman's Club

Girl Scouts Special Guests at Meeting April 6 in Methodist Church

"Radio, the Fifth Estate," will be the topic of Mrs. John M. Boddie's address before the Barrington Woman's Club on Wednesday, April 6. The meeting will be held in the Methodist church and will begin at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Boddie, it was learned, first became interested in radio 15 years ago when her son became an amateur operator. Her lecture will seek to evaluate the social force of radio by discussing its history, development, and social significance, it was reported.

She has been active in radio broadcasting, having been on a commercial series for 26 weeks. The speaker has attended many conferences on educational broadcasting and is in contact with the industry in numerous ways.

In addition to Mrs. Boddie, the Woman's Club program will present musical numbers by the Girl's Chorus, Jewel Tea company.

The observance of the 100th anniversary week, the hostess committee has invited a number of girl scouts to assist it. The scouts will pour and serve tea at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Willard Watson is chairman, and assisting her will be: Mrs. Clifford Stout, Mrs. R. D. Sturtevant, Mrs. Donald Titterton, Mrs. Achil Van Oostende, Mrs. H. H. Walker, Mrs. Ernest Walbaum, Mrs. Harold W. Wams, Mrs. John Welch, Mrs. R. D. Wells, Mrs. Harry W. Wewetzer, Mrs. E. F. Wichman, Mrs. Emily Wilder, Mrs. A. M. Wilkins, Mrs. Orin Wold, Mrs. Walter Wolf, Mrs. Emil W. Wolf, Miss Fern Work, Mrs. H. G. Zander and Mrs. Frank Zunker.

The final meeting of the club year will be held at Barrington Hills Country club on April 20. Lucille Calvert, dramatic artist, will present "Sketches."

Building Activity Makes Start; Total of $2300 in Permits

Building activity after being dormant for two months in the village got off to a slow start during the month of March when two building permits totaling $250 were issued by Harold Garbisch, building commissioner. During January and February no permits were issued.

A permit was issued to Charles Thies to remodel a store front at 114 E. Main street at an estimated cost of $800, while the second was issued to Maurice L. Dusseau to remodel a residence on 250 Dusseau avenue at an estimated cost of $1500. The amount for March of this year exceeds that of the previous year when only one permit was issued. That was given to Floyd Plagge for a greenhouse addition, totaling $2000.

Open Beauty Shop at Lake Zurich Monday

Formal opening of the Vanity Beauty Shoppe at Farman's hotel in Lake Zurich will be made by Miss La Fern Blechle of Barrington is managing the shop, which is owned by Mrs. Florence Lampecht and Mrs. Melva Rehberg, operators of the Barrington shop of the same name.

A complete line of beauty equipment has been installed and the shop in Lake Zurich able to give the same service as the one in Barrington, the owners believe.

The reception room is finished in ivory with a natural wood trim. Tables and furniture are of hazel wood with antique ivory upholstering and rust trim. Salmon pink is the predominating color in the shop.

The Barrington shop has been newly decorated in grey wood-work, new chairs and a neon sign being attractive innovations this week. The new spring uniforms of the attendants are grey also.

Market Exists Here for Chicken Houses

A market exists in the Barrington community for chicken houses. Several answers to the following "for sale" ad published in The Review last week were received:

"Chicken House, size 12-12, (description) Mr. P. Castle, Barrington."

The chicken house was sold to one of the persons replying.

Take Lead in Spring Clean-Up

Above are, (left to right), Rex Henderson, Paul Purcell, village superintendent of streets, and Ed Nicolai, whose picture was taken last week while the village was engaged in the annual street cleanup work. A large amount of debris has been collected during the past two weeks by the crews working under Mr. Purcell, he stated.

Village President Earl Hatic in a letter to residents of Barrington this week has asked for a community-wide drive during clean-up week starting May 2. He has proposed that all groups, clubs, churches and organizations join in the movement.

Press reports from many other localities show that concerted efforts are being made in those places to have the annual spring program successful from a civic point of view.

A number of suggestions on how to assist in making the drive are in Mr. Hatic's possession, and are being given his consideration for local use, it was learned.

Village Ordinance Amended to Cover All-Night Parking

Cars Parked in Residential Area Must Have Lights on at Night

All-night parking in the residential areas of the village was given attention at the village board meeting Monday night with trustees offering a number of solutions to the problem. The subject was introduced a week ago by Earl Hatic, village president.

An amendment to the local ordinance, requiring that cars parked in the residential districts have their parking lights turned on from dusk to dawn, was suggested by Trustee John Daescher, chairman of the police committee, and seconded by Trustee R. F. Kocher.

The amendment is patterned after others adopted by nearby communities in their efforts to control all-night parking and remove the danger of auto accidents.

A proposal was broached at the last meeting previous to Monday night that parking on the residential streets all-night be eliminated entirely. Several complaints were leveled by the board that the proposal, when known, it was defeated.

The amendment is designed to discourage all-night parking by creating unfavorable restrictions.

The trustees agreed that village parking conditions needed attention, and were particularly opposed to leaving cars on the street all night, both for police regulation and safety first.

Mr. Daescher stated that parking lots are needed in the village and Mr. Hatic pointed out several places that might be suitable.

Brandt Dairy Moves into New Building on Northwest Hwy.

Brandt's Dairy, formerly located at 208 James street, has been moving its plant this week to the new modern building on West Northwest highway, and now has office, pasteurization and bottling equipment and garage in the new home.

The dairy was established late in 1934 by Ray Brandt. He has a pasteurization plant in the James street building in 1935. The company is now in a wide business including both retail and wholesale of pasteurized milk and other dairy products.

A formal opening in the new building will be held in April.

Passes State Bar Exam

Edwin P. Vanderwick Jr., 610 Summit street, Barrington, received the good news this week that he has just passed the state bar exam at Springfield, thus putting him on the "big lists."

He is a graduate of John Marshall law school, Chicago. He received his B.S. from Northwestern university, and was graduated from Harvard graduate school of business administration. He is now an official of the American Institute of Banking.

Deputize H. Coffman at Meeting Monday

Harry Coffman was made a special watchman and deputized by the village of Barrington at a meeting held Monday night. His name was placed on the village payroll as a nominal employee and he will be covered by compensation insurance, although he is not to receive a salary from the village. He was deputized by A. C. Burandt, village clerk.

In order to maintain jurisdiction over Mr. Coffman, who is engaged privately by local business houses to make night patrols and be released from liability in determining him, it was decided to the board that he be placed on the payroll and thus automatically be covered by compensation insurance.

It was estimated that an additional premium of $30 a year will be paid by the village due to this action, but the majority of trustees feel the added protection the village is receiving balanced that expenditure. During the month, only one night patrolman is on duty from the village police force, it was pointed out, and having an additional watchman, although not paid by the village, subject to call in emergency is desirable.

The motion to take the action was made by Trustee John Daescher, chairman of the police committee, and seconded by Trustee John Carroll. With the exception of Trustee John Blanke, who voted no, members of the board voted in favor of the motion.

H. Kelsey Endorsed By Officials Assn.

Harold D. Kelsey, of Cuba township, candidate for republican nomination for state representative from the eighth senatorial district, received the endorsement of the Lake County Township and County Officials association Monday for nomination at the April 12 primaries.

A resolution adopted by the association said that in consideration of Mr. Kelsey's "valuable services rendered in the capacity of supervisor from the town of Cuba, and as a member of the legislative committee of the board of supervisors,"

Mr. Kelsey was qualified to perform the duties of a state representative.

Two Town Meetings Scheduled Tuesday

Appropriations and other items of business will be brought up for attention of residents of the towns of Cuba and Barrington at their respective meetings to be held Tuesday April 5. Both meetings will begin at 8 p.m.

Residents of the town of Barrington will meet in the council rooms of the village hall on South Hough street. Voters of the town of Cuba will meet at the Standard Motor salesroom, 202 Railroad street. V. D. Hawley, supervisor of the town of Barrington, and H. D. Kelsey, supervisor of the town of Cuba, will preside over the meetings.

Called to Iowa

Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Grace Cannon, 509 S. Cook street, for several weeks, were called to St. Charles, Ia., Friday because of the death of a brother-in-law of Mr. Arnold.

The chicken house was sold to one of the persons replying.

Clean Up Citizens of Barrington:

In accordance with the custom of many years, Barrington will conduct a "Clean-Up" campaign during the week of May 2nd.

The success of this campaign against rubbish, ashes, tin cans, weeds, etc. If you own a vacant lot or a premise that is rented out, let it to a good neighbor. If you know the owner of a vacant lot or premise that needs cleaning up a hint might be helpful.

If there is a location in your neighborhood that is habitually used as a dumping ground or has the appearance of a dumping ground, please communicate with the chief of police and the village will try to get it cleaned up for you.

Your cooperation in making this clean-up campaign a success will be sincerely appreciated.

Yours truly,
EARL HATIC,
Village President

On the following day those possessing the cards for Monday were given cards again. By Friday the field had been narrowed to 50 boys and girls. Mr. Clarke stated.

Winners of this year's contest were Shirley Blechle and Esther Holtz.

Plans for an additional water reservoir for the village of Barrington underwent several changes during a discussion of the matter at a special board of trustees meeting Monday night.

It was first proposed that a reservoir be built on the site and capacity as the present one, or a capacity of 240,000 gallons, be built. It was found that an additional structure this size is not possible because the ground space is not available at the village hall.

John A. Fulman, engineer from Conover, Townsend and Quinlan, village engineers, was present at the meeting and went over the matter with the trustees.

It was decided to erect a reservoir having a capacity of 177,000 gallons and being 35 feet by 48 feet in size. This is approximately 70 per cent of the size of the existing reservoir in operation.

It is to be located at the southwest corner of the village property on Hough street.

The estimated cost of the structure, divided on the basis of size, is equal to the amount of space the village has for the improvement.

It was stated that the reservoir could be built at an estimated cost of approximately $30,000, of which the village would pay 25 per cent or $7500. All plans and estimates are being prepared and based on the premise that the work is to be done with WPA assistance.

At present only the newer reservoir is being used by the water department, and last year the sanitary water board threatened condemnation on the old brick reservoir if the village continued to use it, and it was found to be leaking badly, so it was abandoned.

In the plan for erecting the new reservoir, changing of the village garage and "hobo" house to a new location on the village property are also contemplated.

Local Garden Club Will Have Exhibit at Chicago Show

To Have Display of Potted Plants at Navy Pier April 2 to 10

The Garden Club of Barrington will have an exhibit at the annual Chicago Flower Show at Navy Pier in Chicago, which opens April 2 and continues until April 10, according to plans made at a board of directors meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Work, club president, Wednesday. Luncheon was served by the hostess.

The local garden club will have an exhibit of potted plants, it was decided. Mrs. Frank Hecht will also have an exhibit of two very fine specimens of Chinese oaks (Crassulus Arborescens).

The Chicago show will be the twelfth annual event in its history. All garden clubs in Illinois are eligible to enter, and according to announcements, close to 90 out of the 120 clubs have taken exhibit space.

At the directors' meeting held at Mrs. Work's home Wednesday afternoon a discussion on a revision of by laws also took place.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Garden Club of Illinois will be held April 18 at the Palmer House in Chicago.

Present "King of Kings"

"King of Kings," a movie portrayal of the Passion play, will be presented at St. Anne church school auditorium Wednesday, April 6, at 7:45 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Catholic Women's club of Barrington.

Galaxy of Stars Featured in "The Goldwyn Follies"

Screen Hit Coming Sunday; "Mannequin" Billed for Wednesday

America's most picturesque city, New Orleans, during its most colorful period, the years just after it had been purchased by the United States from France, is the setting for "The Buccaneer," which is playing at the Catlow Theatre Thursday and Friday.

It is a New Orleans that has almost vanished in the bustling commercialism of our times. It is a city where Jean Louis, the piper king, whose part Freddie March plays in the film, can sell his contraband openly in defiance of the customs authorities and get away with it.

Francis, Gaal, glamorous impersonation from Budapest, makes her American debut in "The Buccaneer."

Stark terror grips the screen in "The Devil's Fury," in "Penitentiary," showing at the Catlow Sunday. Blasting through an inferno of blazing bullets to have the breaking hearts of a boy braved as a killer—and of the warden's daughter who dared to love him!

The most amazing array of stellar talent ever assembled in a single production is presented in "The Goldwyn Follies," which begins a two day engagement at the Catlow Saturday.

Drawing from every field of entertainment to augment a screen cast headed by Adolphe Menjou, The Ritz Brothers, Andrea Leeds, Ella Logan, Jerome Cowan and The Gorgeous Goldwyn Girls, the producer secured radio's Edgar Bergen and "Charlie McCarthy" Phil Baker and Kenny Baker; grand opera's Helen Jepson and the stars of the stage's Zorba and George Balanchine's Russian Ballet, and the musical stage's favorite comedian, Bobby Clark.

When youngsters reach that "certain age" they shoot up like beanstalks, as any doting parent will tell you. Typical of these doting parents and their beanstalking offspring is America's famous Jones Family, whose middle daughter, Carol, has just reached the age when she is "entitled" to permanent waves and her own room at home.

June's advent into "young-lad- hood" is one of the hilarious sidelights of the family's latest hit, "Love on a Budget." It will come to the Catlow screen Tuesday.

Playing the double feature bill on Tuesday is "Prairie Thunder" starring Dick Foran, the singing cowboy, with Ellen Clancy and Frank Orth.

Spencer Tracy, for the first time in his screen career, competes with debonair William Powell, polished Adolphe Menjou, and others of the film's sartorial favorites for the title of "Hollywood's best-dressed actor." Making a complete about-face from such roles as the humble Portuguese fisherman in "Captain's Courageous," and the priest in "San Francisco," Tracy plays a wealthy steamship magnate in "Mannequin," which co-stars him with Joan Crawford, opening at the Catlow Wednesday for a three-day engagement. The wardrobe changes the picture, but no less than twenty outfits for Tracy, including the latest in morning, afternoon, evening and sport togs.

Mrs. Orville Meiners suggests a Lenten luncheon that is simple to prepare yet attractive and delicious.

Her main dish is the following:

ROCK CHICKEN PIE
1 small can tuna fish.
1 cup cooked peas.
1 small bunch carrots (diced).
1 onion.
2 small potatoes.

Cook onions, potatoes, carrots until tender. Make 1 cup cream sauce and combine with all ingredients. Put in buttered casserole. Top with biscuit crust. Bake in moderate oven (350°) until crust is brown.

With that Mrs. Meiners serves a "deep sea salad" which gives a flavor effect glimpsed through clear green lettuce.

1 pkg. lime jello.

Put one tablespoon of clear jello in mold for clear base.

To the rest add 1 pkg. cream cheese, 1 small can crushed pineapple. Whipe. Pour into mold. Serve on a lettuce leaf.

A delectable dessert to complete this meal is made as follows:

1 pound graham crackers.
1 pound dates.
1/2 pound marshmallows.
1 cup nuts.

1 cup whipping cream.

Roll crackers and combine with all other ingredients. Chill in mold or in square pan for cutting in squares. Serve with whipped cream and garnish with cherries or strawberries.

Lake County House Building Future Is Good, Expert Says

February was a good month for residential building contracts in the Lake county area. They were up 10 per cent, the survey figures show, and overshadowed the 1 per cent gain for most of the Lake county area. T. O. Morgan, Chicago manager of the Dodge corporation, points out that "residential building contracts made up most of the Lake county private total for February. In a survey of the 37 eastern states, it was found that residential contracts moved to the 46-million-dollar mark in February, from 26-million in January. The current general emphasis on home-building is credited with a large part of that gain."

In a grouping of all types of building and construction, the February total for the Lake county area was $76,000. The private-financed February contracts in the Lake area totalled $74,000. The publicly-financed contracts amounted to $2,000.

The movement in residential contracts during February, with a total of $59,000, gave the month a sharp rise over January's $16,000. This gain in Lake county was far ahead of the average gain of 10 per cent recorded for the 37 states.

Commuting Death Sentence

The power of the governor to commute a death sentence to life imprisonment originated in the second decade of last century after a man named Jacob Lewis of Zanesville had been condemned to death for murder and ordered to be hanged, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Up to this time no person or official group had even the power of a reprieve. But Lewis had influential friends who made a plea to the legislature for a commutation of his sentence. After much argument and discussion, the legislature passed a law giving the state's chief executive the power to reprove and commutation of sentence. Lewis' sentence was changed to life imprisonment.

Replica of Windsor Ring Is on Display

Royal Ring, a replica of the Duchesses of Windsor, is now on display in the windows of Whittingham Jewelers in Elgin. The ring was designed by H. W. Wood & Son, Inc. of Brooklyn, N. Y., under the personal supervision of the Reverend Jardine, who used the original in marrying the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. The ring has eight sides, which, according to the Reverend Jardine, signify Edward the Eighth.

The ring was recently on display at the New York Museum of Science and Industry in Rockefeller Center.

Taken to Hospital
Mrs. J. Baker, of Lake Forest, was taken to the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago Saturday for treatment.

Finances Important, Questionnaire Reveals

hour a month; general housework and care of children, receiving room and board at a private home in return for four hours of work each day.

Thirty-one boys indicated they were helping to earn their college finances—10 entirely and 19 partially. Boys seem to find jobs more easily than do girls at school.

These are examples of some of the jobs done by boys, as given on the questionnaire: waiter, cleaning and NYA—clerical $16-$25 a month; waiter, personnel $40 a month; landscaping and bookkeeping, $50 an hour; shopkeeper, $15 a month; waiter, helper on research, odd jobs, $40 a month; waiter, $10 and $20 a month; laboratory work, about 20 per cent of college expenses; library work, $18 a month; dishwashing, $15 a month; wait on tables, soften water, sell "hot dogs," $15 a month; library work, $15 a month; checking coats at dances, $15 a month; library work, $15 a month; library work, chaffeuring, industrial work, $15 a month; $8 a week; drafting for state, 40¢ an hour; NYA ass't, student's mother's cooperative dorm and in fraternity, $30 an hour.

From the data listed on this questionnaire, most college students are really working hard to get a high education and deserve praise for their efforts.

In response to the question, "What would you advise H. S. students to do in order to go on to school after graduation?", many worthwhile suggestions were given:

"Try first for a scholarship. Have a desire to get ahead. Any one who wants to sufficiently can go to college. Pick a suitable college or university."—(A boy who had all tuition paid through a scholarship.)

"Earn enough money to get started on school and go. There is a good chance you can find enough work available to continue."—(A boy.)

"I think it is better to work while I am in school. I have accumulated the necessary funds rather than work while I am in school."—(A boy.)

"I would advise every possible chance of getting a scholarship; select a school with high scholastic standing and relatively low tuition due to sufficient endowment; don't be afraid to do menial tasks."—(A boy with a scholarship.)

"Work your way at least partially. Do not borrow too much."—(A boy.)

"Continue schooling if at all possible. Night school is a solution."—(A boy.)

"Although I did not go to college

"First, have in mind that the following years will be one of hard work, not a college spree; secondly, that the building of the best program of the work will be a key to his or her third; if this is necessary, contact the school before the school session begins and find what work can be had."—(A Girl.)

"By all means start as a freshman to work for a scholarship. Girls can work their way through college, but it is inadvisable for girls to try. Important—Learn to study while in high school."—(A Girl.)

"Keep up scholastic standing, have a definite objective in view, work during summer vacations, or even one or two years in order to establish some financial foundation. During those years try constantly to build character; think in terms of your aims. Don't let little things change your original course."—(A College Girl.)

This WEEK in WASHINGTON

By RALPH E. CHURCH
Representative, 10th Congressional District

Pap, patronage, projects, politics and pressure!

That is probably the best way to summarize the method by which the administration has been driving the reorganization bill through the Senate. It is a clear-cut, accurate explanation for the success of the administration in defeating the meritorious Wheeler amendment which would enable Congress to retain some check of executive orders that may be issued under the delegated authority. It no doubt accounts for the successive defeats of several other meritorious amendments.

To be sure, no senator has specifically stated that he voted against some one amendment or the other of some popular project for his state. No one has publicly confessed submission to a threat of administration opposition to his candidacy for re-election unless he voted "right." Such could hardly be expected.

But statements have been made time and again during the debate by some senator that he has been given "assurances" that this, or that, or the other would not be done if the president were to go with the requested power. There have been frequent accusations of senators being whipped into line on threats and promises. Yet no administration senator has dared to deny such procedure was not being followed.

Courageous Senator Burton K. Wheeler, democrat, of Montana, appropriately suggested that the Senate lobby committee, headed by Senator John W. Hausermann of Indiana, might well investigate the administration's own lobbying activities. Perhaps Senator Wheeler's own words in a colloquy with Senator Minton will best depict that which has been taking place in order to force the undemocratic reorganization bill through the Congress:

"The senator, of course, has just come from the committee investigating which would wish to give him something more definite while he is at it. I want him to investigate those governors who have called up certain senators and asked them to vote a certain way on this bill. I want him to investigate the department heads that have called up senators. I want him to investigate those who have given assurances to senators that certain things will happen."

"For God's sake, let a dangerous court that is going to take people in before it and browbeat them just because they saw they are opposed to this legislation, then we ought to go the limit."

Those are not the words of a republican who might be accused of partisanship. They are the words of a democratic senator who played a conspicuous part in the nomination and election of President Roosevelt. And it is significant that not a single administration senator, not even the majority floor leader, rose in his place to rebuke the Wisconsin senator. It is likewise significant that no one derided the statement of Senator Ruth Holt (democrat of West Virginia) that senators talk one way in the cloakroom and vote another on the floor out of fear of administration reprisals.

The reorganization bill destroys the office of comptroller general, thus taking away from congress practically its only check on what the president can do with his spending power in accordance with the law. It destroys the civil service commission and creates a one-man administrator who can be subject to executive control. It enables the president to destroy bureaus and agencies. He can redraft, re-apply, or add to nothing more than a name. I measure my words when I say that it is one of the most dangerous measures ever to come before congress and can represent a destruction of our free government.

Is there anyone anywhere who can satisfactorily explain why the administration should be so vigorous in its efforts to give or disapprove an executive order issued under the authority delegated to the president under the bill? Assuming the president should be given authority to change the government, is there any reason why power should not be left in congress to approve or disapprove the steps taken by the executive?

The very essence of our democratic and the checks and balances in the system. Because it is really the only way by which freedom can be preserved, our founders took great care to establish checks and balances. If the American people believe in the system, they must fight the insidious ways, step by step, by which it can be destroyed. The reorganization bill is such a step away from democracy.

Name of Lake Is Longest

in the English Language

Lake Chagogagogomchongchaugagchabungunamaug is a beautiful body of water lying within the boundaries of the state of Connecticut. It is the longest lake in the state, and lies near the Connecticut line. It has an area of about two miles and is noted chiefly for its unusual name, which is believed to be a combination of the names of three Algonquin Indian villages which once stood on the shores of the lake, with a termination meaning, "fishing place at the boundary" thrown in for good measure.

The lake has three divisions, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News—upper, middle and lower, and according to a popular story two Indian tribes living on opposite ends of the lake had a long dispute as to which tribe had the right to fish in the middle section. Finally they framed a treaty providing that each had exclusive rights in its own end of the lake, but neither had the right to fish in the middle, and they applied to the lake a name made up from the terms of the treaty, meaning "fishing place on both sides; we fish on our side; you fish in the middle."

The word is pronounced "char-gog-a-gog-mon-chow-a-ga-gog-gechabun-gung-nam-aug" accent on the 1, 2, 4, 6, 8, 9 and 12 syllables. On many maps and atlases the name is misspelled and is labeled "Chabungunamaug," which is a contraction of the longer name. The average native of the region is satisfied to call it simply Lake Chaug.

In 1932 a committee appointed by the commonwealth government to correct the spelling of the names of cities, towns, lakes and rivers in Massachusetts decided that "Chagogagogomchongchaugagchabungunamaug" is the correct spelling of the lake. Formerly the name was often written "Chagogogogomchongchaugagchabungunamaug."

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Froebel

"That Confusing Word"

By VIOLA E. HOLLEY

We seldom stop to think how confusing a misunderstood word may be to a child. It is only when we hear of some incident that reminds us of the disappointment and the unhappiness that has come into a child's thought because he does not understand, that we realize this is not true.

A young woman told recently how, as a child, she had spent many unhappy hours because she had misunderstood one often heard word and had found in it a meaning that was not there at all.

She had gone up in a car of the company where the whipper could be heard frequently. Once when the bird had been heard to utter its strange call a visitor had said, "Listen; hear him? He insists we should 'whip poor Will'."

It happened that this little girl had a cousin named Will. He was her favorite playmate, and it was only natural that she should think first of him when she heard the name Will. But when the bird now began to sing, she wondered. Why did the bird think he should be whipped? Would he be whipped just because the bird said he should be? These thoughts troubled her so much that she could not keep from crying whenever she heard the bird, but she would tell no one why she cried.

There are many children who find it quite impossible, as did this little girl, to understand what is troubling them. It is not easy for them to express their feelings in words. Besides, grownups often are so blundering. They may even laugh or repeat thoughtlessly what is told in confidence. If they were more wise, they would speak gently and encourage the child to talk freely at such times so that they could help him, for thus encouraged, he often will give some clue that will reveal his difficulty. His problem, then, can be solved more easily.

Quite often we find a child manifesting fear of some object or some situation because he has misinterpreted what he has overheard. Grownups often speak in figurative language or in loosely constructed sentences and, although they may understand each other, a listening child may easily draw an entirely wrong conclusion.

This was true in the case of a little boy of six who developed the habit of crying or screaming if he

County Tuberculosis Assn. Delegate Will Attend Ill. Meeting

Miss Orpha White of the Lake County Tuberculosis association reports that the association is planning to be represented at the annual meeting of the Illinois Tuberculosis association which will convene in Bloomington on April 15.

Pulmonary disease in industry will be the theme of the medical session Tuesday afternoon, April 15. Papers on silicosis, industrial workers, and the medico-legal aspects of pulmonary disease in industry will be featured. The legal regulations governing sanatorium boards will be explained at this session.

Because rehabilitation of discharged sanatorium patients is said to be increasingly important, the principal address Tuesday morning will deal with this subject. On Monday morning the annual business meeting of the Illinois Tuberculosis association will be held, followed at noon by the board of directors' meeting and election of officers.

Monday afternoon will be devoted to papers dealing with the finding of early cases, tuberculin testing and x-ray demonstrations as conducted by a voluntary association, tuberculosis programs for rural counties with small budgets, education programs and proper administration of county tuberculosis associations.

Food Benefit by Candlelight
The food in Cincinnati in February of 1884 put the lighting system out of operation, leaving the city in darkness. To raise money for relief, a music festival was staged in Public Music Hall under candlelight, and a total of $5,176.14 was raised.

Fork, Rake, Hoe Are Only Tools Needed for Small Gardens

A spading fork, a rake and a hoe are about the only tools the backyard gardener needs, says B. L. Weaver, of the department of horticulture, college of agriculture, University of Illinois.
With these tools it is possible to work the entire area of a small garden, leaving no waste space at the sides and ends. If the garden is fenced, some crops such as late peas, pole beans, tomatoes or cucumbers may be planted or set close to the fence and be supported by the fence itself, Weaver explained.

In a small garden it is important to utilize all the available space throughout the season. By planning the garden in advance and using companion and succession plantings, two or three crops may be grown on the same ground the same season.

For example radishes need not be planted in separate rows but may be sown to mark the rows of seed onions or parsnips. They may be available for cultivation, aid in the control of weeds and are pulled before damage has been done to their companion crop.

Early planting of peas may be followed by string beans which are removed to make room for kale, lettuce, turnips or radishes. The various combinations that may be used are numerous, add an attraction to garden operations and if well planned will keep every foot of the small garden busy throughout the season.

With those crops requiring only a small area for development of each plant, the rows may be planted as close as possible and still permit cultivation. It is usually necessary to thin the plants in the row to allow sufficient space for their proper development. This is especially important with root crops, Weaver warns. However, crowding of such crops as cabbage may be desirable when the family is small and when the number of cabbages is more important than the total yield.

"There is no better form of outdoor exercise than moderate working in the home garden, and few lines of recreational work will give greater returns for the time employed," Weaver said.
