The Standard Coupe

The Standard Ford V-8, with 60-horsepower engine, gives you a lot of car for a little money.

300,000 new owners acclaimed the "thrifty 60" last year. Hundreds a day are buying it in 1938. Why?

Because it is priced low—includes essential equipment without extra charge—and goes farther between filling stations than any Ford car ever built. Owners all over the country report averages of 22 to 27 miles on a single gallon of gasoline.

But economy isn't all the story by any means. The Standard "60" is built with the same precision as the De Luxe "85," and has the same 112-inch wheelbase chassis. It is easy to look at and ride in —as well as easy to buy and run. There's a Ford dealer near you.

"Everybody Sing" Is Week-End Bill at Catlow Theatre

"The Big Broadcast of 1938," With W. C. Fields, to Open Wednesday

A sound crew was at Casse Gold, Madera county, recently on the most unusual enterprise in the history of Hollywood. The crew was recording coyote howls for "Gold Is Where You Find It," the melodrama now showing at the Catlow theatre, with George Brent and Olivia de Havilland as its stars. The sound track of the weird howling of the coyotes was to be used as a background for several of the out-door sequences in the picture, which was filmed in technicolor. It will also be turned over to the Warner Bros. music department for when the musical score is written.

Because Stuart Erwin likes to have the last word, Jane Withers' newest starring film, "Checkers," has a good many more laughs than the script writers put into it. Erwin, who plays the male lead opposite Una Merkel, is an inveterate ad libber and always has some gas to pull at the end of any scene he is filming. When Director H. Bruce Humberstone reviewed projection-room "rushes" of the daily "take," he found every gas recorded and saved many of them in the final editing.

"Checkers" is playing for one night at the Catlow theatre Saturday. Judy Garland, featured with Allan Jones and an all-star cast in "Everybody Sing," at the Catlow Sunday and Monday, was born in Grand Rapids, Minn. on January 10, daughter of Frank and Ethel Gumm, both of the stage. Most of Judy's education was received in Los Angeles, but she did a great deal of traveling due to the fact that she was a member of the Garland Sisters act which was composed of Judy, Suzanne and Virginia. When Suzanne married the act broke up and it was then that Judy came to Hollywood and talked the studio executives into giving her a job.

When a cowhand pays a compliment to a film actor it must be deserved. "Bill Boyd's one tough hombre," said veteran cow-punchers high up in the Sierra mountains, as they hand-rolled their cigarettes around the campfire, and admired Boyd's skillful and kindly treatment of his horse during the filming of the film, "Cassey of the Bar 20," which comes to the Catlow Tuesday.

Playing the double feature bill Tuesday with Hopalong Cassidy is "Scandal Street," with Lew Ayres, Roscoe Karns, Porter Hall and Edgar Kennedy.

Back in harness after a year's illness, W. C. Fields proves that he has lost no part of his almost magical ability to keep audiences in a constant state of hilarious laughter, in Paramount's new girl-and-gag musical comedy, "The Big Broadcast of 1938," which comes to the Catlow Wednesday for two days, with Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Shirley Ross and Bob Hope heading the stellar cast featured in support of his antics. Fields is cast as the shipping magnate who boards his own ship by mistake, thinking that it is his rival's, and attempts to slow down the ship, which is trying for a new transatlantic speed record.

IT SEEMS IT'S A CAR FOLKS WON'T DO WITHOUT!

WERE pretty sure we had a great car when some months ago we checked the final blueprints on the 1938 Buick.

It had the new and mighty DYNAFLASH engine for sparkling action—the sensationally desirable TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING for a lullaby of a ride.

Looking ahead in that promising day, we figured we had every chance of getting our sales share by reason of what this car gave the buyer for his money.

Now, when times are sterner, it appears we built better than we knew—we've got a car folks just won't do without!

This great new Buick was first introduced to the public last fall. Through September, October, November, it sold in steadily increasing volume.

In a period when sales of other cars were sliding off it went ahead, in one month actually outselling one of the Big Three of the lowest-priced field.

It's still going ahead—not car Number Seven or Eight, as one might expect by its price-class, but one of the season's Four Best Sellers!

There is only one explanation of such a record when made by a car in the thousand-dollar bracket.

Such a car is so good—has so much of value in it—people just won't do without it!

They buy it not only in preference to other cars—they buy in preference to waiting for easier times and readier money-to-spend!

That's the convincing sort of car you're about to drive when you first take the wheel of a 1938 Buick.

If you haven't yet handled a new Buick, you ought to—just to see what such a car is like!

"Time and the Conways," a play by J. B. Priestley, was reviewed at the library rooms Tuesday afternoon, April 12 as the last offering of the literature committee for this year. Mrs. Lester Higgins, who gave the review, said that she had not chosen the play for its entertainment value but because its unusual theme had held her and almost compelled her to do it rather than a lighter or a more amusing one.

It chronicles the humdrum happenings of an ordinary family through their lives and their relationships with each other as they are a part of continual and never-ending time.

Mrs. Higgins referred her listeners to a book by J. W. Dunn and also a novel by Mr. Priestley, "Midnight on the Desert" for a better understanding of the time theory set forth in this play. Briefly stated, as it comes from Allan, one of the characters in the play, "time is a kind of dream. If it wasn't it would have to destroy everything—the whole universe—and then remake it again every tenth of a second. But time doesn't destroy anything. It merely moves on—in this life—from one peephole to the next."

The play is in three acts. The characters and scenes are the same in all three but the time is different. It opens in 1919 at the close of the World war, skips to the present for its second act, and returns to 1919 for the final phase.

Mrs. Higgins, sensitive to the mystery and beauty of the theme, read the play with understanding. She was pleasing and informal in her manner and provided those who heard her review with not only a pleasant afternoon's entertainment, but an inspiration to read or to see the play and a mental challenge to ponder and perhaps investigate this new theory of time.

The final meeting of the club year will be held Wednesday, April 20, at the Barrington Hills Country club. A buffet luncheon will be served at one o'clock. Mrs. John Schwemm and members of her committee, who have been in charge of arrangements, report that the menu offered by the Country club includes a wide assortment and variety of foods. After luncheon, there will be election of officers and brief committee reports.

The program is to be furnished by Lucille Calvert, associate professor of speech at De Pauw university. Miss Calvert will give a lecture-recital, representing dramatic episodes from the life of Queen Elizabeth. She will appear in costume.

Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Muir, 210 E. Liberty street. All reservations must be in by noon of Monday, April 18.

There will be an international relations program April 26 at 2 o'clock at the Kelynn Park field house, Kostner and Wrightwood

Funeral Services for Mrs. Rose Black at Hood River, Oregon

The body of Mrs. Rose Black, who had been missing since Feb. 28, was found in the Columbia river at Hood River, Ore., on April 6, according to word received here by her brother, Joseph D. Robertson, assistant postmaster at the Barrington office.

Dr. Black, a former practicing physician at Palestine, died at his home in Hood River on February 24. Mrs. Black disappeared four days later while enroute from her home to the railroad station to meet her brother who had gone to Hood River to attend funeral services for Dr. Black, and with the expectation of bringing his sister back to Barrington with him. Mr. Robertson attended to last rites for Dr. Black and remained at Hood River a number of days, conducting an extensive search for his sister, without result.

Mrs. Black was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Silas Robertson, well-known pioneer residents of the Barrington-Lake Zurich community. She was married to Dr. Black forty years ago, when they moved to Oregon. They had no children. Besides the brother mentioned, Mrs. Black is survived by another brother, Lloyd

Rites for Frank L. Wells, 58, Sunday

Funeral services for Frank L. Wells, 58 years old, were held at the chapel, 145 W. Main street, Sunday at 2 o'clock and burial took place in Evergreen cemetery. Mr. Wells was attending a banquet for officials of the North Western railroad at the Stevens hotel last Wednesday evening when he was stricken. He was taken to the Edgewater hospital where he died ten minutes later.

Mr. Wells had been an employee of the North Western railroad for more than 30 years and at the time of his death he was signal supervisor with 200 men under his supervision. He had been in good health but the heavy snow storm of last week had caused him great anxiety.

Mr. Wells was born in Wauconda and had spent his entire life in this vicinity. His widow, two daughters, two brothers, and two sisters survive him. The parents and two sisters preceded him in death.

Alfred Castle One of Honor Students at Eastern College

With a scholastic rating of between 4.5 and 5 for the first semester of the current year, Alfred Castle of Barrington earned a place among the 20 students of first rank in his class at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, according to a report from the dean's office of the college received by The Review this week.

The 20 students comprised only 3.3 per cent of the total second year class. Among this group were three Illinois youths from Barrington, Evanston and Highland Park. Local Garden Class Given Higher Award at Show; Error Made

Due to an error in placing the judges' awards at the twelfth annual flower show in Chicago last week it was erroneously announced previously that the Countryside Garden class received second and fourth awards for its entries. The corrected list shows that the local group received a first place blue ribbon and cash award and a fourth place ribbon.

The blue ribbon was awarded to Mrs. Orin Wold who entered a pair of tree geraniums. The judges' comment on her entry was as follows: "Awarded first prize because of novel training done perfectly. Foliage in good condition. General public interest attractive. Color very attractive."

Mrs. Arthur Donovan was awarded the class' other ribbon on a grapefruit tree. The specimen is six years old and was grown at her home from seed. The Garden club of Barrington received a blue ribbon award at the show on the pair of Chinese elms exhibited by Mrs. Frank Hecht.

portant, pass their tests and requirements.

"The boys offer about the same suggestions: 'If you have only one suit and one pair of shoes, at least keep them clean and neat. Appearance and willingness to work are two very important factors in obtaining a position. Don't be afraid to speak up, but don't talk too much. Opened eyes and ears are better than an open mouth.'"

"Personal appearance. Show determination and don't be too specific in trying to get a certain job in a large plant or business. Get inside and then show your capabilities; then ask favors that would lead to the desired spot."

"Make innumerable applications. Use good common sense in your appearance and conversation when interviewed."

"A good appearance, self-confidence, and correct English in an interview. Also use neatness and correct English in filling out applications."

"Neat appearance. Conversational ability. Pleasant personality. Following up on all contacts—proper use of friends. Most display of all assets. Have proper educational background."

"Not too high or low a self-rating. Willingness to learn from the bottom up. If possible select work which you enjoy and where you will not be a drudge all your life. Do more than the very least which is required. A pleasant disposition and an ease in meeting people are invaluable."

"Be neat and punctual. That will impress the person who is doing the hiring so that you might get a chance before someone who also wants the same job."

"The most important is to show your employer that you can be of real service to him."

"Don't talk any more than necessary, but when you do, tell the truth."

"Forethought, cleanliness, neatness, accuracy, promptness. Try to find the work that you like before applying, if you are going to stay with it very long. Don't give up when the going is hard, and you get a door slammed behind you. Have confidence in yourself."

C.&N.W. Will Again Present Organ Music at Chicago Terminal

The sombre tones of the organ, which were heard by thousands of travelers during the Christmas holidays in the Chicago and North Western station in Chicago, will again be heard over the Easter week-end. On Good Friday, April 15, and Holy Saturday, April 16, Miss Norma Ballard, who entertained through daily with her skillful playing last December, will again preside at the keyboard, and present music in keeping with the spirit of the season, interspersing it with famous classical airs.

In addition to the organ programs during the day, the famed Chicago and North Western Choral club of 60 voices will give an appropriate program on each of the two days. On Good Friday, between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening, the club will sing Stainer's "Crucifixion," and on Saturday it will render Nolte's "Hosannah" between 12 and 1 p. m. Miss Ballard will accompany on the organ.

CARY

Held Last Rites

Robert D. J. Bacon, father of Robert Bacon, died Saturday at the home of his son near Boston's bridge at the age of 85 years. After the death of his wife five years ago in Chicago, Mr. Bacon came to make his home with his son. Funeral services were held from the Gilbert funeral home in Crystal Lake Tuesday and then to the Forest Home cemetery for burial.

Buried Monday

Funeral services were held Monday for Edward Kydner Sr. of Chicago, son of P. Kydner, who passed away at his home in Chicago Saturday at the age of 66 years. Services were held in St. Peter and Paul church in Cary and burial was in St. John's cemetery. He leaves to mourn his passing, his father, his wife, two sons, Edward Jr. and Dr. George Kydner, two grandchildren, one brother, Postmaster Joseph Kydner, and four sisters, besides other relatives.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Paddock, former residents of Cary, now of Black Earth, Wis., will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Easter Sunday. Mr. Paddock is 89 years old and Mrs. Paddock is 80 years old.

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Copeland saw "Snow White" in Chicago Sunday. The community high school election was held in the village hall Saturday. The number of votes cast was 203. Following are the results: Paul W. Rabson 149, George Johnson 164, Jess Duff 29, Elia Walkup 33, Walter Meyer 1. The Cary public school election at the school house Saturday showed the following vote: Edward Oenasek 151, Watson Lowe 72, Charles Synek 1.

William Wascher was able to go to his place of business Saturday for the first time since his recent accident.

The supper given at the village hall Tuesday night, sponsored by the Lutheran Ladies Aid of the Holy Cross church, was well attended.

Mrs. William Homola entertained

Miss Marion Kessel of the Jewel Tea Co., Barrington, gave an interesting food demonstration at the village hall Friday afternoon for members of the Cary Woman's club.

Mrs. F. Theobald entertained the 500 club at a 1 o'clock dinner Thursday afternoon. High scores were awarded by Mrs. Jens Jensen and Mrs. Charles Allen.

From Champagne; Ill., Mrs. Arthur Price sends the following suggestions and recipes for a Sunday night supper.

SHRIMP CREOLE

Drain one can of wet pack shrimp. Put shrimp in bowl of clear water and rinse off thoroughly. Then add a tablespoon of salt to water and let shrimp stand in it while you mix salt and pepper with 1 can peas (well drained) and 1 can tomatoes (well drained).

Drain shrimp and add to peas and tomatoes. Put in heavily buttered baking dish and add pieces of butter to melt during mixture. Top with buttered cracker crumbs or cracker meal. Bake 40 minutes in oven at 375° or until topping is a nice brown.

Serve with baked potatoes and a lettuce salad (and see if you like it as well as we do!).

For dessert Mrs. Price suggests a maple parfait that is exquisite in texture as well as in flavor:

MAPLE PARFAIT

Put 3/4 cup maple syrup, 1 tablespoon butter and 2 egg yolks in top of double boiler and beat over boiling water until very light and fluffy (about 7 minutes).

Chill. Then add to 3/4 pint cream beaten stiff. Add salt, 3/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon gelatin (dissolved in 3/4 cup water). Pour in mold and chill under freezing unit of refrigerator. Serve with whipped cream. (This is particularly pretty in a round mold and with the center mounded with whipped cream).

Tiny cakes or cookies make an appropriate accompaniment.

Each of the above recipes serves six.

FAIRNESS—OR CONFISCATION?

The government's left hand knows not what its right hand doeth! That seems to be a pertinent proverb in the light of conflicting testimony on the policy that should actuate the TVA in purchasing private electric properties in the southeast.

A majority of the TVA directors, judging from their official and unofficial observations, speeches and public letters, insist on buying private electric utilities, in whole or in part, on the so-called "prudent investment" theory. They are apparently unwilling to take state utility commission figures as an arbiter of true value; they discount "going concern" value, and seem bent on taking over companies, or parts of companies desired, at a forced-sale price that will leave helpless investors holding the sack.

By contrast with this, J. D. Ross, who has been appointed to take charge of the federal hydro-electric project at Bonnevill, was recently asked for his opinion on the proper TVA policy in purchasing private property. Mr. Ross stated: "The only possible offer must come from the agency that wishes to buy. Such an offer would be made after a study of the value of property from all angles instead of merely from physical valuation. The question is not simply what is the value of a piece of wire or a power house. It is what is the value of a going concern. The wire or the generator is of no value except in the operation of a business concern."

"The principal question is the value that can be given to buy out a competitor. This considers a study of the gross income, the net income, the cost per kilowatt and kilowatt hour for generation, transmission and distribution, the original value and the depreciation that should be applied to it, and the present physical values as shown by any available valuations."

Need more be said to show the astonishing differences of opinion between government officials? On the one hand are those who favor a policy which amounts to virtual confiscation. On the other are those, like Mr. Ross, who favor fairness, and scientific valuation of properties the government wishes to purchase. It must be decided, finally and soon, which policy the government is going to pursue. If the government is going on with its socialist program, the Ross method of eliminating private business is the only fair way.

WALL STREET'S CONSCIENCE

Events surrounding the failure of the brokerage firm headed by Richard Whitney, one-time president of the New York stock exchange, provide a striking example of what David Lawrence terms "the new conscience in Wall Street."

Discovery that all was not well with this firm was made by a staff of investigators attached to the exchange's business conduct committee. Every effort was given to developing the case swiftly, and accountants worked night and day until the evidence was complete. The officials of the exchange then immediately informed the securities and exchange commission and the state's attorney of what had happened, and announced the firm's suspension.

Commenting on this, Ralph Hendershot, financial editor of the New York World Telegram, said: "It requires a great deal of stamina to destroy a man who has worked shoulder to shoulder with you over a great number of years, even though you believe that individual has committed the unpardonable. . . . Yet your correspondent is reliably informed that none of the governors of the exchange shrunk from what he believed to be his duty. . . . The exchange is entitled to no little credit for its performance through the entire matter."

The New York Times commented editorially and said: "The governors of the stock exchange have set the example through their prompt, unhesitating and unsparring procedure in bringing the matter to light, even when it affected a prominent member of the exchange, the moment the facts were suspected and established."

Protect Trees on ## Building Sites, Expert Advises

By the MASTER GARDENER

With all the building of new homes that seems indicated by increased rentals, let me caution these new home builders to insist, while building is going on, that any trees on the site be given the best of care.

Trees are valuable. A large specimen purchased for shade and requiring the services of tree movers may run into hundreds of dollars.

Often, when building, it is necessary to change grade levels, either adding or taking away soil to establish the slope desired. Extra ordinary care should be used in making such fills or taking away soil, to guard against injury to established trees on the building site.

At the National Shade Tree conference, held in September, 1937, this subject was discussed, and the following guiding information was given:

beech, birch, hickory, hemlock.

Trees least susceptible to this injury are: elms, poplar, willow, plane, alantus, locust.

The amount of top soil that can be removed without injury was given as: 4 inches for young trees, 6 inches for medium age trees, 8 inches for old trees.

The amount of fill, or soil added, that can be made without injury was given as follows: young trees, 6 inches; medium age, 7 inches; old trees, 8 inches.

For a 12 inch tree, 16 inches of gravel, 10 inches of sand, or 6 inches of loam can be added without taking precautions to provide artificial aeration. It was stated, beyond these amounts, consult a reputable tree surgeon as to method of assuring adequate aeration for the roots.

Also be sure that all trees on the premises are properly fed. A leading horticulturist from one of the best known botanical gardens in the United States, in recently discussing the feeding and care of shade trees before a nurseryman's meeting, said, "Starvation is the most common cause of death in trees, for a starving tree is most susceptible to disease and insect attacks."

This WEEK in WASHINGTON

By RALPH E. CHURCH
Representative, 19th Congressional District

During the past week thousands upon thousands of letters and telegrams were delivered at the offices of the 435 members of congress urging the respective recipients to vote against the reorganization bill. No one can possibly determine whether this deluge of messages from "back home" in themselves caused any one member to oppose the bill who might otherwise have supported it. But that they have had some effect upon the attitude of the house no one can very well dispute.

The average member of congress keeps his "ear to the ground." He keeps it especially close to the ground in an election year. It might be said that in the months immediately preceding the election that the people go to the polls the congressional ear is unusually acute to the rumblings, especially the grumbings, in the respective districts.

He is well aware that an alert opponent will endeavor to take political advantage of these rumblings and all the grumbings he knows, too, it is rather easy to capitalize upon an unpopular vote made at "campaign time" when public feeling runs high on the question. The opponent does not have to gain adherents by manufacturing issues. One is already made for him.

We are speaking of the average member of congress. There are the exceptions, and they are very few indeed, who listen only to the dictates of their own mind and conscience. It is only the exception who has the intellectual ability and the courage to strive to formulate public opinion rather than to be led by it. It is the rare member of congress who is not influenced to some degree by expression of opinion from "back home."

Even if this deluge of messages did not change a single vote on the reorganization bill, it has caused the congress to proceed with care in its consideration of the proposal. The letters and telegrams at least caused many members of congress to think twice before they jumped. And that is a wholesome result. They also helped dampen the enthusiasm of the proponents and stimulated the opposition. That which might have been only a latent or passive opposition was stimulated into active resistance.

In order to discredit these messages from the people, the administration leaders contended they amounted to nothing more than inflated propaganda. It is interesting to note that only partisans wrote letters and sent telegrams, and that they were bought and paid for by administration opponents and came only from republicans.

All of us more or less recognize propaganda when we see it. No doubt letters and telegrams were sent at the instigation of the organization or that. No doubt some of them were inspired. But if those I personally received are representative of those received by other members, I can honestly say there is every indication that the majority of the senders expressed their sincere, honest conviction arrived at after some thought. Few were identical. Many showed the personality of the writer and many evidenced originality of thought.

It is not simply these letters and telegrams that created the opposition to the reorganization bill. Nor is it the result of pressure from home in an election year. In fact, it is not even the reorganization bill as such that aroused so much opposition to it.

That which aroused fears and concern among the people and in congress over this particular bill was more than the delegation of power which the measure itself would make. Rather there is anxiety because this bill represented another delegation of power without sufficient checks and balances by congress. It is the fact that it was another and not just one delegation of power that concerns the people.

In other words, if we are to understand what lies behind the bitter opposition to the reorganization, we must look at more than the bill itself. We must look at the delegations of power on other matters which congress has made to the executive. The people are aroused to the dangers of a continuation of this procedure. The reorganization bill itself would not destroy our form of government but the continuous following of the theory of the proposal would mean an end to democratic processes.

The reorganization bill itself would not create a dictator. That is a misconception of the contents of the measure. But the power already delegated, the power this bill could have delegated and a continuation of that philosophy would most certainly create a complete one-man government. I interpret many of the communications I have received against the reorganization bill to indicate that

Slight Drop in Lake County Relief Costs Estimated for April

Relief administration in Lake county for the month of April will cost $63,366, it was learned this week from estimates made by the IERC. A reduction in the relief cost is apparent in comparison to the March estimate, which was $74,094.

Ten of the townships in the county were allotted a total of $29,000 for the month of April, compared to $31,000 for March. The other eight town administrations which include Cuba and Elia, will have to handle their own relief with local funds.

A total of 2515 family relief cases was tabulated for April, compared to 2710 for March. More than half the famestment by poor aid, or 1340, are from Waskegan township.

The relief loads in the 15 townships, with an estimated cost and relief total allotment follow:
