Members of the chapter arranged a silver wedding party for their worthy master and mother, past members Ida and Brother George Landwer, following the regular chapter meeting Monday evening. The Landwers were pleasantly surprised when invited downstairs for refreshments. As they opened the door, their son George was playing, "I Love You Truly" on his cornet, accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude Albrecht on the piano. They were escorted to a large table where the cake, which was a beautiful wedding cake, Mr. and Mrs. Landwer will have been married 25 years Saturday, June 25.

After the Landwers had received congratulations from the entire chapter, the evening was spent in singing and visiting. Another celebration of their anniversary will be a family gathering at their home Sunday.

Pool Activity Gains
With Warmer Days

Attendance at the Barrington swimming pool has been going up in accordance with the temperature of the water. The water was fairly cold when the pool was opened last Saturday but has now nearly reached summer average.

The attendance last Sunday was 70 and Monday was 80.

Howard Melow, pool manager, stated that starting next Monday morning, free swimming and life-saving lessons will get under way under the instructions of Jane

Marie Curran and Claude Conn.

These lessons will be given every week-day morning. There will be separate boys and girls classes, and both junior and senior life-saving lessons will be given.

Children under 15 years of age living in the Barrington park district are admitted free of charge on week-day mornings.

Mr. Melow also stated that plans are underway for the annual swimming and diving carnivals and that these plans will be disclosed in the near future.

Complains Rats Are

Attracted to Dump

The Pied Piper of Hamlin

might be able to do some business in the village of Barrington, according to the expressions voiced at the council meeting Monday night, when H. R. Brinlinger appeared before the board with a demand that steps be taken to eradicate rats that are beginning to infest the southwest side of town.

Mr. Brinlinger contended that garbage was being dumped with rubbish at the foot of Russell street and that this was causing a large influx of rats. He pointed out that several individuals in the village are using a lot on West

Russell street for a dumping ground and asked that steps be taken to halt further dumping.

E. W. Bell, chief of police, was unable to take action and

A. C. Burandt, village clerk, was authorized to seek a method of destroying the rodents. The village dump also was discussed and included in the clean-up orders.

Begins Making Up Delinquent Lists

A. L. Wiedenbeck, village trea-urer, reported this week that he would start making up the special assessment delinquent list for the Cook county collector. He will begin work on the lake county list shortly, he stated.

Payment of special assessments

now will afford a 22 per cent penalty, plus the usual redemption

Appearing in the above picture are from left to right: Howard, 1935, Caroline 1931, Alfred 1936, Grace 1927, and Arthur 1938. Mrs. Castle was valedictorian in her graduating class in a Michigan high school.

Unionization Plan Discussed Tuesday

Twelve representatives of local painting firms were present at a meeting Tuesday night to discuss unionization plans. An official of the Chicago painters' union was present and addressed the group. The meeting was held in the Legion hall, 133 Park avenue.

There will be another meeting on the same date next Monday night, June 28, at eight o'clock.

Painters from the Barrington area and other nearby communities have been invited to attend, it was reported. The meeting will be held at the same place as the first.

To Conduct Traffic Count to Determine Control Necessity

Village Trustees to Campaign for Lights at Highway and Hough Street

E. W. Baade, chief of police, and members of the village police department, will conduct a three-day traffic count at the intersection of Northwest highway and Hough street in the near future to determine the necessity of stop and go traffic signals at that point.

Andrew Dallstream of Barrington discussed "Voluntary Zoning Agreement" and George Fairweather, also of Barrington, will discuss "Local Taxation." Both are members of the association, which was formed three years ago by estate owners in the Barrington area.

Following the business meeting and talks, there will be an informal discussion of the topics presented during the evening. Mr. Hough reported.

An election of officers will be held and appointment of committee members made.

Polo Player Injured During Game Sunday

R. J. Drige, 6527 W. Roosevelt road, suffered a dislocated right hip during the polo game on a sand field between the Barrington and Oak shire, of which he was a member. The game ended in a 4 to 4 tie.

It was reported that if traffic conditions warranted it, the village could pass a resolution favoring installation of control lights and forward it to the state highway department. Further action will be taken to be forthcoming from the state unit.

The question of whether it would be more expensive to install stop lights on Hough street at the intersection of Main street or to have the stop and go lights operate all night was also discussed Monday night. At present the traffic control signals are turned off late at night and the crossing and the crossing has no regulation until morning. Prior to the installation of control signals, lighted stop signs on Hough street north and south of Main street.

A. C. Burandt, village clerk, is to conduct a survey to determine the cost of operating traffic signals 24 hours daily, and also the expenditure necessary to put up additional signs.

On Fishing Trip

Several Barrington men and boys are angling for the first of the season bass at Cham Lake, Wis., who is at present on a tour in the Pacific Ocean following duty in China, deals with sights while visiting the many islands of the Pacific. Following are his impressions on visiting a sugar producing island.

Rugio Island—April 30

Rugio is probably the prettiest place (from the anchorage) we have seen so far this trip. We arrived here yesterday about noon and there is a large sugar mill, operated by an American concern, just opposite our anchorage. Most of the land in sight is cultivated (and growing sugar cane) and the various fields as they slope up toward the mountains are beautiful. The people here claim that the sugar refinery is all American and an affection one of them took us out through the cane fields and native berries. In his car up to the foot of the mountains and from there we took a hike up into the hills. The road on which we drove forward is a small stream at nearly every turn it seemed, and we kept thinking that each ford would be the last we could make as the water was so high that we could just barely get by. The barrio in which we stopped the car was nothing but shacks, but as usual, the people were very friendly and after we were through camping around offered us chairs in the middle of the village street. All of the landscapes on this island are very beautiful, but there is no use in trying to describe them adequately.

"We also made a trip through the sugar mill, and were fortunate in being here at a time of year when it was in operation, as they refine sugar about six months of the year and will close down around the 1st of June. Mr. Hogan, the manager, who was sent here from Hawaii to increase the sugar production on the island did so well that he beat the quota the company had set for him by about 50 per cent. When he first came here he had to work for 12 hours a day.

Looks for a Job and

Village Trustees Restrict Use and Sale of Fireworks

Restrict Sale Prior to June 27; to Be Used Only
July 4

Sale and use of fireworks in the village of Barrington is restricted as result of an amendment to an ordinance passed at the village board meeting Monday night. The addition was introduced by Trustee John Carroll who moved for its adoption. His motion was seconded by Trustee John Daescher.

The amendment prohibits fireworks shall be sold in the village of Barrington prior to June 27. This pertains to cap guns, squibs, colored fire or any article or substance of an explosive nature designed for or intended to be used as fireworks.

The second section of the measure is of a more stringent nature, prohibiting the discharge of fireworks within the corporate limits of the village after July 4. This will restrict the use of fireworks to one day only, the Fourth of July. However, the president and village board is empowered to grant a special permit to organizations for public displays.

Following is the wording of the two important sections of the ordinance:

"Section 1: Sale of Fireworks. That no person, firm or corporation shall, on or before the 27th day of June, 1938, sell, offer for sale, or cause to be sold within the limits of the village any toy pistol, toy gun, toy cannon, blank cartridge, firecracker, rocket, torpedo, squib, colored fire or any article or substance of an explosive nature designed or intended to be used as fireworks or shall permit the same to be done, provided, however, the president and board of trustees may grant a special permit for public displays. It is further prohibited to throw or discharge fireworks from automobiles on the streets of the village of Barrington."

"Section 2: Use of Fireworks Prohibited. That no person, firm or corporation shall, prior to July 27, or after July 4, 1938, fire, discharge or set off within the limits of the village any toy pistol, toy gun, toy cannon, blank cartridge, firecracker, rocket, torpedo, squib, colored fire or any article or substance of an explosive nature designed or intended to be used as fireworks or shall permit the same to be done, provided, however, the president and board of trustees may grant a special permit for public displays. It is further prohibited to throw or discharge fireworks from automobiles on the streets of the village of Barrington."

First Use Postage Stamps
Postage stamps grew out of the necessity for issuing a receipt for the carriage of letters. Sir Rowland Hill, an English postmaster, suggested a uniform postage rate for all letters, and the Post Office accepted his proposal. Great Britain became the first country to issue postage stamps in 1840, when a number of Hill's suggestions were adopted.

"Mad About Music," Deanna Durbin Hit Coming to Catlow

"Fools for Scandal," Starring
Carole Lombard, Here
Wednesday

Both extremes of acting experiences are represented in the technician production, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," now at the Catlow theatre.

Tommy Kelly, 12-year-old star of the piece, has had no previous acting experience whatsoever. May Robson, who plays Aunt Polly in the picture, with Jackie Moran and Walter Brennan, has been in the theatre 64 years.

The next meeting of the club will be held the 14th of July with Mrs. Leo Riley as hostess.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vlk and children of Cicero were Tuesday callers at the James Voller home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Riley and son, Leo, were Monday callers. Mrs. Henry Knasek and son, Boy of Terra Cotta were on a fishing trip at Mercer, Wis., over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Sears and daughters, Ellen and Beth, of Barrington were Sunday callers at the John Weber home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayne Mitchell and daughter, Joyce were Sunday visitors at Fontana, Wis.

Marion Lasch is spending the week with her cousin, Joy Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelsey and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berg were Sunday visitors at the Ed. Prindl home in Chicago.

Mrs. Arnold Ehliert and daughter, Shirley Ann and Mrs. Thomas Richard and children, Betty Jean, Richard and Jessie of Crystal Lake, Ill., were Sunday evening callers at the John Weber home.

Mr. and Mrs. George V. Lester in the romantic leads, the film deals with the exciting events that follow Lane's press-agenting of Moore's unusual record as a marriage license clerk. In twenty years, a couple who received one of Moore's "Lucky Licenses" has even sought a divorce.

"Island in the Sky," with Gloria St. John, Michael Whalen and Paul Kelly is on the double feature bill Tuesday with "This Marriage Business."

Carole Lombard will tell you that the new type of super-slappy comedy in which girls get kicked "aff," (amidships, to use nautical terminology) and socked them on the jaw, are no cinches for them. That's a new kind of realism in these films, it seems. When kids is aimed at one's stomach—the kick lands—heavily!

So it was real pleasure for Carole—who has the reputation of losing her dignity more effectively than any other star on the screen—to live "soft" for a picture. And to her luck she got a blue spot gradient to fade. She did well in "Fools for Scandal," in which she stars with Fernand Gravet. "Fools for Scandal" will come to the Catlow Wednesday and Thursday.

Leaders Say More Sales Effort Can Bring Prosperity

Local Men Attend Big Meeting at Stevens Hotel Tuesday

Enough buyers are available to put business of the country back on the 1929 basis, according to national business leaders who spoke to 1600 executives and salesmen attending the Chicago meeting Tuesday of the National Salesmen's Crusade organization at the Stevens hotel.

All that is necessary to bring back prosperity is for salesmen and sales organizations in every community to sell the jitters and go out and make sales.

The salesmen's crusade was originated by George W. Mason, president of the Nash-Kelvinator corporation. Mr. Mason first tried out his experiment of creating jobs by increasing sales at Lincoln, Neb. The meeting at Lincoln, plus a lot of sales work in all lines popped up business there. Similar campaigns to stimulate recovery will be held in many other large centers. The Chicago campaign is the second.

George H. Davis, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, presided at the Stevens hotel session.

He declared a triumph over the psychological depression can be achieved by the salesmen, resulting in putting millions back to work.

Elden Gleske and William Behringer of the Good Housekeeping shop were local men who attended the meeting.

Funeral Today for Mrs. Albert Schulz

Funeral services for Mrs. Albert Schulz, former resident of Barrington, who died Tuesday in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bieserfeld of Medinah, Ill., will be held this afternoon, Thursday, at the late residence and at the Itasca church. Rev. Kessing will officiate and burial will be in Evergreen cemetery, Barrington.

Mrs. Schulz had been ill for two years.

Rhoda Wiseman was born November 20, 1888, in a Culverton township on what is now the Barrington estate. She resided with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiseman, until her marriage to Albert Schulz 20 years ago. They lived in this community and at Dundee for some time, later moving to Iowa. They came to Medinah two years ago to make their home.

Surviving, in addition to the widower and Mrs. Bieserfeld, are one son, Thurlie, also of Medinah; and five sisters, Mrs. Lydia Lageschulte of Randolph, Neb., Mrs. Harold Tague of Henningford, N.H., Miss Esther Wiseman of Elgin, and Mrs. Emma Page and Mrs. Fred Benson of Barrington. Three children preceded Mrs. Schulz in death after an illness of three weeks.

Born in San Francisco, Calif., on March 16, 1884, he was engaged in farming for many years and had lived in Elia township for the past several years. He is survived by his widow, Lillian, whom he married 30 years ago, and one daughter, Mrs. A. Luce.

The accident occurred early Thursday morning. A verdict of accidental death was returned at an inquest conducted in Chicago Friday morning.

AN IMPENDING STRUGGLE

No special foresight is needed to vision a struggle in the special session of the legislature now assembled in Springfield over ways and means to care for people in need. Two plans have been prepared that design to curb relief activities of the township supervisor, or poormaster, as this official is termed. One plan would not give him any of the state monies; by another he would simply look after the poor who are unable to work.

As contemplated by the state administration, a county branch of the state welfare association would expend the state monies on unemployment relief projects. If there should be employables for whom no employment were available, they would be furnished food and other necessary assistance by the state.

Supervisors as a whole are opposed to the proposed set-up. They contend it would make for duplication of effort and confusion. They insist the local poormaster (supervisor) has the best understanding of the needs of people in his community and that he should assist the poor as the present law provides.

Supporters of the second proposed plan say the poor master (supervisor) law never contemplated that the official should care for persons other than paupers. They add that it is the logical thing that employees of the state should expend the state monies and that these employees should receive appointments based upon competitive examination rather than as a result of elections or political appointment.

One of the state control provisions requires that a committee to develop work relief proposals be created in each county, the committee to cooperate with public officials in creating employment projects. On this committee would be five members, namely: the county superintendent of the unemployed, the county superintendent of highways and three citizens of the county to be selected by the state superintendent of relief.

Under the foregoing plan it is admitted there are good points, but it would be purely a political set-up and is unnecessary because it would add unnecessary appointees whose duties could be performed by supervisors, each of whom is responsible to the people of the township where he is elected and best knows the needs of the poor.

It is not disputed that waste and politics prevail among boards of supervisors, but they are responsible to the people of each community and are better qualified to discharge duties incumbent with the office each holds than appointees who will come from a state department in Springfield.—Harvard Herald.

YOU CAN'T PAY FOR FIRE

If you're wise, you protect your property with fire insurance. But don't let this lull you into a feeling of false security. For nothing can completely pay for fire.

It is impossible to adequately compensate for loss of time, of business, of opportunity, of employment. Nor can we pay for human lives with dollars.

In brief, fire insurance, invaluable as it is, can only cover the tangible losses of fire. It cannot cover all the intangibles or the indirect loss—and these constitute by far fire's greatest toll. Replacing burned furniture will not make up for the destruction of a home. Nor will replacing machines make up for a burned factory.

That is why fire prevention work should be done by everyone. There are scores of instances on record where men have been ruined by fires—in spite of having sufficient insurance to cover all direct loss. If your place of business burns, your trade will go elsewhere, and you find it impossible to get it back. If the place where you work is ravaged by fire, your job will go up in smoke with it—and no insurance can cover that.

During recent years the annual fire loss has stayed at about the same level—in excess of two hundred million dollars a year. Most of that waste could be prevented. It constitutes an inexcusable and unnecessary drain on the nation's resources. Knowledge and vigilance will turn the trick.

NO ROOM FOR TERRORISM HERE

The federal government owes it to the people of the United States to make a sweeping non-political investigation of conditions in Jersey City.

According to reports printed in some of the country's most reputable newspapers and magazines, a virtual fascist dictatorship has been established there. Labor leaders have been refused permits to speak. Norman Thomas, the socialist leader, has been forcibly expressed across the New York line. Two congressmen who planned to speak there in protest against violations of civil liberties were advised that if they appeared, bloodshed seemed certain. Lastly, it is reported that an ominous anti-Semitic movement, almost Hitlerian in brutal, terroristic methods, has started.

Irrespective of political or social principles, there is no room for that sort of thing in a free country. Freedom of speech must be maintained—and it must be maintained for those with whom you agree as well as disagree. It is high time that the administration took decisive action in a situation that menaces the basic principles upon which the republic was founded.

This WEEK in WASHINGTON

By RALPH E. CHURCH
Representative, 10th Congressional District

Washington, D. C., June 18.—It seems strange indeed that a nation enjoying the natural resources to be found in the United States and possessed with a productive capacity unequalled by any other country should find itself in the midst of hunger, want and suffering. It is difficult to believe unless we understand. If we were not actually experiencing just such a condition we would probably not believe it.

During the past several years many plans or solutions for the problem have been offered. Any number of them have been sent to me personally. I would not attempt even to list the different proposals for a solution that have been embodied in bills and actually introduced into congress. They are too numerous. It has often been said, although not true in fact, that every means of controlling production is a remedy to a depression. For many years Senator Borah has been contending that the problem confronting us is essentially one of distribution. He has repeatedly argued that the first step to be taken is to restore competition in the economic system by destroying monopolistic practices.

Space precludes any discussion of the pros and cons of the theory of Senator Borah. But whatever one's personal policy of distribution may be, it is clear that, to a remedy, it will have to be admitted that his following in congress is steadily increasing. When the senator took the floor a few days ago to express his opinion on the "pump-priming bill," stating in effect that it was useless to seek to increase purchasing power by spending methods so long as monopolies were allowed to exist, the sympathetic hearing he received was quite noticeable.

For centuries men have tried to devise ways and means to produce more to wear and to eat. Even today, with all the advancements of science and modern inventions, we still can't produce enough to meet the needs of the people. Surely by now we see the folly of this doctrine of scarcity adopted by the national government. Surely the people now recognize that limitations upon production are not a remedy and in the long run only serve to add to our difficulties.

A second fundamental truth

Dead Sea Salt Water Lake
The Dead Sea is a salt water lake in southern Palestine in which the River Jordan terminates. It is forty-seven miles long, ten miles wide, has a maximum depth of 1,280 feet, and an area of 360 square miles. Lying 1,380 feet below sea level, it is the lowest body of water in the world. Evaporation is 1,000,000 tons daily. The salinity is 23 to 27 per cent, which is about five times that of the ocean. The economic value of the salts in solution is great, the principal ones being potash and common salt. The commercial exploitation was begun in 1931. No animal life can exist in its waters.

Barrington Nine Drops Sloppy Contest to Sycamore Sunday, 7 to 2

Travel Sunday to Play West Chicago Baseball Outfit

Nine Miscues at Sycamore Are Responsible for Loss; Helmman Pitches

The Barrington baseball team suffered another defeat when they dropped a contest to the Sycamore ball club by a score of 7 to 2 at Sycamore Sunday. Al Helmman was on the mound for the local and only allowed seven hits but nine errors on the part of his teammates had a great deal to do with the loss. Pauleen and Baade got the only hits off the pitching of Pershall. Pauleen getting a single and a double and Baade knocking out a three-bagger and a single. First baseman Merv of Sycamore gathered three hits, one of which was good for four bases, to lead the team.

Barrington scored their only runs in the eighth inning on two hits and a walk. Sycamore pounded out three hits and scored four runs in their half of the eighth.

Helmman pitched all the way for the locals as did Pershall for Sycamore.

The box score for the game is as follows:

Barrington, 2—	AB	R	H

Next Sunday the Barrington outfit will travel to West Chicago where they will cross bats with the snappy aggregation of that community. Home games are expected to get underway here sometime in July, Manager William Behringer announced this week.

King Kong Features Wrestling Card at Grayslake Friday

All roads lead to Peg's arena at the Grayslake Junction of routes 20 and 54 Friday night, June 24, for King Kong. King Kong, the county via motor scooter to release all his savagery against none other than the rough and tough Jack Conley, the Boston slugger, in a main event match to the finish.

Fresh from an easy victory over Jim Bauman, Florida state heavyweight wrestling champion, last Friday in the initial show of the summer season in the spacious new open-air stadium, Kong is ready to prove his worth for a match with Jim McMillen, Jim Losos or Champion Bronx Naruski.

Conley, expert fighter whose favorite hold is a sock in the jaw, is recognized today as one of the roughest boys in action. Recently he stopped King Levinson with a series of rights to the jaw in the final decision of the meet at Chicago. Since Kong so easily disposed of the scintillating Bauman, promoters figured a rougher world would stand more of a chance against the Abyssinian Wild-Man.

The semi-finals pits Joe Corbett, an excellent and clever George ace, against Johnny Plummer, another of the Conley type, who wavers wrestling knowledge for bare fists

when the going gets tough.
