County Assessor Begins Re-Audit With New System

1938 Personal Property to Be Changed to Comply With Committee Report

Re-auditing of 1938 personal property schedules under the new method whereby fair cash values of $250,000,000 in taxable securities, bank deposits and capital stock of Cook County are assessed on a lower basis, was begun today by Assessor John S. Clark's staff.

It followed immediately after Assessor Clark's acceptance of the report suggested by his intangible committee to arrest the flight of $300,000,000 of intangible wealth from the state to escape taxation. Since the method reduces the assessment of such property, Assessor Clark said, it is expected that public cooperation will broaden the assessment roll.

Result of a month's labor by the committee, the method falls in line with the most progressive in the United States, it was reported. In its essentials it reduces the fair cash value of taxable stock on the basis of market value and other securities to either ten (10) per cent of the market value or ten (10) per cent of twenty (20) times the annual income, whichever is lower. Where no income is derived from such securities the annual income rate shall be taken to be two (2) per cent of the market value.

Fair cash values have been determined in the past by taking twenty (20) per cent of the market value or twenty (20) times the annual income whichever was lower. The computations are made against the market value as of April 1, for the calendar or taxable year preceding.

To allow time to employ the new method, Assessor Clark extended for ten (10) days the time

Urges Precautions to Prevent Rabies

Chief of Police E. W. Baade this week issued a warning to dog owners to keep close control over their pets during the warm weather season to prevent any possible outbreak of rabies. In making his statement he called to mind that last year seven persons were bitten by dogs found to have been infected with rabies.

No cases have been reported in this locality this year, but in several other places, Elgin, Waukegan, and McHenry, dogs have been found to have the disease.

Immunization by injections has been recommended by veterinarians as a safeguard against dogs becoming infected.

Local village ordinances require that dogs be confined to the owners' premises and not allowed to run on the streets unmuzzled.

Good Weather for Fourth Celebration With No Fatalities

Minimum Accidents as Many Enjoy Days Following Severe Rain

A glorious Fourth of July weekend with sunny weather following heavy rains was enjoyed by local persons. A cloudburst inundated the region north of Barrington and caused great property damage Friday.

One one casualty from fireworks was reported, that being Donald Brasel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brasel, who received several burned fingers. Auto accidents in the immediate vicinity were minor and traffic conditions were generally good, considering route 14, Northwest highway, was the only road open into the northwest area.

A near drowning was reported at Bang's lake in Wauconda Monday when Harold Hartung, 3436 N. Central avenue, Chicago, was revived after he had been in the water 10 minutes. Hartung and several companions were attempting to see how long they could remain under water. When he was rescued, his companions started diving and searching for him. He was brought to the surface unconscious, but artificial respiration and stimulants revived the youth and he was removed to his home Tuesday.

A collision that involved eight automobiles brought injuries to five persons on Rand road a mile south of Wauconda Monday evening.

Mrs. Ida Horwitz, 911 Independence boulevard, Chicago, received a fractured pelvis; Mrs. Jacob Greenman, 3152 W. Nineteenth avenue, Chicago, an injured back and fractured arm; a daughter, Ina Lee Greenman, skull fracture; a daughter, Rosalind Greenman, bruised arm and her husband, Jacob Greenman, bruises and shock.

The peculiar accident occurred, it was reported, when Greenman attempted to pull off the left side of the highway to stop at a milk depot. His machine was struck in the rear by one car following and another machine traveling from the opposite direction. Five other cars were in the collision. The injured were all in Greenman's car.

Conrad Lanczak, 33 years old, of Barrington, escaped with minor injuries when the motorcycle belonging to and operated by Ernest Tagge, 25 years old, of Arlington Heights, crashed into an automobile operated by Walter Olson of Southport avenue, Chicago, on U. S. route 14, about two miles south of Woodstock, Monday afternoon.

Tagge was taken to the Woodstock hospital where it was reported he suffered a skull fracture, a broken leg, lacerations and bruises.

Verona as to how the accident occurred differed, according to police reports. Olson maintains he was on his own side of the road and the two automobiles crashed into the automobile operated by and into the northbound lane in front of them.

The cloudburst that struck Thursday night brought varying depths of rainfall in this region.

In this locality it was reported, nearly one inch fell while farther north the totals ran from four inches to seven. Lowlands along the Des Plaines and Fox rivers were covered by the swirling waters. Many resort places were swamped and roads made impassable. Scholes on the Chicago and North Western and Soo railways were halted temporarily when washouts occurred.

Crop damage in the farm sections from the heavy rainfall and from streams overflowing is reported at more than $1,000,000 in both Cook and Lake counties. However, in the Barrington vicinity, the prospects for good harvests are favorable.

Some loss will be sustained where small grains were beaten down by the wind and rain and some orchards have been washed out. But the losses in any case are not expected to exceed one-fifth of good crop yields.

The Ritz Brothers Headline Week-End Feature at Catlow

"Kentucky Moonshine" Here
Sun-Mon.; "Joy of Living" Billed

"There's Always a Woman," many comedy co-starring Joan Blondell and Melvyn Douglas at the Catlow theatre Saturday, won from seasoned film critics the most laudatory comments ever heard in Hollywood.

"It's Thin Man" and "Awful Truth" when into one," Leo Townsend, of Modern Screen, reported.

Hilarious hillbillies, like the kind that romp through "Li'l Abner," "Barney Google" and "The Mountain Boys" comicstrip, bring loads of fun to the Catlow when "Kentucky Moonshine" opens on Sunday. The Ritz Brothers are starred in the film as mountaineers. The look hillbilly, they talk hillbilly, but don't let the wiskers fool you—it's the Ritzes daffier than ever.

An Indo-China jungle, complete to the last detail, was constructed as the background for "Mr. Moto Takes a Chance," latest in the series of mystery-adventures starring Peter Lorre as the fast-thinking, fast-acting Oriental detective based on the character created by J. P. Marquand, coming to the Catlow Tuesday.

Containing a murky jungle river and a native settlement, together with a temple of Khmer architecture, it was considered one of the most interesting exterior settings ever constructed.

Double featured with "Mr. Moto Takes a Chance" on Tuesday is "Go Chase Yourself," starring Joe Penner, and featuring Lucille Ball and Richard Lane.

In one respect Irene Dunne's role in "Joy of Living," new musical comedy, is the easiest part she has ever portrayed on the screen.

That is because she impersonates a successful musical comedy actress in the picture—a character that mirrors her real life career. The incidents of the plot, of course, have no bearing on her life history.

The slender favorite starred on Broadway in such hits as "Irene" and "Show Boat," two of the most popular musicals New York has ever known. As a consequence, it wasn't at all difficult for her to be realistic in the picture, in which Douglas Fairbanks Jr., appears, an unique type of tenuous romantic adventure.

Library News

The vacation reading club for summer readers was begun July 6, and lasts through the rest of the summer vacation. We are having a new and unusual club this year in the form of a treasure hunt. Instead of giving prizes to boys and girls reading the greatest number of books, we are posting a list of treasure questions, the answers of which will be found in the library books and make up the hidden treasure.

Each boy and girl will be given a reward which can be earned only by completing the requirements as follows:

- 1.—Find answers in library books to treasure questions.
- 2.—Read ten of the books in which you find the treasure questions that you have not read before.

All boys and girls in grades 1 through 8 of last year are eligible and welcome to enter the hunt for hidden treasure in books and we are hoping for a large group of entrants.

The Lions team started off the season by soundly whipping the village hall gang, 13 to 7, and the Jewel Tea Southside park.

The Merchants were leading 9 to 8 in the last of the sixth, but Cooney Lipofsky, who was hurrying for the Merchants, lost his stuff and the Commuters knocked him for four runs to sew up the game. The Merchants managed to pick up one run in the seventh, but the final score was 10 to 12.

Old Men Superstitious
The superstition attached to breaking a mirror is one of the oldest in the world. George W. Stimpson, Texas newspaper correspondent and author of a series of books on puzzling questions, says the ancient Romans believed it. They reasoned the health of a person changed every seven years and one's appearance, as reflected by a mirror, indicated the state of his health. So, if the mirror were dropped and shattered, one would be due to experience seven years' ill health. But long before the Romans, man saw his image reflected in still pools, believed what he saw was a part of himself. So, if a jester tossed a stone into the pool, ruffled the waters and temporarily destroyed the image, man believed a part of himself had been injured.

Color, Poles of Compass
One of the oldest and most widespread usages of color connects a specific one with each of the four cardinal points of the compass. North is white, east yellow, south red and west black. In many parts of the Orient, says Collier's Weekly, this color custom is followed in the painting of city gates that face squarely in these directions.

How Ethan Allen Became Famous as a War Leader

In the fray of the morning of May 10, 1775, a handful of patriotic Americans—the Green Mountain Boys—arrived on the shore of Lake Champlain, after a march from Bennington, Vt. Their leader was Ethan Allen. They appropriated boats, rowed across the foot of the lake and took the British garrison at Fort Ticonderoga completely by surprise. A sentry fired at Allen, but missed him. The leader of the Americans met the British commander, one Captain La Place, at the door of the barracks occupied by the latter, demanding immediate surrender of the fort.

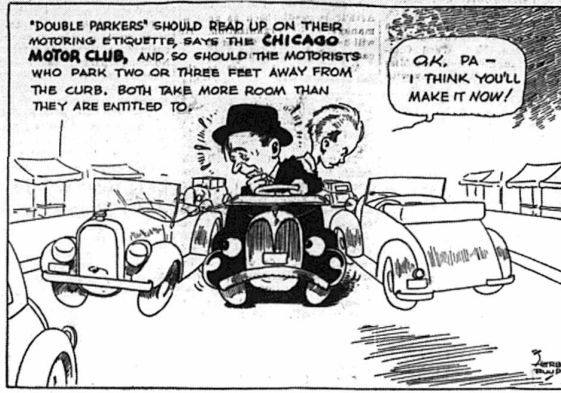

"By what authority do you make this bold demand?" asked the captain.

"By what authority?" thundered Allen, "I demand it, sir, in the name of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress."

It was by this daring act and these immortal words, observes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, that the leader of the Green Mountain Boys became famous. Later in the war he was captured by the British, taken to England, brought back to America, and finally exchanged. He visited Washington at Valley Forge, and was honored in his home town, Bennington, with a salute of 14 guns. He died February 11, 1795, aged fifty-two years, one month, and one day.

Assessor Begins Re-Audit; New System

Limit for those who have not filed schedules. Since those already filed will be re-audited, new schedules need not be filed.

The intangibles committee made these recommendations in an eighteen page report and its standards for economically just and legally defensible assessments were accepted by the assessor. The gist of guides, standards and aids for uniform valuation of net credits, money and capital stock, follows:

The fair cash value of net credits shall be ten per cent of such credits.

The fair cash value of money, cash and bank deposits, shall be either ten per cent of the net cash and bank deposits or ten per cent of twenty times the annual income, whichever is lower, provided however, that the annual income rate shall be taken to be not less than two per cent of the cash and bank deposits.

Capital stock of Illinois corporations assessable by the county assessor shall be determined at ten per cent of the fair cash value of such capital stock.

In all cases the fair cash value of these intangibles shall be equalized by taking thirty-seven (37) per cent of the assessed value, the method employed in determining the assessed value of real estate and tangible personal property. The tax is determined by multiplying the assessed value by the tax rate.

To outline a basis for proper administration of the committee called special attention to four points essential to its success:

"1.—Public cooperation should be developed by the establishment of equitable and sound rules, and by the uniform adherence to such rules.

"2.—The county assessor should have access to the federal income tax returns as far as such returns may be required for assessment purposes.

"3.—The board of appeals and the assessor of Cook county jointly should make and subscribe to the provisions of the rule or rules promulgated for the assessment of all taxable property in Cook county.

"4.—The state's attorney of Cook county and the courts should uphold such rules."

Appointed to study phases of intangible wealth and arrive at a workable assessment procedure, the members of the committee were selected because of their familiarity with the problem and are prominent in civic affairs. They are: Homer J. Buckley, director of the Illinois Manufacturers' association; George O. Fairweather, assistant treasurer of the University of Chicago; J. L. Jacobs, former county assessor, and efficiency expert; Joseph J. Keenan, secretary, Chicago Federation of Labor; Arthur Krugger, realtor; Colonel A. A. Sprague, civic leader; William F. Struckman, legal tax expert; and Douglas Sutherland, secretary of the Civic Federation and bureau of public efficiency.

In accepting their report, Assessor Clark said he was awayed by the fact that eighteen (18) of thirty states which have income tax laws, or personal property tax laws which permit classification, take from 1.5 to 5 per cent of income for taxation. The remaining twelve (12) states take slightly more than 5 per cent.

"The method decided upon by the committee represents a tax of about six per cent of income," he said. "I believe this percentage will be acceptable to the people, that it is economically sound. While it may be higher than that in some states of lower brackets of income it compares favorably with other states, especially in view of the fact that Illinois has no income tax."

Powwow of Indian Origin

The name powwow is Indian in origin. From the Algonquin language, it first meant a medicine man's ceremony for the cure of disease. That was before the white man and trouble came to the Indians. Then it became synonymous with a great dance, feast, or celebration held before a grand hunt or war expedition. Noise, shouts and confusion made up a powwow. Early Americans grabbed the word, gave it still another meaning. A political powwow to them meant a gathering of would-be statesmen and saviors of the nation, where sound and confusion often trumped over anything of a deliberative nature.

A Satisfied Customer

Schauble Brothers & Collins, Barrington, Ill.

Dear Sirs:

This spring I was in the market for a used car, as my old car needed lots of repairs. Therefore I decided it might be to my financial advantage to trade it in. Knowing Mr. Schauble, I decided to see what your firm had in used cars. Mr. Schauble showed me a car, and told me all about it, and also about the valuable used car contest going on. I looked around a little more and decided that Schauble Bros. & Collins were reliable and stable, so I purchased a 1934 Chevrolet 2-Door Sedan. I have driven this car for three months and am well satisfied with my buy, and advise anyone who is purchasing a used car that he will make no mistake in buying from Schauble Bros. & Collins.

My biggest surprise was on Saturday, June 25th, when I was awarded first prize of $350.00 in cash.

Thank you for the splendid buy on my car and the $350.00 cash, which I was very gratified to receive.

Postpone McMillen- King Kong Match to Friday at Grayslake

In a bout held over from last Friday because of the rains and flood, King Kong, famous bearded wrestling star who has as yet to meet his first defeat in this country, will go up against Jim McMillen, great heavyweight contender who is a stumbling block for up and coming stars, in the feature attraction in Peg's Grayslake arena Friday night, headlining the outstanding card of the season.

King Kong easily disposed of two opponents in the order at Grayslake and proved himself worthy of world's championship consideration. Promoters called upon Jim McMillen to stop the sensational rise of the King who had been finishing up all of their stars, and Mac answered the call when he signed articles for the match two weeks ago.

The semi-windup features the return of Freddy "Legs" Grubmiller, famous Iowa scissor star who proved a big favorite here last year. He will try and tame the rougher from Texas, Johnny Plummer, in a thirty minute go. In the preliminary bout two of the four famous wrestling Schnable brothers take on heavy stars. Fritz goes against "Bull" Campbell, U. S. navy heavyweight champion, who was recently transferred to the Great Lakes naval station from the west coast, while Hans takes on Rudy Strongberg, powerful German Adonis. In the other prelim.

Adlemer Farm High in Butterfat Count

High honors in butterfat production for the month of May went to the Adlemer Farm of Barrington with a production average of 84 pounds per cow. The herd ranked among the first 13 herds in the dairy herd improvement association that finished the month with production averages above 50 pounds of butterfat.

Located in Cuba township and owned by Miss Isabelle Bates, the Guernsey herd of 18 milkers has led the Northern Illinois Guernsey Breeders in production for more than two years.

Farm Manager John Rexroat reports that the butterfat herd average for 1937 was 97 pounds which puts the herd well up the list among high producers in the Guernsey breed.

According to Herdman T. J. Bailey, the animals are now on a ration of molasses, beet pulp, corn, oats, wheatbran, soybean meal, cottonseed meal and linseed meal. They are receiving no hay but have ready access to a high quality alfalfa and bluegrass pasture.

Brothers Meet After 30 Years Separation

For the first time in 30 years, two brothers met in Woodstock. One of them had been thought dead for the last 20 years. The two men are Carl and Alfred Benson. Alfred had left home 30 years ago and was not heard from during the long interval. Consequently when he appeared at Carl's home in Woodstock, Mrs. Benson did not recognize her brother-in-law. Alfred has a brother, Gus Benson, living in Chicago and plans a reunion with him shortly. His reason for not contacting his family was that he never found time and always expected to see them. In fact, when he left his family in Texas a few days before coming to Woodstock, he was only going on the supposition that some member was still alive and in the Woodstock region.

Freight Train Kills Man and Woman in Half Hour

Two persons, a man and woman, were fatally injured by the same Chicago and North Western railroad freight train within the space of a half hour last week. The man, Louis P. Ryan, a 37-year old transient, was fatally injured when he fell beneath the train in the DeKalb yards. Mrs. Mary Ann Wagner of Maple Park was the second victim. She was struck by the train as she walked across the tracks at the crossing near her home a short while after Ryan was injured. The transient attempted to get off the fast moving freight and was dragged beneath the wheels. He died in the DeKalb hospital. Mrs. Wagner died at the home of a neighbor reading near the crossing. It was believed she became confused when she saw the oncoming train and failed to act quickly.

Waukegan Truck Driver Revives Human Faith

Tony Kuntel of Waukegan, a truck driver who might rank well with Ahab Ben Adam, has raised hopes in the breasts of many citizens by his recent act of good faith. While driving along a Waukegan street last week he spotted a space he thought his truck might fit into. However, in backing up, his machine hit the fender of a car parked there. Although the damage was small and no witnesses were about, Tony left a note stating that he would report it to the police, which he did. According to police records the car owner has failed to put in appearance—perhaps he is too overwhelmed by Tony's honesty.

Jealousy Almost Forced

Mozart to Go Into Exile—Mozart, the sunniest, most lovable and possibly the greatest of all operatic composers, was almost driven into exile by jealousies that retarded the recognition of his genius before his death and reduced him to want in spite of his tremendous popularity, says Aubrey Boyd in the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Mozart was born in Salzburg, Austria, in 1756. When he was 11 years old, his memory for music and his delicate ear—capable of detecting and remembering a difference of a half a quarter of a note, so impressed his father that he was taken, to perform on the piano before the elector at Munich and before the emperor and court at Vienna. The nobility went wild over the children and especially over "the little magician," as Mozart was called by an emperor who proved less benevolent when the "magician" grew up.

The young prodigies were then hustled away on a triumphant tour through Paris, London, The Hague, Vienna and the musical centers of Italy during some ten years of travel. While still in his early teens, young Mozart composed a number of symphonies and an opera which was repeated to full houses twenty times in Milan, amid cries of "Evviva, M. Maestri!" He was then composing "Ruggerio," prophetically said, "This boy will cause us all to be forgotten."

Such popularity, however, aroused jealousies. From the time he was seventeen, Mozart's efforts to obtain a court appointment were constantly blocked either by the patronage of patrons or the opposition of envious rivals. Back in Salzburg at the age of twenty-one, he found himself in an intolerable situation.

Biggest Piece of Embroidery

The biggest piece of embroidery in the world is probably the Bayeux tapestry, which is literally an embroidery, and is 211 feet long and 20 inches wide. Tradition says that it was the work of Queen Matilda, wife of William the Conqueror, and her maids. It depicts scenes of the Norman conquest of England, and William the Conqueror's victory at Hastings. The tapestry is housed in a special building near the Gothic cathedral of Bayeux, France. The embroidery is on a background of coarse linen and has preserved its tints of dark and light blue, red, green, gray, beige and brown.

Probate $5,000 Will of William H. Bell

The late William H. Bell, who died in Cuba township on June 12, left an estate of $5,000, all in personal property, according to a will filed in probate court this week. The will gives his widow the household and personal effects, as well as the home, which was in joint tenancy. The residue of his property is given to his daughter, Mrs. Elmer Martin of Barrington. The Harris Trust and Savings Bank was appointed executor.

The will of the late Fredrika Lippert, who died in Chicago, June 16, was admitted to probate this week and gives her $4,000 estate to her four children. A daughter, Mrs. Hattie Werner, lives in Palestine.

Birth of the "Marsellaise"

There is a popular story that the inspiring "Marsellaise" was written as the result of a burst of patriotism. Actually, the song seems to have been written not at Marselles, but at Strasbourg as a result of the martyr complaining that there was no real marching song for the troops. Rouget de Lisle composed the words, but doubt exists as to the composer of the music, says Pearson's London Weekly. "The Marsellaise" was first played at a review of the Garde Nationale on April 29, 1792, and first achieved fame when sung by the republican troops that assaulted the Tuilleries a few months later.

True Beauty

After all, the most natural beauty in the world is honesty and moral truth; for all beauty is truth. True features make the beauty of a face, and true proportions the beauty of architecture, as true measures that of harmony and music. In poetry, which is all fable, truth still is the perfection.—Lord Shaftesbury.

Fish Scales Give Pearly Sheen—"Essence d'Orient," the brilliant coating obtained from the scales of certain fish, is used to give plastics a pearly sheen, says Industrial and Engineering Chemistry. The particles are colorless, nearly transparent, extremely small, and possess a beautiful luster. When suspended in a protective colloid, such as a pyroxilin dispersion, the brilliancy is permanent.

Cormorant Fishing in Japan—Cormorant fishing is a big industry among Chinese and Japanese. The birds are trained to catch fish and bring them to their owners. But knowing cormorants' great gluttony, owners take no chances and put metal rings around the birds' necks to keep fish from being gulped.

Home Ec. Classes' Program Wednesday

There will be a display of home economic summer projects at the Barrington public school Wednesday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock, July 13. This exhibit and a program concerning the work will be held in the fourth and fifth grade rooms located near the north entrance of the building.

Twenty-seven girls will exhibit a wide variety of clothing projects. Booklets representing other projects such as "budgeting," "child care," "yard and garden," "foods," "re-decorating," and "care of the home" will be also displayed. Some projects will be brought unfinished as the work has been planned for the entire summer. Projects such as "care of the home" and "care of gardens" that can't be judged at the school will be visited and rated by the home project board.

Mrs. Margaret Everett, class instructor, has invited the public to attend achievement day.

Oldest Lighthouse in America

The oldest lighthouse in America is Boston light station. Built in 1716, it was knocked down during the Revolution, rebuilt in 1793. It was then 60 feet high, lit by four whale oil lamps. The tower, 80 feet high, contains the original stones, in use more than 222 years, plus additions.
