"Vivacious Lady" Coming to Catlow Sunday, Monday

"The Adventures of Robin Hood" Begins Run Wednesday

Twenty-one nations of the world are represented in the cast of "Four Men and a Prayer," the third feature play which boasts a cast headed by Loretta Young, Richard Greene, George Sanders, David Niven and C. Aubrey Smith. The picture, at the Catlow theatre Friday and Saturday, includes Americans (Miss Young), Englishmen (Mearns, Greene, Sanders and Smith), Scotsmen, Irishmen, Hindus, Maxmen, Germans, French, Italians, Russians, Arabs, Egyptians and even an Afghan.

Rapidly becoming one of Hollywood's foremost leading men, John Wayne plays one of his most important roles opposite Ginger Rogers, in "Vivacious Lady," the new screen comedy coming to the Catlow Sunday and Monday.

Co-starred with the vivid, titan-haired star, Stewart is cast as a retiring small-town college professor who, in New York, meets and marries a vivacious nightclub entertainer, played by Elizabeth Allen, Charles Coburn, Beulah Bondi and Frances Mercer comprise the supporting cast.

Priscilla Lane is almost never recognized off-screen by fans. Recently she accompanied Wayne Morris to a radio station where he appeared on a national broadcast and the next day she received 23 letters from fans informing her that Wayne was two-timing her and had a strange girl with him at the broadcast. This off-screen and on-screen romantic team are starring in "Love, Honor, and Behave," the delightful new comedy coming to the Catlow Tuesday.

Double featured with "Love, Honor and Behave," Tuesday, is "Law of the Underworld," with Chester Morris.

Filmed entirely in technicolor, "The Adventures of Robin Hood," starring the dashing Errol Flynn, comes to the Catlow Wednesday for three days.

Illustrated, this beloved legend, concerning the gallant deeds of a Saxon noble who turned outlaw with a band of followers and plundered the rich Normans to feed and protect the poor and oppressed, has long been a favorite to moviegoers of all ages.

Flynn, who starred in "Captain Blood" and "The Charge of the Light Brigade," heads a cast of hundreds.

The lovely Maid Marion is portrayed by Elizabeth Allen. Old Sir Haverill, Prince John is played by Claude Rains; Sir Guy of Gisbourne is brought to the screen by the sleek Basil Rathbone; King Richard the Lion-Hearted is Ian Hunter; Friar Tuck is the rotund Eugene Pallette; and the lovable Little John is sturdy Alan Hale.

For a summer luncheon, we suggest salmon patties, fresh peaches, potato chips, combination salad and windblown cake, topped with fresh raspberries and whipped cream.

Here's Mrs. Charles Forsberg's recipe for the patties:

SALMON PATTIES
No. 2 can salmon, flaked.
1 cup bread crumbs.
1/2 cup milk.
1 egg, beaten.

Mix all ingredients well. Drop by teaspoonsful on hot skillet in which butter has been melted. Flatted cakes but do not have to be turned over. Turn once when browned. Serve hot with garnish of parsley and lemon wedge wrapped with paprika.

For the tossed salad, we like to use fresh tomatoes, cucumbers, onion, green pepper, parsley and lettuce.

Mrs. C. D. Herriman contributes the delicious cake recipe:

WINDBLOWN CAKE
3 eggs.
1/2 cup cold water.
1/4 cup sugar.
1 1/4 cup cake flour, plus two tablespoons.

1/4 teaspoon lemon extract.
1/4 teaspoon almond extract.
1 teaspoon baking powder.

Mix eggs and water. Beat until fluffy. Add sugar gradually. Fold in flour, baking powder and last, whites. Bake in angel food pan in 300° oven one hour.

A refreshing drink for this luncheon may be made by combining the juice of two fresh limes and lemons with sugar, water and a bit of mint.

Rabid Dog Is Killed Near Marengo After Countryside Chase

At least 20 dogs are being kept under observation in and near Marengo this week and several men were given anti-rabies treatment. Officials had received a positive rabies report on a grey dog which was slain Sunday after it had run loose several days.

The dog, owned by Cornell Bros. farm near Marengo, became vicious Saturday. When it made attempts to attack stock on the Wilson farm nearby, it was captured and locked up in a nearby wooden silo.

Willie Wilson was notifying the owners of its condition, the animal intended to gnaw its way out of the silo and fled east. It attacked dogs in practically every farm yard, biting at least 20.

Severe Electrical Storm Sweeps Area

Severe electrical storms, accompanied by high winds, swept northern Illinois Tuesday afternoon and evening and Wednesday morning, causing principal damage to corn and spring grain. In this area the winds were less violent, although limbs of trees were broken off by the high winds. The storm began north of the Barrington area and swept south at Mattoon where it reached cyclonic proportions, it was learned.

Lightning was responsible for fire that destroyed a barn on the Sverdrup farm on route 14, two miles west of Crystal Lake Tuesday afternoon. Henry Sverdrup the tenant, and his son Donald were in the barn when the bolt set fire to the granary and hayloft. Four horses were rescued but 55 tons of hay were lost.

Barrington Defeats Park Ridge at Polo Sunday by 5-2 Score

The Barrington Polo club defeated the Park Ridge riders in a score of 5 to 2 Sunday to go into a second 5 to 2 win for the team in the championship of the Suburban Polo association. Both outfits have one victory with no defeats to their credit.

The game, which was played on the local field on Hart road, was keenly contested throughout and it was only in the closing minute of play that Barrington was able to pull into the lead. A goal by Paul Corbett and another by J. Bowen clinched the victory. The team of Park Ridge scored the two marks in the first half of the game.

Although the game was hard fought, only two fouls were called, one on Smith and one on Bateman. The Barrington Polo club will cross mallets with the league-leading Lake Forest five at Onentwa field next Sunday afternoon. Game time is 3 o'clock.

Sunday's lineup: Barrington Team pos. Pk. Ridge Corbett 1 Popham Bateman 2 Townsend Buckley 3 Bowers Bowen 4 Gloor Spares—Smith of Barrington at No. 1. Goals—Barrington—by handics 1. Buckley, Smith, Corbett, Bowen; Park Ridge—Townsend 2. Foul—Smith, Bateman.

Four Motorists Hurt When Autos Collide

Two jockeys of Arlington Heights and two other persons were injured last Thursday night in an automobile collision on route 12 about a mile north of the Lake-Cook county line road.

Paul Ryan, 39 years old, of 204 Highwood, and a jockey of Heights, a jockey was driving with him on route 12 when he attempted to pass another automobile. He was unable to stop in time to avoid colliding with a northbound car driven by Phillip Lapring, of 6305 N. Washtenaw avenue, Chicago. It was reported.

T. P. Martin, 28 years old, another jockey, and Mrs. Helen Ryan, all of the Arlington Heights address, and both drivers received severe lacerations and bruises. They were removed to the Palatine hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Johnson, 2436 Clinton street, Minneapolis, Minn., and their daughter, were bruised Saturday night when their car went into a ditch and overturned on route 14, west of Barrington. Mrs. Johnson was taken to the Sherman hospital in Elgin for treatment but was able to leave the institution Sunday morning. Johnson told authorities that he took the ditch to avoid being struck by another car.

Automobiles driven by A. W. Stake, 5340 N. Artesian avenue, Chicago, and A. L. Vanderlike, 1900 N. Kedzie, both from Chicago, collided at the intersection of Irving Park boulevard and Barrington road Saturday. Mrs. Vanderlike was slightly injured.

Among those from Barrington who were so honored were: George Steffenhofer, August Boehmer, George Hanson, Rev. C. F. Grand Jury Quiz on Co. Gambling Seen

A grand jury investigation into charges of wide-open gambling in Lake county may grow out of the county-wide raid last Saturday evening. Circuit Judge Ralph Dady took under advisement Wednesday morning that the investigation had been suspended. Five affidavits, three of them signed by ministers, were presented by the complainants' attorneys. Judge Dady is expected to give a decision either Friday or Monday.

The threatened grand jury quiz is the outgrowth of the raid on places of business having slot machines, pin games or operating horse betting books.

A large number of raiders, divided into several squads, descended on Barrington and other communities almost simultaneously last Saturday night. Machines were found in Barrington, but none were removed. Local persons believed the county-wide "clean up" a political maneuver as it did not originate in either the sheriff's office or the state attorney's office—the usual source of county police activities.

Favor Purchase of Power Weed Cutter

Purchase of a new all-power operated weed cutter for village use was discussed by trustees at the board meeting Monday night. A. C. Burandt, village clerk, reported that the machine had been satisfactorily demonstrated to Trustee Rudolph Berg, chairman of the street committee, and Paul Purcell, superintendent of streets, of the Worthington Midway Co.

The mower most suited to the village's use would cost $190. Mr. Burandt stated, and there is a possible trade-in allowance of $50 on the present mower, which has a power operated cutting bar but requires a man to push it. The new machine demonstrated here is entirely power operated.

Following a motion by Trustee Berg and seconded by Trustee John J. Carroll, Mr. Burandt was instructed to complete the negotiations for the purchase.

SET GREEN SIGNAL FOR AMERICA!

Congressman Samuel B. Pettengill, a leading congressional authority on transportation affairs, offers an 11-point program for solving the railroad problem. It is a sensible, practical and clear-cut approach to this vexing question.

Mr. Pettengill's program includes: Stop government competition with private carriers and sell the federal barge line; stop taxing the railroads to aid their competitors; repeal the long-and-short-haul clause of the transportation act, in order to make it possible for the railroads to offer rates as low as those offered by their competitors; stop subsidizing intercostal shipping; restore to railroad managements the right to really manage the properties; give rate-making authority over all forms of transport to one non-political agency next in dignity, independence and importance to the supreme court; let railway management work out fair consolidation programs, subject to the veto of the Interstate Commerce commission; stop frightening investors with nonsensical talk of repudiation of contracts by solvent roads. Who can object to such common sense relief?

This briefs the main points of the program. It asks nothing for the railroads that is not in public interest, and that is not justified by the most elementary principles of fairness and reason. And what would it accomplish? To quote Mr. Pettengill directly, "The mere adoption of this old-fashioned program of 'equal rights for all, special privileges to none' in my judgment . . . would do more than any possible pump-priming, court-packing or government reorganization to rebuild our lost prosperity. If we clear the track for the Iron Horse we set the signal for America."

"Do You Keep Your Child Too Busy?"

By Ruth Arnold Nickel

"I just ran in to tell you that I won't be at the meeting, tomorrow," said Mrs. Mitchell, as her neighbor came out on the porch to greet her. "I'm going to take Lillian to the museum."

"How nice," commented Mrs. Gracie, giving her a chair.

"I'm going to take Lillian to the museum," said Mrs. Mitchell. "Lillian isn't very enthusiastic, but I think she ought to take advantage of such things. Besides, she never knows what to do with herself during vacations. I simply have to arrange a program for her, or she would waste her time or money. How did you manage to get Gladys interested in so many worthwhile things?"

Mrs. Gracie smiled. "Gladys! Oh, she makes time in choosing and undertaking time now. I used to insist that she work on certain projects. When she was twelve years old—that was two years ago—I decided that the time had come to teach her all sorts of things. She had learned to sew a little and loved to make doll's clothes, but I wanted her to make something useful. I bought some fine white cloth and started her on a slip."

"Well, that sounds sensible enough," observed Mrs. Mitchell, "though I'd be afraid to trust Lillian with anything that I expected her to wear."

"Gladys never wore the slip," said Mrs. Gracie ruefully, "at least, not until I made it over. She disliked working on it. This started a kind of struggle between us."

"What did you do, let her drop it?" asked Mrs. Mitchell with interest.

"Oh no, she finished it after a fashion, but it was done grudgingly and poorly."

"But she sees now, doesn't she?"

"Yes, she sees beautifully," said Mrs. Gracie. "When the slip was finally finished, I said nothing more about sewing. I didn't want to fix the dislike that I had started. Then the next summer she begged me for a pink tennis dress. It was early in the season and the only pink dress I had was a white one. Then she said, 'Mother, I think I could make one, if you'd help me with the binding around the neck.' I tried not to show my delight! We found a remnant of goods and she made the dress with very little help from me; you see she wanted it. She read the directions and the one I had, and she did a fine job."

"But that implies that mothers shouldn't try to direct their children," objected Mrs. Mitchell.

"I wondered about that," said Mrs. Gracie, "and I talked it over with Tom. He had been trying to improve her reading, but when he brought books home from the library she never seemed to care for them. Tom concluded that we weren't accomplishing our purpose. We were selecting for Gladys the things we wanted her to like."

"Maybe you are right," said Mrs. Mitchell. "Tell me what you did."

"We decided to stop imposing our tastes upon Gladys and let her develop her own. We had kept her too busy, I thought. I had been so interested in her early summer vacations. I had regular work to do, but I was allowed to create most of my own pleasures. I remembered long hours of reading—discovering books that I learned to love, hours of play, and gardening in the back yard. Whenever I got bored, I began to look around for something new and interesting to do."

"I told this to Tom and he remembered the same conditions with regard to his own childhood. He agreed that we had been supervising Gladys too much. So we planned to be ready to share experience with her part of the time, but to leave her many hours each week when she would be entirely free."

"Gladys had to do some house-work, of course, and that kept her busy in the mornings. During the first week she seemed a little bored in the afternoons. Then one day she said, 'I'm not bored any more!' That was a break. She began voluntarily looking for something to read and before long she was interested of her own accord in some of the very subjects her father had hoped she'd like!"

"But wasn't she ever idle?" asked Mrs. Mitchell.

"Yes, she used to lie in the hammock on the porch sometimes for hours. One day she said to me, 'Mother, I love to lie and do nothing in the sun in the summertime. In the winter I have to buy a coat and get things straightened out in my mind!'

"Glorious!" said Mrs. Mitchell, rising. "I think I'll drop the museum outing. Perhaps if I drag Lillian there on a hot day when she doesn't want to go, she will dislike it."

"Well, that sounds sensible enough," observed Mrs. Mitchell, "though I'd be afraid to trust Lillian with anything that I expected her to wear."

"Gladys never wore the slip," said Mrs. Gracie ruefully, "at least, not until I made it over. She disliked working on it. This started a kind of struggle between us."

WHAT'S GOING ON

Of all new deal ideas, President Roosevelt retains his first and strongest interest in the idea of planned development of this nation's resources.

TVA is the symbol of the president's ideal. In TVA, within its planned development, its soil erosion and reforestation programs and its program for industrial development, is the basis for regional planning.

But congress at its last session balked at extending the TVA idea to other regions.

Mr. Roosevelt was disappointed at the congressional attitude. At the same time, some of the president's advisers on government policy were saying:

The national government continues to spend at the rate maintained in recent years there very shortly will be a dearth of worthwhile projects of a strictly public nature. Then real boondoggling would be forced.

A lack of interest in planning for a shortage of a short time to spend money led to study of a new approach to the whole resource development problem.

A start on this approach was made July 5 when Mr. Roosevelt addressed a meeting to a meeting of leading Southerners to Washington at the president's behest to a statement outlining the economic situation in the South.

The purpose of this statement will be to show what needs to be done to lift the South to parity with other regions. Once the South had stated its problems, other regions will outline theirs.

The president told the Southerners that the South presents right now the nation's No. 1 economic problem—the nation's problem, indeed the world's problem.

In the South is the nation's highest birthrate and its lowest level of individual income. The South contains the largest proportion of children to total population and yet spends the least per capita on education. In southern states is found half of the nation's farm income reaches that population. The South contains 28 per cent of the nation's people, yet only 16 per cent of the nation's tools for use in making a living.

Yet the southern states have abundant natural resources in the form of arable land, timber, and minerals, as well as water power. Those resources, the government experts reported to the meeting of representative southerners, are being squandered.

The nature of the task ahead, as viewed by President Roosevelt, is stated as follows:

"The task is to embrace the wasted, or neglected resources of land and water, the abuses suffered by the soil, the need for cheap fertilizer and cheap power, the problems presented by the population itself—a population still holding the great heritages of King Mountain and Shiloh—the problems presented by the South's capital resources and problems growing out of the new industrial era and again of absentee ownership of the new government for years.

Here, the government planners say, is the outline of a program of planned spending and of reform that can occupy the national government for years.

The South is the problem of cotton, and its dwindling foreign markets, that affects directly the lives of nearly two million growers. There is the wage problem made acute by the pressure of a rapidly growing population on the labor markets. There is the problem, as the Southerners see it, of Northern ownership of Southern

A government program to resolve the problem caused by the lack of balance between the South and other regions can involve a large shift of income to the South through government subsidies and through government help in planned resource development.

It has been a dream of those who hope to see building and construction occupy the role which economists and sociologists declare it should occupy in the national match. Those shooting for Des Plaines were: C. E. Fullner, G. Remack, Albert Ahbe, Dr. C. Hill, Cliff Powers and Newton Alvin. The meet was held at Springfield and the Quincy post.

One step at least was taken in that direction recently under the initiative of a federal agency, the U.S. Housing Authority, Nathan M. Stiles, administrator of the authority, announced that some 50 contracts had been negotiated with A.F. of L. building trade councils in as many cities, the effect of which is to freeze prevailing wages at the present level on all low-cost housing projects in which the housing authority has an interest.

Thus guaranteed against any attempted reduction in wage rates, the unions agreed that no stoppage of work would take place through strikes to increase wages or because of jurisdictional disputes. The number of these contracts is expected shortly to be at least doubled.

Again from the obvious advantages in the contracts that comes from taking much of the guess out of cost estimates, this move has been interpreted as a beginning toward an objective which President Roosevelt and many other persons interested in low-cost housing have frequently voiced.

This paradoxical result, it is explained, may be obtained if, in the steady employment. Consequently they interpreted the proposal, if coming from employers, as a subterfuge to undermine a wage scale that had been built up after years of struggle.

Patconcrete is the situation in which building labor finds itself in this.

Assuming a wage rate of $1 an hour, an employee may earn in a year as high as $2,000 if he works for 2,000 hours. But in practice he may work no more than 800 hours because building employment is not only seasonal to a considerable extent but is extremely irregular, depending on the business cycle, waves of real estate speculation and shifts in population.

The president told the Southerners that the South presents right now the nation's No. 1 economic problem—the nation's problem, indeed the world's problem.

Fox River Claims Four Victims in Five Days

The accidental drowning of Roy M. Anderson, 41 years old, in the Fox River near Elgin last week marked the fourth such fatality in the Fox Valley region in five days. A St. Charles boy lost his life in Pottawatomie park; an Aurora boy was drowned while he attempted to swim over the Aurora dam, and a Chicago boy was drowned while swimming at Fox River Heights. Anderson was drowned when the boat in which he and two other companions were riding overturned. He was pulled beneath the surface when the hip boots he was wearing filled with water.

It has been well said that glass is more than any other form of handicraft shows the individuality of the glassmaker of old created pieces which are unique in conception of beauty. But no longer does it shape and turn a piece of molten glass on the end of a metal tube into a thing of exceeding beauty. The technique of glass blowing has so completely changed that it may almost be considered a lost art.

Barrington Baseball Club Trounced by West Chicago Sunday, 11-3

Make Nine Errors in Fifth Loss Out of Eight Starts

Batting and Fielding Weak;
H. Meiners Allows Two Earned Runs

The Barrington baseball club met with its fifth defeat in eight starts at West Chicago last Sunday by dropping a game to the West Chicago team, 11 to 3.

Errors again proved a major factor in deciding the outcome of the game. The West Chicagoans gained only two earned runs, the rest being scored on errors or walks. The locals had a total of nine errors. Etters and Reick both socked out two-baggers for the locals in the first and third games respectively, but failed to get any further. Fisher and Jensen supplied the West Chicago doubles. O. Timm of the host team got the only circuit blow of the game in the fourth stanza.

"Howdy" Meiners pitched all the way for the locals, giving up 12 hits, striking out five and walking two batters. Dister and Kane, who did not pitch for West Chicago, allowed one hit each out eight men and passed one.

Next Sunday the team will travel to Crystal Lake where they hope to end their skimp against the Crystal Lake club.

Double Main Events and Special Feature at Grayslake Friday

A double main event and a special feature attraction will headline the fourth all-star heavyweight wrestling card of the season at Peg's Open-Air arena, Grayslake, Friday night, July 15.

Rudy Kay, the most hated wrestler ever to appear in Lake county, returns after a year's absence to match wits with Ralph Garibaldi, clean-cut and never-italicized Kay, will be remembered held Jim McMillen to a one hour draw at Round Lake a year ago, and before that won seven pro starts in succession over all comers. He will meet Garibaldi in a one fall match to the finish in one of the feature goes Friday.

The other feature on the twin-windup show pits Fred "Legs" Grimes, previous low school expert and tops in his country favorite, against Hans Schnable, vicious and powerful German heavyweight who conquered Rudy Strongberg in a great match at Grayslake last week.

The special feature attraction introduces for the first time the uncrowned heavyweight champion of the world, undefeated

Annual Semi-Pro Baseball Meet at Elgin Announced

16 Outstanding Teams in This Area to Compete July 14 to August 1

With only the most formidable and best balanced teams in the state permitted to compete, the third annual Illinois state semi-professional tournament in Elgin stadium, July 14 to 31, promises to surpass the two previous affairs both in attendance and calibre of teams.

Alvin (Stubby) Dahn, state semi-pro commissioner since the office was created in 1936, has announced that only 16 teams will compete in the meet.

Seeking laurels this year will be Chicago Spencer Coals, champions last year; Elgin State Guards Colored Boys; Chicago Palms, Famous Indians, Chicago Mills, Famous Chicagoans, Chicago Crayons, "Ma-Jeek" Boosters of Chicao; Peru, Aurora, Joliet, and winners from the district tournaments at Waukegan, Knoxville, Chicago Heights and Champlaign.

Elgin Semi-Pros captured the first tourney in 1936. Both of the previous state meets have been staged at the park on McLean Boulevard, west of Elgin.

The plant, named Elgin Tournament park in 1936, was changed to Elgin stadium this year following its complete rehabilitation.

Complete new grandstands were built, and there are 500 box seat chairs on concrete. The total seating capacity of the park has been increased from 3,000 to 5,000.

Fifty-four bulbs, each 1500 watts, are atop the eight 70-foot poles to provide light for the night games.

Dahn plans to start the first of the tournament doubleheaders at 7 p.m. All will be seven-innings. The double elimination system will prevail and there will be no pro games Saturdays or Sundays.

Clashing in the opening program Thursday night will be the famous Elgin and the equally famous Chicago and Aurora; meeting in the second contest of the inaugural will be Spencer Coals and the champion of the Waukegan district.

An added attraction of the tournament at Elgin will be the appearance of Al Schacht, major league star and comedian, who will appear at Elgin Wednesday, July 15.

The winner of the Illinois tourney will represent this state at the National classic at Wichita, Kan., which opens August 12.

An aggregate of 32 teams will bid for the National title at Wichita. Although champions will be crowned in each of the 48 states, regional tournaments will eliminate all but 32. The Illinois titleholder, however, advances directly to the Wichita final.

"Records—Continuous Records," Counsels Champion Neat Farmer

"The only way to make a profit from dairying during these times with all the competition is to let your herd and call out the non-profitable cows."

Those are the words of Earl Koenig, who has been in dairy improvement work for eight of the 22 years he has operated the New Home Farm near Mundelein.

"I've learned from my own experience," he says, "what a study of all records of the herds in the associations last year shows, namely that smaller herds made up of high producing cows will often net larger returns above feed cost than larger herds of lower producing cows."

"In addition to the increased returns above feed costs, the smaller herds produce less milk for market consumption and returns a net income than the returns above feed cost would indicate, because of lower labor and overhead costs."

The Guernsey herd at the New Home Farm is tested regularly for T.B. and abortion. Sterility, T.B. and diarrhea are the chief diseases.

Dated this twelfth day of July, 1938.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that a public hearing on said budget and appropriation ordinances will be held at eight o'clock P. M. Thursday, July 21, 1938, at the School Building in this School District.

of Illinois with ordinary New Home Farm care and twice-a-day milking. In 1936 a grade Guernsey produced 11,135 lbs. of 4.81 per cent milk and $35.9 lbs. of fat, and the next year, another just milked, 11,900 lbs. butterfat club by four pounds.

The average of the 30-milking cow herd at the New Home Farm for the past five years was 7,926 pounds of milk and 256.3 pounds of fat—and a profit above feed cost of $101.30 per cow.

"Our feeding program is based on a grain mixture—as much of the home grown grains as possible balanced with protein to provide feed to make about a 15 per cent dairy ration, which is fed at the rate of one pound of grain to 3½ or 4 pounds of milk, according to how good our grazing is."

"We weigh each cow's milk daily and feed her according to her production. We try to use the best sires that we feel we can afford to buy, and are raising the best cattle from our own herd."

Over the last year he has added one full calf heifers with a herd average of 355 pounds of butterfat per day.

"We started a bull association last year. The bull we are using this year is Rock Creek Foremost Bid, a son of Cosqueray's Foremost, whose record is 8 P. R. 1955, lbs. 51.10 per cent milk, 957 lbs. fat, and 11.20 per cent butterfat."

"Another very important thing measuring the transmitting ability of herd sires and cows. This is a matter of great importance in dairy breeding programs. Another not so important is to determine whether or not a cow or a bull transmits high production to its offspring is to measure the producing capacity of the daughters by production records."

"The value of DHIA records for this purpose is generally understood by DHIA members. Starting out in the breeding program, the best sires that we have are the ones with the best DHIA records."
