Horses on Three Local Farms Have Sleeping Sickness

Vaccinate 100 Animals In Two Days; Insects and Flies
Spread Disease

Sleeping sickness, one of the most dread diseases for humans, strikes horses as well as men. Encephalo-myelitis, sleeping sickness among horses, was discovered on three farms in this vicinity this week.

Those affected were horses belonging to Henry Krog and Clarence Tafte of Hanover farm and Carl Dorwaldt of Barrington township.

Additional cases were said to be on a farm near Shoe Factory road and in the vicinity of Elgin.

Symptoms are as follows: animals seem off feed, become sleepy and doze.

It has been common in Iowa, according to Dr. A. G. Gieseke, local veterinarian but has just spread into this section. Flies and mosquitoes carry the infection, it is believed; the disease is not contagious.

Since discovery of it on the Krog farm Monday and the Tafte and Dorwaldt farms Wednesday, Dr. Gieseke has vaccinated more than 100 animals.

Vaccinating is the best means of prevention, he said. Other safety measures Dr. Gieseke advocated were as follows: keep animal well-nourished, keep it in shade and away from flies and mosquitoes.

Full Time Man on Fire Department Is Recommended

Chicago Underwriters Board
Reports on Recent Inspection

Recommendations for improved fire protection in Barrington, made by the Chicago board of underwriters included that of a full time paid man on the department with provisions for a substitute in case of his absence.

A report on the fire fighting facilities in the village was received here Monday by Earl Hatje, village president. It was based on a recent inspection made by the underwriters.

Four other recommendations were made. Three of them were relative to strengthening the water distribution system and the fourth was relative to revising the ordinances of the village governing storage of explosives and inflammable liquids.

The chief criticism of the distribution system is that gate valves are too far apart. In one instance a valve near Cook and Stanton controls the flow of water on a block of houses and two blocks of houses. In case a valve has to be closed because of a break in the main or for other reasons, it shuts off the water along this entire route.

The report recommended favorably on most items of the village relative to fire protection.

400 Visit Country Homes and Gardens

Mrs. R. R. Hammond, writer of The Review's Barrington Hills column, has contributed the following account of the Barrington Country Home and Garden tour, sponsored by the Garden Club of Barrington last weekend.

Members of the Garden Club of Barrington were most delighted over the outcome of their Country Home and Garden Tour on Friday afternoon.

In spite of heavy clouds and drenching showers throughout the morning, preparations went gaily on. The sun shone just afternoon rewarded the confidence of garden club women.

Perhaps some garden flowers suffered by the downpour, but the water lilies in the Alfred L. Eustis pool opened on time, and by four o'clock when the greatest number of guests were enjoying the refreshment table on the Frank A. Hech's lawn, the floral borders had dried their rain-sodden faces and presented themselves in brilliant array for the visitors.

Many guests came to Barrington in the rain having luncheon engagements in various homes, tea rooms and at the Country club, and at closing time at least 400 visitors had made the rounds of the six homes and gardens open for the afternoon.

Among the visitors was Mrs. W. L. Marcher of Freeport, one of the past presidents of the Garden Club of Illinois. Mrs. Joseph Cudahy from Lake Forest, who was Mrs. Sheldon Clark's guest for the day, Orpheus Schantz, the naturalist, and a party of friends, Mrs. McGee, who is a member of the Garden Club of Pasadena, Calif., Mrs. Andrew MacLeans and Mrs. Harry Peleg of Glenoce, who were with Mrs. Barrington the president of the Glenoce club.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutor, 314 W. Lincoln avenue, are the happy parents of a baby boy, John Kendall, born Sunday morning at the Victory hospital, Waukegan. The Stouts also have a little daughter, Carol Joyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rouselle of Lake Zurich are the parents of a son born Saturday at the Sherman hospital, Elgin, last Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner, 219 S. Cook street are the proud parents of a baby boy, David Edward, born Saturday, Aug. 6.

Suic for Divorce

Mrs. Dorothy Douglass Clark who lives at Shadow Hill farm in Cuba township sued her husband, Harry A. S. Clark, son of Sheldon Clark, for divorce Wednesday in a bill filed in the Lake county circuit court, Waukegan. The bill charged drunkenness and cruelty.

Clever, imaginative, written in news style and printed on regular news sheets, were sent out to the friends, urging them to take part in athletic events at Oak Knolls Sunday afternoon.

Excerpts follow:

Mudcats vs. Purple Pantywaists

Sunday afternoon, August 14, at 4 o'clock, probably the two most remarkable collections of baseball's greatest players will meet at Oak Knolls Field to settle for once and for all the championship of the hayfields. Baseball technicians are tearing out handfuls of hair trying to predict the outcome.

These two teams have such a long standing rivalry, however, that for most people it is more in the nature of a feud than an athletic contest. (They take their family feuds in a very serious way).

The lineups follow:

Friends, Relatives Pay Homage to Mrs. Johanna Krueger, 92

and good wishes on her natal day, Monday.

The first party, a family affair, was held at the home of Mrs. George Wessel of Grove avenue. Sixty-six were there: seven daughters, one son, grandchildren and great grandchildren. A pot luck supper was served, including a large, beautiful birthday cake.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Behnoff and Mr. and Mrs. Urban Tekampe of Kenosha, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brommel and daughters Bernice and Lois of Waukegan, Mr. and Mrs. Will Krueger, George Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Truen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schantz, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. Caroline Johnson, all of Elgin.

Friends and neighbors came in later, bringing still more flowers—colorful bouquets and baskets of blossoms were everywhere.

Mrs. E. F. Wichman of Grove

avenue entertained at an afternoon party for her mother Monday. Members of the Woman's Union of St. Paul church, Rev. and Mrs. G. P. Ellerbeck and their small son, Richard, and other friends were guests.

Mrs. Krueger left for Kenosha, Wis. Tuesday evening to spend a few days with the Behnoffs. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wessel drove her there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutor, 314 W. Lincoln avenue, are the happy parents of a baby boy, John Kendall, born Sunday morning at the Victory hospital, Waukegan. The Stouts also have a little daughter, Carol Joyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner, 219 S. Cook street are the proud parents of a baby boy, David Edward, born Saturday, Aug. 6.

Suic for Divorce

Mrs. Dorothy Douglass Clark who lives at Shadow Hill farm in Cuba township sued her husband, Harry A. S. Clark, son of Sheldon Clark, for divorce Wednesday in a bill filed in the Lake county circuit court, Waukegan.

The bill charged drunkenness and cruelty.

Clever, imaginative, written in news style and printed on regular news sheets, were sent out to the friends, urging them to take part in athletic events at Oak Knolls Sunday afternoon.

Excerpts follow:

Mudcats vs. Purple Pantywaists

Sunday afternoon, August 14, at 4 o'clock, probably the two most remarkable collections of baseball's greatest players will meet at Oak Knolls Field to settle for once and for all the championship of the hayfields. Baseball technicians are tearing out handfuls of hair trying to predict the outcome.

These two teams have such a long standing rivalry, however, that for most people it is more in the nature of a feud than an athletic contest. (They take their family feuds in a very serious way).

eminent sportsmen—and fishermen, have argued whether or not K—, using a deep sea rod and reel could land G— from one end of the swimming pool to the other. G— will wear a harness. Financial Bequest

George C. Cleveland, formerly executive of O. C. Colgate, left a bequest of $15,000 to Mrs. Emma Buchwald for saving the life of his wife 14 years ago, his will, admitted to probate Tuesday, revealed. Mrs. Buchwald had rescued Mrs. Amanda Wiegand from drowning when she fell from a pier into the Fox river at McHenry in 1924.

Mrs. Scott Hearing Continued to Aug. 17

The bearing for Mrs. Nellie Scott, local housewife and cook, charged with larceny of jewelry and other valuable articles from home in Barrington and Barrington Hills, was continued until Wednesday in the court of Justice Elmer J. Tone at Morton Grove. It was continued from August 10.

Following a warrant served by Mrs. T. L. G. Duet of Barrington last week, Mrs. Scott has been held by Cook county highway police and one of her sons, Dalton, 18, has been booked as an accessory after the fact.

It is alleged to have driven a truck load of stolen goods to Delta, Colo., where Mr. Scott owns a dairy farm. There are five children in the family, all living in this vicinity.

Deputies Kruckowski and Relkowski of the Morton Grove station have been investigating names found in Mrs. Scott's address book during the past week and additional residents have filed lists of missing articles.

Motorists Pay Fines

Four motorists were assessed fines and citations which appear before Police Master John A. D.

Church on charges of violating village traffic ordinances this week. They are: Frank Karsten of Chicago, speeding; Alex Webb of Barrington, speeding; William Nixon Jr. of Barrington, disobe

Barrington Motorists

There's no place in our organization for the sort of "service man" who thinks that lubricating means a liberal "greasing of points he can reach without stooping"—usually including the fenders, steering wheel and upholstery . . . and there's no place for sheiks or show-offs at our station; your wife can count on old-fashioned courtesy, just as you can count on modern service for your car.

We know other little things will be appreciated too—our free windshield, tire and radiator service, the clean washroom, the telephone for her convenience, the spick and span station itself.

Our attendants are servicemen first, salesmen second, and GENTLEMEN AT ALL TIMES.

COUNTRY PRESS CONDEMS PUNITIVE LEGISLATION

The National Editorial association, meeting in convention at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, adopted a resolution of nation-wide importance concerning punitive legislation affecting business: The resolution reads:

"Whereas, there has been a tendency both at Washington and at the capitals of many states for legislative measures to be introduced and sponsored which are discriminatory and punitive in their application, and

"Whereas, there is considerable fear and hesitation among business men because of the uncertainties arising from such a tendency, and

"Whereas, we believe it the duty of the congress of the United States and our state legislatures, in view of unemployment and other distressed conditions and uncertainty among business leaders, to encourage, aid and assist business rather than take any action through discriminatory and punitive taxes which, in our opinion, would further retard commerce and would tend to increase living costs, therefore be it

"Resolved that the National Editorial association goes on record as opposing such legislative enactments and

"We further recommend that the board of directors be requested to dispatch a copy of the above action duly signed by its officers to the members of any legislative committee at Washington or at a state capital at such time when united action by the non-metropolitan weekly and daily papers of America is deemed, in the board's judgment, to be prudent."

That resolution, coming from the country press of America, is highly encouraging. These newspapers have become more and more concerned with legislation and taxation which unfairly penalize business. And the majority of editors have come to the sound conclusion that all such laws and class taxes are indefensible in a democratic country.

FINANCIAL ANEMIA

Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust company, has aptly described the basic cause of the industrial stagnation which is besetting the country, as "financial anemia."

This "anemic" condition of industry is of comparatively long standing. But until last summer, heavy government pump priming submerged the growing symptoms in a flood of spending.

As Mr. Ayres observed, the capitalistic system requires a continuous flow of new capital in order to survive. There are two main sources from which industry may obtain new capital: One is by operating at a profit and plowing the profits back into the business; the other is through the sale of securities to the public. Today both of these sources are choked with excessive taxation, labor troubles and a maze of regulation. The flow of "new money" into the channels of industrial development has ceased. Jobs are at a premium. The American wage earner is faced with unemployment and a falling standard of living. Once again the federal government is forced to resort to futile efforts to "prime the pump."

A vicious cycle such as this cannot continue indefinitely. It is like driving a car with a broken generator. Ultimately the battery runs down and the car stalls. The only difference is that America's industrial generator is not broken—the politicians have simply disconnected it, and the country is slowly starving from what Mr. Ayres terms "financial anemia."

FIGHTING ACCIDENT RACKETEERS

The war on "accident racketeers" is going steadily forward with commendable vigor.

Reports from many areas show that the courts and prosecuting authorities are sparing no effort to apprehend these criminals—and that their work is meeting with success. The accident racketeers operate in many fields. Some of them fake automobile accidents. Others fake falls in department stores and other public places, and claim compensation for injuries. Groups of racketeers form rings, complete with shyster lawyers and crooked doctors. In the bulk of cases, the money fraudulently gained by the racketeer may seem only a petty chisel, hardly worth bothering about. But small sums, collected over and over again, run into great totals. And all of this money eventually comes out of the pockets of the public. In most instances, a successful claim fraud is eventually paid for by an insurance company—which means that the cost of insurance to the honest policyholder is higher than it would be otherwise. And the activities of the racketeers constitute an expensive drain on the facilities of courts, police and prosecutors.

KILLING THE JOB TREE

The Businessmen's Tax Advisory committee aptly compares the capital gains levy to a tax on the tree which bears fruit, instead of the fruit itself.

In other words, this tax does not distinguish between capital and income—between the money which a man or a corporation actually makes, and which is the legitimate object of taxation, and the stored-up capital which must be allowed to expand normally if we are to have more jobs, more industries, more opportunities.

By taxing the tree of industry, we gradually reduce its productive powers—and soon there will be no more fruit. It is for this reason that the capital gains tax has earned the grim title of "Number 1 Job Killer."

WHAT'S GOING ON

(Courtesy The United States News)

A series of developments that touch on the subject of Government spending and the size of this nation's rising public debt are occurring to reveal what some of the government's highest officials say is the real new deal revolution.

On one day, David Lilienthal, director of the Tennessee Valley authority, revealed the figures on which TVA will base its claim to recognition as a self-supporting government corporation—with an income from the sale of power.

The next day, Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, explained that the nation's total debt load today is about six billion dollars smaller than it was in 1935. Mr. Wallace reached this conclusion by pointing to the decline in private debt of individuals and corporations as an offset to the rise in federal government debt.

Before that, on July 1, the Reconstruction Finance corporation, a vast government bank with nearly two billion dollars in loans—pulled itself out of the federal government's budget and out of the government's daily financial reports to stand on its own feet as a self-supporting institution.

On the same day, the Commercial Credit corporation, another government bank, did the same thing.

Earlier, the Home Owners' Loan corporation, with three billion dollars in obligations and assets, and the banking activities of the Farm Credit administration, involving more than two billion dollars in obligations and assets, had slipped out of the budget and out of the recorded daily operations of the United States treasury.

Later on, when present plans mature, TVA is to move out of the budget and so the Rural Electrification administration, with its rapidly growing bank operation, is, too, to be the United States Housing authority, with its projected independent financing operations.

The extent to which the law has modified the right of employers to hire and fire at will any employee for any reason received somewhat divergent interpretations recently in a divided court decision involving a sit-down strike and an address by Edwin S. Smith, member of the National Labor Relations board. Mr. Smith's address dealt with alleged limits on the right of employers to express their views on union to their employees.

has been reviewed by the courts. In a two-to-one decision, the court declared that the board did not have the power to make such an order.

The facts as found by the board were, briefly, that a C. I. O. union had struck against the Standard Metallurgical corporation, East Chicago, Ill., the grounds being that the company had refused to bargain with the union having majority status, had encouraged a company union and had discharged workers for activity in behalf of the C. I. O. union. The strikers remained in the plant, defying a court injunction to leave. They were eventually put out by force.

The board ordered the reinstatement of strikers, except those guilty of violence, the order being based on two chief grounds. First, the company had reinstated some strikers who had pleaded guilty to the conduct of the strike, thus indicating the board held that it had no rule against their reinstatement but that the real reason for their refusing to re-employ the others was their continued sympathy for the C. I. O. union.

In the second place, the board held that the company itself had been "guilty in no less degree" through its defiance of the Wagner act and that it could not be heard to plead to the guilt of the employees as a ground for refusal to reinstate them.

The court agreed that the company had violated the Wagner act but it did not concur in the view that it thereby lost its standing to object to the reinstatements ordered by the board. Because the employees took possession of the plant instead of appealing to the labor board, the court held that they had themselves violated the law they sought to invoke against the employer. The employer was justified, said the court, in concluding that they had themselves abandoned their right to reinstatement by their action in seizing the plant.

Spanish-American War Film Coming; All-Star Cast

"Josette" and "The Toy Wife" to Be at the Catlow Next Week

When Lewis Stone went into his role as an army surgeon in the Philippines during the Spanish-American War, the part he plays in "Yellow Jack," coming to the Catlow on Friday and Saturday, the uniform he wore was the last word in authenticity. For the veteran actor wore the uniform in which he actually had served in Cuba. Stone had enlisted with the New York volunteers and served for the duration of the war.

His experience enabled Stone to offer valuable technical advice to Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce, who co-starred in the new drama, "Montgomery," a heroic soldier who offers himself as a living sacrifice to the cause of stamping out yellow fever, and Miss Bruce as the nurse who accompanies the expedition to the Island of Cuba.

Getting the spirit of a race, nation—or even a period in history—into a song calls for one of the higher arts of lyricism and musicianship.

To get some of the "sia" and "zai" of New Orleans into popular, singable songs, the problem set for Mark Gordon and Harry Revel by the new 20th Century Fox comedy, "Josette." The results, "May I Drop a Petal in Your Glass of Wine?" "In Any Language" and "Where in the World," are top-notch additions to their tuneful hit record.

"Josette" co-stars Don Ameche, Simon Simon and Robert Young, with Bert Lahr and Joan Davis heading the featured cast. It opens Sunday at the Catlow theatre.

Adventure and excitement in the backwoods jungles of the upper Amazon river highlight Jack Holt's latest Columbia drama, "Flight Into Nowhere," coming to the Catlow theatre on Tuesday.

The story of a headstrong, irresponsible air pilot who crashes in unexplored South America through his own carelessness, "Flight Into Nowhere" narrates the difficulties endured by a rescuing expedition, the horrors of being held captive by head-hunters, and the love duel between two girls, one a beautiful white woman and the other the proud daughter of a forgotten Indian tribe. Jack Holt is starred as the superintendent of a trans-continental airline; beautiful Jacqueline Wells his leading lady, and Dick Purcell, the juvenile role, that of the ace whose stubborn carelessness sends Holt into the South American voids.

On the double feature bill on Tuesday is "The Lone Wolf of Paris," starring Francis Lederer and Frances Drake.

After carrying his arm in a sling four days for him to heal, Melvyn Douglas was forced to have it amputated before the sequence could be shot in which he is wounded.

The scenes in "The Toy Wife," coming to the Catlow theatre on Wednesday and Thursday which show Douglas after he has been stabbed in the arm in a courtroom brawl, were filmed prior to the courtroom episode itself. In the morning his arm was still tied up in a silk scarf. In the afternoon, Director Richard Thorpe began work on the trial with Luise Rainer, Barbara Stanwyck and others.

Douglas, who had worn the sling which he launched to avoid a second "dressing" discovered after his meal that he could dispense with his bandages. But he had held the arm in one position so long it was stiff and virtually useless until it was treated.

Douglas makes his first appearance opposite Luise Rainer in "The Toy Wife," but the picture marks their reunion with Robert Young with whom he shared lead-

Here's a Good Fish Story; And It's a True One!

What would you do if a 13 1/4 inch bass slipped out of the cool river waters and into your lap (particularly if you were just dreaming along—not fishing)?

Bert Hagl, 28, of Libertyville had that unusual experience during part of his 10-mile canoe trip down the Fox River from Burtons Bridge, south of McHenry, to Ottawa, 30, last week.

Hagi was paddling his canoe toward a dairy at Geneva, plating lunch perhaps, when the bass leaped into his lap. Several boys on shore, seeing him try to grab the slippery fins and throw it back into the water, set up a shout, "Give him to us."

"I did a bit of quick think. 'I'll trade you the fish for some milk from that dairy,' he called. No sooner said than done.

Hans Schnable, powerful German and toughest of the five famous Schnable brothers, wrestling tribe, thinks he can and sets out to prove it Friday night in Peg's Grayslake Arena when he steps into the ring to do battle with Ruffy in a co-feature attraction with the Frederick Von Schacht-Fred Grubmeier match.

Friederick Von Schacht, 6 foot 6 inch giant from Germany, who conquered the famous bearded King Kong last Friday night in a bout that displayed a vicious exhibition of brutality on the part of Von Schacht, will headline Bill Von Schacht will meet Fred Grubmeier, lanky Iowa scissors king. ### Milwaukee Defeats Local Polo Players

The Barrington Polo club lost an invitational game to the Meadowbrook Polo team of Milwaukee last Sunday by a score of 8 to 3. Chuck Buckley of the locals was the star of the game, accounting for all three Barrington goals. Other players who made the trip were Harold Smith, Paul Corlett, deKoven Bowen, Donald Bateman, Paul Voorhees and Brian Erickson.

Sunday the team will host to the Edgebrook Polo club.
