Citizens' Part in Education Is Told by P.-T. A. Speaker

Mrs. L. Lunde Urges Support of State Planning Board

The citizens' part in education was discussed by Mrs. Laura H. Lunde, education chairman of the Illinois League of Women Voters, at a meeting of the local Parent-Teacher association held in the public school building Tuesday evening.

School personnel, financing and administration were considered by the speaker.

"Education is essential to the preservation of our form of government, for in a democracy it is a national necessity," she stated.

Concerning the personnel of Illinois schools, she derided the low standards of this state, then went on to tell of the need for uniform, audited account books.

"It is estimated that $500 school boards are looking after more than 15 pupils each in this state," she said. "State aid allows $11 per child from grades 1 to 8. If there are less than 15, the board shall receive aid on the basis of 15 anyway. It costs $7 per child to educate each child in a one room school."

Sanitary conditions in the latter were deplored by Mrs. Lunde who said 85 per cent have unfiltered drinking water and 65 per cent unsafe toilets.

In conclusion she advocated the appointment of a non-political state planning board to collect statistics and make suggestions for necessary improvements. "Only six states in the union are without such a board," she added.

Reports by committee chairman, violin solos by Mrs. K. K. Lillen accompanied at the piano by D. W. Titterton and a social hour concluded the program. Mothers of ninth grade children served refreshments.

Dead Dog Found in Fence Sheds Light on Sheep Killings

The discovery of a dead dog emmeshed in the wire fence surrounding the Jewel Tea Co. sheep pens Sunday brought some light to the killing of more than 80 sheep and the wounding of a large number during the past month. The animal, of the German shepherd breed, had been shot and was in a state of decomposition.

When the first killings occurred, officials of Jewel Tea Co. were notified by a man only identified as Mr. Walbaum who had confessed the dog entangled in the wire, and nearly dead. After shooting the dog, he reported the matter to the company, but a search failed to reveal the dog's whereabouts. A Jewel employee found the dog on the property Sunday, it was learned.

However, killed at time more sheep were killed and the other evening two dogs were seen in the pasture. George Whitcomb, night guard, shot at them but apparently did not hit them.

The sheep are confined to the sheds at night, and traps are placed around the fences.

Making Political Talks
R. D. Kelsey, republican nominee for general assembly from this district, has been busy making platform talks in various parts of the county and has been requested to appear at a number of meetings prior to the November election. He spoke at Highland Park Wednesday night and this evening will appear at a republican rally in Yorkville. He also gave a talk at Lake this evening and on the night following will be at Algonquin. A luncheon meeting at Belvidere is scheduled for Saturday noon and an appearance in Waukegan again Sunday.

Cars Crashed on Highway
Cars driven by William Panzer, 1314 Warren avenue, Chicago, and Elmer Bender, 1918 Cornelia street, Chicago, collided on the Jewel Tea curve of the Northwest highway Sunday night. Panzer was going west while Bender was driving the car owned by Doris Larson, 323 Henderson street, Chicago, was going east. Injuries were slight.

Returned From East
G. W. Kaylor, of Jewel Tea Co., returned this week following a trip of three weeks through the eastern states. While in Princeton, N.J., he attended the National Advertising Club.

The three Sunday morning services will begin at 10:30 o'clock and each evening service at 7:30 o'clock. Meetings will be held each evening except Monday. The song service and special musical numbers will be a feature of each evening service. The Salem choir will have an active part in the worship services from night to night.

W. A. Stauffer, pastor of Salem Evangelical church. He preaches for decisions and men, women, and young people respond to his invitation to dedicate their lives to God and His spiritual kingdom. Rev. Stauffer said.

Annual Field Trial Events to Be Held Here This Week-End

Midwest Field Trial Club Is Holding Meeting at Grassy Lake

The fourth annual field trials sponsored by the Midwest Field Trial club for retriever breeds and springer spaniels dogs will be held at Grassy Lake in Biltmore Saturday and Sunday. The event, which attracts a large gallery of local spectators each year, has received a large number of entries, including the outstanding dogs from Kennels in the west, according to Fletcher Garlock, president of the club. Dogs owned by A. W. Harriman, Jay Carlisle Jr. and Anthony Blise will be included from the eastern entries.

The trial starts Saturday morning and closes Sunday evening with novice and springer stakes on the first day. The important open all-age stakes for retrievers will be run off Sunday afternoon.

In previous years, the events will be run off with land and water tests and live and dead birds will be retrieved.

Entries from the Hogan Kennels of Barrington, which were successful in winning major stakes from eastern dogs last year, have been received by the association. M. K. Hogan and son Frank were the handlers of dogs that won important stakes at the fifth annual field trial of the English Springer Spaniel club near Elgin last weekend.

Frank Hogan handled Champion Dalsahagan Pomme de Terre, owned by David Silberman of Chicago, when he won the feature event of the meeting Sunday. Mr. Hogan handled Alie Keith Grant, also owned by Silberman, who also won the shooting dog stake Sunday.

Jewel Employees to Have Annual Party

Jewel Tea Co. will be host to plant and office employees at an annual fall party this afternoon, Thursday from 4 p. m. until 9 p. m. The event has the title "Dapete," each word representing some part of the entertainment. Robert Grant, store chairman of the general committee and is being assisted by Miss Marian Kessel, Miss Nell Hollingsworth, Miss Margaret Williams, Ralph Hendrickson, Russ Paulson, and Tony Forest.

Wished He Had Some More Stoves to Sell
Charles Schwarzwelder would like to be in the retail store business specializing in large white enamel cook stoves.

If he were, he could have sold at least half a dozen of them since last Thursday. He found this out after he had used the want ad column of the Barrington Review to sell just such a stove. He had 15 answers to his ad, sold the stove and was convinced he would have sold at least half a dozen more if he had them to sell.

Deny License Application

A request for a village liquor license made by A. L. Scherf and accompanied by a certified check for $240 was rejected by the village board Monday night following a motion made by Trustee R. F. Kocher Sr. and seconded by Trustee John Blase. The present liquor ordinance prevents the sale of any additional licenses, trustees reported.

Returned From Convention

Mrs. E. W. Baude, 528 Division street, returned home today, Thursday, from Springfield, Ill., where she attended a state convention of the National League of Women Voters. She was accompanied by her husband, Mr. E. W. Baude, who also attended the convention. They will be in Barrington the next morning.

Flowers and Bushes Start Flowering But Weather May Call Halt

They bloomed earlier in the week, but that is all over now. It seems because colder weather appears to have set in and flowers and bushes no longer feel the warmth of the last few sunny days.

Current among the second bloomings of the season this week were Oriental poppies at the home of Mrs. Fred Schroeder, 118 Wool street, who reported that early this summer a poppy plant had only one blossom and one bud while last week it again bloomed with one blossom and eight buds.

A spring bush at the home of William Behringer, 123 Harrison street, has also flowered for the second time this year. Lilac bushes are also on the list.

Frank Cerny Tells of Poor Conditions Under Hitler Rule

Gets Close-Up of Conquests During 4-Month Stay in Central Europe

Deception, intimidation, conviction and persecution as practiced by Chancellor Adolph Hitler of Germany in his recent struggles to conquer his neighboring states in Europe were described by Frank Cerny, 123 George street, who has just returned following four months spent in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Russia.

Mr. Cerny spent his time visiting relatives and friends in those countries and was able to get clear impressions of the struggles as they progressed with the marching into Austria of Hitler's Nazi followers and the events leading up to the demand and seizure of Sudetenland in Czechoslovakia.

Workers are busy in Germany, he said, but only in the employment of the government making munitions and guns and to the greatest extent at the expense of Austria, Czech and other minorities. They are being taken from that country and shipped to Germany while machinery in Austria are only able to work several days a week.

At a daily wage of eight marks, he said, Hitler's party to Germany was "we must have and feed the starving Austrians." The local workers are being taken to the east, he continued, but grain and livestock are shipped from Austria in great numbers, and during the night by army workers and trucks.

Five days later the truth returned with dressed meat, but in a smaller amount than was originally taken. Living conditions were in general poor, he continued.

Cerny visited with two cousins in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and was able to learn considerable of the struggle that was going on there. He told of some one who was once a member of the Czech army general staff.

Persecution of the Jewish race and the brutalities inflicted on those opposed to Nazi principles were also witnessed by him. In Germany and Austria signs were seen in the parks bearing the caption "Germans and Jews Not Allowed."

The anti-Semitism campaign is far-reaching, he said, and any German who dares to trade with a Jewish merchant is quickly punished. He told of a Jew in a small town who had entered a Jewish store to purchase clothing and was seized by Nazi police and placed in the display window of the store in a public lesson for passersby all day.

During the plebiscite in Austria, conducted by Hitler's troops, and in which residents of that land were allowed to vote "yes" or "no," Continued on page 5

Giant Muskies Caught By E. Humberch

Put on Display Here
A mounted giant muskellunge, caught last July by Ed Humberch of Barrington, is on display at the Stone, Mieser and Tilden Barber shop, 114 E. Main street, this week.

The large fish weighs 40 pounds and measured 45 inches from mouth to tail and was caught in the waters of the Plumbeous River in Wisconsin after a 10-hour fight. It was necessary to cut the fish several times before it could be landed.

Local Woman's Club Hears Jens Jensen Wednesday

"Our Native Landscape" Is Described by the Speaker

"Our Native Landscape" was the subject of the address given by Jens Jensen, well-known landscape architect, before the Barrington Woman's club at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Jensen made a plea for conservation of nature's planting. He regretted the cleaning out of state parks by the U. S. government and criticized the destruction of natural roadside flowers and undergrowth, which is practiced by highway departments in some states.

The dogwood, plum, sweetbrier rose, hawthorn, raspberry and blackberry which grew in natural profusion along the roadside in Mr. Jensen's boyhood, should be encouraged, making a suggestion along each highway fit into its own environment, he said.

Mr. Jensen pictured his drive to Barrington from his home at Ellison Bay, Dodge County, Wisconsin. He described autumn scenes as the grand symphony of nature before going to rest. He painted word pictures of the blue asters, the goldenrod and sunnyside forming the roadside tapestry, and of the autumn foliage of woods and swamps with a blue base over all.

Mr. Jensen told of an entertaining anecdote of his life in Door county and made references to a number of famous people who had visited him there. Upon request he gave some information about the school he has founded at Ellison Bay where four crafts are taught.

"Keep Smiling" Is Week-End Feature on Catlow Screen

"Marie Antoinette," Starring Norma Shearer, Opens Thursday

Several score of trucks of various kinds were needed for "Racket Busters," coming to the Catlow on Saturday for one day only. Racketeers, conducting a campaign of terrorism, were to wreck, burn and blow up the trucks for the film.

It would have been a needless waste to buy new trucks and ruin them for the picture, so prop men rounded up the required number of decrepit trucks and painted them up to look new. The trucks were wrecked in awe-inspiring, thrill-charged scenes. Then the metal was salvaged from the wrecks and the remainder was consigned to the city dump.

Jane Withers' legion of fans will be given an extra treat in her new picture, "Keep Smiling," for the clever young star impersonates five clever personalities. They are: Joan Davis, Deanna Durbin, Bobbie Brown, George Arliss and Harry Rits—one third of the mad Rits Brothers.

"Keep Smiling," first in a new series of major productions for Jane, opens on Sunday at the Catlow theatre with a cast that includes Gloria Stuart, Henry Wilcoxon, Helen Westley, Jed Prouty, Douglas Fowley and Robert Allen.

Dramatic Ellis Island—last portal of freedom—provides the background for the absorbing story which stars Don Ameche and Arleen Whelan in "Gateway," coming to the Catlow Tuesday.

Double featured with "Gateway" on Tuesday is the warm human drama—East of Park Avenue—"City Streets," starring Edith Fajolles and Leo Carrillo.

Join the navy and see the girls! That's fair picture of a sailor's life, at least when the fleet's in, according to Paramount's new marine comedy, "Give Me a Sailor," coming on Wednesday to the Catlow. With Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Betty Grable and Jack Whiting playing the leading roles, the picture tells a rollicking story of two sailors who pursue the same girl but change their minds when the girl's Cinderella sister turns out to be the winner of a national beauty contest.

"Speed to Burn," with Michael Whalen and Lynn Bari, a heart-warming human story, plays the double feature bill Wednesday with "Give Me a Sailor."

Norma Shearer will have a surprise for her fans in "Marie Antoinette," which opens on Thursday at the Catlow. For the first time since "Smilin' Through," she appears on the screen as a blonde. Marie Antoinette had light hair with a reddish cast, described by her friends as "faunty," blue eyes and a fair complexion. It was Madame DuBarry who nicknamed her "Little Redhead." Miss Shearer is a blonde only in the opening scenes of the picture, as in later years she wore the white wig of the period which became the fashion in the France of Marie Antoinette's day.

Orders for Buicks Highest in 1933

Flint, Mich., Oct. 18.—Retail orders in the hands of Buick dealers are the highest they have been for any announcement period in the last ten years. W. F. Hustader, general sales manager, announced today.

The executive said that a telegraphic report covering a considerable portion of the country reveals that in all instances, dealers have more orders on hand for 1933 cars than they had for the new models at this time a year ago and that in many instances, dealers already have booked more business than they had through the first half of the 1932 model year. Domestic retail deliveries of new Buick cars during the last 19 days of September, which were predominantly early deliveries of 1933 models, totaled 5637 cars, he said, compared with 4481 in the previous ten days and with 4438 in the corresponding period of September last year. Sales during the last ten days of August were 5923.

The final September period showed a gain of 2004 or 65.6 per cent units over the corresponding period last month and 631 units or 14.8 per cent over the last 10 days of September, 1932.

"With public announcement of the new cars now under way in dealers' showrooms throughout the country, added impetus is being given to the sales momentum already under way," Mr. Hustader said. "Buick dealers this year are in a splendid position to do business."

Robert Redburn, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Redburn, 1118 S. Haeger avenue, missed the Children's Memorial hospital Friday as a surgical patient.

Storm Damage in East Is Described in Letter From Former Resident

Readers of The Review are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hoenes, 414 Grove street, for the opportunity of reading a first hand account of the hurricane that swept the east coast New England states September 22. Mr. and Mrs. Hoenes received a bulletin letter last week from their daughter, Mrs. L. J. Kramer, who resides at Norwichtown, Conn., and are allowing it to be published for the news interest.

Following is the letter written by Mrs. Kramer and sent to her parents and friends:

"To you all—Hello!"

"I am making carbon copies of the following letter so that I can write such a more complete story of what has been happening to us here. So you will excuse me for having the time and I hope that none of you worried too much about our safety."

"We were very fortunate in spite of the hurricane, because there were no lives lost. That I know of, here in Norwich. They claim one man is missing. But we surely had plenty hurricane."

"When it hit Norwich, I was in another section of the city helping Mrs. Bell make grape jelly. (We didn't ever get it made). After the storm I had to walk home and the conditions were terrible. So many trees were taken down, that most the time one had to walk up to the edge of the porch in order to walk through. I can't tell you how many trees the city has lost. This morning was the first time for five days that we received our paper. There was no communication of any sort here for two or three days."

"In the business section of the city we have had martial law ever since the night of the hurricane. In fact, we still have it. No one can yet enter this section except the owners of the stores. The water was over the height of an automobile right in the center of the business section. The last two days the stores have been cleaning out their buildings and dumping everything into the river."

"When we will have telephones or electricity is not yet known. We here in Norwichtown were more fortunate than those living directly in the city, for our houses didn't have water for over 48 hours or more after the storm."

"Many of the stores were so badly hit that they have been condemned. The freight house was just completely washed away (as was on the wharf). As to other damages, here are some of the things that we have seen:

"1. Three of our schools (brick included) had the roofs blown off."

"2. Trees crashed into houses."

"3. Cars were completely demolished."

"4. A few miles from here three dams broke."

"5. Most of our mills have been completely demolished."

"6. The cottages at the beach were nothing but kindling now. And some just about 100 feet away! One of the parishioners was in their cottage along the ocean and it was blown back 100 feet upon the railroad track; and the refrigerator in the house was found about one mile south of the cottage. Another one of our folks, who were not in their cottage, found that the front of the cottage is now where the back used to be. (They had just left for Norwich the morning of the storm)."

"7. In the small towns along the salt water there are yachts, fishing boats, etc., found in the middle of the river or in some place. Even the New Haven railroad tracks which run along the water are littered with boats, children's toys, mattresses, beds, chairs, etc."

"8. The church has the steeple blown into the middle of the roof. (Our church was very fortunate compared to others in town)."

"9. The city hall had the two big clocks blown right off of it."

"10. Other churches lost all of their windows. And by the way, windows were most people's biggest personal loss here in Norwich. We lost about 32. Just imagine 32 windows blown out of your house! Really the section of the storm was terrible. So if one remained in a room after the windows were out it was very dangerous. You could do nothing. The section just had full control of you. Your car drums felt the strain for an hour later and it frightened one plenty!"

"We have had plenty of food thus far. Some of the stores that weren't hit so bad have tried to provide. Others are now trying to hide some of the damaged goods... so that they can sell them later. But the inspector is finding them and finding them. According to the New York Times, and maybe you all have read this, in Cape Cod nothing has been so bad that the National Guards were ordered out and shot to kill anyone taking anything."

"Of course, I wasn't home, but both Leonard and Mildred say that K.R. was very brave during the storm. Ooh, was he happy to see me come in the door that night. That smile and expression I shall never forget!"

"This morning I helped Leonard with the cross-staff. Those of you that have been here to visit us probably remembered there were trees in the back yard as well as the front. Well now they all our down, but part of one (in the back yard) and there is a small one left in the front yard. On the Green nearly all the trees are down. Really the entire city will be so minus shade next year."

"We hope that our parents received the telegram. At the time that we sent them we had no idea when they would go out or how."

"In New London, the town south of us, they had fire. An entire section burned. We are told that for a while they thought that the city was going. By the way, we have water here yet that is, to fight a fire with."

"But all in all we feel that here in this section of New England we were indeed lucky, for no lives were lost. Most of the damage done will be taken care of by the pocketbook, and even though that is hard on all of us, we are thankful it was no worse."

"Leonard had an appointment in New York City today, but I guess we will be going next week sometime. Yale opens this week, but Leonard won't get down until next week."

"Well, my bread, coffee cake, etc. calls. To you all we send our love... and we write!"

The Kramers in Conn."

J. Elward Opposes Foreign Doctrines of Government Here

Asserting that foreign doctrines of government have no place in the life of the American people, Joseph P. Elward, democratic candidate for congress in the 10th district, speaking last night before a representative group of the district, reiterated his pledge to support and preserve for the American people those civil guarantees which have made the American States the freest country in the world.

"Ever since the discovery of America," Elward stated, "people from Europe have come to our shores to find an asylum from the oppression of European dictators."

"In 1776," Elward continued, "we began our struggle to break free from European rule, and in America, Freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, freedom of worship according to one's own dictates are the essential bulwarks of the American democracy."

"As we drove in Colorado vegetation and nice farms soon appeared and the further we went the more beautiful it became. After passing through the Big Thompson Canyon, we arrived at Estes Park, the gateway to Rocky Mountain National park. Here we saw some of America's grandest mountain scenery."

"In many places we drove to an altitude of over 12,000 feet. There are 15 peaks of over 12,000 feet, the highest is the 14,255 foot Longs Peak. After crossing the continental divide we saw Iceberg lake containing perpetual ice floats and we also saw snow in many places."

"As we left this park we passed the beautiful Grand lake which has an altitude of 8,369 feet. We then entered the Royal National forest which is almost as nice as Rocky Mountain National park. We soon entered the open range country with its thousands of fat cattle and sheep."

"Continuing on we then entered the state of Utah with its beautiful colored rocks and canyons. While touring Salt Lake City we enjoyed the very interesting capital building. After stopping at the Great Salt Lake, we drove into Bingham canyon and saw the largest open-cut copper mine in North America."

"Our next stopping point of interest was Bryce canyon in Bryce National park, which is approximately two miles wide, three miles long, 500 feet deep and its rim rises 8000 feet above sea level. With its hundreds of steep-like formations of beautiful colors it has often been referred to as the most marvelous sight man ever beheld."

"We next visited Zion National park, driving through a tunnel."

Surviving are two sons, Albert of Chicago and Elmer of Genoa, four brothers, Will Duval of Elgin, Fred and Charles of Genoa and Louis Duval of Sycamore, and four sisters, Miss Minnie Gethman, Mrs. Mary Pierce of Genoa, Jennie Niss and Mrs. Hannah Niss of Minnesota.

Names of Mayflower children: The four children of William Brewster, who were known as Love, Wrestling, Patience and Fear.

NORMAN PRICE COMPLETES A&P ANNIVERSARY PICTURE

Famed for his beautiful and authentic historical illustrations, artist Norman Price was recently commissioned by The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company to create the "theme picture" for the 75th Anniversary Celebration of its A&P Food Stores which takes place during the month of October.

Mr. Price's painting, now completed, faithfully portrays a waterfront scene typical of the year 1863—the year of A&P's beginning in a little shop in Vesey Street of Old New York. It was in the early fall of 1863 that a high-masted sailing vessel carried to America's shores A&P's first stock in trade, a cargo of Canton teas brought from half way around the world. A&P began its business with that clipper ship cargo of tea.

In creating his A&P Anniversary "theme picture," Norman Price's skillful artistry of pen and brush was supplemented by a comprehensive, intimate knowledge of the subject. He spent many hours in research before the first line of the picture was drawn. Even after the composition was well worked out and the details carefully sketched, Mr. Price had an old sailor who had spent years "before the mast" check all the details of the construction of the clipper ship and its rigging, so that every line would be technically accurate.

Following is an account of a 7000-mile trip completed last week by Mr. and Mrs. William Schnetlages, 127 North avenue.

"At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1, we met Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schnetlages and Mrs. C. J. Wilcox of Chicago at the C&N.W. depot in Chicago. From there we drove to Moline and crossed the Mississippi river. From Davenport, Ia., we followed the shores of the Mississippi southwest to Muscatine, then west through some beautiful rolling country across southern Iowa."

"We left Iowa by crossing the Missouri river at Plattsmouth and on to Lincoln, Neb., where we visited the $10,000,000 state capital building. As we went westward the country became drier and drier, until the very air was hazy from all the dust."

"As we drove in Colorado vegetation and nice farms soon appeared and the further we went the more beautiful it became. After passing through the Big Thompson Canyon, we arrived at Estes Park, the gateway to Rocky Mountain National park. Here we saw some of America's grandest mountain scenery."

"In many places we drove to an altitude of over 12,000 feet. There are 15 peaks of over 12,000 feet, the highest is the 14,255 foot Longs Peak. After crossing the continental divide we saw Iceberg lake containing perpetual ice floats and we also saw snow in many places."

A DOCTORED YARDSTICK

A short time ago the directors of the Tennessee Valley authority announced that 52 per cent of the cost of these dams and facilities so far constructed would be charged to power production. The remaining 48 per cent is to be charged to other purposes, such as flood control, improvement of river navigation, soil conservation, etc.

Commenting on this, the Dallas, Texas, Morning News says: "By charging off $45,000,000 of the cost of these dams to social benefits, the directors of TVA propose a subsidy of approximately $2,000,000 annually for the government operation of power plants. There is no other way of figuring it. Of course, the consumers of Tennessee Valley energy will get lower rates, but the country as a whole will get higher taxes. The TVA operation, as proposed by the present directors, will be a doctored yardstick."

Thus TVA is to be given what amounts to another subsidy—all of which must be added to its past subsidies in the form of donations from congress, virtual tax-free, the mail franking privilege, and so on. Competent engineers have flatly disputed the contention that TVA's "social benefits" can possibly account for 48 per cent of its investment. Thus, a recent authoritative survey states that while Norris Dam has been charged with close to $9,000,000 for navigation purposes, this dam is of next to no value to navigation. The write-off, in other words, is purely artificial, and simply enables TVA to make a bookkeeping showing that is not in accord with the facts.

What would happen to any private utility that tried to get away with trick accounting methods like that? The state regulatory commission would descend on its head like a whirlwind—but TVA is specifically "exempted" from any public regulation that applies to private electric companies. A politically operated public interest project can apparently get away with anything—so long as a complacent public is willing to pay the deficits.

THE MIGHTY DO FALL

A young nation like a young man is inclined to concentrate upon the future rather than the past. The nation has no experience on which to base its decisions and, again like a young man, is not too anxious to receive advice from its elders.

History—a record of the experiences of nations—does have some very valuable advice it can give us if we will take it. China, for instance, tried the NRA generations ago, and it flopped. So did we.

More recent than China's experience, however, is what preceded the fall of the mighty Holy Roman Empire. Rome practically legislated its farmers out of existence. Then it started making the businessmen in various communities pay all the taxes of the communities. Then it passed laws fixing wages and prices; next it forced businessmen to stay in business or face lions in the arena. And then—Rome collapsed.

In this country, farmers are getting less for their wheat, cotton, and potatoes than they did five years ago. We have passed one "share-the-wealth" tax bill after another, increasing the burden upon the businessmen who furnish payrolls. We are fixing wages; we are about to fix prices.

It isn't pleasant to be pessimistic. Maybe we'll be smart enough to stop short of the precipice. We still have time.

FARM RELIEF FAILS AGAIN

Paul Mallon expressed the view of most informed commentators when he wrote in a recent column: "The farm act is failing fast. That fact is becoming so evident that many of Mr. Wallace's men will now concede privately they do not see how the situation can be worked out next year on the same basis."

This has been the unhappy experience of most farm acts of the past, no matter how sincerely inspired or efficiently administered. Time has proven the old adage that "self-help is the best help," and that goes for the farmer as well as everyone else. If agriculture looks to political panaceas for permanent benefits, it will be foredoomed to disappointment. Real farm progress is coming from activities instigated and controlled by the farmers themselves, such as non-political farm marketing cooperatives which apply sound business principles to farm operation.

GREAT LAKES AS SEAPORTS

Ever since 1895 selfish interests have stalled and defeated the proposition to deepen the channels of the Great Lakes, particularly in the St. Lawrence river, so that ships could sail in and out from the Atlantic Ocean. Thus, as President Roosevelt said recently, every lakeport would become a seaport, from Montreal to Chicago and Duluth.

This isn't a political question, at all. Presidents Hoover and Taft were for it. The opposition has come from the ports of New York and Boston, from the railroads, and the public utilities—all expressing imaginary fears. The cost of the enterprise would be less than the cost of the Panama Canal.

The economic advantages of a Great Lakes seaway would be greater than those of the Panama Canal.

Canadian and United States politicians have aided and abetted selfish interests to cheat the Great Lakes for nearly half a century.

Palatine Bank Building Up for Auction Again

Because the attorneys for the receiver of the First National bank of Palatine failed to incorporate all necessary details in the recent sale of the bank building, Federal Judge Sullivan ordered that a new sale be conducted in the federal building in Chicago Tuesday, Oct. 25. The bid of $9500 made by William Kebe at the time of the last auction, will stand as a new bid at the coming sale and other bidders have been invited to enter a figure. It was reported some of the bank creditors are pooling their interests and are planning to enter a bid.

Libertyville Children Start Halloween Early

Reports of at least 20 Libertyville children who began their Halloween mischief a month too early prompted Police Chief Frank Druba to issue a warning to the youngsters and to their parents that legal action will be taken against premature celebrants. Such things as throwing spoiled vegetables at newly painted houses and the wanton destruction of windows by throwing offensive objects through them were among the complaints received by Chief Druba from late Libertyville residents.

Harvard Man Gored By Bull; Condition Grave

Herman Hayes of Harvard was seriously injured last week when he was attacked and gored by a mad bull on the E. Steinborn farm near Harvard. He was struck from behind by the charging animal and severe wounds inflicted along the spinal column. Rushed to St. Joseph's hospital in Harvard, his condition is said to be grave.

Harvard Resident Gets Share "Fortune" Offer

Ralph Marshall of Harvard last week was the recipient of a letter offering a share in a hidden fortune plan that is similar to many types of "easy money" swindles. The letter writer purported to be a prisoner in a Mexico jail because of bankruptcy, but offered part of a large "hidden fortune" if certain financial assistance was forthcoming. Marshall refused the bait and turned the letter over for police investigation.

Breaks Ankle While in Pursuit of Boy Gang

Dummy in Street Nearly Causes Auto Accident

Mrs. Lewis Kammar of Elgin did some fancy maneuvering one evening last week while driving her automobile through the streets of Elgin. And it was all prompted by her great desire to avoid running over what she thought was a man. Her automobile climbed the curb and almost upset in her anxiety to save a life. But investigation of the figure lying in the street proved that it was only a dummy. A youth residing in the neighborhood was taken into custody and, under questioning, admitted that it was his idea of a joke.

Boys "On the Bum" Save Woman's Life

The rescue of an Elgin state hospital patient from the Fox river after night was brought about by three hoboes who were preparing their evening meal in a jungle camp near the institution. Normie Crowden, 29-year-old Chicagoan, leaped from the river from an abutment bridge in view of the men, one whom dove into the stream fully clothed and brought her to shore. Later she made another unsuccessful break for freedom, again seeking to end her life in the river. She was turned over to the Elgin police by the men and later returned to the hospital.

Long Run for Fire Department One of the longest "runs" of fire apparatus on record occurred in February, 1904, when the New York fire department rushed nine engine companies and one hook-and-ladder company, on flatcars, to the great fire in Baltimore, a distance of 180 miles.

Head of F. D. I. C. for Approval of Bank Amendment

Illinois Residents Vote on Proposed Change at November Election

Statements that more than 98 per cent of the depositors in insured state banks of Illinois have their deposits insured against loss have been made official by Leo T. Crowley of Washington, D. C., chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. In a letter to the constitutional amendment committee, which is campaigning for the banking amendment to the state constitution to be voted on November 8, Mr. Crowley says:

"Our attention has been called to the proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Illinois to be submitted to the voters in the general election November 8, 1938 which provides for the elimination of double liability on stock of state banks in Illinois. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation favors the proposed amendment."

"Inasmuch as more than 98 per cent of the depositors in insured banks are usually insured against loss by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, repeal of double liability will not affect their interests adversely. Double liability of stockholders in most national banks has been eliminated since the passage of the proposed amendment to the constitution of Illinois will put stockholders of state banks in Illinois on a par with stockholders of national banks, thus avoiding discrimination."

Sam H. Thompson of Quincy, former president of the American Fays bureau federation, and a member of the constitutional amendment committee, says:

"Rural communities, particularly the farmer, should vote for this amendment, and preserve the only banking system, in many of the small communities, that can meet the capital stock requirements under existing laws. The adoption of the amendment will undoubtedly be a forward step in strengthening the banking structure of Illinois."

William Hume Jr., president of the Mt. Prospect State bank and at one time receiver for the First State Bank of Barrington, summarized an explanation of the proposed change as follows:

"Under the present provisions of the constitution, no change can be made in our state banking act until the necessary legislation for that purpose has been passed by the general assembly, which is possible by a majority vote of the elected members in both houses of the general assembly, and such act has been submitted to a referendum at the next general election and has been approved by a majority of all the votes cast at such election for or against such law—in other words, a majority of the votes cast on the proposition itself and not of all the votes cast at the election, as is required in the case of an amendment to the constitution."

"Because of the referendum required, it is difficult to make any change in our state banking law in practically less than two years. In case of an emergency, this presents a serious situation. Following the banking moratorium of 1933, the national congress and the legislatures of many states passed emergency legislation which permitted assets in excess of liabilities, but which assets were slow of collection, to continue under a conservatorship and work out their problems while still doing business. This kept many good banks open. In Illinois no such legislation could be passed without a referendum and so the earliest possible date for accomplishing the change was, at that time, November, 1934, when, as a matter of fact, the emergency had passed. Therefore, many banks in Illinois were closed and liquidated which could have been saved to the benefit of the stockholders, depositors and the communities affected. Now, if the proposed amendment is adopted, our general assembly will in the future, be able, by a two-thirds vote of the elected members in each house, to meet such emergencies by legislation, either at a regular or a special session, which can become effective immediately following such session."

At the mid-year, suburban building was nearly $6,000,000 behind last year, the total from January to June inclusive having been $12,680,696 and last year $15,455,694. This difference has been reduced however by the great improvement in July, August and September which this year produced $10,163,444 of new building and last year only $9,052,942, so that the year is now only $5,000,000 behind. In other words, there has been $1,000,000 more suburban building this summer than last.

Arlington Heights Beats Bronchos in Scoring Duel Saturday, 27-12

Locals Will Meet Fast Lake Forest Grid Team Friday

Opponents Take Advantage of Barrington's Fumbles at Heights

In a wild and woolly homecoming game, the Arlington Heights team defeated the Barrington Bronchos by the score of 27-12 at Arlington last Saturday. Outweighed by many pounds, the Bronchos' running attack was stifled but they put on a great array of passes which completely bewildered the Arlington boys. The Bronchos gained 113 yards on 37 complete passes while the Arlington team completed but one pass for 22 yards.

Though Arlington has a superior team, they also got all the breaks of the game. Barrington received the kickoff at the start of the game and Herren fumbled the ball on his own 15 yard line, Arlington receiving. On the very next play, Bubblis skinned around left end for the first touchdown. The try for extra point was no good, leaving the score 6-0 in favor of Arlington.

Barrington had a scoring opportunity toward the end of the first quarter when on a pass by Church and a run and basketball pass by Shepard, the Bronchos brought the ball from their own 40 yard line to Arlington's 17. After this point, however, they fumbled again, Arlington recovering the ball. At this point the quarter ended.

When the second period opened, O'Hagan's Arlington star quarterback back went 48 yards through the center of the Barrington line to the Bronchos 25 yard line. Two plays later, O'Hagan again carrying the ball dashed through right tackle for a touchdown. The try for point was good, making the score 13-0.

Several minutes later the Bronchos got the ball on their own 40 yard line. Then Burton Wendt made a beautiful catch of a fast pass from Church on Arlington's 43 yard line. Two runs by Herren brought the ball to the 14 yard line. From here Church passed to Shepard over left and for the Bronchos' first touchdown. The kick for point was lost.

Barrington kicked off and losing no time, Arlington brought the ball to the Barrington 3 yard line by fine running plays. On the next play, Mayerch ploughed through the line for a touchdown. He again went over the goal line on the try for extra point, making the score 20-0. Several plays later the half ended.

Early in the third quarter, Barrington got the ball on their own 45 yard line. Church passed far down the right side of the field, and Mayerch intercepted the ball right near the side line, and ran straight down the field for a touchdown. The extra point was good again, adding another point to Arlington's lead, and making it 27-0. Toward the end of the third quarter, the Bronchos pushed the ball to Arlington's 2 yard line but could get no further.

Arlington punted to their own 29 yard line and on three plays the Bronchos made their second touchdown, which proved to be the last scoring of the game. Barrington completed eight out of 19 passes; six were intercepted by Arlington. Arlington's passes connected only once out of eight attempts, the Bronchos intercepting one. The Barrington team made 14 first downs to Arlington's six.

The Bronchos played a good game and showed a lot of spirit, but they were completely outweighed and overpowered physically. Their next game is Friday at Lake Forest.

Bronchos Finally End Long Scoring Famine in Arlington Series

Although they were losers in the football game with the Arlington Heights Cardinals at Heights Saturday, the Barrington high school Broncho team managed to set some kind of a new record. After seven years' of famine, Barrington managed to score on their provincial rivals. The final score of the game was 27 to 12, and it was the result of Heights capitalizing on Barrington's mistakes.

Not since 1920, when the locals won the annual classic by a score of 15 to 14 on a drop kick from the toe of Wayne Grabenkort, have the Bronchos won a game against Arlington Heights. Moreover, they had not scored a point against the Cardinals teams during the seven intervening years of Saturday's game.

So after seven years of touchdown famine against Heights, local supporters are looking forward to seven years of "plenty."

Following are the scores of the games played since the two schools began playing against each other in 1927:

1927..... 27 0
1928..... 0 0
1929..... 0 32
1930..... 15 14
1931..... 0 0
1932..... 0 7
1933..... 0 22
1934..... 0 25
1935..... 0 13
1936..... 0 13
1937..... 0 13
1938..... 12 27
Total points..... 54 179

Side park they were defeated in a close battle by those Arlington seconds, 7-0. The game was evenly played throughout, both teams executing some nice runs.

The big play of the game came on the kickoff starting the second half. The Post-kick-offed to Mueller, Arlington's brilliant fullback, who receiving the ball on his own 50 yard line, dodged in and out of the Barrington team, cutting back four times, and evading one tackler after another, finally succeeded in getting past all eleven men and ran down the field for the lone touchdown of the game. A completed pass for the extra point made the score 7-0 in favor of Arlington and the score stayed the same for the remainder of the game.

Except for that one play the ball stayed well within the 20 yard line, changing hands many times. While Mueller starred for the visitors, Meyers and Farwell in the backfield and Stewart and Grueling in the line stood out in the Barrington eleven.

The Ponies made six first downs to Arlington's four but neither team completed a pass. Barrington tossed the ball five times, Arlington intercepting three.

Florence has many fine old medieval palaces—the Palazzo Vecchio, with its tall tower; the huge bulk of the Palazzo Strozzi; the Bargello, with its fine courtyard—which give the traveler an idea of how the great barons of the Quattrocento lived. The palaces are gloomy and damp.
