

Local Bond Issue May Be Needed for Waterworks Plan

Federal Aid Unlikely for New Reservoir and Aerator,

The possibility of the village having to float a bond issue to install a proposed complete improvement to the municipal water system was discussed Monday night at the village board meeting. The question of a bond issue arose following the report made by Village President Earl Hatje that the PWA, with which the village had filed an application for federal aid in constructing a new reservoir and installing an aerator, would not reimburse the village for the filed an application for federal aid in constructing a new reservoir and installing an aerator, would not approve any more grants in Illinois.

The federal department's disinclination to give any aid here was said to be due to the fact that Chicago had been allocated a considerable sum of money for the construction of a subway system.

With no aid forthcoming from the PWA, the village board must now seek a method of financing the project locally.

There is approximately sufficient money on hand to install as receives about the water having an odor. The board may decide to install this one improvement and permit the matter of a second reservoir to hang fire. Additional water space is needed in case of emergency and a revision of the lines to connect up the two pumping motors is also necessary, it was pointed out.

The bond issue would approximate $10,000 and would be retired within ten years, it was estimated Monday night.

It was decided to allow the question to be tabled until January or February while another effort will be made to have the PWA give more consideration to the local problem. D. B. Maloney, village attorney, has been requested to contact officials in Washington, asking for their cooperation.

organizations in Barrington are being invited this week to attend dinner meeting at Jewel Tea Co., Inc. on Tuesday evening to discuss plans for an enlarged "leisure time program" next summer, and the possibility of having some recreational projects started Dinner will be served at 5:30 p. m. Mrs. George Rutledge is in charge of reservations and C. W. Kaylor has arranged the affair. The "leisure time program" conducted last summer was sponsored by most of the organizations in the village and country area, but an effort is being made to include all in the development of future plans.

the intersection of Hough street and Northwest highway Saturday by the Illinois state highway police following a warning broadcast by the federal bureau of investigation in Milwaukee that Benny Dickson, "public enemy," was seen headed this way. A first line of blockade was established along the roads at the state's boundary and the second line was set up in this vicinity.

The report from the Milwaukee

FBI said that information had been received stating a mud-splattered car, believed to be carrying the gunman and his wife, Estelle, was seen 10 miles south of Milwaukee traveling south. The two are sought for bank robberies and a kidnapping. A nation-wide search has been going on for the past several weeks.

Purchase of Seals May Be Deducted From Income Tax

Money subscribed for Christmas seals and health bonds may be deducted from income taxes, according to a statement received today from the collector of internal revenue by Mrs. Joseph Wollner, Christmas seal chairman for Barrington. The Barrington health center is affiliated with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county.

"The Christmas seal sale comes under the class of permissible deductions described as 'contributions to religious, educational and charitable institutions,' according to Mrs. Wollner. She pointed out that it is important when making deductions on such contributions to specify on the report to what organization the money was given and for what purpose.

Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs, executive director of the Institute, announced today that initial returns from the sale of Christmas seals are slightly above last year's. She interpreted returns of the first few days as "an indication of a more hearty support for continued efforts to wipe out tuberculosis entirely." The sale opened Thanksgiving day and will continue until January 1.

Selma Lagerlof's story, "The Girl who Carried the Candle," which tells the fanciful tale of the origin of the Christmas rose, proved an interesting finale to the list of legends. The members with are busy with their preparations for the Christmas bazaar to be distributed by the Chicago Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild. Mrs. F. A. Hecht Sr. is chairman and promises a splendid array of gifts.

Edison's Electric Lamp

For many years physicists here and abroad knew the basic principle of the incandescent electric lamp. Time and again various men attempted to make such lamps by putting a carbon rod in a vacuum within a glass container and then running an electric current through the rod. But always such heat developed that the lamp burst the moment it was lighted. Modern lighting had to wait until Edison got the idea that, if the carbon filament were made fine enough, no such heat would be developed, tried it and it worked. These are but three of countless examples that show how thin are the barriers that sometimes separated humanity from whole oceans of unknown truth.

"Listen, Darling" Is Week-End Bill at Catlow Theatre

"The Arkansas Traveler," With Bob Burns, Will Open Wednesday

The magician with a basketball, Hank Luisetti, stars Saturday night at the Catlow theatre, in "Campus Confessions," with a supporting cast including Eleanor Whitney and Betty Grable.

"Listen, Darling," which comes to the Catlow Sunday and Monday, featuring Freddie Bartholomew and Judy Garland, is a rollicking comedy of adolescent youth.

Adapted from Katharine Brush's magazine story of the same name, it deals with the exploits of two members of the younger generation who take it upon themselves to find a suitable husband for the mother of one and run into an amazing series of complications in so doing.

Mary Astor plays the mother and the prospective suitors are portrayed by Walter Pidgeon, Alan Hale and Gene Lockhart.

As an extraordinary treat the program will also include Walt Disney's "Brave Little Tailor," a technicolor which stars Mickey Mouse in the role of the miniature hero who slew a giant through a grave misunderstanding.

Minnie Mouse is reunited with her swain in this adaptation of a Grimm fairy tale, said to be one of the outstanding creations of Disney's career.

As small as a minute and twice as fast.

This timely description aptly fits that "Hundred Thousand Dollar Mopple," Irene Dare, who is making her film debut with Bobby Brown in "Breaking the Ice," coming to the Catlow Tuesday.

Small Irene will soon be queen throughout the land, in the opinion of those who have seen her fitting across the ice.

This six-year-old lass from St. Paul, Minn., is a veritable scorcher on skates. Her short legs pump like toy pistons in giving her sufficient momentum to carry her 50 pounds of personality through her Charlotte stops, whirls and figure eight.

Double featured Tuesday at the Catlow with "Breaking the Ice," is "Lawless Valley," with George O'Brien and Kay Sutton.

The latest example of a motion picture which jumped right off the front page of a newspaper is the Bob Burns comedy-drama, "The Arkansas Traveler," which opens Wednesday at the Catlow as a benefit for the American Legion Auxiliary. When George Arthur, the noted Hollywood producer, saw a layout of a country editor in a national magazine he was so impressed that he decided then and there to make it the basis of his next picture.

Arthur, who sees Burns as America's homespun humorist and philosopher, immediately asked that the sage of Van Buren to play the lead role. As a result of his success in "Wells Fargo," which convinced him he could play dramatic roles with ease, Burns accepted the part of "the Traveler," a happy-go-lucky wandering printer, who becomes the crusading editor and political reformer of a country community.

An added attraction will be Walt Disney's "Ferdinand the Bull," screen version of the best-seller, "The Story of Ferdinand," which is absolutely bereft of any dialog.

Protozoa, Single-Celled Creatures
Protozoa is the name given to all single-celled creatures, some microscopic, some as big as a half dollar. They vary among themselves and may be as different as a man and lobster, both of which have many cells, says the Washington Post. Some are beneficial and serve as food for other animals. Others combine when dead to form chalk and sandstone. Still others cause dangerous diseases in men and animals.

This week's delicious recipes are contributed by Mrs. R. G. Plagge, 545 Grove avenue. Try one or all of them, for an interesting "different" meal.

Easy on the eye—easy to buy—as General Motors terms it!

ONE of these days you're going to get tired of watching these agile Buicks flash past you!

One of these days you're going to get fed up on hearing friends rave about Buick comfort, and Buick smoothness, and the glorious view through Buick's bigger and broader windshield and windows.

One of these days you're going to wish you too had a car styled like a bit of tomorrow here today.

And one day you'll ask yourself why you didn't see what a buy Buick is at its new, deep-cut, 1939 prices.

Sure as shootin' all that's going to happen—unless you do certain things now.

First—come try out the brilliant surging power of this Buick's Dynaflex great eight engine. Next—find a rough stretch—and discover for yourself how steady this smooth traveler is in its going, how directable in its easy handling.

Finally—take paper and pencil, and when noting Buick's surprising low delivered price,

NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES

* DYNAFLASH VALVE-IN-HEAD STRAIGHT-ROCK ENGINE & SINCER TORQUE-FREE SPEEDOMETER * GREATER VISIBILITY * HANDSHYFT TRANSMISSION * BOOMER UNSTEEL BODY BY FISHER * TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE * TYPOT HYDRAULIC BRAKES * CROWN SPRING ACTION * "CARWALK-COOLING" * OPTIONAL REAR AXLE GEAR RATIOS * FLASH-WAY DISCREET SIGNAL * SELF-SIGNALING CHIEF ACTION FRONT SPEEDOMETER

note also the extras it includes, the big reductions over last year, and the actual savings you can make by putting your dollars in Buick!

For the value's up mightily as you can see. And yet this great straight-eight actually costs less than last year—less than you'd expect—less even than some sixes.

How much less? We're waiting to watch your eyes pop when we tell you!

Program for the final week of the Chicago City Opera company's 1938 season was announced today. Concluding one of the most artistically perfect seasons of opera ever staged in Chicago the final week's opera will be "Manon," "Andrea Chenier," "La Boheme," "Carmen," "L'Amore Del Re," and "Aida."

The final performance of the Littlefield ballet in Chicago will take place Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11, and Tuesday night, Dec. 13. Full schedule for the last week is as follows:

The Littlefield ballet will present four of their most famous ballets at the matinee performance on Sunday, Dec. 11. The program includes "Pavane," "Doll" to music by Bayer; "Terminai" to music by Kingsley; "Fantasia," the Strauss ballet which had its world premiere in Chicago on an earlier program of the season, and "Ballets," which will have its first Chicago showing on this program.

Proceeds of this concert will benefit the opera company, and all artists will donate their services. They include Elen Desia, Helen Jepson, Hilde Reggiani, Eva Turner, Annunziata Garretto, Constance Merrill, Virginia Wallace, Margery Mayer, Andre Burdino, George Casplicki, James Melton, Armand Tokatyan, Jean Pardull, and Carlo Morelli. Fireplace Screens Once Used in Royal Palaces

In the Middle Ages fireplace screens were generally fixtures and old accounts contain entries for setting them up in royal palaces. In the reign of Edward II, writes Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times, we read of boards being brought "to make a screen hanging over the fireplace between the hearth and the King's bed."

In Tudor times costly materials were used for screens. The inventory of Henry VIII mentions "four shagreen of purple Tapheta fringed with purple silk standings upon feet of tymbre gulle, silvered and painted." It was not until the reign of Elizabeth that domestic embroidery began to flourish but from that time to the days of Victoria, it continued in popularity, reflecting the changing fashions of the times.

One may date many of the screens by the type of needlework employed. The artistic and literary fashions may be noted of the Elizabethan period and many patterns show their love of flowers and gardens. In the 1600's Italian motifs began to appear in needlework. The curious stump work of Charles II's reign is an expression of the riotous extravagance of that age. Oriental silks and embroideries followed with adaptations of the Chinese taste and in the days of George II, French art was adopted and continued to the time of the Empire to be followed by the tastes and fashions of Queen Victoria.

Mrs. J. J. Carroll Elected as Head of Railroad Auxiliary

Mrs. John J. Carroll, 617 Summit street, was elected president of Crescent division No. 1, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at an election held in Chicago this week. This is the second time Mrs. Carroll has been honored by her division. She served as its president 21 years ago during the World war. The division at that time took up a unit of the Belgium relief work, and Mrs. Carroll opened her home, then in North Austin for a very successful bazaar for the cause.

She also represented division 1 as delegate to convention in 1926 at Cleveland, O. This Auxiliary was the first auxiliary to organized labor and was organized 31 years ago throughout United States and Canada. There are still five active charter members in division 1.

THE BEN FRANKLIN STORE OF BARRINGTON

TELEPHONE 488

133-137 PARK AVENUE
BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS

Dear Friend:

The Christmas season is here once more. Today, I received a letter postmarked North Pole, and dated December 1, 1938. In this letter our good friend Santa Claus advised me that he plans to visit Barrington again this year.

He expects to leave Chicago on Saturday afternoon, December 10, at 2:35, arriving at the Barrington North Western Station about 3:32. He will proceed directly to the Ben Franklin Store and there distribute gifts to the children under 8 years of age whose mother or dad is with them to vouch for their good behavior.

He requested that a special mail box be installed in the store and suggests that his mail be placed in this box. It is a special pleasure, acting as his agent to personally invite you and your children to be here on that day.

Very truly yours,

PHILIP A. CONNELLY

Many Places Have Spanish Names The American Language says: "According to Harold W. Bentley, no less than 2,000 American cities and towns have Spanish names and thousands more are borne by rivers, mountains, valleys and other geographical entities. He says that there are more than 400 cities and towns of Spanish name in California alone. They are numerous all over the rest of the trans-Mississippi region and, curiously enough, are even rather common in the East."

Not Nat. Native of America According to authentic records, Columbus brought over a few breeding hogs on his second voyage to Cuba, in 1493. Great Britain had hogs before this, however, and the United States and Great Britain have produced all the leading breeds in recent times.

The importance of adequate trained leadership to carry out the program of scouting. He stated that there will be better leaders among the citizens of the next generation because of the scout training which they are receiving now and that scouting is perpetual war against the forces which are seeking to drag a boy toward the wrong influence. Charles S. Stewart paid tribute to the work of the scoutmasters, cubmasters, skippers and their assistants.

The new handbook of senior scouting and the new "How Book of Cubbing" were presented to the leaders by their troop and pack committees.

Scout Executive Donald E. Kyger presented his annual message pointing out the progress which has been made during the year and making recommendations for the future.

The newly elected officers for 1939 were installed in an impressive ceremony by T. M. Whitson, past president of the council. The opening and closing ceremonies were conducted by the sea scouts of the Sea Scout Ship Jewel of Barrington with acting mate Jack Fletcher as leader. Invocation was pronounced by Rev. Philip T. Bohl of the Methodist church of Des Plaines.

An invitation has been extended by Miss Dobson to all residents to visit the library. Library days are Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 3 to 5:30 o'clock.

H. Gilkerson Given New Contract With Lake Farm Bureau

Farm Adviser H. C. Gilkerson was rehired Monday evening at the regular monthly board meeting, according to Earl H. Kane, president. Mr. Gilkerson completed 12 years of service as farm adviser in Lake county on November 30, which included four three-year terms.

H. C. Gilkerson, better known to most people as "Harry," graduated from the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, in February of 1913, having spent a year during his undergraduate work doing soil testing work for the university. Upon his graduation he started to work the next day in the soil department, testing soil fertility until 1919, he continued with the testing and had charge of six University of Illinois experimental fields in northern Illinois. During his work at the university he was closely associated with S. E. Hopkins, noted soilist authority. Mr. Gilkerson engaged in farming until 1923 when he was urged by the state extension service to go into farm adviser work in Edwards county at Alton. He remained there three years and then came to Lake county upon the recommendation of W. H. Smith, state leader of farm advisers.

At the afternoon session William O'Malley, personal relations director of Cook county forest preserve department, will speak on the subject, "Our Own Evergreens." The lecture will be illustrated.

Survey Shows $3.31 out of $11 Cost of Handling School Funds

Out of each $11 commonly thought of as state aid money for elementary schools, the Barrington township treasurer's office in 1937 passed on an average of $7.69 per pupil, according to the second section of a study of Cook county school finances prepared by the Lake Shore division of the Illinois Education association.

This figure was reached by deducting the cost of operation of the township treasurer's office—$1.155.60—from the total distributive money received—$4,988.92—and dividing the result by the average daily attendance of 189.

The Barrington average of $7.69 compares with an average of $7.52 for the county as a whole outside the city of Chicago, the report shows. The computation for last year revealed that from the $262,509.64 distributive money received by the various township treasurers there was deducted $144,874.34 for the operation of the treasurer's offices. This left $484,835.30 to be spent on the education of 64,452 elementary school children, or an average of $7.52 per child instead of the $11 commonly mentioned as state aid money.

And in Barrington township, the study made by the association shows, while the amount of money received in 1937 was 150 per cent of the amount handled in 1927, the cost of operating the township treasurer's office last year represented 455 per cent of the cost of that office in 1927.

"Some treasurers," the association's report states, "pass on much higher amounts and some naturally are much below this average. One township was found which, after paying the cost of operating the township treasurer's office, had but $1.07 left for the education of each elementary school child and another township had but $2.75 instead of the $11 which is so frequently mentioned."

"The totals from which these figures were taken," it is added, "contained, in addition to the so-called state distributive fund from the county superintendent, the following: (1) balance carried over, (2) receipts on land grants, (3) miscellaneous revenues."

"Of course," the association's report points out, "it is obvious that an office which handles but a few thousand dollars a year will cost more per $100 handled than one which handles several million dollars. Nevertheless, the high cost per $100 handled in these small townships is just as serious for the child being educated in that township as would be such a high cost for the child in the largest township."

"When a township, because it is small, finds it necessary to spend $6.11 for each $100 handled as the cost of running the office of township treasurer it is time the education of the child in the small township be given special consideration."

"No doubt the quality of the services rendered in some of the offices of township treasurers is much higher than in others and such services cost more and are worth more money. Again, the number of school districts in a township is a factor in the cost of operating the treasurer's office. It is suggested that citizens' committees should investigate the special services that are rendered in the high cost townships and determine whether such high costs reflect an important service not being rendered in the low cost townships."

Out of 27 townships in the county, eight are distributing less money than they were in 1927, one distributing only 40 per cent and another 46 per cent of that amount. Of the 27 township treasurers' offices, four are operating on a smaller budget than in 1927, one operating at 20 per cent of that budget and another at 60 per cent.

School revenues have increased in 19 of the townships. In one township the present amount is 673 per cent of the amount in 1927. In another it is 356 per cent.

Twenty-three of the township treasurers' offices are spending more money now than they did in 1927. One is spending 1048 per cent of the 1927 figure, another 585 per cent, a third 693 per cent and many others from 100 per cent to 500 per cent more.

The Illinois Education association takes the position that more money is needed to finance many local school districts and finds the need is growing. Therefore, state aid which fails to reach the local district should not be called education aid but a cost of government.

While the association does not say that the amount of money drained off from the distributive fund is excessive, it emphasizes the fact that a dollar saved for education is as valuable as a dollar provided through additional state aid.

Local Pianist Will Play Masters' Works at Concert Dec. 13

Owen Berger, pianist and teacher, in his recital on the evening of December 13 in the Barrington Methodist church will present "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven, the "Fantasy-Pieces" by Schumann, the "Spinning Song" by Mendelssohn, and "Walderauschen" and "Gnomengarten" by Liszt. Mr. Berger will be assisted on the program by Miss Pauline Berger, dramatic soprano, who will sing two of Puccini's arias and songs by Strickland, Rogers and Owen Berger. Miss Berger will be accompanied by Victor Chesnais of Chicago.

Ticket sales are being handled by the scholarship loan fund committee of the Barrington Woman's club, which includes Mrs. Harold Grebe, Mrs. W. D. Dotterer, Mrs. Elden Gleske, Mrs. Robert Muir, Mrs. E. Spruiell, Mrs. Clayton Watkins, Mrs. Orin Wold, Mrs. Daniel Woodhead and Mrs. L. T. York.

Building Activity Slumps Sharply in Month of November

Building work in the village dropped sharply during the month of November to reach a low for the past eight months and fell far behind the totals reached during the same months in 1937 and 1936, according to a check of the records of village clerk, which revealed that only one permit had been issued to W. A. Stewart, 120 Raymond avenue, for a garage to cost $175.

During November of 1937, Herman Gerlach, building commissioner, issued permits totalling $16,000. However, one permit for a new home estimated to cost $9500 was never used and this will reduce the total amount for November to $8500. The amount for the same month in 1936 was $12,500. Permits amounted to $2950 during October.

THE MOST DANGEROUS PLACE

Believe it or not—the most dangerous place you can be in at home!

According to the National Safety council, the principal causes of deaths from home accidents last year were divided as follows: falls, 17,500; burns and explosions, 5600; poisonings, 1700; firearms, 800; mechanical suffocation, 1000; poison gases, 1100. The grand total was 32,500 deaths—ninety out of a hundred of which were unnecessary, and could have easily been prevented.

The Red Cross, in company with other safety organizations, has been carrying on a drive to awaken the public to the danger of home accidents, and to show how hazards may be easily removed and avoided. Take a look around your own home. Is there a loose rug at the top of a staircase? It may easily cause a fall that will result in long agony in the hospital, or death. Can unlocked medicine cabinets be reached by children? If so, they are in imminent danger of fatal poisoning by such a common first-aid accessory as iodine. Are guns kept unloaded and out of reach of amateur hands?

You can think of many more such vital safety questions. When you do, answer them at once—and not by guesswork, but after a rigorous investigation of every room in your home. And once you've eliminated hazards, keep them eliminated. Remember that a home that is safe today may be filled with dangers tomorrow.

INTELLIGENT COOPERATION IMPERATIVE NOW

Testifying before the president's emergency board, which is investigating the railroad wage controversy, Dr. J. H. Parnelle of the Association of American Railroads, recently pointed out that "impoverished railroads cannot provide the efficient, dependable transportation so essential to commerce and the national defense."

The statement that the railroad industry, as a whole, is today impoverished, is a statistical fact. Thirty per cent of the country's rail mileage is now in the hands of receivers or trustees, and a substantial additional percentage is in financial difficulty of some kind. During the first eight months of this year, the industry's total revenues were 20 per cent under the same period last year—and net income decreased 62 per cent. This meant that the carriers, during those eight months, failed to earn their interest and other fixed charges by $182,000,000. The rate of return on the investment on an annual basis, during this time, was practically nothing—less than one per cent.

Just what does this mean to the country? For one thing, it means that the lines have been forced to discharge 250,000 workers in the last year alone—you can't meet payroll when your bank account is exhausted. It means that railroad purchasing has declined greatly from the normal of about $1,000,000,000 a year and is now at the abysmal 1932-33 level—a fact which accounts for much of the general industrial depression in this country. It means that railroad investors—whose include banks, insurance companies, educational institutions, and millions of people of small and moderate means—are receiving nothing or next to nothing on their investments, and can only sell their securities at sacrifice prices.

Railway labor is still receiving higher average wages than in 1929. Workers' jobs depend on the solvency of the railroad industry. The country looks forward eagerly to the report of the president's emergency commission. It is imperative that intelligent cooperation on the part of all concerned prevail at this time, or the nation will suffer irreparable injury.

HIDDEN TAXES

With the federal debt at an all time high of close to $40,000,000,000 and the federal, state and local tax collectors taking a full quarter of our income, a government agency has come along and performed a real service.

Figures of the security and exchange commission disclose the plight of the user of electrical service as a heavy payer of hidden taxes. This is only one of the hundreds of unseen taxes that daily make a hole in the family budget.

According to the commission's data, the average electrical service user meets hidden taxes equal to 12.6 per cent of his monthly bill.

Although the hidden tax bill throughout the country averaged 12.6 per cent, in some cases it ranged as high as 20 per cent of the payments by customers of the utility companies.

The report covered 150 companies operating throughout the nation, serving more than 17 million customers in over 22,000 communities during the year 1937.

The combined taxes of the 150 companies were more than $181,000,000 last year, or an average of $10.75 for each customer. This means that about 90 cents of the monthly electric bill went to the government in taxes.

DEFICITS MEAN INSOLVENCY

Chronic deficits mean but one thing—insolvency. And whether it concerns an individual, a business or a nation, insolvency denotes ruin, inexorable and final.

The federal government has not balanced its budget for nearly a decade. It has reached the "chronic deficit" stage. The only alternative is to decrease expenses, if insolvency of the federal government is to be avoided.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

American commerce is threatened by the continued weakness of the British pound and French franc.

Early this year a pound would buy five American dollars. By September the value of the pound had declined to 14.15. In recent days the pound dropped to 14.65 in value, or about 20 cents less than the old sterling parity.

Early this year about 15 francs would buy one dollar. Now the value of the franc has fallen so low that it takes about 35 francs to buy one dollar.

That sharp fall in the value of British and French currencies, and the corresponding decline in the currencies of other nations which are tied to the pound is raising serious problems for all the countries concerned and making it difficult for exporters and importers to make long term commitments. A shift in the relationship of the pound and dollar as great as has occurred since the first of September, for example, is sufficient to wipe out all the profit in normal international business.

Here is the way the increase in the value of the dollar in terms of other currencies works out.

Since Americans now are able to buy more British pounds with their dollars, they are able to buy British goods more cheaply. Consequently a drop in the value of the pound has the same effect as if our tariffs against British merchandise were lowered.

Since the British cannot buy as many dollars as they could a few months ago, the result is that they have to pay more pounds for American goods. The effect is the same as if Great Britain had placed an additional tariff on our exports.

Thus a continuation of the decline in the value of the pound soon would offset all the adjustments made in the trade agreement just concluded with Great Britain.

More than that is involved. A further decline in the pound, government economists point out, might force exporters of wheat and cotton and raw materials which are shipped abroad in large quantities to lower their prices so they can compete with other countries whose currencies have not increased in value as much as the dollar. This might result in a lowering of the prices of these export products in this country.

So the net result of a further drop in the pound might be a lowering of the price level of farm products and export raw materials and a rise in imports and reduction in exports of manufactured goods other than those required by the British to meet the demands of their armament factories.

Because of England's need for certain raw materials for its armaments, that country has a definite interest in maintaining the value of the pound.

The Tri-partite Agreement among Great Britain, France, the United States and other European countries was set up in the fall of 1936 to prevent just such precipitate changes in currency as are now occurring.

But all the efforts to maintain international currency relations ships, it is pointed out, are frustrated by basic maladjustments and the desire of European investors to convert their money into dollars so they can protect their wealth against further trouble in Europe. If the Munich agreement should not prove to be a permanent peace.

The fall in the pound reflects England's huge import balance because of the rearmament program. Also, other factors enter in, such as the prospect that billions of dollars of British investment in China have been ruined by Japan's conquest.

The Silk Industry
China had a monopoly on the silk-worm until 501 A. D. Then some eggs were smuggled out of the country into western Europe in defiance of a 3,000-year-old law, which provided the death penalty for exploiting the worms or the mulberry trees on which they spin their cocoons. Since then the whole world has been wearing silk. France has its own supply of silkworms and exports 30,000 ounces of silkworm eggs every year. Silk is an important Japanese export.

Barrington Bronchos Defeat Arlington Cagers in Conference Opener

Palatine Teams Will Come Here Friday Evening

Ponies Drop Close Contest by Score of 20 to 15 at Heights Friday

In one of the most exciting and thrilling games that basketball fans will see for a long time, the Barrington Bronchos defeated the Arlington Heights five, 19-17, at Arlington Friday night. Going up against one of the strongest teams of their conference, the Bronchos fought hard every minute of the game and could not let up at any time. The game was close until the final gun, the crowd going wild with excitement in the closing minutes of the game. Dick Watson was high point man, scoring 9 points to lead the Bronchos to victory.

The first quarter ended in a 5-4 tie and the half finished in an 11 to 11 deadlock.

In the beginning of the third quarter, the Bronchos were helped by the fact that Milligan, big center of the Heights team had to leave the game on fouls. They went into the last quarter leading 18 to 15. This lead was never overcome, but the Barrington boys had to maintain an air-tight defense to keep their opponents from scoring.

As a result of the great defensive efforts of both teams in the last quarter, only five points were scored in this period.

Winning this game leaves Barrington undefeated as far as conference competition goes, so the team is looking forward anxiously to the game with Palatine, victors over Elia last week, next Friday at Barrington.

The Barrington Ponies, falling to continue on their winning way, lost a close battle to the Arlington Heights five Friday night, 20 to 15. Up against a bigger and better drilled team than the Crystal Lake team of the week before, the Ponies fought hard and held their own against a faster team. The Ponies, taking an early lead, were slowly pushed back by fast opponents. The score at the end of the first quarter was 6 to 5 in favor of Barrington but in the next quarter Arlington crept up to a 10 to 7 lead.

The second half was all Arlington's. They strengthened their lead to 18 to 11 in the third quarter and held the Ponies in the last period. Although there were no stars in the game, Eiters, Farwell and Metters stood out for Barrington.

Barrington Jr. High Whips Dundee, 41-17

The Barrington Junior high school basketball squad gave a snappy demonstration of teamwork last Friday afternoon when they defeated the Dundee quintet in their first contest of the year by the one-sided score of 41-17.

Two eighth grade boys ran away with the scoring honors, Ed Dewitz collecting 22 points and Burwell Wollner accounting for 10 points.

The junior high team is composed of this year of seventh, eighth and ninth grades and will have both junior high and freshman teams on its schedule. They have been outfitted in new orange and black suits with silk sweat jackets of the same colors. W. M. Watson will coach the teams.

The lightweights also trounced their Dundee opponents by the smaller score of 18-11, giving junior high a clean slate for its first competition.

Next Friday, the local boys play Palatine on the home floor, and on Monday, Dec. 12, they meet the Arlington Heights freshmen here.

Methodists Show Power by Trimming St. Anne, 40 to 22

St. Matthew Nosed Out by St. Paul in Church League Monday, 23-18

Methodist gained its second straight church league basketball victory by defeating St. Anne 40 to 22, Monday night. St. Paul also entered the win column by taking a closely contested game from St. Matthew by a score of 23 to 18.

Apparently with more potential team strength than any squad in the league, Methodist simply "ran" St. Anne to defeat. With two convincing victories thus far, Methodist looks like the team to beat this season.

St. Paul had its hands full in defeating St. Matthew which was without the services of its star forward, Russ Overbees. The lead changed hands throughout the game but St. Paul proved to be the best finisher to gain the win.

Next Monday's games list St. Matthew and Baptist in the opener at 7:45 p. m. and Salem and St. Anne meeting in the finale.

Early in the day—and packing and addressing parcels with great care, mailers will materially assist the postal service as well as prevent possible disappointments to themselves or those they are remembering. Mr. Paddock pointed out. Parcels wrapped in stores should be examined and repacked, it was emphasized, so that accepting clerks may be informed exactly how articles are packed and wrapped. This is essential when articles are offered for insurance.

A point that the many who mail greeting cards unsealed at the 1 1/4 rate may not have thought of was mentioned. These cards are handled as any other third class matter, if improperly or incompletely addressed, or if the address has moved, they must be disposed of as waste; they are not entitled to the free forwarding privilege accorded those mailed in sealed envelopes at the first class rate and, consequently, the senders in many cases never know that the greetings were not received by the recipients.

Funeral services for R. W. Muir, general counsel and secretary for Jewel Tea Co., Inc., were held at the Methodist Episcopal church Saturday afternoon with Rev. George T. Nesmith and Rev. H. L. Eagle officiating. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery.

The honorary pallbearers were: M. H. Karker, C. W. Kaylor, Robert Hilton, F. M. Kaseh, J. M. Friedlander, A. O. Hunt, F. J. Landing, C. Q. Wright, J. M. O'Connor and W. D. Smith. Pallbearers were: T. E. Davis, R. D. Sturtevant, H. E. Hargrave, A. R. Holmberg, N. M. Morris, A. E. Buckingham.

Rev. Eagle in his sermon related the interesting fact that Mr. Muir's parents once lived in the vicinity of Wauconda during the Civil war period.

Mr. Muir's all-around athletic prowess while a college student and in later life was also part of Rev. Eagle's discourse. He was a member of the University of Minnesota basketball team and later its manager while attending that school. He was a champion swimmer and chess champion while at school and in 1908 was runner-up for both singles and doubles tennis championships of the Big Ten conference.

Mr. Muir and John Adams won the conference doubles tennis title in 1909. He remained active in tennis circles during his entire life, holding the doubles championship of the state of North Dakota for several seasons, and later became the Chicago North Side Parks champion.

Those from out-of-town attending the funeral services for him Saturday were: Mrs. W. Simmons and daughters Juliet and Marjorie of Minneapolis, Ralph Woodden and son Robert of Fairbanks, Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McVeigh of Spokane, Wash., Mrs. D. J. Dean of Indianapolis, Mrs. M. E. Eke of Detroit Lakes, Minn., Harry Lambert, Robert Carey, Bernard Calchy, Bernice Harrison, Nadine Cox and Kirwan Alward of Chicago.

Greetings mailed at the first class rate are dispatched and delivered first, given directory service, forwarded if necessary, and, if undeliverable, are returned without extra charge provided the sender's return address is shown on the envelope. They may contain written messages, therefore having a personal appeal which is more highly appreciated by the recipients.

File Amended Answer December 6 in $80,000 Sewer Damage Suit

An amended answer to the Gleske-Thoren sewer damage suit was filed in the Lake county circuit court by D. B. Maloney, village attorney Tuesday. Postponement of a hearing date was allowed following a motion made by W. U. Bardwell, attorney for the plaintiffs, in order to have more time to study the village's answer.

Hearing of the suit, in which the plaintiffs ask approximately $80,000 for damages said to have been caused by faulty sewer work along property at the corner of Summit and Russell streets, will probably get underway late in January or February.

Barn and Horse Are Destroyed By Fire

A barn and one work horse and also some feed were destroyed by a fire that threatened to raze other outbuildings as well on the John White farm in Elk Grove township Thursday evening. Internal combustion was said to have caused the fire.

Mr. White was feeding his stock when he detected the smell of smoke. He searched his farm buildings and was climbing a ladder to look into the hayloft when it burst into flames. The fire spread quickly and it required the efforts of the Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines fire departments to keep other buildings from burning also. Burning embers were carried to the roof of buildings on a farm a quarter of a mile away, but were quickly extinguished.
