Cuba Man Killed When Train Smoke Blankets Highway

Florian Muska, 64, Veteran
Blacksmith, Is Buried
Sunday

Funeral services for Florian Muska, 64 years old, who was instantly killed when struck by an automobile while crossing North-west highway at Cuba station in a blanket of train smoke Thursday evening, were held at the funeral home, 149 W. Main street, Sunday, Rev. P. J. Hayes officiated and burial was in St. John cemetery near Fox River Grove.

Mrs. Muska was struck by an automobile driven by John J. Hess, 462 Dole avenue, Crystal Lake. He suffered a fractured neck, skull fracture, compound fractures of both legs and a severe body laceration.

The accident occurred while Mr. Muska was walking from his home and blacksmith shop on the south side of the highway and C. & N. W. railroad track to the general store at Cuba station, north of the road. A northbound train had passed by a few minutes before and the smoke from the locomotive had spread across the highway in a dense blanket.

Mr. Hess, who was accompanied by his wife Beatrice, is superintendent of the Chicago Water Park Mills in Crystal Lake. He testified at an inquest conducted at the funeral home, 123 Elm street, Friday morning that he was driving south and when his car approached the hollow at Cuba station his vision was obscured by the smoke and light mist.

Mr. Hess stated he first saw Mr. Muska when the latter was a few feet in front of the car. He swerved sharply to the left to avoid striking him, he said, but Mr. Muska was hit by the right fender and his body carried along on the machine.

William L. F. Schumacher, residing on Pepper road in Cuba township, who was having gasoline put in his truck at the store at the time of the accident, also testified at the inquest. He stated he was unable to see the impact due to the smoke but had heard the sound of Mr. Muska's feet on the pavement and had seen the lights of the approaching automobile. State Highway Patrolman William Gallagher, who investigated the accident, also testified.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a jury impaneled by Coroner John L. Taylor. Mr. Muska was born November 11, 1874 at Prague, Austria, and came to this country as a young man. He located at Algonquin and when the C. & N. W. began putting in the double tracks, he started a blacksmith shop at Cuba, which he conducted for 47 years. Building the railroad right-of-way was done by horse power and consequently his shop was the center of activity for work. Mr. Muska was injured by an automobile at the same crossing on Labor Day in 1913. His injuries caused his partial retirement.

He married Mary Kotlaba on November 22, 1897, and she preceded him in death eight years ago. Surviving are three children, Edward and Stanley of Crystal Lake and Miss Blanche Muska of Chicago, and three brothers, Louis of Algonquin, James of Cadott, Wisconsin, and Rudolph Muska.

Deadline Nears for Out-of-State Mail, Postmaster Cautions

Gifts, greetings, and letters to relatives, friends, and loved ones living at a distance should be in the mails now or within two or three days at most to insure delivery in time for Christmas, Postmaster L. B. Padlock, cautioned Wednesday. The volume of mail increases 200 per cent at this time of year. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail all in the last few days—hence the constant repetition of the plea "Shop and Mail Early," he pointed out.

This year Christmas day falls on Sunday and the holiday will be observed on the following day, Monday, Dec. 26. The only postal service on these days will be the necessary movement of mails and the delivery of special delivery and registered articles and gift parcels on Monday. Therefore all articles must be mailed in time to reach their destination not later than Saturday morning, Dec. 24.

The coming Saturday is the last day that articles may be posted for Pacific Coast states with assurance of Christmas delivery, and the Barrington post office will remain open until 8 p. m. on this date for the accommodation of holiday mailers. Mail for western and southwestern states should be posted not later than Monday, and for near western, southern and eastern states not later than Tuesday of the coming week.

Chairman of Police Committee Assists in Recovering Stolen Car

Village Trustee John F. Daeschler naturally takes a great deal of interest in village matters and as chairman of the police committee is seeking means and methods of helping the local department.

So when he did a little independent sleuthing Saturday night and Sunday morning to recover a stolen automobile, he was merely doing his elective duty. His attention was drawn to a car that was parked opposite his residence at 217 E. Liberty street Saturday night, and when it was still there Sunday morning he investigated.

Mr. Daeschler found the ignition keys were in the lock and gasoline supply tank full. Deciding that something was wrong, he called Chief of Police E. W. Baade, who checked the license plate numbers and learned the car had been stolen at Union Grove, Wis. The machine was delivered by Mr. Baade Tuesday.

Diverse Comment Voiced on County Zoning Proposal

Objections Raised at Public Hearing Held Here
Wednesday

Objections as well as commendations were expressed at the public hearing conducted at the village hall Wednesday afternoon on the proposed and tentative Lake County zoning ordinance. The proposed zoning plan concerns only land outside of village and city limits in the county.

Wilfred and Miss Kelsey, owners of Kelsey addition subdivisions and Shady Hill subdivisions along the Fox river, opposed restriction of the proposal as conflicting with present platting of their property. They opposed section R-4 which would require that the smallest lot of ground for residential building purposes must contain at least 8000 square feet.

W. Starbuck, Waukegan attorney, also spoke before the meeting, which was opened by Chairman John J. Hogan of Waukegan. Attorney Starbuck represented the Kelsey family and stated he felt the proposed ordinance was "unduly restrictive and went far beyond the rights given by the state statutes and any implied rights."

He predicted a "loud outcry" would be heard if the ordinance were passed in its present form without modification.

His objections to the ordinance would be made in writing and presented to the planning board for consideration before the final ordinance is presented to the Lake county board of supervisors, he stated. Arthur Crosby of Barrington, who represented a group interested.

Barrington Laundry, Founded by J. F. Gieske, 40 Years Old Monday

Forty years of successful business operation in the community was completed Monday by Barrington Laundry which was started December 12, 1898 by the late J.

ing on the present site, and started his first job twelve days later. Although Barrington was almost too small a community to support a steam laundry, Mr. Gieske laid plans to make a "going concern" of his little plant. He had no competitors in the Northwest Cook county area which was developing as a residential district even at that time. Soon after establishment of the plant, bundles of linen began to arrive in the community via railroad express. Horse drawn wagons were brought to the assets, and then added in business from the village and rural area surrounding it. When competition developed in neighboring communities at a later date, the wagons were replaced by motor trucks to keep the local institution on top of the heap. A separate rug cleaning plant was one of the additions. In 1917 the present brick structure was built and the frame building replaced. Mr. Gieske had been 35 years of hard work to his business when his health began to fail in 1924.

Nationally prominent public speakers including industrial leaders, authors, clergymen and statesmen will be invited to speak at open community meetings in Barrington during the next few months according to a plan discussed at a meeting Tuesday night of representatives of civic, religious, patriotic and fraternal organizations.

Gertrude Elsner Is Selected for Chorus at Bradley College

Miss Gertrude Elsner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Elsner, 169 Garfield street, a junior at Bradley college in Peoria, has been honored by selection as a member of the Bradley chorus, which is under the direction of Gordon V. Burdham of the Bradley college of music.

Miss Elsner is a student in the Bradley home economics department. She is vice president of the home economics club, a member of the Y.W.C.A., and social chairman of Constance Hall, the new girls' dormitory. Miss Elsner's recognition by being selected for one of the principal musical organizations is considered a real distinction.

Delicate Hairs on Some Plants Capture Insects

The Venus Fly Trap is a trapper plant and murderer, notes a writer in the New York Telegram. It is found in swamps and moist places. The leaves are divided into two parts or halves both edged with a row of teeth and nerve hairs. This plant is also provided with a honey nectar and is so sensitive that the slightest touch on one of these hairs causes the leaf to close immediately. Thus the insect is caught tight in the trap and is absorbed and digested. Then the leaf opens again and waits for the next victim.

The Sun Dew, Dew plant or Drosera, certainly looks delicate and harmless enough. Its leaves are arranged in rosettes and are covered with scarlet tentacles or hairs. At the tip of each is a drop of honey-like fluid which resembles a drop of dew shining and glistening in the sunlight. The insect—usually a fly—is attracted by the scent—and also by the color—soon hopelessly entangled in the sticky tentacles.

These sun dews grow in moist, muddy loam and full sunshine, at times almost floating on the water or attached to water-lugged stumps. They can also be grown in greenhouses, but must be kept constantly moist at the roots and exposed to bright light. They are exquisite under a magnifying glass, as are many tiny plants which are never seen to full advantage with the naked eye.

Thus in the plant world we can readily see the survival of the fittest—being carried out by these carnivorous specimens in their daily struggle for existence.

Production of Plate Glass
Prior to 1850 almost no plate glass was produced in this country. Several factors at that time prevented development of such an industry. There were few skilled glass makers. The foreign producers were already firmly established in the market. Transportation of such a product was costly in America because of the lack of good roads.

Association Urges State Aid to Relieve Educational Problems

"Teachers should never again be forced to take payment in any tender that is not acceptable to those from whom they wish to buy."

Such is the conclusion reached by the public relations committee of the Lake Shore Division of the Illinois Education association after studying the financing of Cook county schools outside Chicago during the depression years.

"When a teacher is forced to give up 25 per cent of her salary through discounts because the orders with which she is paid are not properly secured she becomes discouraged and is worth scarcely more than the amount she receives," the committee claims.

"But what happens to the district which issues these orders?" the committee asks. "It has the services of a discouraged teacher but is forced to pay in full for those services plus an interest charge for the term of the teacher's order."

"And the investor? He makes an income ranging from 6 per cent to as high as 60 per cent on orders picked up from teachers who are compelled to sell."

The necessity for the issuance by the township trustees of interest-bearing teachers' orders, the committee states, was brought about by a pre-depression tax strike. Issuance of tax anticipation warrants to the legal limit, 40 per cent to 60 per cent drops in local assessed valuations and high delinquency in tax payments.

"Most of these orders," the committee reports, "draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent from the date the time there was money on hand to retire them. In some districts where the assessed valuation per child was high these orders were called for payment at an early date. In the less able districts many orders issued as early as 1932 have not yet been called and there is no prospect of their being called in the near future."

"Naturally," the report points out, "the financial ability of a school district had a great deal of influence on the market value of these teachers' orders. Teachers in certain districts had no trouble in disposing of their orders at par, while others, teaching in the least able districts, were fortunate when they disposed of their orders at high discounts since the taxes had already been pledged to redeem tax anticipation warrants."

Superintendents of 26 school districts told the committee that their teachers had accepted discounts ranging from 2 per cent to 58 per cent, and the committee computed that if all who were furnishing goods or services to these districts were forced to discount their tax anticipation warrants and teachers' orders, their loss would have totaled $1,594,164 or about 15 per cent of the same district's total educational tax levy of $10,154,318.

"Of course," the committee cautions, "such an assumption is not being made. In the first place, schools generally did not issue teachers' orders until they had marketed tax anticipation warrants up to the legal limit of the tax levy. Furthermore, these warrants were usually sold by the board of education for cash and at par since the law will not permit the board to sell paper of any kind unless there is no other way in which credit was exhausted through the issuance of such tax warrants and the money derived from the sale of these warrants remained but one of two things to do: (1) close the schools and wait for a new tax year, or (2) pay the teachers in teachers' orders."

Where the committee learned, but the general policy was to pay teachers, whose salaries had in many cases already been reduced from 10 per cent to 50 per cent with some cash and the balance in orders over whose selling price there was no regulation. Thus, where outright sales were made, one of two things to do: (1) close the schools and wait for a new tax year, or (2) pay the teachers in teachers' orders."

Anthracite, Bituminous Popular Kinds of Coal

Coal generally is divided into two classes—anthracite, or hard, and bituminous, or soft. The main differences, states a writer in the Chicago Tribune, are in the amount of carbon and volatile matter each contains. The greater the amount of carbon the slower the coal burns; the greater the amount of volatile matter the faster it burns.

Anthracite coal was produced by nature in the eastern part of this country under greater pressure and heat than the bituminous coals found farther west. Pocahontas coal, one of the most widely used, is rated as a semi-bituminous coal.

The following analysis of representative grades of the various types are given by an authority:

Anthracite: moisture, 1.50 per cent; ash, 10.46 per cent; volatile matter, 5.63 per cent; carbon, 84.41 per cent; British thermal units (b. t. u.), 13,261 per pound. In addition, there is 0.56 per cent sulphur among the constituents.

Pocahontas: moisture, 1.25 per cent; ash, 5.21 per cent; volatile matter, 12.25 per cent; carbon, 74.29 per cent; b. t. u., 15,140 per pound; sulphur, 0.75 per cent.

High grade southern Illinois soft coal: moisture, 7.14 per cent; ash, 7.63 per cent; volatile matter, 32.85 per cent; carbon, 52.38 per cent; b. t. u., 13,271 per pound; sulphur, 0.99 per cent.

Rhea, of Ostrich Family, Can Run 47 Miles an Hour

The rhea, a South American ostrich, which attains a weight of 50 pounds and can run up to 47 miles an hour, leads a polygamous life on the plains, according to a Field Museum authority.

Frequently there will be one male and several females in a colony. They will have a common nest in which the hens lay from 20 to 45 eggs.

These big matrons take turns sitting on the eggs, giving each a chance to range for food and exercise themselves. While the birds are not exceedingly rare, very few complete collections are to be found in museums of the world. The eggs average 1 1/2 pounds each. The birds and eggs are unfit for human consumption.

The hoactin is a marsh bird with habits similar to the English ringneck pheasant, except that it nests in trees. The young of this bird, known locally as the "tinkling Haman," have two-jointed fingers or claws formed on their wing tips. These fall off after maturity. But when the young, still unable to fly, are frightened they will dive 20 feet out of their nests, swim about for a few minutes, then climb a tree, with the aid of their fingers, and resume their places in the nest.

Here. It appears in the form of arcs, rays, bands, patches, etc., in various colors, across the northern sky. Its cause is not known for certain but is believed to be some kind of electrical charge or magnetic disturbance. One theory is that electrons from the sun encounter such gases as krypton and nitrogen in the upper rarified atmosphere. There is some connection between brilliant auroras and magnetic storms, also with the number of sunspots. The theory of Aristotle is that the sun emits a flood of corpuscles of a nature similar to X-rays, cathode rays, electrons, etc., and that these corpuscles, on approaching the earth are acted on in the direction of the lines of its magnetic force, around which they describe helices.

Perfumed Rainbows

An idea which exists in some country districts is that there is an odor attached to a rainbow. The belief is really very ancient and is mentioned by Pliny and Aristotle. Of course there is no smell about a rainbow, and the origin of the belief is probably to be explained in the following way. Everyone is familiar with the increase of scent given off by plants, shrubs, and trees on a warm day after the rain has been newly washed by heavy rain. This state of affairs would often naturally coincide with the appearance of the rainbow. Hence people jumped to the conclusion that the odor which they noticed must be caused by the rainbow, when, as a matter of fact, says the Montreal Herald, it had nothing to do with the wonderful arch in the sky.

Paramecia

People sometimes have the feeling of having been in the same situation before. This is known as paramecia. It is a common experience, and, briefly explained, the reaction depends upon a little trick of the mind manifested by a momentary loss of a sense of time and space. The individual enters a new experience or a situation, obtains a fleeting impression of this situation, then the attention is momentarily attracted to something else. The period of time may be almost infinitesimal. Then upon the return of the attention to the original situation, this lapse of time is lost to the individual and the period between the two experiences seems occasionally to expand into a long period, even into the remote past.

Ramsgate's Coat of Arms
Ramsgate, England, has a coat of arms featuring a shield borne by a life boatman and a constable while above the shield is a crown and a lighthouse.

Use of Roman Numerals
The Roman symbols chiefly used are I for 1, V for 5, X for 10, L for 50, C for 100, D for 500, and M for 1,000. Thousands are sometimes indicated by drawing a line over a numeral; V with a dash above it is 5,000. In combining the symbols a letter placed after one of greater value adds to it; thus XI is 11. A letter placed before one of greater value subtracts from it, as that IV is 4. When a symbol stands between two of greater value it is subtracted from the second and the remainder is added to the first; XIV is 14. Of two equivalent ways of representing a number, that in which the symbol of larger denomination precedes is preferred. For 45, XLV is preferable to VL. Modern usage tends to favor the shorter form, however, if the latter native is very long; it prefers IX to VIII for 9, and MCM rather than MDCCC for 1900.

Does Not Protect Inventor
The phrases "patent applied for" and "patent pending" stamped on manufactured articles do not protect an inventor. The phrases are intended merely as notices to the public that application for a patent has been filed. The law makes no provision for the use of these terms. In the eyes of the law they afford no protection to the inventor, except so far as they may be a means of establishing a claim of priority in case of litigation in respect to the patent. The right to exclude others from making, using and selling a device does not exist until a patent has been granted.

Meaning of Name Vernon
The name Vernon is of Latin origin and means "flourishing." It may also be a residence name from the town of Vernon in Normandy. Vernon and Vermer are otherwise.

"Suez," Romance of Canal Building, Opens Here Sunday

"Algiers," Starring Boyer and Lamarr, Will Begin Run Wednesday

Presenting a warm and vibrant love story into which are woven the romance, laughter and restless desires of youth, Universal's sweeping emotional drama "Youth Takes a Fling," comes to the Catlow Saturday for one night only.

Joel McCrea is starred as the Kansas farm boy who seeks adventure by going to sea, and Andrew Leeds is co-starred as the romantic salesgirl in the wedding gown department of a big store, who lives only for the day she herself will be a bride.

Transportation is the hottest area of the United States is best afforded by aida, 20th Century Fox officials have found. Trucks carrying heavy movie equipment into the desert near Yuma, Ariz., for outdoor sequences for "Suez," bogged down in the sand. The company was stranded until six sleighs arrived to haul the paraphernalia to its destination.

"Suez" is the powerful romance of Ferdinand de Lesseps, a flaming genius who dreamed of ships sailing the desert. With such stars as Tyrone Power, Loretta Young and Annabella in the leading roles, the film opens on Sunday at the Catlow.

Hope Hampton, currently starring with Randolph Scott in Universal's "The Road to Reno," at the Catlow Tuesday, went from grand opera to talking pictures because she believes they furnish a medium whereby the greatest number of amusement seekers may be entertained. During the production she sings three new songs entitled "Tonight is the Night," "Hidin' Home," and "I Gave My Heart Away."

Double featured Tuesday with "The Road to Reno," is "King of Alcatraz," with Gail Patrick, Lloyd Nolan, J. Carroll Nash and Harry Carey.

Charles Boyer, known in theatrical parlance as a "quick study," had learned his entire role in "Algiers" before filming of the picture began. This colorful picture comes to the Catlow Wednesday and Thursday, with Boyer starred as a debonair jewel thief who heroically defies the police to arrest him. Eddy Langham, exotic screen star, has the feminine lead.

Trace Color Terms to Oz

The same buff as applied to a color was derived from the word buffalo, the common ox of the Old world which differs from our American buffalo or bison. The original application of the word buff meant a soft light leather of the cheamois type, commonly used for soldier's uniforms in olden days. Likewise the word buff to an ancient term referring to the color of the ox hides tanned with an oak solution.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

Reorganization of the federal government has been a favorite topic of discussion, not only during this administration, but during many preceding administrations, all without accomplishing any results.

While the speeches have continued in congress and elsewhere, while ponderous studies of government reorganization have gathered dust on library shelves, the federal bureaucracy has spawned more and more agencies, until today there are more than 100 federal agencies, regulatory commissions, corporations, administrative committees, advisory committees, etc., in addition to the 10 major departments.

Now, President Roosevelt, after two years of unsuccessful battle with the forces that oppose his program of reorganization, is getting ready for another try at the perennial problem.

This was made known by Senator James P. Byrnes of Kentucky, who pushed the omnibus reorganization bill through the senate at the last session, following a conference at the white house December 8.

Major objectives of the new program, on the basis of reports from those working on it and the issues outlined in the bill introduced in the 76th congress, will include the discretionary authority for the president (1) to regroup or reorganize most of the independent offices; (2) to revamp and extend the civil service; (3) to revise financial and administrative practices of the government; (4) to enlarge the white house secretariat to include six new assistants; and (5) to create a new department of public welfare.

Principal objection around which rallied the opponents of the legislation at the last session was the contention that the program would give too much power to the president.

Again, lines are forming which show that an effort will be made to make congressional review mandatory for all presidential reorganization proposals. The administration has opposed such sweeping congressional review on the ground that it might block action altogether.

Concessions made in the 75th congress, however, included the elimination from the program of a large number of judicial agencies such as the federal trade commission, and it is considered likely further concessions to give congress greater review powers may be included in the revised proposal.

One of the biggest question marks on the national scene for 1939 is the size and nature of the national defense program.

Its shadow is cast on budget estimates, tax proposals, plans for the 76th congress, and—significantly—the plans of foreign governments.

"How much will congress grant for rearmament?" ask military observers at home and abroad.

"Where will the money come from?" echo taxpayers in every state.

Even the president himself is not yet ready to erase that question mark, he revealed at a press conference last week. But he did go a long way toward clarifying the program that may be expected.

When it became evident a few months ago that the white house favored more spending for national defense, opponents of the administration were quick to detect a possible joker in the defense program. Rearmament will be used as a screen for a "Third New Deal," they charged. They feared that money ostensibly for military purposes will really be siphoned off into WPA and public works in a vast spending effort cloaked conveniently in the American flag.

Last week President Roosevelt met this charge head-on. Pump-priming and the question of unemployment will not be a factor in defense spending, he said. National defense is national defense—nothing else.

Though the president is outspoken in denying that defense plans would screen another new deal reform movement, he is less clear-cut on the question of paying for new military equipment and other defense work.

The reason is that this matter is still under study by the president's expert advisers. However, he did go as far as to say that defense should be paid for on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

Whether this would mean new taxes or not—the question uppermost in many minds—the president could not say. The money to "pay-as-you-go" might come from current government revenue other than taxation. Repayments by local governments on money borrowed from PWA might supply a part of this revenue, the president inferred. Other funds might come from increased revenue collections due to improving business.

Barrington Woman's Club

Mrs. Mary H. Buehr, lecturer and artist, will be the speaker at the Barrington Woman's club annual Christmas party to be held at the Catlow theatre at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 21. The children of the Barrington grade schools and those attending the rural schools in this vicinity are to be the special guests of the Woman's club at this meeting.

Mrs. Buehr will present "Christmas in Other Lands" and will use colored slides to illustrate her talk. She has a wide experience as a lecturer; years of travel and study abroad and close contact with the Art Institute of Chicago have provided her with a fascinating background. She speaks intimately of her subjects through many glorious personal experiences.

Club members are reminded that instead of the usual gifts for Chicago children, cash donations are being asked for to be used by the child welfare committee to aid our own local baby clinic for Barrington babies.

Robert Works Leave Wednesday for West for Son's Wedding

BARRINGTON HILLS. — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Work and son, Robert Jr., left Wednesday for San Diego, Calif. They are driving through and expect to reach their destination by December 21.

On Christmas day at 2:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Bishop School at La Jolla, Calif., Miss Jeanette Ford and Robert Work Jr. will be united in marriage by Father George Williams, the Episcopal rector connected with the school. Miss Ford is president of the Alumnae association of the Bishop's School and it is by personal invitation that her marriage will be solemnized in the picturesque little chapel.

Mrs. Ernest Ford, the mother of the bride, is giving a reception later at her home in San Diego to a very few intimate friends. Miss Ford will have two young women attendants and her brother, Ernest Ford, will be Mr. Work's best man.

The young couple are leaving California immediately for New York and expect to sail on January 5 on the S.S. Monarch for Bermuda where they will be located for an indefinite period on account of business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Work Sr. are motoring back but have set no date for their return. While they are away Mr. Work's sister, Mrs. Robert Preble of Chicago, will be at Bosky Acres with her niece, Miss Fern Work. Robert Preble will spend Christmas with them.

Repair Toys for Charity

The Junior Garden club members wound up their most interesting Christmas project last Sunday when they invited in all who had participated in the enterprise to view the more than 900 toys reconditioned and ready for their new owners.

The work shop has been at the Hyde Gillette home and it was there that the toys were shown. The various charities to receive these gifts are the Visiting Nurses' association, St. Vincent's Orphanage, the Ridge Farm Presbyterian, the United Charities and the Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild, all of Chicago.

Considerable might be written about the willingness with which services were donated, and of the husbands of the Junior Garden club members and a few in particular, who were so skillful and clever in their workmanship. Also, of the Pure Oil station whose salesmen accepted toys from donors and saw that they reached the toy hospital. The Barrington Laundry attended to the cleaning of all stuffed animals and dolls and Gold Star Motor Co. delivered into Chicago this collection that will make little ones happier and cannot help but increase the Christmas spirit in the various Barrington homes from which the toys came.

The Junior Garden club is holding its next meeting January 15 at which time Miss Elizabeth Otis will be the speaker.

brace half the population of the nation in this rapidly growing area and the northwestern side and suburbs will be head and shoulders beyond the more solidly populated regions of the west and south sections of Chicago. Prof. Bailey bases his predictions on the laws of city growth which sociologists have studied for years and found never to have varied.

Mr. Hilton is senior vice president of Jewel Tea Company, which moved to Barrington in 1930. The reasons given for selecting Barrington as the company's home are: the people wanted a pleasant community life and sunshine.

Mr. Fairweather is well known in Chicago real estate circles, and is an authority on taxation problems. He was connected with the University of Chicago for many years and has recently become a Barrington farmer.

Earl Antje, village president, is connected with the Chicago crime commission.

THE PROBLEM OF PENSIONS

If you want to spoil a pleasant day for a politician, just whisper "pension" to him. It's an odds-on bet that he will be visited with a terrific headache. For the old-age assistance problem is rapidly reaching the stature of our number 1 domestic issue. As an AP writer, John Hightower puts it, "Voices too feeble to carry across the family parlor may echo in stentorian tones throughout the halls of congress this winter." The next congress may do little or nothing about it. But, unless a miracle occurs, some not far distant congress is going to be forced to tackle the problem and get down to cases. The issue is not a political one, in any partisan sense. The idea that came into the mind of Dr. Townsend when he looked out of his window a few years ago and saw a pathetic old woman searching in a garbage can for food, has reached gigantic proportions—and has come to bedevil and worry republicans as well as democrats. It is especially embarrassing to the democrats now, because they are in power. A shift in party power would put it up to the republicans.

The pension leaders are definitely dissatisfied with the administration's enacted social security legislation. They feel that it offers the indigent old a bone, instead of a decent meal. They are convinced that the government should and could substantially increase the amount of pensions. They think that the federal government should take the lead, and that then the states will follow and agree to do their part of the job.

From the standpoint of our lawmakers, the whole thing is a nightmare. They feel that the country could not stand increases in benefits to anywhere near current demands. They can produce well-known economists by the bushel to testify that such ideas for financing pensions as Dr. Townsend's "velocity dollar" are unworkable and fantastic. But this does them no good when they confronted with the fact that the pension-advocates represent and command millions of votes. And that is why there has been so much political pussy-footing on the subject of pensions by candidates for office. Almost all job-seekers endorse, in the vaguest terms they can get away with, the principle of adequate and even lavish need for the aged needy. Most of them, once they've successfully convinced the voters of their worth, try to get the whole topic as much out of the limelight as possible.

This does not necessarily mean such men are insincere. Some of them strongly feel that benefits must be increased, yet do nothing about it—simply because they haven't got the answers to the tremendous questions, principally financial, that arise. They want to move—but they can't see a clear path ahead.

Still another weakness of the pension movement is found in eternal bickering. The Townsend Plan organization, for instance, is split into a dozen factions. Some of the early leaders have deserted the Doctor, and are leading opposed blocs of their own. Furthermore, the fact that there is competition in the field—such as the California's thirty-dollars-a-week-Thursday proposal (which was beaten last election, though the movement's gubernatorial and senatorial candidates were elected) makes a united front impossible.

President Roosevelt has definitely turned thumbs down on the more extreme proposals, calling them "short cuts to Utopia." It is known that he has instructed his congressional lieutenants to do anything they can to keep the issue on the sidelines, as he believes that it imperils the success of his own moderate program. But it begins to look as if matters are approaching something of a crisis, where no one can long keep the pot from boiling over.

LABOR WARNED IN OREGON

The Committee for Industrial Organization (CIO), at its recent convention in Pittsburgh, adopted a resolution threatening the Ford Motor company with a boycott of its cars if it continues to refuse to bargain with the union. Under the Wagner act, coercion and intimidation are forbidden only to the employer, who may not even express an opinion to his employees derogatory of a union or unions, while labor may invite the public to ruin him.

It is such perverted law in our country, that seems to follow pretty closely the pattern of one-sided justice as meted out today in some foreign nations, that brought a revolution of public sentiment in Oregon which has surprised the nation. Oregon voters said labor dictatorship must go, labor unionism may stay. By a heavy majority vote, even in labor centers, an initiative measure was passed which prohibits strikes and picketing except when a majority of a company's employees are in direct dispute over wages, hours and working conditions; limits the collection of money to the actual needs of the union and requires a strict accounting of union funds; forbids union intimidation or coercion of non-union workers and prevents union interference with any lawful commercial, manufacturing or farming operation.

It is just such resolutions as the one passed in Pittsburgh, that turn people against labor radicalism, not against honest unionism. Individual rights and liberties are destroyed by one-sided laws and dictatorship comes into power. Oregon citizens suffered under such a system and threw it out.

"There are groups among us who babble of 'Fascism' as the answer to the Left Front. That is no answer. Any form of Fascism as the word is understood here would destroy our social structure as completely as would that Front." —Thomas F. Woodlock.

November Suburban Building Exceeds Two Past Periods

New building in November in the Chicago suburban region with 68 communities reporting increased $600,000 over November of last year and nearly $700,000 over this October, according to the survey completed yesterday by Greenbaum Investment company.

The total amount of the permits issued in November is $3,596,890, while that of a year ago was $2,985,546 and in October, 1938, 2,907,328. The gain over last year is 30 per cent and over October, 30 per cent. Only one month of this year, August, had a larger total, $4,220,426, and prior to that only the larger totals since July, 1931, were those of March, 1937, $5,662,655, April, 1937, with $4,424,193 and August, 1937, with $4,102,379. The November total exceeds the average for the eleven months of the year, which is $2,625,451, by 35 per cent.

An equally surprising result is found in the November reports of home building. The number of new homes started was 278 to cost an estimated $2,130,481. This compares with 207 homes in November, 1937, valued at $1,609,649, and 294 in October, 1938, to cost $2,004,858. The total for November, however, reached a new low for the past eight months with permits totalling $175.

The volume of permits for repairs, alterations and additions to homes fell off considerably, as it usually does toward the end of the year. The figures are $164,889 for November, $199,613 for November of last year and $424,392 for October of this year.

Heroic Dog Saves Couple As Fire Threatens Home

Frantic scratching of a family pet, a springer spaniel, awakened Mrs. Agnes Milmine, wife of Rev. Alexander Milmine, pastor of the First Congregational church in Elgin, early one morning last week and undoubtedly saved the Milmines from being overcome by smoke as fire caused considerable damage to their residence. The dog, overcome by smoke himself, was unable to bark and aroused Mrs. Milmine by scratching her arm. When the couple attempted to flee from the building they found the stairway filled with smoke. Elgin firemen rescued them with ladders. The blaze was said to have been caused by defective wiring.

Thwart $1000 Extortion Plot Against Itasca Man

An attempt to extort $1000 from H. H. Franzen, 72-year-old president of the Itasca State bank, was thwarted last week by DuPage county police officers following the arrest of the alleged writer of a threat note received by the banker a week previously. William H. Edeker, 44 years old, a neighbor of Franzen's, was seized by police and charged with being the perpetrator of the plot. The aged Itasca banker had received a note instructing him to put $1000 in a corn shock of Rosenwald road within five days or "be taken for a ride." The DuPage police were not called into the case until several days later, after Mr. Franzen's fears had been aroused.

Rabbit Hunter Nearly Starts Off Fireworks

While hunting in a field near Waukegan last week, George Risselmann noticed a brown object, which very nearly resembled a rabbit. When the object did not run, however, Risselmann's suspicions were aroused and he withheld his gun fire. Investigation revealed that the brown object was a paper sack containing six sticks of dynamite. The explosive was turned over to Lake county sheriff deputies for safekeeping. They said there was enough dynamite in the sack to blow up a large building.

Open Switch Blamed for Train Crash at McHenry

The Interstate Commerce commission's bureau of safety at Washington last week blamed an "open switch, apparently due to tampering" with the derailment of a Chicago & North Western passenger train at McHenry last October 23. Twenty persons were slightly injured, nine requiring first aid treatment. At the time of the accident railroad officials expressed the opinion that the switch had been locked open. Another factor was the fact that the red warning signal at the switch was not burning. One McHenry man was questioned in connection with the accident, but was released.

Water Supply Shut Off When Large Main Breaks

The city of Waukegan was virtually in a water famine for three hours last Thursday evening when a principal artery in the water system sprang a leak, inundating a nearby downtown area with 1,000,000 gallons of water. Pressure dropped immediately when the 16-inch main gave way and the city was thrown into confusion, with residents flooding the police and fire departments with telephone calls. A temporary connection was made shortly, and the water service resumed.

Pigeon's Milk
 Pigeon's milk is the name given to a milky secretion which is ejected from the crops of both male and female doves and pigeons and fed to their young during the early stages. Pigeon's milk is not composed of food that has been partly digested and then regurgitated, as often supposed, although it may serve to moisten such food. Certain cells in the double walls of the crop undergo a change to a cheese-like substance, and this substance when mixed with mucus and perhaps another juice makes up the white fluid fed to the young. If the young die or are removed during this period both parents suffer severely and may die from the turgid congestion of the excessively developed walls of the crop. Pigeon's milk also has a figurative meaning, being applied to something that does not exist, such as an imaginary article for which a notice is sent on a fool's errand.

"America," as Word, Born in 1507 in French Town
 Although America was born, historically speaking, in 1492, it was not named and christened until 15 years later at Saint Die, a small and attractive French town in the Vosges district, writes a Paris United Press correspondent.
 The baptismal certificate is still there as well as the baptismal font where this historical christening took place.
 The baptismal certificate consists of a map upon which the newly discovered continent was designated for the first time as America, by Martin Waldseemüller, one of the cartographers, and the baptismal font is the building, still standing, where those cartographers of four centuries ago labored.

It was at Saint Die that a small group of scholars carried on their researches and made eager use of the new art of printing. In an introduction to an edition of the "Cosmography of Ptolemy," in which was included an account of the journeys of Amerigo Vesputi, it was suggested that the name America be given to this newly discovered continent.
Parson Brownlaw
 Parson Brownlaw was a camp meeting convert from the mountains of Tennessee who rose to fame as a lay preacher on a circuit including five states. He used as weapons the Bible and a pistol, and had few equals as a master of invective, says the Washington Star. He spared no man or issue in his vitriolic attacks. The following example of his luscious eloquence is from a lecture he made shortly after the Civil war: "If I had been authorized some two or three years ago to select about two or three hundred of your most abominable anti-slavery agitators in the North, and an equal number of God-forsaken and hell-deserving Disunionists at the South, and had marched them to the District of Columbia, hanged them on a common gallows, dug for them a common grave and embalmed their bodies in juniper wood and dog-fennel, there would have been none of this trouble."

Half-Masting the Flag
 Half-masting the national flag in token of mourning originated at sea, as the use of the term "mast" instead of "staff" indicates. "Hoist your sails half - mast high," said Captain Smith in his "Seaman's Grammar," published in 1677. The custom dates back several centuries and probably grew out of the earlier custom of lowering the flag on vessels at sea as a sign of submission to a foe. The flag is also lowered to half-mast as a signal of distress, a practice followed by the Spanish as early as the Seventeenth century. According to flag etiquette, when a national flag is placed at half-mast as a tribute of respect to the dead it is first raised to the top of the staff or mast and then slowly lowered to a position at or near the middle of the staff.

Meaning of Name Merritt
 The name Merritt, of Teutonic origin, means the same as the word merit, "deserving." Merritt Gully (d. 1918) took out more than 400 patents on inventions, many of them connected with printing machinery. He invented the Universal printing press and probably the long, narrow metal tray for holding type, called a galley.

 The American bison, or buffalo, was one of the best natural engineers ever known. The buffalo were such good surveyors that humans seeking a way for railroad lines to cross the plains followed the old buffalo trails for many miles—without being able to improve the grade.

Palatine Upsets Four-Year Record by Beating Bronchos Here 25-23

Niles Center Five Will Travel Here Thursday Night

Heavyweights, Ponies Lose Two Games to Palatine Friday

In one of the most thrilling-to-the-last-minute games, the Palatine Pirates defeated the Barrington Bronchos, 25-23, last Friday night at Barrington. The Bronchos, fresh from a taste of victory at Arlington, fought hard all the way through, but just didn't seem to be able to overcome the slight margin held by the visitors.

The victory Friday night marked the first time in four years that Palatine has won a heavyweight basketball game on the Barrington floor.

Barrington took an early lead in the first quarter, which ended in their favor, 8-5. The second quarter was full of scoring, both teams making a combined total of 20 points. The Pirates capitalized on a great number of Broncho fouls, going into the second half with a lead of 5 points, 19-14. Two baskets by Saul and Fink in the third period brought the score up to 25-18 in favor of the Pirates. In the last quarter the Bronchos made a desperate effort to overcome the opponents, managing to get within one point of them but were unable to do any more. The score, with one minute left to play, was 25-23 in favor of Palatine, who held the Bronchos until the gun went off.

The Bronchos next game is with Niles Center here Thursday night. They now have a .500 percentage, with one victory and one defeat.

In their second conference game of the season, the Barrington Ponies succumbed to the Palatine second team, 25-12, last Friday. The Pirates made the first two baskets to take the lead and they never lost it throughout the entire game.

Out-played in every phase of the game, the Ponies performance was inferior to their game the week before at Arlington. Palatine led 8 to 2 at the end of the first quarter, Zimmerman making the only Barrington basket. The Ponies reduced the lead to five points in the next quarter which ended with the score 12-7. The Ponies made only five points in the second half on a basket by Watson and three free throws.

The Ponies were ahead 21-10 at the third quarter, and finished up with a total of 28. The Ponies must show a great deal of improvement if they wish to get anywhere this year as far as conference standing goes. They now have a record of no games won and two games lost.

Oysters One Foot Long

The massive crabs, found in the waters of Virginia, were so large that one of them furnished a meal for four men.

pool at the Y.W.C.A. camp south of Elgin.

The program will provide an opportunity for cage fans in the Fox river valley to see four of their own products cavort in their own back yard.

Co-captains of Coach Bill Chandler's formidable Milwaukee quintet this season is Erwin (Moore) Graf, who led the Elgin Towers at Elgin high school in 1934-35 and established a new Big Seven conference scoring record in his junior year (1935-36).

Other regulars on the Marquette team are Glenn (Sparky) Adams of Carpentersville, erstwhile Dundee Community high star, and Bob (Skipper) Deneken, former Harvard high luminary.

Graf plays center and Adams and Deneken are forwards.

Norman Ebel of Algonquin, another ex-Dundee star, also is a member of the Marquette squad. Carleton, located at Northfield, Minn., has a powerful outfit this season, being the first team to defeat a Big Ten conference school (Iowa).

St. Matthew gained its first victory of the season by defeating Baptist, 26 to 21, last Monday. Wilfrid Wichman's three baskets in the last few minutes of play proved the winning margin.

Salem proved too strong for St. Anne in the other game, Monday, winning by a 24 to 14 score.

Barrington Laundry 40 Years Old Monday

At that time his elder son, Ray, gave up his schooling at the University of Illinois and returned to Barrington to assume management of the laundry. In 1923 Mr. Gieske died. Ray and his younger brother Edward assumed full charge of the business working under the helpful advice of their mother. Mrs. Gieske died in 1935 and Ray was the victim of an automobile collision in the summer of 1937. During the eleven years that Ray filled the position of manager, the business was expanded, a dry cleaning plant installed here, a cleaning plant was opened by him in Elgin, and several pieces of modern, efficient laundry equipment were added. The brick building was also enlarged.

Ed Gieske, who formerly had managed the route, assumed the office work following the death of his brother, and in the year and one-half he has been in charge has continued the progressive program of the business. As was the practice of his brother and father before him, Edward has attended state and national laundrymen's conventions to learn the latest in new ideas and developments of the industry.

Local Graduate Is Honored by National Scholastic Society

Raymond L. Osborn, Michigan State college senior engineering student, has been elected to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society, according to a bulletin received from the college this week. Osborn graduated from Barrington high school in 1935.

The Michigan state college chapter of Phi Kappa Phi annually selects its members from the upper 10 per cent of the senior class. Students are chosen from all divisions of the college on the basis of scholastic attainment. Osborn was one of five chosen from the engineering school. He will be initiated early in the winter term.

Opinions Voiced on Zoning Proposal

ed in the subdivision of property lying in the township, also asked that consideration be given to changing the R-4 restriction on the land that is to be subdivided, which includes the old Lake Zurich golf course.

Henry G. Zander Jr. of Barrington asked that additional time be granted a group of unnamed local persons who were interested in the ordinance. Zander offered a plan whereby no plot of land less than five acres would be used for residential purposes in the township. Mr. Zander lauded the work of the commission and its intent.

R. Lohdell, Lake County engineer of highways, read the tentative ordinance following the opening of the meeting. After he had concluded, Mr. Hogan asked for comments. The purpose of the meeting, it was explained, was to receive objections to the zoning proposals in order that they might be considered by the board before final adoption of the ordinance.

In Cuba township the land is divided into four general classifications, with farm land predominating. At Blumens Country club, Tower Lake subdivision, Chicago Highlands and the subdivisions along the Fox river, the classification was R-4, no parcel of residential property being less than 8000 square feet. At Grassy lake and Indian lake the classification was R-2, no tract less than one acre. Adjoining the R-3 sections were the R-4 classifications. No plot of less than five acres. In order to meet the requirements of the R-4 classification, a lot must be 60 feet by 132 feet. Many summer subdivision lots are less than that.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given by PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS of the filing with the Illinois Commerce Commission, on December 31, 1933, to become effective December 31, 1933, of certain revisions of its Rate 80—Intermittent Gas Service (formerly Rate 16—Intermittent Gas Service) and Rate 80—Intermittent Gas Service (formerly Rate 16—Industrial Gas Service) whereby the availability of service under these rates has been extended from December 31, 1933, to December 31, 1935. Service has been made available to various processes in addition to those heretofore included, and certain changes have been made under the minimum charge stipulations. Copies of the revised rate schedule sheets are on file in the office of the Illinois Commerce Commission and Company.

Four places in the town were zoned for business and they were at intersections. They are as follows: Cuba station, Hart road and Northwest highway, route 22 and route 55, and route 55 and Tower Lake road.

The county engineer was named as the supervising officer in the ordinance. If passed, a fee would be charged for each building permit issued with the exception of any to be located on farm land.
