Ela Town Clerk and Wife Are Seriously Injured in Crash

Mr. and Mrs. August Froelich
Are Hurt Sunday; Lewis
Wolthausen Injured

August Froelich, 60 years old, Ela town clerk and Lake Zurich merchant, and his wife Mrs. Louise Froelich, 59 years old, were seriously injured when the car in which they were riding collided with a car driven by Calvin Bracher of Casey road, Libertyville, on route 65 at Casey road Sunday evening.

Mr. Froelich suffered a fracture of nose, a deep laceration on the forehead and bruises on the body and Mrs. Froelich received a fractured right leg. They were removed to the General Hospital in Libertyville for treatment.

The Froeliches were traveling south on route 65 in the car driven by their son, Charles, when at Casey road there was a collision with Bracher's machine, which was going north on the highway and attempting to make a left turn into Casey road. Neither driver was seriously injured.

Lewis Wolthausen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wolthausen of Ela town, was severely injured when the car he was driving collided with a truck at the intersection of Rand and Quentin roads Friday night. Wolthausen, who was returning home from Chicago, received a double fracture of the nose, a slight concussion, a fractured jaw, and bruises on the face and body and bruises. He was removed to the Palatine Community hospital, where he remained until Monday.

According to reports, Wolthausen was going south on Rand road and the truck, owned by the Tasche Trucking Co. of Wheeling, which was also going south, made a sharp left turn into his path.

Machines driven by Carl Nasher, 522 E. Main street, and Frank Martin, 4616 Belle Plaine avenue, Chicago, were damaged when they collided at the intersection of Main street and the Northwest highway Saturday.

Mr. Nasher was driving west on Main street and when his truck slid out onto the highway was struck by Martin's, which was going south. Mr. Nasher's truck was heavily damaged.

"The First National Bank will observe the holiday by being closed Saturday evening and all day Monday. New Year's day falls on Sunday, Monday, Jan. 2, will be celebrated as a legal holiday by the post office, Barrington, which will observe its usual holiday schedule; windows being open for one hour for the convenience of those who wish to call at the office for their mail, and the lobby will be open from 4 to 5 o'clock on Sunday and all day on Monday for the convenience of mailers and boxholders. There will be outgoing mail closing at 5 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. Monday. There will be no city or rural delivery service Monday.

Start Building Rink on School Grounds

Work was started Tuesday for the construction of an ice skating rink at the public school playground, and if the weather permits, the rink should be ready by Friday or Saturday.

Victor Ritter and Herbert Landwehr school engineers, and John H. D. Blanke, village trustee, started dredging the area laid out Tuesday and continued pouring water on it all day Wednesday. Village equipment is being used, and as soon as it is possible, Superintendent of Schools Paul Purcell will start working on a rink at the school grounds.

Superintendent of schools, H. S. Smith, stated Wednesday he would confer with members of the board of education of district No. 4 asking their approval on having the general public use the school skating rink at night, and also allowing the use of the building in which to change shoes.

To the residents of this and neighboring communities,
we thank you for your hearty and helpful cooperation
during the year just ending and extend to you

Our Sincere Wishes for a Successful, Prosperous and Happy New Year

Construction Total in 1938 Declines Sharply to $59,225

Building Permits Issued By Herman Garbisch Amount to $59,225

A compilation of building permits issued in Barrington during the last 12 months reveals a decline in construction work with the total dollars and cents outlay the lowest since 1935. The total for the year, as shown by permit issued by Herman Garbisch, building commissioner, is $59,225. This contrasts sharply with the 1937 total of $149,650 and the 1936 figure of $114,812.

This figure included seven new buildings, a total of $17,550, three new business buildings $10,300, remodeling and altering eight homes amounting to $7,250, remodeling three places of business at $1925 and ten new garages totaling $2100.

The months of January and February were absolute blanks and little in large building was gotten under way until March when the figure of $17,550 was the highest for the year. However, in comparing this year's total with the past four or five years, it must be taken into consideration that no public improvements had been started as were in the past several years.

Following is the amount of building for each month:

January	1,875
February	5,800
March	2,300
April	17,850
May	5,000
June	2,956
July	10,225
August	1,750
September	8,250
October	4,800

Total for year $59,225

Elephant's Bones Seldom Found
It is estimated that about 2,000 elephants die each year in Africa. Only a few bones of the dead animals are found. Nobody has found out where the elephants go to die. There is a theory that they have an "undiscovered" "elephant's cemetery," but this is very unlikely. The most feasible theory seems to be that they crave water when sick, go to the nearest river or stream and drown. This is the theory that is true, says Pearson's London Weekly, there should be some great stores of ivory on the bottoms of Africa's rivers and swamps after all these centuries.

V.P.C.C. to Give Three-Act Play to Open Prayer Week

Sponsoring Harvey Group in Presenting "The Tinker" Monday Night

The Young People's Christian commission will sponsor a performance of the three-act comedy-drama, "The Tinker," Monday evening, Jan. 2, at the Barrington high school auditorium. The program will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

Presentation of this drama is included in the local observance of the National Week of Prayer. The play is definitely a modern comedy, but its theme is such that it makes the play particularly suitable for the occasion for which it is used.

Fred Eastman, author of "The Tinker," credits a study of the life of St. Francis of Assisi with having inspired him to write the play.

The cast will give the play Monday night with an interesting background of the fact that the all the male parts are taken by ministers. When the cast was formed a year ago all the ministers in it were members of the Thornton Township Ministerial association of Harvey. After they had found that they had dramatics as a common hobby, and that their wives shared that interest, they decided to try "The Tinker," then being largely the enjoyment which they themselves felt they would get out of it. The original plan was to give only one performance.

The first performance was given at the Thornton township high school auditorium, but since then the same cast has given the play many times for a variety of organizations and groups. The performance which is to be given next Monday night will be the cast's eighth, and it already has been engaged for the ninth and tenth performances. This group of players has given the play in churches, Sunday evenings. Among the most successful productions have been those given before young people's assemblies at Youth Conventions of three different denominations.

In the meantime the cast has been enlarged to form a larger group of players and other plays have been prepared. Also, the group has become affiliated with the Chicago Church Federation, and the first of a series of plays of amateur groups which the drama committee of the Chicago Church Federation expects to form in various parts of the city and Chicago area. Rev. Ellerbrake, a member of the committee, will within the near future announce plans for the creation of such a group in the Barrington area.

Included in the present "Tinker" are Rev. Stephen W. Graf, pastor of the Federated church (Congregational-Presbyterian) in Harvey; Rev. Guy Chester Jones, pastor of the Academy Methodist Episcopal church, Harvey; Mrs. George P. Ellerbrake, wife of the pastor of St. Paul Evangelical church, Barrington; Miss Joyce Russell, a member of the Federal church, served as stage manager; Donald Crocker, pastor of the Delavan Illinois Methodist Episcopal church; Miss LaVerne Blaske, a member of the Evangelical Church of Peace, Harvey; Rev. George P. Ellerbrake of the local St. Paul church and former pastor of the Harvey Evangelical church of Peace. Mrs. Guy Chester Jones is the director and she is assisted by Mrs. Stanley W. Graf.

Local Children to Attend Reunion of Hastings Campers

Barrington boys and girls who attended Camp Hastings near Lake Villa last summer received invitations this week to take part in a reunion of Hastings campers at the Irving Park Y.M.C.A., 4251 Irving Park Boulevard, Friday evening.

The get-together and program this week will be at 8 p.m. Mr. Dennis, camp director, and the various camp counsellors will be in charge of activities. Camp songs and stories are to be followed by an "animal show extraordinary," Pamahama's Pets, according to the letter.

The trained pets include "Brazilian macaws of gorgeous plumage," parrots, cockatoos, intelligent canaries, beautiful Australian cockatoos, which walk together and clever trick dogs.

This pet show played in the Children's theatre on the Enchanted Island during the Century of Progress.

Among the Hastings campers from Barrington who were invited to come are: Mrs. Charles L. Alanson Titterton, Jack Harris, Billy Friedlander, Herbert Kuhman, Nancy Bradley, Nancy Haffner, Ann Bardwell, Constance Castle, Mary Jean, Betty and Margaret McClure.

To Hold Rites for W. Hendrickson of Richmond Friday

Funeral services for William Hendrickson of Richmond, who died Tuesday at his residence, will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. at the Sherman hospital on Elgin Avenue.

His widow, Mrs. Hendrickson is the daughter of the late Susan E. Church and a sister of A. D. Church. A son, Earl, and a sister, Mrs. Eva Petkins, both of Richmond, also survive him.

Announce Retirement Fund for Jewel Help

A Jewel Retirement Fund was established by the board of directors of Jewel Tea Co. Inc., at an annual Christmas party for employees held Friday afternoon. The retirement plan replaces the custom of giving bonuses to the employees annually. It was introduced to the board of directors November 22 and approved December 19. The company offers to give to the fund a certain percentage equivalent to the annual contribution to be used as a retirement fund at the age of 65 years. The company's share is in proportion to the annual earnings. It was learned.

Effective January 1, 1939, the fund not offered to officers and senior executives.

Mrs. Minnie Teason Suing for Divorce

Mrs. Minnie Teason, 605 S. Hough street, has filed suit for divorce in the circuit court of Cook County. She charges Lester Teason with desertion. They were married in Geneva in 1925 and the husband left here December 15, 1937.

Mrs. Teason's bill states she has an income of $1200 a month and two children, a 12-year-old son and a 15-year-old daughter, both in Barrington, here, which she inherited from her father. As her husband did not help her acquire title, she asks that she be given her interest in this property along with the divorce.

Papier-Mâché Making in The Eighteenth Century

The invention of papier-mâché was known in Persia but we first hear of it in France in the first half of the eighteenth century, then in Germany where a factory was established by the French in the 1700s. Later, in 1770, Jérôme and Bertrand opened a large factory in the same town about 1816, and sold it to some fine workmen.

Other noted producers of this ware were a man named Walton and V. Martin.

There were various processes used in making papier-mâché. Henry Clay was the first man to build it up on wood or metal cores. Instead of using mashed paper or pulped paper, whole sheets of paper were pasted on the cores. This was done perfectly into the grooves and indicated the ancient Indians had dug the grooves into the rock and used the stones to form a work-bench to round, shape and polish the fortress blocks; probably using water to wet the stones.

Foot Has Two Arches

Because of its design the foot has long been recognized as a special organ for man's upright carriage of his body. In construction the normal foot is a finely designed and highly organized structure, firmly planned for its function of weight bearing, shock absorption and locomotion. If only a single block of bone were positioned beneath each leg to serve as a foot, weight bearing would be much more difficult and less effective. But the human foot, as adapted to the organ to meet man's needs, is of extreme importance, therefore, that measures be taken to protect and preserve this most necessary and delicate structure from mechanical defects and disabling infections.

The Embargo of 1807

The embargo act of 1807 was passed by Congress December 21 of that year, forbidding any ship to sail with cargo from an American port to any foreign port. It was to reply to the English orders in council and to Napoleon's decrees, which made laws of prizes of American ships on the high seas. These threatened to destroy American commerce and foreign trade, and served only to bring distress at home. The act was replaced by 1809 by a non-intercourse act applying only to France and England.

THE MIDDLE OF THE ROAD

An editorial in the New York Times, one of America's foremost democratic dailies, says: "A great number of Americans have been encouraged to believe that it is possible to grow richer by working less and by producing less; that it is the proper business of a government to subsidize large numbers of its people; that there is an inexhaustible supply of money which can be used endlessly for this purpose; that those who advise greater caution in the expenditure of public funds, or who urge a relaxation of restraints which needlessly handicap private enterprise, are merely 'dual overlords' who stand in the way of all progress. The dangers involved in such a course as this are an eventual bankruptcy of the national government and encouragement of 'class' people prejudice which ought to have no place in the United States."

It then points out that the last election indicates "the American people are moving toward the middle of the road."

The people want social reform, where it is necessary. They want adequate provision made for the needy and the elderly. But at the same time they want to keep our institutions, and our democratic heritage, inviolate. Disregarding all political partisanship, that's the best news in a long while.

YOUR WAR

"Keep the fifth man alive!"

That is the slogan which is now being employed in a drive to reduce the normally heavy winter automobile accident toll by at least 20 per cent.

If the United States can keep up the pace set in the first ten months of the year, the 1938 death toll will be 8,000 less than 1937's. We are in the midst of the crucial period now. December is always a bad month. And, looking into next year, January, February and March, with snow, ice and short days, constitute a period of maximum hazard.

The organized safety movement has reached a high point of efficiency. The technique of accident reduction has been amazingly perfected. Sporadic, desultory, localized safety campaigns have proven almost worthless. Instead, the safety education movement, supported by the casualty insurance industry through its national conservation bureau, state governments and numerous commercial and non-commercial groups, is attempting, with a high degree of success to reach every motorist every day.

Thus, the safety experts are doing all they can—and they are doing the biggest and best job in their history. The rest—and this is something you can't repeat too often—is up to the motorists and the pedestrian. The safety workers can offer you advice—but they can't open your ears and eyes if you insist on being deaf and blind. They can show you the road to safety—but they can't make you take it.

This war is your war. It is being fought to save your life, the lives of your friends and families, your property. Enlist in it now.

THE CHALLENGE

Addressing the recent New York Herald Tribune forum, at which a number of distinguished Americans, including the president, spoke on topics of general interest, Wendell L. Willkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, made a searching discussion of totalitarian government.

"We are facing in this country a challenge which all nations are facing," said Mr. Willkie. "It is the issue between security and freedom. Today nearly half the world lives under some form of dictatorship. Several hundred million people are completely enslaved by their governments. These governments place no importance upon the individual and his work; they place supreme importance upon the state and the efficiency of its organization. These people have given up their liberty for a false security. They have exchanged their freedom for bread which they may not receive..."

"We need to remember that a completely planned economy, a guaranteed security, can exist only under an authoritarian and discretionary government. It is in the name of planning that government always assumes dictatorial powers and through discretion that it exercises them."

Mr. Willkie knows well what authoritarian government means—the electric utilities have had a bitter taste of it. And, to a lesser extent, so has all business in this country. It would be ridiculous to argue that we have thrown democracy overboard—but it would be equally ridiculous not to admit that that in our search for a guaranteed security we have weakened democratic institutions, in the interest of a so-called planned economy.

Here, then, is the greatest issue of the times. It is, as Mr. Willkie says, a challenge—to our intelligence, to our foresight. It is not a matter of partisan politics. We in America, in company with other troubled nations, must eventually choose between a free system which has given more, by far, than any other nation—and the authoritarian doctrine which is spreading like a black cloud over the world.

A surprising minority of conservatives still cling to the hope that there is safety in non-resistance. They admit that private enterprise and individualism are being subjected to a deadly assault, but their only advise is to "play ball" with the reformers—"cooperate," and maybe in some vague way the world will resume its old orbit when the quake has ceased. This is the blindest folly—Nation's Business.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN WASHINGTON

(Courtesy The United States News)

A vast and growing quantity of cotton is piled up in the hands of the United States government. Ten million bales already are in this board. Within a few weeks the total is scheduled to approach eleven million bales.

All of the world, if present official estimates are borne out, will use barely eleven million bales of American cotton during this cotton year—August, 1938, to August 1939.

This means that the federal government, at taxpayer expense, will be holding from the market an entire year's supply of cotton.

Attempted price control underlies the rapid growth of the government's cotton board. Cotton on hand is held as security for price stabilizing loans made to growers.

Sooner or later, farmers on December 10 voted by a heavy majority to continue the program that enables them to exchange their cotton for government loans. These are one-way loans: if the price rises above the loan, the borrower can sell and retire the loan; if the price falls below the loan, the borrower can keep the money and the government gets the cotton back.

Taxpayers now have more than half a million dollars tied up in cotton on hand.

As a result of the December 10 vote of the cotton growers, American taxpayers will continue to make loans for another year. In return, the cotton growers agree to control the number of acres planted to cotton and to limit the amount of cotton that each grower can market.

Officials frankly are baffled in their search for a way out of the cotton impasse.

This situation lies in the comparative experience of the old federal farm board and the new agricultural adjustment administration. The farm board, seeking to peg cotton prices first at 16 cents a pound and then at 12 1/2 cents a pound, 2,400,000 bales of AAA, seeking to peg cotton prices first at 16 cents, then at 12 cents and now at 8 cents, already has accumulated 10,000,000 bales.

In the years since 1930, when government set out to control cotton prices, something fundamental, as the experts see it, has happened to the American cotton industry.

The fundamental happening is found in figures showing the trend of sales of cotton and cotton at home and abroad, as set against the ability of the farmers of this country to produce cotton.

Back in 1930 the world consumed 22,400,000 bales of cotton from every source. American farmers supplied nearly 13,000,000 of those bales. In the cotton year, 1936-37 the world consumed nearly 31,000,000 bales of cotton—a production of more than 8,000,000 bales. American farmers still supplied 18,000,000 bales. Some falling off in consumption occurred in the 1937-38 cotton year.

But now there is a new cotton year. In this cotton year world use of all kinds of cotton is expected to approach 30,000,000 bales, but use of American cotton is expected to fall short of 11,000-bales. Estimates made for official use conclude that no more than 4,000,000 bales of American cotton will be used this new year. Sales of American cotton abroad in the 1930's average above 7,000,000.

The meaning of all of this is that the world is using more cotton, but is using a smaller amount of American cotton.

Benjamin Franklin Won Popularity With French

Benjamin Franklin, born January 17, 1706, of humble parentage, became a foremost philosopher and statesman. But he never lost his simplicity of manner, which, coupled with ready wit, won not only the esteem of Americans, but also the respect of Frenchmen, his equals during the Revolutionary war, writes Leslie Hartley in the Washington Star.

One of 17 children, Franklin was compelled to work at an early age.

When his seven brothers ran away home, Philadelphia, where he married and became the Quaker City's outstanding citizen.

Of a practical turn of mind, Franklin, who was a successful printer and journalist, developed numerous inventions. His philosophy also was practical and his quaint sayings and homely wisdom, popular for centuries. In Poor Richard's Almanac, are quoted still.

When the Revolutionary war began in earnest he was sent to France to win the sympathy of that nation for the cause of the Colonies. Not only did he persuade the king to open aid to the Americans, but he won such personal popularity that he was followed about through the streets. Upon his departure the king presented him with handsome gifts and gave him the use of the queen's litter to bear him to the coast.

As a result of the December 10 vote of the cotton growers, American taxpayers will continue to make loans for another year. In return, the cotton growers agree to control the number of acres planted to cotton and to limit the amount of cotton that each grower can market.

Methodists Score Third Victory in Church League Monday Night

St. Paul Defeats St. Anne; Salem League Leaders

No Games Scheduled for Jan. 3; Will Resume Play January 9

St. Paul defeated St. Anne by a 20 to 15 score and Methodist beat St. Matthew, 21 to 19, in Monday's church league basketball. It was St. Paul's second and Methodist's third win in four starts each.

St. Anne made it a close game with St. Paul but Willie Altenburg provided the winning margin by scoring 12 points, more than half his team's total. St. Paul led 7-5 at the first quarter, 16-8 at the half, 11-9 at three-quarters, and then St. Anne outscored its opponents 7 to 3 in the final period to make the game count 20 to 16.

Methodist had too much speed for St. Matthew and gained an easy victory. Connie paced the winners with five baskets and was free from the two foul points. After a tall tie at the quarter, Methodist led 15 to 15 at the half and 19-10 at the three-quarters.

There will be no church games next Monday because of a Week of Prayer service on that night. On January 9, the league will resume play with Salem playing St. Matthew and Baptist meeting St. Anne.

Latest Hits Coming to Catlow During Holiday Week-End

"Service DeLuxe" is Billed for Midnight Show New Year's Eve

As King Louis XI of France is "We Were King," Basil Rathbone is by no means the thorough monarch he played in other recent productions, such as "Tovarich," "Robin Hood" and "Marco Polo." His portrayal of the eccentric but wise monarch is a peculiar blend of the villain and sympathetic character.

In this picture, coming to the Catlow theatre Thursday for three days, Rathbone will be seen as a king who at one moment personalizes the tortures of prison officers, yet at another makes a vagabond poet ruler of the country in return for some slight favor. Ronald Colman stars as the rogue who saves France from her enemies. Charles Winninger, veteran comedian, put in so much strenuous exercise in his current role with Dick Powell and Olivia de Havilland in "Hard to Get" that Charlie quit going to the athletic club in the evenings for his formerly daily workouts. In the picture Winninger chases Olivia, stages a fencing match, a wrestling match, and a ping-pong bout with Melville Cooper. "Hard to Get" will be at the Catlow for one day only Sunday.

"Garden of the Moon," newest musical with Dick Powell, Margaret Lindsay and John Payne at the top roles, will have its local premiere Monday, for one day only, at the Catlow. The picture is based on the recent Saturday Evening Post serial of the same name.

The story deals with a hot and tricky feud between hotel manager, played by O'Brien, and an impudent young band leader, played by Payne, who in this picture makes his debut as a singing, romantic star. Five swingy new tunes are introduced, and another notable feature is the presentation of Jimmie Fidler, radio's famous conductor who plays himself.

Glenda Farrell and Barton MacLane, the popular girl reporter and her detective lieutenant boy friend, who have made such a hit in the "Torchy Blane" series of adventure comedies, come back with a new one to the Catlow Tuesday in "Torchy Gets Her Man."

The blonde and wisecracking Torchy Blane is out to get her man when she and Lt. Steve McBride start out after the crooks. They have a lot of fun doing it, and always manage to get a lot of laughs at the same time.

Double featured Tuesday is a sports adventure, "Road Demon," with Henry Arthur, Joan Valerie, Henry Armetta, Tom Beck and Bill Robinson.
