

"Sally, Irene and Mary" Coming to Catlow Sunday

"The Baroness and Butler" Coming Wednesday for Three-Day Run

Though John Carradine won his name in pictures as one of the most vicious-looking "heavies" in the industry, he was chosen from among about 50 aspirants for the role, to play Abraham Lincoln. He enacts the great emancipator in "Of Human Hearts" with Walter Huston, James Stewart and Beulah Bondi. The new picture is currently playing at the Catlow theatre in the dramatic film, and sets Stewart's feet back on the right path in the dramatic "Honor" story of a backwoods preacher and his family in pioneer days. Carradine recently appeared as Edward G. Robinson's nemesis in "The Last Gangster." Lincoln is his first sympathetic role in pictures.

Six girls, living and loving within the shadows of Broadway's bright lights, are the leading characters in "Walking Down Broadway," at the Catlow for one night only. The heart-thumping story of their desperation and longing, laughter and triumph, makes a picture as brightly exciting as Broadway itself.

The six girls are portrayed by Claire Trevor, Phyllis Brooks, Leah Ray, Dixie Dunbar, Lynn Bari and Jayne Regan. Michael Whalen, Tom Beck, Douglas Fowler, Walter Woolf King and Jed Prouty are also featured.

Alice Faye and Tony Martin sing the tuneless songs you ever heard, as only they know how. In "Sally, Irene and Mary," new star-glorious musical hit coming to the Catlow theatre on Sunday for two days.

With Fred Allen, of radio's "Town Hall Tonight" fame, top the great cast of Darryl F. Zanuck's latest success.

The featured cast includes Jimmy Durante, Gregory Ratoff and Joan Davis. Marjorie Weaver, Louise Hovick, Barnett Parker and J. Edward Bromberg.

Headed by the lovely Ann Sheridan, who gave up school-teaching in Texas to become a leading lady in Hollywood films, and handsome Craig Reynolds, one of movie-dom's most promising young leading men, a comedy drama called "The Footloose Heiress" comes to the Catlow Tuesday.

On the double feature bill on Tuesday with "The Footloose Heiress," is "West of Shanghai," starring Boris Karloff as General Wu Yen Fang, and featuring Beverly Roberts and Ricardo Cortez.

Debonair William Powell may play butler roles on the screen but he will have no truck with valets in his private life. It is not unusual for a Hollywood star to have a valet, personal maid, chauffeur, secretary and several other "hired hands." Bill admits to a need for most of these hard-working folks, but he absolutely draws the line at having a valet.

Powell is co-starred with Annabella, the screen's most glamorous personality, and star of "Wings of the Morning." She is making her American debut in "The Baroness and the Butler," opening at the Catlow Wednesday for a three-day engagement.

Invented Word "Pianolaine"
The word "pianolaine" was invented by the Italian chemist Selmi for the basic substances produced in purification.
