

W. R. C. Hostess to Department and District Officers

District and department officers were guests of Gen. Thomas W. Sweeney Woman's Relief Corps at luncheon and an afternoon program held at Schroeder hall Wednesday afternoon.

Among the honored guests were the following: Mrs. Josephine Thurlow, department president; Mrs. Jessie Child, dept. chaplain; Mrs. Norma Ogan, dept. inspector; Mrs. Ethel Mae Johnson, dept. counselor; Mrs. Margaret White, 1st officer; Mrs. Edith Weaver, member of the board; Mrs. Margaret C. Brogie, president districts 1-10; Mrs. Margaret Horron, senior vice president, districts 1-10; Mrs. Nellie Dahlin, chairman, child welfare, president-elect Cook county assn.; Mrs. Hazel Haedike, past dept. inspector; Mrs. Marie

Burkhardt, member of executive board. A pot-luck luncheon was served at 12 o'clock, two members, Mrs. Louise Sott and Mrs. Emma Atkins being escorted to the table and presented with flowers as the Corps sang "happy birthday" to them. Mrs. Sott was celebrating her 87th birthday Wednesday and Mrs. Atkins will be 84 years old this month. A short program was enjoyed at the close of the meeting—readings by Mrs. E. Johnson and Mary Jean McClure and a tribute to the flag by Mrs. M. Burkhardt of East St. Louis. The entire Corps then joined in singing patriotic songs.

Present Bill for Windows Broken in Repairing Crossing

A bill from the Standard Motor Co. for $14.88, covering half the cost of a display window, was presented by Trustee Rudolph Berg at the board meeting Monday night. When construction work was going on at the Main street crossing of the C. & N. W. railroad this winter two windows were broken in the garage display rooms by gravel flung from auto tires. Insurance covered the cost of the first window and half of the second. It was learned, and P. R. Drover, owner of Standard Motor, sought compensation for the remainder. The bill was referred to Milburn Construction Co. contractors, who laid the new crossing.

Scenes on Caesar Lake

Above are two pictures showing the water rushing through the gap in the dam at Caesar Lake Sunday. The pictures were taken a few hours before the flood reached its peak, and show part of the spillway and timbers used in attempting to halt the flow.

spillway and a concrete break-water was built last week to reinforce the dam. This addition was not sufficient to hold the water and a large hole was eaten through the wall next to the spillway and its steel culvert.

The size of the hole kept increasing until Sunday evening when it seemed the entire dam would go out. It was feared that highway 63, which parallels the retaining wall, would be flooded. Traffic was blocked Sunday evening when the rushing water rose to within a few feet of the road and flooded the countryside. Two culverts in the road carried the water into an adjoining field, from where it emptied into Otis lake.

The level of Caesar lake dropped nearly three feet before the escaping flood was stopped Monday morning and the Otis lake level was raised approximately the same amount.

Mr. Capuli was standing on a small island at the mouth of the spillway directing men in placing sandbags when the accident occurred. Attempting to ascertain the depth of the water, he lost his balance and plunged into the lake. He was sucked down about eight feet and then carried beneath cement work installed a few days earlier. His escape is deemed fortunate in that pieces of reinforcing rod jutting along the bottom which might have caught his body or clothing and held him fast. The tunnel under the dam through which the water buried him was about 15 feet long.

Druggan Farm Goes on Block March 10

Terrance J. Druggan and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Druggan, will lose their 240-acre farm at Prairie View on the auction block March 10. Special Master in Chancery L. Eric Carey published a legal notice Tuesday that he will sell the Druggan farm at public auction at 10 a. m. on that day at the east entrance of the court house in Waukegan to the highest bidder to meet a judgment for $29,745.74 obtained by Hugo Pick, trustee, against the Druggans.

The trustees obtained the judgment for a $24,500 mortgage. The Druggans failed to make the first interest payment on the loan on October 17, 1936. Under the provisions of the loan, if the interest payment of $612.50 was not made within three days of the date stated, the trustees could demand the entire payment.

Judgment on the foreclosure proceeding included the amount of the mortgage, litigation costs, master's fees and other costs. According to reports, Druggan plans court action to prevent the sale of the property and will seek relief in the higher courts.

Witness Basketball Game—Paul Clark, T. C. Rosford, David Durbin and members of the first basketball team of the local high school saw the Northwestern-Bradley game at Patton gymnasium, Evanston, Saturday evening.

Last Rites Today for Mrs. W. Eakin

Last rites for Mrs. W. T. Eakin, 137 Applebee street, who died Monday evening, will be held at 1:30 p. m. today, Thursday, at the funeral home, 119 W. Main street, and at Salem Evangelical church at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Stauffer and Rev. H. L. Eagle will officiate and burial will take place in Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Eakin, who was 63 years old, had suffered from a heart ailment for a long time. The eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Groff, early pioneers, she was born November 24, 1874 on a farm 2 1/2 miles west of town now known as Bellwood Farms.

Her father first emigrated to this section in 1852, where he was engaged in farming. Mrs. Eakin received her education at the district schools and Zion Sunday school.

On June 9, 1892 she married Charles Will and they made their home on a farm near Lake Zurich and Barrington. He died in 1912 and on July 9, 1918 she was married to William T. Eakin of Elgin, who survives her. They made their home in Elgin for two years and then came to Barrington to live.

Surviving, besides her husband, are four children, Mrs. Elsie Anderson and Mrs. Laura Jackson of Elgin, Raymond Will of Detroit and James of Graylake, a stepson, W. A. Eakin of Boston, Mass.; a brother, Edward C. Groff of Barrington, and four grandchildren. Mrs. William Timberhoff of Prescott, Okla., sisters of Mr. Eakin; Russell Anderson of Bethany, Okla., a grandson; W. A. Eakin of Elgin, and Alvin E. Eakin of Elgin are here to attend the services.

Mrs. Eakin was a member of Mayflower camp, R. N. A., the Salem church, Philathea class and Women's Missionary society.

Fire Department at Fox River Grove to Hold Dance Feb. 19

The Fox River Grove fire department will hold its fifth annual dance Saturday, Feb. 19, at the Conka Band hall in Fox River Grove, according to members of the committee headed by Charles R. Cerny, chairman.

Frank Urban's orchestra of Berwyn has been engaged to furnish the music and other entertainment is being planned. According to Mr. Cerny, an entertaining evening is promised all who attend.

Probate Thorp Will
The will of the late William H. Thorp, of Barrington, who died here October 20, was admitted to probate Tuesday. It disposes of an estate consisting of his home valued at $5000. The will gives his widow, Amanda, the household effects and permits her to keep the home until it is sold. When sold she is to have half the proceeds and the other half he directs be divided equally between his two sons, Elroy, of Barrington, and Charles of Palatine.
