Increase Noted in Refrigerator Sales

Approximately 2,500,000 domestic electric refrigerators were sold during the past year in this country, according to I. W. Lageschulte, head of the Lageschulte Electric Shop, local distributors of General Electric home appliances. "This was an increase of about 18 per cent over sales for 1934. Practically every state reported an increase for 1934 over the preceding year."

"Increase in sales of domestic refrigerators by our firm was 107 per cent," he said. "We expect 1935 to show a larger increase in unit sales as the saturation point is nowhere in sight, despite the steady increases in sales each year."

"There are three principal reasons for the optimistic outlook on increased refrigerator sales. First, the electric refrigerator is a necessity and with the new home building program the tendency today is to equip these new homes with electric refrigerators. Second, newly married couples want to start off their housekeeping adventures with modern appliances. Third, more old homes and farm homes are wired for electricity each year. All in all we expect 1935 to be our best refrigerator sales year."

Barrington Review
Theatre BuildingDO YOU NEED A NEW REFRIGERATOR?

Food costs are going up. You can "balance the budget" easier if you have a big, roomy G-E refrigerator. You'll pocket extra savings every month this winter if you get a General Electric now. This is America's favorite food saver—the refrigerator with the famous Automatic THRIFT UNIT sealed-in-steel.

OIL COOLING, a feature developed by the G-E "House of Magic" gives much lower operating cost and assures enduring economy.
