

Hold Meeting to Discuss Program of Tree Planting

Representatives of Village Garden Club and Local Officials Meet

Young hardwood trees to replace damaged softwood trees in the parkings along local streets will be purchased by the Village Garden club of Barrington and will be planted by the village, according to an offer made by the club through its representatives who met with trustees Tuesday night. Those present included Mrs. Frank Kirchman, chairman of the club committee, Trustees Rudolph Berg and R. F. Kocher Sr., Mrs. Elsie Schutt, Mrs. Cecil Kellam and Mrs. John Prentice.

According to present plans only several streets will be worked on first. It was decided to plant trees where needed on Hillside avenue, north and south Hough street, parts of Main street and East Russell street.

Other streets in the community will be included in a program for the future, Mrs. Kirchman stated. Due to the cost of purchasing the trees, the club will be able to complete only part of the job each year.

Mr. Parcell is to make a survey of the streets listed above and will then report back to the group where trees are needed. The plan calls for planting of trees in barren places at present, with replacement work to come later. Only hardwood trees will be planted on the streets, it was learned.

4th McHenry County Lady Bound, Gagged by Unknown Prowler

The mysterious intruder of Crystal Lake and McHenry county struck again for the fourth time Saturday and left Mrs. John Hubert bound and gagged in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Hubert, on Paddock street at Crystal Lake. She was frightened away without getting any loot.

Mrs. George Hubert was downtown shopping and Mrs. John Hubert was caring for her children. According to reports she was holding the baby in her arms and was standing near the kitchen sink when the burglar entered the rear door.

Warning her not to turn around, the intruder seized a towel and bound it over her face. After placing the baby in the crib, Mrs. Hubert was bound hand and foot with a clothes line.

The man demanded money but she denied knowledge of any. The burglar began searching the house. Somebody knocked at the rear door while the search was in progress and the burglar, becoming frightened, fled through the front door. Mrs. Hubert was found later in the afternoon by her husband when he stopped at the residence. No loot was obtained by the intruder.

The same man is believed responsible for the other two instances when Crystal Lake women were bound and gagged and their homes burglarized, and is also thought to be the man who invaded the home of a Woodstock woman and burglarized the premises about a month ago.

Speaker Tells How Trained Dogs Give Independence to the Blind

Morris Frank and his guide dog "Buddy" occupied the center of the stage at Barrington high school auditorium—figuratively as well as literally—Sunday afternoon when local residents assembled to learn more about activities of The Seeing Eye. About 300 persons were present.

Mr. Frank, blind for many years, put the dog through a few paces and then told of his experiences following the acquisition of "Buddy."

Elliot S. Humphrey, vice president of the division of training and research, told how a dog is selected and trained to guide his master, disobey commands when harm might come to a master if the order were followed and to even disregard instinctive reactions.

A trainer of dogs must learn his work by going through it himself. He is blind for six weeks, Mr. Humphrey stated. It takes about four weeks to accustom a blind man to guide his dog intelligently. During those weeks it is determined whether a blind man is suited for dog guidance. If he is, a dog to suit

Commit Youth to State Institution for Delinquency

Henry Pattison Found Guilty at Hearing in Waukegan Monday Morning

Henry Pattison, 16-year-old youth who was arrested on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Florence Baade here earlier in January, was committed to a state institution at a delinquency hearing in the chambers of County Judge Perry L. Persons in Waukegan Monday morning.

The commitment was made by an agreement with E. W. Baade, chief of police, who was present at the hearing, and who apprehended the youth shortly after the assault.

Pattison will either be sent to the school for boys at St. Charles or to the state institution at Dwight. He has been under observation by the Illinois research department and that unit may place him at Dwight for further treatment.

The young man was a resident of Barrington six years ago and was then placed in a juvenile home by Chief Baade following a series of misdemeanors. He had returned to Barrington only a few hours before assaulting Mrs. Baade, threatening the life of her infant baby during the fight. She was able to drive him from her home and he was quickly apprehended on the description furnished by her.

Joliet Man Shoots Self in Car South of Village Monday

Eugene Freiner, 28, Ends Life Because of Financial Worries

A verdict of suicide while temporarily insane due to financial worries was returned Tuesday morning by a coroner's jury after hearing testimony on the death of Eugene A. Freiner, 28 years old, of Joliet, who shot and killed himself while seated in his automobile on Barrington road near the intersection of U.S. route 20 Monday evening. E. E. Edelstein, Cook county deputy coroner, conducted the hearing at the funeral home, 149 W. Main street.

His car was first noticed by Edward Stump, a farmer residing in the vicinity, earlier in the evening and he notified the state highway police department. Upon investigation, officers found Freiner's body slumped down on the front seat beneath the steering wheel. A .38 calibre automatic pistol was lying beneath the body. He had shot himself above the right ear, the bullet leaving the opposite side of the head and lodging in the side of the car.

Testimony at the inquest revealed he had been employed with a reputable stock and bond house in Chicago but had lost his position two months ago. Notes in his brief cases indicated financial matters were pressing him.

Information concerning the fatality was told at the hearing by Mrs. Freiner, his bride of five months; State Highway Patrolmen Augie Olson and Herbert Wright, and the dead man's mother, Mrs. Arthur Freiner. Prior to their marriage, his widow was Virginia Wolf, niece of E. Wolf of Barrington.

Following the inquest the body was taken to Elgin for funeral services this afternoon, Thursday.

In addition to his widow and mother, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Virginia Moon, grandmother, Mrs. Martha V. Miller, and two children by a former marriage, all of Aurora.

W. Koss Meets a Progeny of the Cow That Jumped Over the Moon

If matters aren't ironed out soon it will be impossible to serve two kinds of meat at the dinner table without blindingfolding the beef or pork. No, the economic situation doesn't enter into it at all.

William Koss, 557 N. Hough street, a cattle dealer, is the authority for the second episode on animal life in the past several weeks. He spent a weary day Wednesday wheeling, coaxing, threatening and finally using strategy in a hectic effort to transport a cow and a 400-lb. pig to the Union stockyards in Chicago.

Mr. Koss loaded his small delivery truck with the cow first and when he attempted to put the pig in with her, Bessy, asserted her feminine nature and refused to countenance such a move. In fact, she made violent efforts to leave the truck each time Mr. Koss tried to put in the piggy.

Faced with a baffling situation he stood in thought for a few minutes and then recalled a remark made by his grandfather some years past. This venerable gentleman was heard to comment one day: "If you can't get the wool over a woman's eyes, you got some thing." Benefiting from that idea and putting it into practical application, Mr. Koss took a blanket and wrapped it around the cow's head.

Unable to see, she made no further rumpus when the pig was put into the truck.

Starting on his journey, Mr. Koss was content in the knowledge that he had outwitted a temperamental cow, and also that a wise man's grandfather had been. His rude awakening came when he reached 21st street and Mannheim street in Chicago—for there the blanket slipped.

When Bessy saw what had transpired she emitted that well-known fairy tale leap, jumped over the stake body, the roof of the cab in which Mr. Koss rode unconcerned and landed on the hood of the motor.

From there on the battle of wills was resumed; the cow would not condescend to ride with the pig and the pig wasn't to be trusted alone, alongside the road, although it hadn't done anything to merit this distrust.

If it hadn't been for the timely arrival of Scott Trimble, cattle dealer residing south of town, Mr. Koss and his acrobatic milker might still be pitting wits. The matter was solved when Mr. Trimble loaded the pig into his truck and drove it to the stockyards. Then, and only then, did Bessy, with a glorious wave of her tail, walk gracefully up into the truck, at peace with the world—temporarily at least. Because of her temperamental she now graces a dinner table.

Rep. Richard Lyons Announces Campaign

State Representative Richard J. Lyons, Libertyville republican, announced Wednesday he will be a candidate again for the position of representative in the general assembly for the eighth senatorial district, comprising the counties of McHenry, Lake and Boone. His announcement set at rest all speculations as to his possible state candidacy for another position. He has been mentioned as a possible candidate for United States senator from Illinois.

In connection with his announcement, he asked re-election as state representative. Mr. Lyons issued the following statement:

"I appreciate more than I can tell you the compliment the press and friends from almost every county in Illinois have paid me in suggesting my name for state wide office this year.

"It happens, however, that I choose not to attempt a state race, requiring as it would, vastly heavier obligations than I am capable of discharging.

"Instead, I will ask the voters of Lake, McHenry and Boone counties for re-election as representative in the general assembly; if returned, I shall continue my loyal faithfulness to the citizens of this great section of Illinois.

"My services, I believe, will be of greater value at Springfield in view of the economic and political condition of our state. My five terms in the house have placed me in a more or less commanding position where I can better promote the interests of my district."
