COOPERATION INSTEAD OF RETALIATION

John W. Hanes, member of the SEC, recently said: "I believe that the time has come for business men to cease harping on the theme that the government is the enemy of business. And it shall be my everlasting endeavor to persuade government officials from uttering publicly or privately the thought that business is the enemy of government."

Business men certainly don't want to feel that government is their enemy. This breach between government and business has been largely created by politicians who, in recent years, have chastised the many for the shortcomings of the few, in business.

It is politicians who have passed legislation hamstringing and punishing business. It is politicians who have saddled business with a tax burden that makes operations next to profitless in many instances. It is politicians who have forced government into direct competition with business in certain fields, using to the full its advantages of tax-free, and unlimited public credit. It is politicians who have pilloried business men, and held them up to scorn and ridicule. It is politicians who have been undermining confidence in our American system of government and fomenting class hatred between labor and capital.

It is not business' duty to make "peace" with government. Government exists to serve business and the individual. Government is a means to an end, not an end in itself. Government lives financially off the fruits of business. Government's true purpose is to act as an umpire, not a player, in the commercial affairs of the people. Government should punish the guilty—and cooperate with the innocent. And that is exactly what the politicians have prevented government from doing.

Government will find practically all business ready to work in amicable accord with it when the politicians pursue policies of cooperation instead of retaliation.

ARE YOU A HYPOCRITE?

The average motorist is an unconscious hypocrite. That's strong characterization—but a little impersonal analysis will substantiate it.

How often have you roundly criticized some driver for an offense which you commit periodically yourself? How often have you taken comfort in the thought that accidents are caused by some reckless breed of motorists with whom you have nothing in common, thus dodging the fact that only fool's luck has saved you from a crash on a dozen occasions? Have you ever attempted to get a ticket "fixed"—even though you pay lip service to the cause of aggressive, impartial law enforcement?

It is a fact that a large proportion of accidents are caused by the reckless ten per cent, but the other ninety per cent periodically take chances and are responsible for many of our annual deaths.

Who, for example, doesn't sometimes pass a car when the stretch of empty road that can be seen is too short for safety? Who doesn't occasionally succumb to the lure of excessive speed—even though he has little or nothing to do when his destination is reached? Who doesn't periodically neglect necessary repairs to brakes, lights or steering mechanisms, on the theory that he will get around to it when more convenient?

We'll go a good way toward reducing accidents when the average driver begins asking himself such questions and returning honest answers. Accident prevention, so far as it concerns the human element, is a personal, individual matter—and each individual has to really want to drive safely at all times before he can analyze his driving errors and correct them.

THE TRUTH ABOUT "FIXED CHARGES"

In discussing railroad fixed charges, a special committee composed of three members of the Interstate Commerce Commission recently reported to the president: "There is some misunderstanding of the fixed-charge situation and its significance. Many seem to think that these charges represent an unjust burden, and that if it could be removed, all would be well. The fact is that these charges constitute a comparatively modest return on only a part of the legitimate investment in railroad property. There is nothing unjust about this return."

Furthermore, contrary to a widespread fallacy, fixed charges aren't paid by the railroads to some vague and mysterious group of wire-pulling capitalists. They are paid to hundreds of thousands of people, many of them of small or moderate means, who own railroad bonds. They are paid to leading educational and charitable institutions, which usually have a substantial part of their invested endowments in railroad securities. They are paid to practically every savings bank and insurance company in this country which have invested part of their assets in the railroad industry and wish an interest return.

As a consequence, every one of the tens of millions of insurance policyholders and bank depositors—to say nothing of that vast army who own railroad securities directly—benefit when railroad fixed charges are paid. The checks that go out in payment mean more purchasing, more jobs, and increased public buying power.

"The greatest failure in our efforts to achieve social security is the failure to understand that primarily it is a matter of economics, and only secondarily a matter of legislation."—James H. R. Cromwell.

Stock Barn Destroyed
By Fire: $5000 Loss

Flames of undetermined origin destroyed the Barnard's Mill stock farm near Wonder Lake, in McHenry county, early Sunday morning. The loss was placed at approximately $5000. Firemen of Wonder Lake discovered the flames and spread the alarm. Volunteers rescued a large number of hogs, cattle and horses but a large quantity of hay and grain were destroyed. Another fire occurred on the Harry Seavey farm near Aurora Saturday afternoon, causing damage estimated at $5000. Lightning was said to have caused the fire.

Two Elgin Youths Are Killed By Power Line

Wilbert Witte, 21 years old, and William C. Kellerman, 17 years old, both of Elgin, were electrocuted while installing a radio aerial wire on the residence of the Harold Anderson farm near Lily lake last week. Witte lost his life in a vain effort to save his companion. A third youth, Clarence Rabe, 16 years old, did not touch the highly charged wire and escaped a similar fate. The boys had gone to the farm to install a new radio aerial and had selected a location which was bisected by a high tension power line. Kellerman had hold of one end of the aerial wire they were stringing when Witte lost the other end of the power wire. Kellerman received the force of the electric charge when the two wires contacted and he slumped to the ground. Then Witte made his fatal attempt to knock the wire from the other youth's grasp, also being killed.

Seeks Shelter Under Box
Car; Worker Is Killed

While trying to avoid being soaked by the rain Saturday afternoon, Mark Krajnovich, 48 years old, an extra section hand at the St. Paul railroad at Fox Lake, was fatally injured when he crawled under a freight car north of station 176, near Libertyville. Mack Waldron, a water boy for the section gang, noticed the body of a man lying in the weeds near the tracks. He went over and discovered Krajnovich with one leg severed and his hands mangled. He died several hours later. The dead man had been paid Thursday night in Fox Lake and had not been heard of until the time of the accident. A coroner's jury held that he had been fatally injured when he crawled under a freight car.

Chicago Girl Falls Off
Bridge When Cars Crash

Adeline Kanes of Chicago was injured Saturday night at Johnson street by being struck by a car or falling off the bridge into the water, a distance of 15 to 20 feet. Cars driven by Kenneth Swanson of Fox Lake and Edward Walata of Chicago collided on the bridge at the time of the accident and both men were taken into custody by police officers. They claimed that Miss Kanes and several friends were dancing on the bridge at the time, and in order to prevent striking any of the crowd the cars collided. The Chicago girl's injuries were minor.
