To Ask Railway for Extended Watchman Service at Crossing

Village Clerk A. C. Burandt was instructed Monday night by village trustees to write the Chicago & North Western railway requesting additional protection at the company's Hough street crossing. The matter of more protection was introduced by Trustee Rudolph Berg, who said he had been requested to do so by members of the late William Koss family. Mr. Koss was instantly killed when his automobile was struck at that point several weeks ago.

Mr. Berg related Mrs. Amanda Elfrink had asked that additional watchman service be requested or that the village board should repeal its "no whistling" ordinance now in effect.

Village trustees decided to write the safety committee of the railway company, asking the watchman service to be extended for several hours more on a 24-hour service be maintained.

The "no whistling" ordinance was adopted several years ago following demands made by residents whose property adjoined the railway. It was contended then that excessive whistling was a nuisance. Locomotive engineers are now only allowed to whistle for signals or in case of emergency.

Trustees felt Monday night the best solution to the problem would be to have the railway extend its watchman service.

Pomeroy Farm Hog Wins Championship at Livestock Show

Berkshire Entries Take Most Ribbons at Larger State Fairs

The grand champion barrow in the swine division of the International Livestock Exposition was from Pomeroy farm, Berkshire, according to a notification of award received by A. G. Schillo, manager of the farm. The best carload of hogs at the show was made up of Berkshires, he was informed.

This farm, which is owned by H. T. Roberts, has been sweeping nearly all prizes in one large state fair competition after another this fall.

The animals, managed by William Dorf, herman, were taken to state fairs in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas, and in each instance won most of the ribbons.

At Dallas, the Pomeroy Berkshires won two grand championships, two senior championships, twelve junior and two second. At the Oklahoma sectional state fair, Oklahoma City, the Berkshires won a grand championship, four firsts and eleven seconds. At the Oklahoma section fairs were held at Tulsa and Muskogee. At Tulsa, the entry won two grand championships, two senior championships, one junior championship, nine firsts and six seconds. The entry swept nearly everything at Muskogee.

The Pomeroy farm entry took the reserve grand championship, four firsts at Indianapolis and also three first place ribbons, three seconds and four thirds.

At the Iowa State fair the record was three grand championships, four firsts and two seconds. The record at the Wisconsin state fair was 15 out of 16 places, and at the Illinois state fair the majority of ribbons, including five grand championships.

The Berkshires are rapidly gaining popularity among hog breeders throughout the country, Mr. Schillo said.

"Security" Is More Desired By Workers Than Raise in Pay

Security of job and not a raise in salary is the first wish of the large majority of industrial workers, according to Paul Mertz, personnel director of Sears, Roebuck and Co., who spoke at the men's dinner at the Methodist church Tuesday night on "Human Relations in Business."

Mr. Mertz and James P. Currie, personnel manager of Jewel Tea Co., were the principal speakers at the winter men's dinner. Edwin L. Reed was toastmaster and Russell Johnson led group singing.

Each of the speakers listed the needs and demands of workers to date and some of the steps that industry is taking to make working conditions pleasant.

Regularity of work is more important to wage and salary earners than rate of pay. Men and women whose hourly or weekly rate is high but who are subject to seasonal or unexpected lay-offs are less apt to be satisfied with their lot than men and women who get lower hourly or weekly rates but who are employed 50 or 52 weeks per year, he said.

Financial assistance in unforeseen emergencies is highly desired and is being provided for by more and more business institutions. Illness, accidents, deaths in workers' families, moving, were listed as some of the emergencies in which the more progressive business institutions assist their employees.

Both of the speakers explained how their companies provide loan facilities for the men and women in their employment. Loans are available for several approved uses.

Best Xmas Season in Years Forecast by L. B. Paddock

Bases Prediction on Amount of Pre-Christmas Mail Being Received

This holiday season should be one of the best in years for the merchant, the stationer, the printer, the greeting card store, and business men generally, if the postal business is any criterion, thinks postmaster Leslie B. Paddock, who reports an earlier and sharper upturn in volume of first class mail and parcel post than in former years.

This seasonal growth in mailing has been preceded by a gradually increasing volume of mail of all classes throughout the autumn months, Mr. Paddock states, indicating greater business activity than has been seen, probably, for a number of years.

Employees of the Barrington post office have been working longer hours to care for this growing volume, and beginning next week the force of regular clerks and carriers and classified substitutes will be augmented by temporary help until the work before Christmas is completed.

While parcels may be mailed to any address at any date and be endorsed "Do not open until Christmas," if desired, the following are recommended dates for mailing to secure best handling and insure prompt delivery: To Pacific coast states, Dec. 15 to 17; to far West, Dec. 18 to 20; to near West, Dec. 16 to 19; to near Western, South and Eastern states, Dec. 17 to 20; to neighboring states—Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Dec. 18 to 20; for delivery at Illinois offices, Dec. 20 and 21. Parcels should be mailed, in any event, to reach destination not later than Saturday morning, Dec. 24.

By observing the adjuration to mail early—early in the week and

Dates for Public Hearing on County Zoning Announced

Residents of Cuba and Elia Townships Will Meet December 14

Notice of public hearing in the four local townships in Lake county, Cuba, Elia, Wauconda and Fremont, to discuss a tentative report and proposed zoning ordinance on all county property outside corporate limits was announced this week by John J. Hogan, chairman of the Lake county zoning commission.

The meeting for residents of Cuba township will be at 7 p. m. on Wednesday, Dec. 14, in the Barrington village hall. The Elia township meeting will be at 8:30 the same day in the Lake Zurich village hall.

Residents of Wauconda township will meet at 8:30 p. m. Dec. 16 in the Wauconda village hall and residents of Fremont township will meet at 7 p. m. on the same day at the Woodman hall in Ivanhoe.

Chairman Hogan said the public hearings could not be public discussions of the proposed zoning ordinance but would give property owners who have objection to the plan a chance to state their reasons.

Hearings are being held throughout the county and after they are completed, the commission will consider the objections and may include them in the final draft of the ordinance to be brought before the board of supervisors in February.

After the ordinance is completed and received the approval of the county board, the zoning commission, composed of Chairman Hogan of Waukegan, Tom R. Establish Blockade Here in Attempt to Capture Hunted "Public Enemy"
A blockade was established at the intersection of Hough street and Northwest highway Saturday following a warning broadcast by the federal bureau of investigation that "public enemy" was near the blockade. A first line of blockade was established along the road at the state's boundary and the second line was set up in this vicinity.

The report from the Milwaukee FBI said that information had been received stating a man—known as "Public Enemy"—was carrying the gasoline and his wife, Helen, was seen 30 miles south of Milwaukee traveling south. The two are sought for bank robbery and kidnapping. A search party has been sent out for the past several weeks.

Local Bond Issue May Be Needed for Waterworks Plan

Federal Aid Unlikely for New Reservoir and Aerator, Trustees Learn

The possibility of the village having to raise a bond issue to install a proposed complete improvement to the municipal water system was discussed Monday night at the village board meeting. The question of a bond issue arose following the report made by Village President Earl Harte that the PWA, with which the village applied for a federal aid in constructing a new reservoir and installing an aerator, would not approve any more grants in Illinois.

The federal department's disinclination to give any aid here was said to be due to the fact that Chicago had been allocated a considerable sum of money for the construction of a subway system.

With no aid forthcoming from the PWA, the village board must now consider a method of financing the project locally.

There is approximately sufficient money on hand to install an aerator, which is greatly needed, but the matter of installing a second reservoir to hang fire. Additional water space is needed in case of emergency and a revision of the plan to connect up the two pumping motors is also necessary, it was pointed out.

The bond issue would approximate $10,000 and would be re-evaluated Monday night. It was estimated Monday night.

It was decided to allow the question to be tabled until January or February while another offer of aid would be made to have the PWA give more consideration to the local problem. D. B. Maloney, village attorney, was requested to contact officials in Washington, asking for their cooperation.
