

29 Candidates Are Competing for Lake Co. Nominations

Fifteen of Group Campaigning for First Time; Five Are Unopposed

A total of 29 candidates were entered in the race for Lake county elective offices at the closing date for filing petitions in Waukegan Monday. Out of the 29 there are 15 who are campaigning for the first time and five who are unopposed.

Interest centers around the nomination for sheriff, the republican and democratic parties. Thomas E. Kennedy, chief deputy for many years, heads the republican ballot and is opposed by John E. Froehlich, a former deputy sheriff and son of Mr. and Mrs. August Froehlich of Lake Zurich, and Harold E. Philpott of Waukegan, member of the board of supervisors.

On the democratic ticket for nomination for the sheriff race the contest is between Bart Tyrell, sergeant of the Waukegan police force and unsuccessful candidate of four years ago, and Charles A. Stanton, lieutenant of the Illinois state police for the northern district.

With the retirement of J. B. Bullock this year, the race for probate court clerk was thrown open and four republican candidates filed. Leading the list is Allen J. Nelson, who is completing his term as county treasurer and who is unable to succeed himself according to law. Other candidates are George Strang, Roy J. Reardon and Leonard D. Hook.

Democratic candidates for the nomination as probate clerk are Charles F. Heblor, Jack B. Ewing and Kenneth R. Klopff.

The battle for the nomination for county clerk will prove interesting among the republicans. There are with four men entered, three of them former officeholders. Russ

Urges Extension of Village Limits at Board Meeting

Albert Doherty Says Trustees Can Protect Residential Value

Albert Doherty, residing in the McIntosh subdivision adjoining and north of Coupe's subdivision beyond the northwest edge of the village, appeared before the board of trustees Monday evening to discuss the annexation of land in that section to the village.

Mr. Doherty sought information and assistance from the board in having the proposed completed. He maintained that the land should be made part of the village so that development can be controlled.

In outlining his plan, he pointed out that the condition allowed to be started in outlying subdivisions of other towns and in Barrington had proved detrimental and might soon exist in his neighborhood. If owners of lots are allowed to build makeshift houses the value of the community is lowered and future development of expansion in that area is curtailed.

Village Trustee John J. Carroll took the stand that all improvements, water, sewer and streets should be installed before the territory is made part of the village. These improvements, he pointed out, must be made eventually and it does by the village, special assessment bonds would have to be sold. Expenditure of large sums on slow developing property would not be advisable, he said.

Village President Earl Hatje and the entire board agreed with Mr. Doherty that village zoning control over the property would be advantageous and stated they would furnish any assistance needed, provided proper action were taken and a plan for future improvements worked out.

It was suggested that if the plan is to be adopted it should include the McIntosh subdivision and all land east to Hough street. This would extend the village limits up to the Fred Otto property.

Trustees Ready to Compel Diversion of Roof Drainage

Down Spouts Must Not Be Connected to Sanitary Sewer

The village board is determined that roof down spouts be stopped from draining into sanitary sewer lines as reflected by notices sent out this week from the office of A. C. Burandt, village clerk. The notices were sent to downtown business places and the residence owners who are notified soon. Mr. Burandt stated.

The problem of diverting roof drainage from the sewer system at the treatment plant has been discussed by the board at the last two meetings. At the session Monday night a program was adopted to enforce the plan. A recent survey of one section revealed that 15 per cent of the roofs are connected incorrectly.

According to the sewer ordinance adopted prior to the construction of the separated system, the village board reserved the right to take legal action if the work were not done. Recently an increased cost of sewer pumping has resulted. The trustees intimated because many roof drains are still connected and the rain flows into the treatment plant through the sanitary sewers.

Those who received notices from the village clerk during the past week are being granted 30 days within which to comply with the ordinance. Legal action may follow after that.

C. Golladay's Car Makes Street Where None Existed Before

It probably would save time and help persons get to the C & N W passenger depot a little earlier if a street were cut through directly from Grove avenue to the station. However, officials of the road might frown if the method used to bring about the change were continued in the manner that was used Sunday.

When the car owned by C. R. Golladay, 218 Grove avenue, and parked near the intersection of Grove and Station streets, suddenly decided to go on a journey of its own Sunday morning it beat a path that was certainly a short cut.

This vehicle, facing north, rounded down the hill, crossed the curb and broke a path through the shrubbery where it bowed to the water tower in passing.

Unhindered finding the passenger platform in its path, the car continued its merry way and pushed on toward the tracks. But for the fence dividing the north and south bound tracks the journey might have been longer.

State to Re-Route U. S. 12 to Improve Traffic Conditions

Crystal Lake Lions Club, Sponsors of Drive, Told of Plan

Sponsored by the Crystal Lake Lions club, a drive to eliminate bad traffic conditions on route 12 is underway; and, according to a communication received from the traffic division of the state highway department, traffic will be reduced by a relocation of U. S. 12. The club also urged a grade separation at the intersection of U. S. routes 12 and 14.

The Crystal Lake club first became interested in the plan for a relief to relieve congestion at the intersection of routes 12 and 14, two miles east of Crystal Lake. Numerous deaths at that point were the subject of public comment. Following is the letter received by the club from H. H. Harrison, state traffic engineer:

"Since writing you on July 24, 1937, we have made a traffic investigation at the junction of U. S. routes 12 and 14 to determine need for traffic signal control."

"It was apparent from our investigation that there was no warrant for the automatic regulation of traffic and that the stop sign control then in place, if obeyed, was entirely adequate. However, there are a number of improvements contemplated for this junction, one of which will be undertaken within the next month or so. This is the relocation of U. S. route 12 which will be directed into Chicago over a different location. U. S. route 14 will at the same time be continued on a southeasterly direction from this junction over the present location of U. S. route 12. When this marking is completed, the junction then will include only the straight crossing of Illinois 31 and U. S. 14. This will eliminate the bad turning movements which are now necessary in following either of the U. S. numbered highways, thereby improving the safety conditions."

"The department has also completed a field survey and is now engaged in the preparation of plans for a proposed grade separation at the intersection of U. S. 12 (Northwest highway) and Dundee road, two miles east of Barrington. Numerous auto accident fatalities at that point prompted the local group to request state action."

A few years ago the Barrington Lions club was successful in sponsoring a drive to have a grade separation created at the intersection of U. S. 12 (Northwest highway) and Dundee road, two miles east of Barrington. Numerous auto accident fatalities at that point prompted the local group to request state action.
