How Ethan Allen Became Famous as a War Leader

In the gray of the morning of May 10, 1775, a handful of patriotic Americans—the Green Mountain Boys—arrived on the shore of Lake Champlain, after a march from Bennington, Vt. Their leader was Ethan Allen. They appropriated boats, rowed across the foot of the lake and took the British garrison at Fort Ticonderoga completely by surprise. A sentry fired at Allen, but missed him. The leader of the Americans met the British commandant, one Captain Le Place, at the door of the barracks occupied by the latter, demanding immediate surrender of the fort.

"By what authority do you make this bold demand?" asked the captain.

"By what authority?" thundered Allen, "I demand it, sir, in the name of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress."

It was by this daring act and these immortal words, observes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, that the leader of the Green Mountain Boys became famous. Later in the war he was captured by the British, taken to England, brought back to America, and finally exchanged. He visited Washington at Valley Forge, and was honored in his home town, Bennington, with a salute of 14 guns. He died February 11, 1789, aged fifty-two years, one month, and one day.

Capital stock of Illinois corporations assessable by the county assessor shall be determined at ten per cent of the fair cash value of such capital stock.

In all cases the fair cash value of these intangibles shall be estimated by taking thirty-seven (37) per cent of the assessed value, the method employed in determining the assessed value of real estate and tangible personal property. The tax is determined by multiplying the assessed value by the tax rate.

To outline a basis for proper administration the committee called special attention to four points essential to its success:

"1.—Public cooperation should be developed by the establishment of equitable and sound rules, and by the uniform adherence to such rules.

"2.—The county assessor should have access to the federal income tax returns as far as such returns may be required for assessment purposes.

"3.—The board of appeals and the assessor of Cook county jointly should make and subscribe to the provisions of the rule or rules promulgated for the assessment of all taxable property in Cook county.

"4.—The state's attorney of Cook county and the courts should uphold such rules."

limit for those who have not filed schedules. Since those already filed will be re-audited, new schedules need not be filed.

The intangibles committee made these recommendations in an eighteen page report and its standards for economically just and legally defensible assessments were accepted by the assessor. The gist of guides, standards and aids for uniform valuation of net credits, money and capital stock, follows:

The fair cash value of net credits shall be ten per cent of such net credits.

The fair cash value of money, cash and bank deposits, shall be either ten per cent of the net cash and bank deposits or ten per cent of twenty times the annual income, whichever is lower, provided however, that the annual income rate shall be taken to be not less than two per cent of the cash and bank deposits.

Capital stock of Illinois corporations assessable by the county assessor shall be determined at ten per cent of the fair cash value of such capital stock.

In all cases the fair cash value of these intangibles shall be estimated by taking thirty-seven (37) per cent of the assessed value, the method employed in determining the assessed value of real estate and tangible personal property. The tax is determined by multiplying the assessed value by the tax rate.

Powwow of Indian Origin

The name powwow is Indian in origin. From the Algonquin language, it first meant a medicine man's ceremony for the cure of disease. That was before the white man—and trouble—came to the Indians. Then it became synonymous with a great dance, feast, or celebration before a grand hunt.

Early Americans grabbed the word, gave it still another meaning. A political powwow to them meant a gathering of would-be statesmen and saviors of the nation, where sound and confusion often triumphed over anything of a deliberative nature.
