

Relinquishes Right to Handle Estate as Forerunner of Suit

Laying the groundwork for a possible civil suit, attorneys for Mrs. Alice Kruschel of Dundee Thursday filed in the Kane county probate court a petition by which the widow of Paul Kruschel relinquishes the right to administer his estate. The petition suggests the appointment of her brother, Alvin W. Bau, as administrator.

The only asset of the Paul Kruschel estate, according to the petition, is a cause of action against Roy Raymond of Crystal Lake, driver of a car that figured in an accident on route 25 between Dundee and Algonquin which led to Kruschel's death on the night of April 18.

G. Daach of Cary Is Given Musical Award

George Daach of Cary, conductor of the Chicago Business Men's orchestra, Monday night received the annual award of the Adult Educational Council of Chicago for outstanding service to the city's musical life.

The award, a box for the Adult Education Council's 1932-33 musical art series in Orchestra Hall, was presented to Mr. Daach by Ralph McAllister, director of the council, during the intermission of Monday night's concert by the Business Men's orchestra.

"The work being done by Mr. Daach," McAllister said, "is in keeping with the philosophy of the Adult Education Council. That philosophy is to encourage adults to use their leisure time in the development of all their talents."

CUBA TOWNSHIP

CUBA TOWNSHIP—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelsey moved to Maple Park Tuesday evening to help Mrs. Norman Brandt celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Pitts called on the latter's brother, Charles Pitts of Carpentersville, this week.

Mrs. Mary Kelsey and daughter, Mrs. Harry Balmes of Detroit, called on Mrs. Norris Iverson of Downers Grove Monday.

Mary Ellen Pegg of Chicago enjoyed the week-end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. August Pegg of Shady Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelsey were Wednesday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Daeschler.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gelbranson of Chicago have moved to their Shady Hill cottage.

Mrs. Mary Kelsey and Mrs. Harry Balmes called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Abbott and on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Brown of Cary.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dodd and Harry Kile of Chicago were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Pitts.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kraus and daughters Joan and Fay of Chicago were Sunday guests of Mrs. Anna Kraus.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Kelsey entertained Mrs. Harry Balmes and Mother Kelsey with a dinner on Sunday.

Howard Jacobs of Maragon enjoyed the week-end with his cousin, Lawrence Riley.

Kelsey school enrollment has again increased with four new pupils, making a total of 27 pupils.

HOME EDUCATION

"The Child's First School Is the Family"—Froebel

Issued by National Kindergarten Assn. 8 W. 40th St. New York

"Unnecessary Fear"

By JACK WOOTEN

Poor, emaciated little Tommy. He almost went into spasms when he saw the big dog. His mother, too, was afraid. When the canine started barking, she did not continue on her way home as she had intended; instead, with her child's trembling hand in her own, which was little more steady than his, she turned suddenly and scurried into Mrs. Reed's yard.

"Oh, mercy!" she shrieked to her neighbor, who was working in her flower bed, "that horrible dog almost bit Tommy!"

Mrs. Reed smiled. "Fifty would not harm a flea," she said. "He was only speaking to you, Mrs. Crouch."

"I'm so afraid of dogs," the mother pined. "And Tommy almost has convulsions every time he sees one. I wish I had some remedy for it."

"There's a very simple remedy," Mrs. Reed put down the four-prong rake as she spoke. "Come into the house and let's talk it over while Tommy plays out here in the sunshine."

"Oh I wouldn't think of that," Mrs. Crouch said. "Tommy isn't accustomed to the sun. It always gives him fever."

Mrs. Reed sighed. Then she looked at her neighbor squarely in the face. "I'm going to speak to a very plain way," she said gently, but firmly. "It isn't God's natural sun rays that give your boy fever. You have not understood how to care for him, and you have deprived him of some of nature's choicest gifts to humanity. No wonder you are afraid of dogs. There aren't many sound nerves in his body to resist fear, and you make matters worse by being afraid yourself! Did you ever stop to think, Mrs. Crouch, that Tommy is afraid because you are afraid?"

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"Tommy has the disposition of a real boy, and if you will only give him the chance to develop it, he will make you proud of him. But he will find it hard to amount to anything until you do two things: first, get yourself into better physical condition; second, let your boy get out—just a little while each day, at first—and romp and play like other boys, and always encourage him to be brave instead of being fearful of nature and nature's children."

"But he's so delicate," said Mrs. Crouch. "I'm afraid—"

"Don't be afraid," Mrs. Reed said. "You must conquer your own fear before you can hope to have Tommy conquer his."

"I'm so afraid of dogs," the mother pined. "And Tommy almost has convulsions every time he sees one. I wish I had some remedy for it."

"There's a very simple remedy," Mrs. Reed put down the four-prong rake as she spoke. "Come into the house and let's talk it over while Tommy plays out here in the sunshine."

"Oh I wouldn't think of that," Mrs. Crouch said. "Tommy isn't accustomed to the sun. It always gives him fever."

Mrs. Reed sighed. Then she looked at her neighbor squarely in the face. "I'm going to speak to a very plain way," she said gently, but firmly. "It isn't God's natural sun rays that give your boy fever. You have not understood how to care for him, and you have deprived him of some of nature's choicest gifts to humanity. No wonder you are afraid of dogs. There aren't many sound nerves in his body to resist fear, and you make matters worse by being afraid yourself! Did you ever stop to think, Mrs. Crouch, that Tommy is afraid because you are afraid?"

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

"Exactly," replied Mrs. Reed. "I've noticed that myself and I've been longing for a good opportunity to give you some helpful advice. I'm so glad you came this morning. You see," she continued with a smile, "I've brought up four children, and I believe I know something about their needs."

"No, O, no," the woman responded. "I've always been so nervous myself that I haven't taken time to think."

Get out in the open air yourself, and get a nice coat of tan. Take plenty of exercise; eat good, wholesome food, and give Tommy the same dose of medicine."

The summer passed. Winter came and went away, and spring to all its glories appeared. A tramp in the woods was now in progress, Mrs. Crouch and Mrs. Reed, walking along, smilingly watching Tommy as he romped and played.

What a different child he was from the thin little fellow who had shivered that morning at the back of a dog—the morning his frightened mother had retreated into the yard of a neighbor to find protection from a harmless dog! How much more she had found!

Tommy now romped and played with the dog. All fear was gone. His nerves were strengthened. "Life held out health and happiness for the child now."

Want Ads Bring Results

Information Given on Local Air Mail Stamp Cachet Plan

Barrington post office will have a special cachet for National Air Mail Week. The cachet is sponsored by the Barrington Lions club, the design by J. C. Cadwalader, secretary of the club, and the drawing by George O. Butler.

The cachet will be applied to all outgoing air mail letters during National Air Mail Week, including those locally addressed, prepaid at air mail rates.

There will be a special pick-up and flight of Barrington air mail on May 19. Collectors desiring to secure covers of this flight should forward properly addressed and prepaid covers to the Postmaster, Barrington, Ill., to reach the Barrington post office not later than Tuesday, May 17, and should include a letter authorizing the postmaster to hold them for the special flight.

Two official cachets furnished by the post office department will be for Kitty Hawk, N. C., the birth place of aviation, and Dayton, O., the home of Orville Wright, and where the first airplane was constructed. These cachets will be used on mail postmarked on May 19 only. Covers properly prepared and sent to the postmaster at these places will be held for May 19 postmark and given the official cachet.

But Also Served at Weddings Bridal couples in Scotland's border counties observe the custom of having hot ale served to them when they walk from the altar.

PERSONAL LOANS

WE PROVIDE CASH

For Individual and Family Needs

CONFIDENTIAL LOAN SERVICE, Inc.

UNDER STATE SUPERVISION

PHONE PARK RIDGE 1888

100 S. PROSPECT AVE.

PARK RIDGE, ILL.

Reorganization Sale

Sale Positively Ends Wednesday, May 11

The popularity of our re-organization sale demands an extension of time in which to select these values. Here's your opportunity to get your brooms, pails, towels, etc., if are among those who came too late last week. Values throughout the entire store reduced 30% to 50%. Come early and avoid disappointment for no specials can be set aside and none sold to children.

While They Last

Towels 9c

Famous "Cannon" quality! Absorbent white terry with pretty colored borders. 17x34 inch size. Get a good supply at this price!

Saturday Special (May 7)

Galvanized PAIL

12-qt. Reg. 35c Value 10c

LIMIT ONE TO A CUSTOMER

None Sold to Children

FRIDAY Special (May 6)

10c

Made Well to Give Lots of Service

(ONE TO EACH CUSTOMER) Friday, May 6

Cedar Oil Furniture Polish

This is a regular 25c Value

While They Last 10c

Oil Cloth Pots and Pans

46-in. Width

This Is a Regular 29c Val. PER YARD 19c

Grey Enamel Ware Reg. 25c Value 12 1/2c

Monday Special

Toilet Tissue

SILK FINISH

1000 Sheet Rolls 3 10c

Men's Dress SHIRTS

These Are Real Money-Saving Values

Plain and fancy colors, including whites. Values that were formerly $1.00. Latest styles and fashions. While they last—only 39c

Women's Blouses

ORGANDIES PLAIN COLORS AND PRINTS

Woven Fabrics and Styles You've Seen in Higher Priced Garments

Values 55c to $1.95 2 for $1.00

Spring Sweaters

FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Complete Range of Sizes and Colors 2 for $1.00

ANKLETS

CHILDREN—WOMEN'S

PER PAIR 5c

Friday Special

Cleansing Tissues

Pkg. of 500 sheets 25c value 10c

(ONE TO A CUSTOMER)

Canvas Gloves

Heavy weight, with blue knit wrist—regular 15c grade, NOW 8c

HOPE MUSLIN

39 inches wide—formerly 15c per yard, NOW 10 3/4c

GARDEN HATS Values to 25c NOW 10c

STRAW HATS

Values to $1.49 25c

Monday Special

Waste Baskets

Lithographed Metal in green or ivory 25c value 10c

(ONE TO A CUSTOMER)

BEN FRANKLIN

Park Avenue Barrington

EARN 4%

CURRENT RATE ON SAVINGS

Withdrawals Without Penalty

Principal Insured up to $5,000.00

FOR REGULAR SAVINGS OR SINGLE INVESTMENT

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Barrington

110 E. Main Street

THE CHAMPION ICE MAKER

A FEW CENTS DAILY BUYS THIS AMAZING NEW

KELVINATOR ELECTRIC

Just look at all these great features!

• "Water Pump" Cooled Unit • Built-in Freezer • 12 Freezing Compartments • 12 Freezing Compartments • 12 Freezing Compartments

• Good Housekeeping Shop

200 E. Main St. Tel. Barr. 30