Revisions of the judicial districts so as to make one district out of Lake and McHenry counties and another out of Boone and Winnebago counties is being considered by the sub-committee of the legislative council at Rockford.

This change, making two judicial districts of the four counties now comprising the seventeenth judicial circuit, was proposed by the Winnebago Bar association.

At present there are three judges, Ralph Dady of Waukegan, William Pierce of Belvidere and Arthur E. Fisher of Rockford handling the work. If the proposed change is adopted, it would mean an increase of three more judicial offices.
