

The Crowd Roars' Coming to Catlow Sunday, Monday

"You're Only Young Once,"
With Hardy Family,
Here Saturday

The general store pictured in the opening scenes of "The Texans," the Southern epic at the Catlow Thursday and Friday is as authentic a set as Hollywood has produced this year. Most of the "props" were borrowed from the Pony Express Museum at Arcadia, Calif., which contains some of the best trophies of the period to be found anywhere in the West.

Dramatizing the everyday problems which face the father of an American family, "You're Only Young Once" comes to the Catlow Saturday night, for one night only, as a picture every member of the family will enjoy.

Lewis Stone, as Judge Hardy, father of Mickey Rooney and Cecilia Parker, is constantly beset with internal problems arising from his children's proclivity for getting into trouble. It is his duty to rescue them from these difficult situations without breaking their spirit or making them rebellious.

Because the ring-side bell failed to sound the end of the round, Robert Taylor took a two-minute beating from Patsy Perrelli that the script didn't require.

The two were fighting the final bout of "The Crowd Roars," which comes to the Catlow Sunday for two days. It was the seventh round and Taylor was taking the beating called for. He had received for leather flying from all angles, had picked himself up twice from the canvas, and had been knocked into the ropes again and again. The ring-side timekeeper became so excited at watching the bout that he completely forgot to attend to his job.

The comedy antics of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy refuse to be confined to a story or a screen play, no matter how near perfection either may be. "Blockheads" starring the famous comedy pair coming to the Catlow theatre on Tuesday, is based on an

A very large mushroom was shown here Saturday, probably the largest ever found in this vicinity, but it was an orphan. Nobody took the credit for owning it.

At least Dr. B. F. Graber said it wasn't his and insisted it belonged to Dr. E. A. Beerman, who remained very non-committal and disclaimed any claim to the origin. The edible was in their offices and was carried back and forth by both principals as they hastened to disclaim ownership. Although it was allowed to be a wall, the mushroom certainly possessed gargantuan proportions. It weighed 7½ pounds and measured 43 inches length and 36 inches around the middle.

Their friends advanced the theory that neither Dr. Graber nor Dr. Beerman wished to acknowledge ownership for fear that he might have to buy sufficient steak to go with the mushroom.

Local Group Attends Missionary Meeting

The annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church was held Tuesday at the Epworth church in Chicago. Those attending from Barrington were: Mrs. F. C. Kirchman, Mrs. P. R. Dwyer, Mrs. Ward Olmsted, Mrs. Edward Mitchell, Mrs. W. Dotterer, Mrs. Sanford Riecke, Mrs. Howard Harnden, Mrs. H. L. Eagle, Mrs. B. W. Dawson and Miss Sarah Ann Dawson.

From the excellent attendance at all sessions of The Review's moving picture cooking school last week-end, we judge Barrington women are intensely interested in the art of concocting delicious meals.

Perhaps you have some tomatoes left in your garden and could use the following recipes for chili sauce and uncooked tomato relish. For good measure, we'll include data for two marvelous desserts—perfect for either a dessert party or the finale to a luncheon or dinner. Both are decidedly rich so portions need not be large.

Don't forget to send in a few of your favorite recipes. This column is for the exchanging of culinary ideas.

24 tomatoes (skinned).
6 onions.

3 large onions.
8 green peppers.
5 stalks celery.
Chop fine, add one cup of salt and drain over night.
Boil together: 1 qt. white vinegar, ½ lb. the sugar, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 10c pk. mustard seed. Pour over tomato mixture. Let stand two hours, stirring often. Put in hot, sterilized jars and seal.

GRAHAM-DATE ROLL

Burton Hoffman was a guest at the Standard Oil Co. at Cub's ball game in Chicago last week as the result of placing second in a sales campaign in the Joliet district. Mr. Hoffman sold 125 tires in the contest and now leads the district in the number sold in the last two years.

Enrollment at the college has been large, figures showing a 5 per cent increase over last year, with not all registrations in yet.

High School Project Vote at Second Election Saturday

The proposed $172,000 addition and improvement of the Arlington Heights township high school was assured Saturday when nearly 2000 voters went to the polls in two precincts and cast their selections. However, it was only by the narrow margin of 61 votes in favor of the improvement, 20 votes in favor of the bond issue and 15 votes for the additional tax. All three propositions had to win in order that the school board could proceed.

The school board will now issue bonds amounting to more than $97,000 to pay for the district's share of the project, provided it is approved by the PWA.

At an election two weeks ago, the proposition to make the improvement was defeated by 27 votes.

Sanitarium Owners Named in Court Suit

Robert Peele and his wife Agnes, owners of two sanitariums in Palatine township, were ordered to appear in Cook county superior court Saturday to answer charges they had held a patient as hostage for unpaid treatment costs.

The charges were preferred in a petition filed Friday by W. F. Behrens, a farmer of Carlinville, Ill., who said he had been refused permission to see his mother, Mrs. Jeanette F. Behrens, 65.

Behrens told Judge Francis B. Allegretti the Peeles informed him he could not see his mother unless he paid $2750 allegedly owed them.

Cook County Farmers Attend State Meet

The sharp decline in prices of corn and wheat to present unsatisfactory levels is a natural result of not having an acreage adjustment program for these crops last year, coupled with the failure of about 50 per cent of the corn producers to cooperate and make adjustments in 1938, Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, told a state-wide meeting of Farm Bureau leaders at Springfield this week.

"Even under present conditions," Smith said, "cooperators are assured of being well compensated for their efforts through the 57c corn loan plus the 10c per bushel adjustment payment which gives their 1938 crop a value of approximately 67c per bushel."

Learn of Death of Keith Ost in Neb.

Word was received here Tuesday of the fatal auto crash that took the life of Keith N. Ost, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ost of Newhaws, Neb. Details of the crash that took the young man's life were not learned by his local relatives, the Osts, until W. G. Ost of Palestine, an uncle, left Tuesday to attend funeral services today, Thursday. In addition to his parents, the young man is survived by a sister, Betty Irene. Keith was well-known in Barrington, having visited here many times.
