March 2019 was a great month for us on social media!

We gained over 300 new Facebook followers.

BALibrary Comic Con brought in tons of posts, photos, and tags from participants, resulting in hundreds of likes on our Instagram account.

Our Neighbors Nights/MAKE With A Mission workshop, creating baby blankets for infants in NICU at Lurie Children's Hospital, was a huge success. 32 participants created 29 blankets that evening, which gave us the opportunity to share a true "feel good" story with our community. Along with 126 likes, the post received many positive comments, shares, and customers asking us to please hold another event!

We got a nice shout-out from Station School's Library Media Center, too.

They say music is a universal language, even if that music contains phrases like "Scaramouche, scaramouche, will you do the fandango?" Librarian Ann brought our ukuleles over to Hough Street School, and this exuberant rendition of "Bohemian Rhapsody" was just one of the happy results. We hope it brightens your day - go ahead, break out the air guitar!

It's pretty hard to beat a roomful of kids singing and strumming ukuleles, so kudos to Youth Services Librarian Ann McWilliams-Piraino, who brought our ukulele kit to Hough Street School and then captured this wonderful video. The post was well-loved on both Facebook and Twitter, with 70 likes, and plenty of comments and shares, especially from our 220 partners.

barringtonarealibrary It is with great joy and button-bursting pride that we introduce you to another #HumanofBALibrary – Youth Services Assistant Librarian Alyssa Wees. We'd be excited to have you meet Alyssa on any day, because she's a wonderful coworker – but today? TODAY just happens to be the release date for her Young Adult novel THE WAKING FOREST! THE WAKING FOREST has received starred reviews from Kirkus Reviews and School Library Journal, and tons of positive buzz across the Internet. We can't wait to share it with our Barrington area YA readers, and, well, with the whole darn world. We asked Alyssa to share her feelings about libraries with us: "Libraries have always been my happy place. There is nothing more magical than books. My favorite movie is 'Beauty and the Beast.' and no matter how many times I

MARCH 12

The library staff love an opportunity to cheer each other on, so we were loud and proud when Youth Services Assistant Librarian Alyssa Wees published her debut young adult novel, The Waking Forest (New York : Delacorte Press, 2019), on March 12. We gave Alyssa an opportunity to share her thoughts on libraries, books, and writing via our social media accounts, and she received a whole lot of love (124 likes, 5 shares) in return. We're delighted that Alyssa will be participating in this year's Local Author Fair as well.

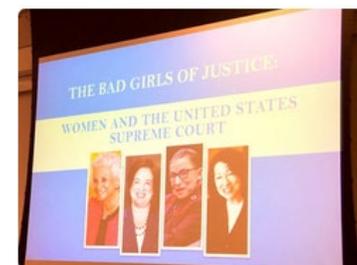

Yes, we can post about our own programs, but it's better when the positive reviews come from attendees, like this tweet about the presentation by Professor Tauya Forst of College of DuPage on women and the Supreme Court.
